The case was dismissed at the plain-tiff's costs and judgment was rendered in favor of the defendant on his counterclaim for $182.71, together with $282.53 on the plain-tiff's note.

Nothing has been heard concerning the leasing of the opera house by a number of citizens, a rumor of which was in circulation a week or two ago. The projectors of the enterprise have been working away quietly and have organized a stock company. A meeting of this company has been called for this evening at 8 o'clock in the board of trade rooms, at which some definite action may be looked for.

An attempt was made by Colonel Dailey to call up the divorce case of Haines vs. Haines in the district court yesterday. The case is one in which the late Joseph Lyman appeared for the defendant. It was found that no attorney was on the ground and that the case would not come up, according to the assignment, until today. The hearing was accordingly postnowed until next Monday. ingly postponed until next Monday.

W. A. Gibbs, who keeps a fruit store west of the postoffice, had an experience with the electric fluid during the storm of night before last that surprised him. When he went to put up the awning in front of his store he received a decided shock. He told some of his neighbors about it, but they were inclined to doubt his veracity. During the evening, however, a number of passers-by were treated to similar shocks and Mr. Gibbs' reputation was saved. as saved.

A case of destitution is reported on Seventh avenue between Nineteenth and Tweatieth The sufferers are the i family His a man family consists of two boys and two girls, the youngest a tiny bane. The mother is dead. The father is unable to get work and to make the condition of things worse the children have been sick with measles. Neighbors have been carring for them, but the matter should be given attention by some of the relief committees. The man is a carpenter, industrious and sober, and worthy in every way of assistance in his dire extremity. The rain that fell continually Wednesday, night, and froze as it fell, played havoc with the motor line. For about an hour and a balf travel was entirely shut off between Omaha and the Bluffs. The wet weather also caused a great deal of trouble at the electric light power house. Everything that was exposed to the air was saturated with water and became a good conductor from the wires to the This caused a vast waste of electricity and a corresponding strain upon the machinery at the power house. No serious trouble was had along the line, however, although there was a brilliant display at one time during the evening on the wices near the corner of Main street and Broadway that

The Eiseman Store is to Be Respende and Ready for Customers.

FINAL REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

Mr. Lawless Enters a Protest-A Terrifled Drug Clerk-Other News About the City-Personats.

Mr. J. E. Holder, the purchaser of the Eiseman stock of goods, is actively making arrangements to reopen the store. The date f the opening has not been definitely decided upon, but the energetic manner in which the work of preparation is going on indicates that only a few days can clapse until the portals of the immense estabilshment will be again thrown open to the public. All of the old clerks were re-engaged and an advertisement inserted in the daily papers calling for additional help. The active work of preparation only begun yesterday afternoon. It was continued until 6 o'clock, and then a hurried supper was eaten and the new proprietor, assisted by all the old cierks and a number of the new ones, worked until nearly midnight. In answer to the question when the store would be opened, Mr. Holder said: "I cannot say definitely, for there is lots of work to be done. All the goods will have to be gone over and remarked. We will put every available cierk at this work and keep them at it until it is finished, but when that will be I cannot say. Not long, however. We intend to sell every dollar's worth of the goods on this market, and I wish The Bee would correct a groundless rumor that is affoat to the effect that part of the goods will be boxed up and shipped away. This is absolutely untrue. They will all be sold here. We believe we made a big investment when we purchased $127,000 worth of goods for $70,000, and we think the public will appreciate our intertions. There is a great deal to be done, but we will do it in the shortest possible time. When it is completed the the old cierks and a number of the new ones, deal to be done, but we will do it in the shortest possible time. When it is completed the great store will be opened, and we hope to find trade sufficiently profitable to warrant us in making Council Bluffs our permanent headquarters in the mercantile world."

There is a good deal of interest felt in the determination of the Eiseman's in regard to the future, and all sorts of rumors are in circulation. Speaking of the matter yesterday afternoon Simon Eiseman spoke promptly and positively. "What are we going to do!
Remain right here in Council Bluffs, where all of our interests lie, and where our homes have been for many years, where I was marall of our interests lie, and where our homes have been for many years, where I was married and where my children were born. We have some acquaintance with commercial affairs, and know something about the dry goods business, and we have a good many friends in the business world. Neither Harry nor myself were ever idle a day in our lives, and we will not be content to remain still very long now. What we do will be done right here in Council Bluffs, and we hope it will be for the interests of the city as well as our own. There are plenty of goods to be purchased yet, and we both have unbounded faith in the city of our choice. I can say nothing further than this, unless it be to emphasize more faily the fact that we have not phasize more fully the fact that we have not and will not leave Council Bluffs."

Report of the Grand Jury. The grand jury made its first and last re port yesterday afternoon. The indictments hey returned were not all made public, the unlucky parties not all being under bolts and bars. The following, however, have been arrested:

J. D. King, charged with larceny. He is accused of having stolen a horse from Boquet's livery stable.

Tuller, larceny. He is accused of stealing a lot of cigars from A. Louic.

B. N. Easly, assault with intent to commit murder. The accused is a colored man who assaulted another of his race named McFad en on Washington avenue.

Henry Hoffer, assault with intent to commit great bodily injury. He entered the grocery store of Mrs. William Bochning, on ower Broadway, and bought a lunch, last loan of a knife, which was given him, and he left the store, taking the knife with him. The next night he returned and wanted to buy another supper without money and with out price, but Mrs. Boehning drew the line This infuriated Hoffer and he drew a pocket knife and slashed her severely about the

AN INCORRIGIBLE GIRL

She is the Source of Much Trouble to Her Adopted Parents. The following telegram was received last night by THE BEE from St. Louis: Girl thirteen years old found here in boy's clothes. Says her home is at 1019 Harney street. Her father's name is August Schmidt, The girl ran away from the convent at Nor-mandy, Mo.

A reporter for THE BEE called at 1019 Har ney street last night and taiked with Mrs. Schmidt. She said the girl referred to in the telegram was an adopted child and is almost sixteen years old. She was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt fourteen years ago in St. Joseph, Mo. She is the illegitimate child of a fallen woman, and Mrs. Schmidt says they to give her a good education. About six to give her a good education. About six years ago the girl began to manifest incorrigible tendencies and they decided to send her to the convent of the Good Shepherd, kept by the Sisters of Mercy in St. Louis. They have supported her at the convent, and but a few weeks ago, just before Christmas, Mrs. Schmidt said she sent her a box of clothing and received a very nice letter in response in Schmidt said she sent her a box of clothing and received a very nice letter in response in which the girl said she was doing well and had joined the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin. She stated that she was living a very pure life and hoped to prove herself worthy of the love and kindness that had been bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Schmidt was very much worried over the fact that the girl presists, in claiming to

ACCOMPLISHED OBJECTS. Satisfactory Work of the Conference of Linseed OH Men. New York, Jan. 29.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The linseed oil men finished their conference today and adjourned, having together. One of these objects was an advance in the price of their product and, as a result of the meeting, a new scale of rates was adopted, to take effect immediately. It involves an advance of about 1 cent per gallon. For Buffalo and the west, the new rate is 52 cents; for New York and Pennsylvania, 53 cents; for the scaboard cities, except Boston and other New England cents, and for Boston and New England, 55 cents. To end what was termed the unmercantile action of some of the houses in the trade was, however, the great purpose of the convention, and this was brought about. A sore point with many of the manufacturers has been the fact that some of their brethren, es-pecially those in the west, have been making contracts far ahead, in fact to the end of the season in July. Much of the time of the ses-sion was devoted to dealing with the problem thus presented and it was solved by arranging to take care of these contracts. Some of them have been transfered and, in that way the various manufactures have been brought into a more contented state of mind. No association was formed, it was declared, and those who entered into the arrangement were not put under bonds to carry out their promises of co-operation. There was no division of territory among those present. A committee was appointed, however, to act as a sort of poard of arbitration in case of dispute under the agreement. Everybody present at the meeting agreed to follow the plan adopted. The concerns represented have a capital of about $25,000,000 and are claimed to include all the linseed oil houses of any importance in the country except three or four. These have been taken care of, however, in the arrangement and they are expected to fall into line.

Colonel Thompson, president of the lead trust, which represents about one-eighth of the linseed oil production of the country, said today that no attempt would be made to restrict production. On the contrary, efforts would be made to increase both the production and consumption.

One Hundred and Thirty Dead. PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 29 .- A special from the Monmouth mines says: This afternoon it was discovered by the rolls of the company that twenty-three men were missing in addition to the 107 found dead. This increases the total dead to 130. Twenty-seven more dead miners were buried today.

There is nothing to be done at the Monmouth mines now but search for the remaining dead and care for the living. A legislative committee from Harrisburg is now vestigating the disaster.
