workingman, seemingly straightfor ward and well posted, applied to the city marshal yesterday to see if some way could not be devised for stopping a scheme by which, he claims, laborers are being en trapped by unscrupulous contractors. The man's story is but a repetition of that of his companions. Three of them, being out of work, responded to an advertisement of an Omaha employment agency, and were assured they would be given work on each paying the fee of $1. They paid, and each man received a card, with instructions to reman received a care, with instructions to re-port for duty on the Indian creek sewer ex-tension in Council Bluffs. They came here Sunday, and Monday morning began work On Tuesday afternoon another gang of men bearing like cards, appeared at the scene of labor, and the boss at once made room for them by discharging an equal number of men. The three had worked about two days. They were to receive $1.50 a day and were to board in a tent on the grounds, paying $1 a week, or 50 cents a day. On being discharged the men got no pay for what they had done, and the amount due for two days, ofter deducting the beart was substituted. after deducting the board, was only $2, so that it did not pay to sue for it. In fact, they have no money to sue with. Some of the city officials have been inquiring into the matter, for it looks very much as if there was a scheme between the employment agency and the contractors. The ployment agency, under such an arrange-ment, makes $2 each from an indefinite number of workingmen and the contractor gets two days' work for the cost of board, leaving him a clear profit also of $2 a man, thus mak ing the "divy" about even.

The contractor to whom the city let the work has subjet a portion of it to other par-ties so that it is a little difficult to determine as to the responsibility or the speediest method of securing a remedy. The city offi-cials will investigate and if they find that such a scheme is going on as now appears, they will lose no time in doing all in their power to end it, and that right speedily.

The Eiseman Stock Bought by Marshall, Field & Co. of Chicago.

REPORT OF THE W. C. A. HOSPITAL.

A Sleek Scheme to Rob Workingmen of Their Wages-Fire in the Merriam Block-Minor Mention.

At 10 o'clock vesterday, in the midst of a driving storm of ram and snow, a crowd of men representing a great deal of wealth gathered in the Eiseman building for the purpose of attending the assignee's sale of the immense stock of goods that has been locked up since Christmas day. There were many representative business men in the gathering, and as the purchases they wanted to make calted for the use of large sums of money, every man carried certified checks ranging from $50,000 to $100,000. An order was given to exclude all but bidders and crowds of several hundred curioùs people who were anxious to note how men conducted themselves when they were bidding sums that argregated fortunes were put out. Among the bidders were N. B. Falconer, S. P. Morse and representatives of Brandeis & Son and Kelley, Stiver & Co. of Omaha; Ben Eiseman, resresenting Rice, Stixz & Co. of St. Louis; C. C. Lay, repre-senting Marshall, Field & Co., Chicago, and a number of other gentlemen who did not reg-were not called.

Deputy Sheriff McFadden was the salesman. After the preliminary aurouncement and the call for bids was made there was an interval of several seconds, which grew into minutes. The suspense grew almost painful, and it began to appear that sebody wanted the property that all seemed anxious to get. Finally the slience was broken by a timidly spoken bid of $25,000. It came from one of the Omaha gentlemen. The auctioneer aid not dwell long until he had several bids that brought the price offered up to $45,000. This bid was made in the interest of the St. Louis firm. A number of other bids were made, chiefly by the Omaha men, and the price was run up to $08,000. Falconer then bid above this and Merse followed with a bid of $70,000. Among the early bidders was Mr. C. C. Lay, and the last bid made by him was $71,000 and some odd hundreds. This reached nearly the appraisement price and the stock was knocked off to him. The crowd was then hustled out of the store and the deputy sheriffs were again given possession. It was subsequently learned that Mr. Lay's bid was made for Mr. J. E. Hoiden of Oshkosh, Wis.

Additional interest was given the sale by

Additional interest was given the sale by the filing of a number of new attachment suits. The suits were filed in the district court early in the morning, but the notices were not served upon the assignee until a few minutes before the sale begun. They were for the following creditors and were represented by Attorneys Sims and Harl. Warner Brothers, corset manufacturers, $158; G. E. Shubert & Co., $155; B. Wolf & Sons, $867; William Broadhead & Sons, $25; Gordon & Ferguson, $844; Pfalzer Brothers, $506; St. Mary's woolen manufacturing com-pany, $257; Worthington & Co., $558; Nickey Brothers, $201; American rubber company, $287; Lee, Tweedy & Co., $1,095; Langfeld Bros & Co., $244; Lehman & Clark, $184; Bohne knitting company, $1,030. In the district court L. Heilprin & Co. also filed a claim for goods sold to Eiseman & Co. to the amount of $550 and replevined the goods, alleging that at the time they were shipped to the firm here, Eiseman & Co., the latter knew, that they were insolvent and were then intending to dispose of their property with the intent of defrauding their creditors. In the superior court Well, Dreyfus & Co. filed an attachment for $700. All of the above suits were attachment, except the one replevin suit mentioned. In the federal court there were filed: J. H. Lee & Co., $2,799; Goodman, Bastinell & Co., $3,400; Woods, Brom & Co., $3,700; Harris & Russak, $2,976; Kohn Brothers, $3,428. When asked why the filing of these claims had been postponed so long, the attorneys for the attaching creditors stated that they had been waiting to give the Eisemans a chance them to the creditors, and that they had be- is engaged. come convinced that the only way in which they could hope to realize any-thing on their claims was through some such move as they have now proceeded to make. "We figured on the case," said one of them, "and found at the highest calculaor them, "and found at the nighest calcula-tion there would be not to exceed 20 cents on the dollar left for the rest of us after these preferred creditors had been paid. We were not satisfied fied with the outlook, very naturally. We thought that the fact of the chattel mortgages having been filed the very day before the present assignment was made day before the present assignment was made vas a sufficient ground for claiming fraud. n't claim that Officer & Pusey rest of the mortgagees were implicated in the fraud, however. Our idea sow is to turn the the tables on these fellows who were going to slut us out in the cold. If all our plans turn out as we now think they will I see no reason why we shouldn't realize 100 cents on the dollar, while they have to play the sec

The stock is now in the possession of Mr. J. E. Holden, a commercial traveler for the firm of Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago Some curiosity was feit as to what he would do with it, now that he has it. When asked about the matter by a Bes reporter, he replied: "I am going to keep it right here and sell it just as soon as I can make the necessary arrangements. Whether I shall make the establishment a permanent thing or not I can't tell just now, as I am a stranger here and I can't tell how it will pan

This statement sets at rest the fears of some who thought that the stock would be taken away in order to prevent the utter demoralization of the Council Bluffs market. Marshal, Field & Co. having some of the largest dry goods firms in the city on their list of patrous. It is said, indeed, that the purchase by Marshal, Field & Co. was simply a shrewd move to protect their Bluffs patrom from the mroads which would have been made upon their trade if some one else had bought stock and placed it upon the market at bankrupt sale.

Under the circumstances it is not likely that the goods will be placed on the market a much of a sacrifice. A number of reporters found John N. Baldwin, attorney for Samuel P. MacConnell, as signee of Henry Eiseman & Co., at his office and got his statement with reference to the sale of the Eliseman stock of dry goods. Mr Baldwin said: "The stock of goods was sold for $70,945 to J. E. Holden of Oshkosh, Wis. Mr. Holden of course will not continue the business at Council Bluffs. He evidently purchased the stock as a mere matter of spe tion. He will probably open for a few days and sell what he can here, although I don't know definitely what his movements will be. I regret exceedingly that the stock was not sold to persons who would keep this store open and continue the business here. had incorporated a company, called the Council Bluffs mercantile company, to purchase this stock of goods and to continue the business at Council Bluffs. It would have been a very strong company, and it would have added to the stock and run it in an even an amount equal to the amount for which the stock actually sold today. At the last mo-ment, however, at 10 o'clock this morning, just as we opened the door for the sale, a number of creditors filed attachments, charging fraud upon the part of Henry and Simon Eiseman. This precipitates, of course, a fight, and the parties I represented didn't care to invest in and buy not only the stock but also a law suit with it, and they in-structed me not to bid for them. I did bid for other parties, but would have bidden more for the Council Bluffs mercantile company, had not

The result is due to the haste of avaricious creditors, and in my judgment is wholly without warrant and authority. Of course it would have been impossipossible for these attachments to ful issuance of the attachments and the fu-terference with the sule. I am quite reliably informed that all these attachments were brought for the purpose of endeavor-ing to force a settlement. I am fearful that it will be a long time before we can get any one who will put up money enough to stock such a fine store as the Elseman building. I had the matter all arranged and fixed to get a good company in there to run it, as I have stated before, but we will now have to button up our coats against another lick at Council Bluffs. Let the blame rest upon those who have brought about this untoward result. It seems that the weapons of war to battle down another enterprise in Council Bluffs were afforded by

The Christian Hospital Report. At a recent meeting of the Woman's Christian Hospital association of this city the corresponding secretary was instructed to render a report of the hospital work for the year 1890. In accordance with these instructions the following report was submitted:

We testify to the goodness and mercy of our Heavenly Father in enabling us to care for the sick and destitute that have come to our doors, and we are happy in saying that our efforts have been crowned with success far beyond our most sanguine expectations. Dr. Hall, the superintendent, offers the following report:

Patients received during the year, 101; paying patients, including county charges, 76; charity patients, 25. Of these 41 were men and 60 women. There were four births during the years and four deaths, and two foundlings were received and homes found for them Ninety-eight patients were discharged during the year. The following is the nationality of the patients: Americans, 24; English, 10; Scotch, 1; German, 6; Swede, 27; Irish, 20; Dane, 10; Norwegian, 1; African. 2: total, 101.

Five professional nurses were trained and granted certificates. The hospital employes included the superintendent, housekeeper, to do the square thing by them; that no proposition of any kind had been made by one errand boy. When required special help

Department of the Fair. CHICAGO, Jan. 28 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE, |-Lieutenant Taussig, representing the navy on the government board of control, this morning made his official report of the world's fair exhibit. The fair is to gain a novel feature and the city of Chicago a magnificent gift after fair closes. The naval display will represent a battle ship of 1888, and will be erected on piling on the lake front in the northeast corner of Jackson park, at the Fifty-ninth street pier. The structure will have all the fittings which belong to an achave all the fittings which belong to an actual ship, such as guns, turrets, torpedo tubes, torpedo nets, etc. The navy department will detail for duty a corps of efficials and seamen. Gun and torpedo drills will be given daily. The ship will serve the double duty of housing the naval exhibit and illustrating the mode of life in the navy. The design was executed by Captain R. W. Meade, of the United States navy and will Meade, of the United States navy and will cost $100,000. It is proposed at the conclusion of the fair to turn this vessel over to the city of Chicago as a naval drill place for use of the naval reserve of the lakes, Chicago to be the central station. The boat will be named "The Illinois."

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 28.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Mr. S. B. Martin of Texas, a large owner of cattle in that state and Kansas, is in this city today from England. Mr. Martin has for years been extensively emgaged in shipping stock to eastern and foreign markets.

"I have just returned from a trip to England and Scotland," he said, "where I went to see what the prospects of the meat business were, I found everywhere that the prejudice that formerly existed against American beef had practically disappeared. Our inspection laws have restored confidence, and the manner in which they have been administered proves to the English that the chances of diseased bed being shipped are so slim as to be utterly insignificant. The English cattle growers are the only class which opposes the importation of American cattle. Butchers who were at first opposed to us have now come to our side and are anxious to have our

Mad Dog Scare.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-A mad dog created a panic at Twenty-second and Dearborn streets about 9 clock this morning. The animal was a large black mastiff and came running down the middle of Dearborn street, snapping at the heels of horses and tossing foam from his lips. There were a large number of ladies on the street at the time who took refuge in the stores. The dog was shot by a policeman before it had bitten anyone.

How the Hostile Sloux Are Now Left in the West.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE, |-General Miles, when asked by THE BEE correspondent this morning what would be the final disposition of the Sioux now in custody at Fort Sheridan, said: "Well, I don't know. They will be the subject of much discussion. Perhaps it may all end in a decision to keep the Indians at the fort in much the same general way as Uncl

Sam provides for Geronimo and his remnant of the once hostile Apaches." "How soon will you determine the matter?"
"That is impossible to state. The fellows are mostly young scalp-hungry warriors and we must look after, this leaven before it works up another outbreak. The Indians who went on to Washington will return to Fort Sheridan." In answer to another question General

Miles said:
"Now that Sitting Bulland the other chiefs are killed and I have most of the others here, the Indians are left without a leader and there is no danger of a further outbreak on the reservations."

Honest Laborers Forced to the Police Stations for Shelter. CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—[Special Telegram to THEBEE.]—The Herald tomorrow morning will print a lengthy article to impress upon the great army of mechanics and other wageworkers who are thinking of coming to Chicago, the necessity of being in no hurry or, in fact, of coming to the city at all, without some definite aim, or certainly of employment, There are enough mechanics and laborers in Chicago at the present time to build the world's fair building and nearly everything else that is likely to be wanted in connection with it. There are any number of these men in the city who are unable to get work and who, though honest and respectable working men, are driven to apply at police stations for shelter. At Harrison street station applicants have averaged recently between fifty and sixty a night, not of the typical class of lodgers, for the weather has been too ple who were willing to work, but who could not get the opportunity. How to Break Up a Severe Cold. Gentleman Usher. LONDON, Jan. 28 .- Special Cablegram to THE BEE. ]-It is said that Queen Victoria has set the seal of her displeasure on Aubrey Fitzclarence, her majesty's third cousin, who receives £80 a year as one of gentlemen usners of the court. The young man is a great grandson of King William IV, and on account of his relationship he has been allowed agoodmany privileges. It is hinted that he has gone so far as to make love to the Princess Mand of Wales, not altogether to the dissatisfaction of the young lady, but much to the annoyance of the queen and prince, who are said to have another arrange-ment in view. Maud has been relegated to her lessons and Aubrey, it is said, has been told that if he wants his £80 to continue h mate and illegitimate royal pedigrees. stipend is quite important to the young Fitz-clarence, who would otherwise have to do something useful fer a living.

INGALLS' SUCCESSOR.

Judge Peffer on the Creed of the Independent Party.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 28 .- Special Telegram to THE BEE |- The vote for United States senator in the joint session of the legislature today resulted in the election of Peffer.

Nesconer had Lieutenant Governor Felt, who presided over the senatorial convention of the house and senate, announced that Peffer had been duly elected to succeed Ingalls than the alliance legislators raised a ery for Peffer. The galleries caught it up and the newly elected senator made his way to the speaker's chair. He was introduced by Speaker Elder, who grasped him by the hand as he came on the platform, and said by way of congratulation, "Hello, Peffer," Judge Peffer, addressing the speaker, said: "I see before me the representatives of the people of Kansas. You are commissioned to do the people's will and I am here in response to your call, simply as one of the people, to say that we, the people, have commenced the building of a new, distinct and independent political organization [applause], based upon principles wrought deep as humanity—principles that are the common heritage of men, Labor is the common lot of mortals. Trans-portation is one of the common necessities of pertation is one of the common necessities of the people, while money is the oil which lu-bricates the machinery of civilization. Upon these fundamental ideas we propose to build the grandest structure ever erected among men, and upon these we have formulated a creed. We are opposed to the government issuing money to banking corporations. We are opposed to the people's money going to them freighted down with interest charges. We believe in the people making their own money. We are opposed to national banking institutions for the reason that they combine against the in-terests of the masses. We believe in the government, which is simply the agent of the people, issuing this money directly to them without going around Robin Hood's tarm to find them. We believe in equal and just taxation. We are opposed to find them. We believe in equa and just taxation. We are opposed to the taxing of one industry for the support of another. We are opposed to high tariff dues upon any article in common use, no matter what. We believe that free trade, absolutely necessary in many articles, is often the strongest form of protec tion. We believe in reducing the revenues to defray the expenses of the government, and after that in the adjustment of duties. believe in distributing the burdens of taxation equally among the people as far as it is possible to do so. In other words, we believe in the people ruling in this country. The great middle classes are new asserting themselves. They are establishing recruiting stations in all marshal the grand army of the people and prepare to take possession of the government, and by the time that the nineteenth century closes in upon us these United States of America will be governed by the States of America will be governed by the people. When I left the republican party I left it for good. Some years ago I came to the conclusion that it was desirable that the connection between the grand old party and myself should be broken, but there was no complete the connection of the property and myself should be broken, but there was no complete the property of the property should be broken, but there was no com-pulsion used except on my part. For years I had been a member of that party, and it was a struggle for me, and now I dislike to speak of it in harsh terms of ceusure, but it seems to me that the party with whom I associated so long has gradually departed from its old principles of justice to ail. We feel here in Kansas that we must have a change. I started out to assist this farmers' movement, and thanks to the Master first and the people of Kansas next, we have succeeded. Here is one of the fruits of it." For couchs and throat troubles use "Brown's Bronchial Trockes." "They stop an attack of asthma cough very promptly." C. Falch, Miamiville, O.

JUDGE GRINNELL TO RESIGN. He Likes the Position But Dislikes

the Salary. Chicago, Jan. 28 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Judge Julius S. Grinnell today gave alengthy statement to the press, confirming the report that he will retire from the circuit beach within the next two months. His principal reason for resigning is that the salary paid circuit judges is entirely too small. "At my time of life," he says in his is necessity that I should, if ble, put myself in the way of cumulating something over and my expenses to stand me in hand when I may be unable by sickness or age to earn a living. He suggests that the salary should be at least $10,000 a year. It is understood Judge Grinnell will accept the position of attorney for the Chicago city railway company. He was state's attorney during the anarchist trial and did more than any one man to bring the authors of the Haymarket massacre to justice. He was elected to the bench in une, 1887.

Government Clerks Scared. CHICAGO, Jan. 28 .- [Special Telegram to

THE BEE.]-The employes of the pension department had just begun work this morning when they were startled by a loud rumbling and a sound similar to that made when a large body of ice is cracking. This was followed by the falling of large quanities of plastering, which came bling down upon their heads. For a few moments there was a scene of the wildest excitement. One hundred or more girls in the office, thinking that the building was tumbling, made a grand rush for the door. In their frantic efforts to es-cape a few of them received severe brulses. The cause of the scare was discovered to be the sudden settling of the northwest corner of the building. A crack was opened in the ceiling one inch wide and running the entire ! length of the morn

IS HAMILTON ALIVEY The Supposed Dead Man Said to Be Living in Australia. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—The Times today says that Robert Ray Hamilton is now living in Sydney, N. S. W., under an assumed name. A dispatch from New York, however, says the story is the result of sensational rumors and conjectures. His family and friends there adhere to the belief that the report of his death in Idaho is correct. The New York Sun has the following: There was only one great big and substantial thing to talk about in the multitudinous pages of the New York papers yesterday," said the clerk of the Hoffman house, "and that was the Sun's leader on Ray Hamilton. We knew Mr. Hamilton here pretty well, and dezens of men who have been talk-ing on the subject today have invariably re-marked that Mr. Hamilton was precisely the sort of man who would act as the Sun sugrests he might have done. It has not been forgotten that the Sun was the first paper to protest against the abuse heaped upon Ham-ilton when the exposure of his llaison with the Mann woman came out. This paper hit it about right that time, and there is a very sturdy sort of suspicion that it's on the right
