Railroad News. An ominous quiet prevailed about the Union Pacific headquarters. Even the rumors, which have been flying thick and fast of late. were conspicuous by their absence and a feelof uneasiness pervaded nearly every department. Heads of departments were busy exchanging visits and whispered consultations were being held in the various sanctums. The burden of these was, "Have you heard anything!" In each case the answer was an ex-pressive shrug of the shoulders and a shake of the head. The arrival of General Manager Clark has put many of the officials on the anxious seat and the uncertainty under which several of them were chafing was plainty depicted in their faces. ANNOUNCEMENTS.

This morning at 9. o'clock the sale opens for the engagement of Joseph Murphy, Thursday evening next at Boyd's opera house. Mr. Murphy's performances in this city are always well patronized, for the rea-son that he never disappoints his audiences. His company this season is the best he has ever had, and his plays are more claborately mounted. On Thursday and Friday even-ings next Mr. Murphy will produce his play "Shuan Rhue;" on Saturday night the beau-tiful play "The Kerry Gow" will be the bill, and on Sunday evening his new play by George Fawcet Rowe, "The Donagh."

Mr. J. J. Brady, representing Charles Frohman's new attraction, "All the Com-forts of home," written by William Gillette, author of "Held by the Enemy." "The Pro-fessor," etc., is in the city. in as unfavorable light.

Mr. Smith's relation with the Omaha art exhibition association are fully set forth in the contract between him and the associaion, and his status fully settled to his satisfaction and ours.

Our position in regard to the picture which was the sufferer from Warpington's fanatic-is fully explained by the following letter to Boussod, Valedon & Co., the owners of the picture:

"We are legally savised that our association is in no way responsible for any injury the picture may have sustained, but under the circumstances we are willing to pay a reasonable price for its restoration or will send it to Paris and have it restored."

THE INTERSTATE BRIDGE.

The Time it Will Reasonably Take to Complete the Work. . OHAHA, Neb., Jan. 27.—To the Editor of THE BEE.-The following editorial was in

THE BRE of Monday: One of the resolutions of the real estate exchange concerning the bridge charter reflects unjustly on Senator Paddock. The amendments suggested by the senator are not obstructive, as the exchange declares, nor does he insist that the bridge be completed in one year. Howants active work to begin within one year and the completion of the structure within two years. The members of the exchange should post themselves on the facts and not swallow assertion for truth.

Telegrams were received from Washinston and not swallow assertion for truth.

Telegrams were received from Washington to the effect that Senator Paddock was opposing the interstate charter, and upon hearing this many parties telegraphed to him their regret. He thereupon denied opposition, but claimed that he only wanted to add certain amendments.

Section's of the bill as introduced by Senator Manderson, published in The Bee, reads as follows:

Sec. 8. That this act shall be null and void if construction of said bridge shall not be commenced within one year and be finished within three years from its passage. From THE BEE we also find that-

Senator Paddock says he desires to amend the bill so as to require the commencement of construction not later than January 1. 1892, instead of two years from the passage of the act and that itshall be completed on or before January 1. 1803, instead of February, 1904. This does not allow ayear as you state, but only eleven months, and possibly only ten mouths, in which to begin work.

Now, what must be done before work can begin! I understand that the preliminary begin? I understand that the preliminary plans for this bridge have been already drawn; but any company would be reckless indeed to incur the large expense of detail drawings and specifications before it had a charter to build. It would be unreasonable to expect this, and while I do not know, I think I am safe in assuming that the Interstate company has not. If they have, the amendments made in the charter will require radical changes. It will be necessary then—First, To prepare detail drawings and specifications. How long will this require? I cannot tell, but we all remember the months we waited for them for the new city hall after the competitive "plans" had been submitted and the architect selected. The city hall is a work of hardly more than one-fifth the magnitude of the bridge contemplated by the magnitude of the bridge contemplated by the Interstate company. Section 2 of the charter as published in THE BER IS AS follows :

Section 2 of the charter as published in The Ber is as follows:

Sec. 2. That said bridge shall not be built nor commenced until the plan and specifications for its construction have been submitted to the secretary of war for his approval, sor until he shall approve the plan and location of said bridge; and if any change be made in the plan of construction of said bridge at any time such change shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of war; and any change in the construction or any alteration of said bridge that may be directed at any time by constress or the secretary of war, shall be made at the cost and expenses of the owner thereof. That said bridge shall be constructed without interference with the security and convenience of navigation of said river beyond what is necessary to carry into effect the rights and privileges hereby granted, and in order to secure that object thesaid corporation shall submit to the secretary of war for his examination and approval a design of and drawing for said bridge, and a map of the proposed location, giving fort he space of one mile above and one mile below such proposed location, the high and low water times upon the banks of the river, the direction and strength of the currents at all stages of the water, with soundings accurately showing the bed of the stream and the location of any other bridge or bridges, such maps to be sufficiently in death to enable the secretary of warto judge of the proper location of said bridge, and shall furnish such other information as may be required for a full understanding of the subject; and until the said plan and location of the bridge are approved by the secretary of war the construction of said bridge, shall not be commenced.

These plans and specifications must then be submitted to the secretary of war for his

These plans and specifications must then be submitted to the secretary of war for his approval, and any changes he demands must be made.

What same man doubts that this will consume several months?

We have only to look at the now celebrated block No. 86 and our new postoffice to appreciate the rapidity of governmental red tape. Second, The location must be selected. To do this necessitates the most careful surveys, soundings and borings to ascertain the depth and condition of bed rock. I have inquired of a competent engineer the time necessary for this, and he says it cannot be done properly in less than thirty to sixty days. Of course this has not been done. No one expects that the company has gone to the large expense of locating a bridge before they have a right to build it. Third, After the exact location of the bridge has been selected, surveys must be made (to take old surveys would be a fraud on the government) and a map prepared of the pro-posed location, etc. (See section 2 of charter above.) I have asked an engineer who has had years of experience in work on the Mis-souri river, and who did this work for the bridge now in course of construction at Sioux City, what time should be allowed for this, City, what time should be allowed for this, and he says nine months was occupied in making surveys, beings, drawings and specifications for the Sioux City bridge, after the charter had been obtained and the preliminary plans had been completed, and it would not be safe tallgure on a less time for the not be safe to figure on a less time for the Omaha bridge.

Fourth, After all this has been done and the sanction of the war department is finally obtained and permission given to go ahead with the work, the plans and specifications must be submitted to contractors of all kinds and from all places.

Fifth, After the contract is awarded the

and from all places.

Fifth, After the contract is awarded the contractor must make his arrangements, collect his material and men and get them on the ground. This cannot be done in aday or a week. An anxious public waited many weeks for the plans and specifications of the union depot and viaduct and when everything seemed ready we waited many more weeks for the work to begin. I have gone into this detail to convince you that the preliminary work necessary before the real construction of the bridge can be commenced will require all, or nearly all, of the ten or eleven months left of this year after the passage of this charter. Senator Paddock's amendment, as published in The Bre, requiring the bridge to be completed before January 1, 1893, will give only about one year for the actual work of building the bridge. Such a bridge as Omahawants and such as described in the charter cannot be built in one year. Will this amendment give us a better bridge! Does it make more certain the possibility of Does it make more certain the possibility of getting one? Will it not rather cause a conservative corporation to hesitate to accept the charter and enter honestly upon the work of construction when the chances are that they may be unable to comply with its terms, and may find themselves, after large expenditure, with an unfinished structure and a void charter!

The real estate exchange did not say more Resolved, further. That a railread bridge such as Omaha now demands cannot be properly constructed in one year, and we consider the amendment of Senator Paddock requiring this as obstructive.
