ANOTHER JUDICIAL BRANCH.

A Measure for the Creation of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

THE TEXT OF THE AMENDED BILL.

It Will Be of Great Benefit—Its Object Mainly to Relieve the Supreme Court—Judges Who Will Sit.

The congressional measure appointing an additional circuit judge for each circuit and creating a circuit court of appeals, has passed the senate and will probably go through the house and be presented to the president for his approval. The measure, which is of extreme importance, especially to large commercial centers, is as follows:

A BILL to establish circuit courts of appeals, and to define and regulate in certain cases the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States, and for other purposes.

Section 1. That there shall be appointed by the president of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, in each circuit an additional circuit judge, who shall have the same qualifications and shall have the same power and jurisdiction therein that the circuit judges of the United States within their respective circuits now have under existing laws, and who shall be entitled to the same compensation as the circuit judges of the United States in their respective circuits now have.

Sec. 2. That there is hereby created in each circuit a circuit court of appeals which shall consist of three judges, of whom two shall constitute a quorum, and which shall be a court of record with appellate jurisdiction, as is hereafter limited and established. Such court shall prescribe the form and style of its seal and the form of writs and other process and prescribe as may be conformable to the exercise of its jurisdiction as shall be conferred by law. It shall have the appointment of the marshal of the court with the same duties and powers under the regulations of the court as are now provided for the marshal of the supreme court of the United States, so far as the same may be applicable. The court shall also appoint a clerk who shall perform and exercise the same duties and powers in regard to all matters within its jurisdiction as are now exercised and performed by the clerk of the supreme court of the United States so far as the same may be applicable. The salary of the marshal of the court shall be $2,500 a year, and the salary of the clerk of the court shall be $3,000 a year, to be paid in equal proportions quarterly. The costs and fees in the supreme court now provided for by law shall be costs and fees in the circuit courts of appeals; and the same shall be expended, accounted for and paid over to the treasury department of the United States in the same manner as is provided in respect of the costs and fees in the supreme court.

The court shall have power to establish all rules and regulations for the conduct of the business of the court within its jurisdiction as conferred by law.

WHAT JUDGES MAY SIT.

Sec. 3. That the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court assigned to each circuit and the circuit judges within each circuit, and the several district judges within each circuit shall be competent to sit as judges of the circuit court of appeals within their respective circuits in the manner hereinafter provided. In case the chief justice or an associate justice of the supreme court should attend at any session of the circuit court of appeals he shall preside, and the circuit judges in attendance upon the court in the absence of the chief justice or associate justice of the supreme court shall preside in the order of seniority of their respective commissions.

In case the full court at any time shall not be made up by the attendance of the chief justice or an associate justice of the supreme court and circuit judges, one or more district judges within the circuit shall be competent to sit in the court, according to such order or provision among the district judges as either by general or particular assignment shall be designated by the court. Provided, that no justice or judge before whom a cause or question may be tried or heard in a district court or existing circuit court shall sit on the trial or hearing of such cause or question in the circuit court of appeals.

A term shall be held annually by the circuit court of appeals in the several judicial circuits at the following places: In the first circuit, in the city of Boston; in the second circuit, in the city of New York; in the third circuit, in the city of Philadelphia; in the fourth circuit, in the city of Richmond; in the fifth circuit, in the city of New Orleans; in the sixth circuit, in the city of Cincinnati; in the seventh circuit, in the city of Chicago; in the eighth circuit, in the city of St. Louis, in the ninth circuit, in the city of San Francisco, and in such other places in each of the above circuits as said court may from time to time designate. The first terms of said courts shall be held the first Monday in January, 1891, and thereafter at such times as may be fixed by said courts.

Sec. 4. That no appeal, whether by writ of error or otherwise, shall hereafter be taken or allowed from any district court to the existing circuit courts, and no appellate jurisdiction shall hereafter be exercised or allowed by said existing circuit courts, but all appeals by writ of error or otherwise from said district courts, shall only be subject to review in the supreme court of the United States or in the circuit court of appeals hereby established, as is hereinafter provided, and the review, by appeal, by writ of error, or otherwise, from the existing circuit courts shall be had only in the supreme court of the United States, or in the circuit courts of appeals hereby established according to the provisions of this act regulating the same.

APPEALS OR WRITS OF ERROR.

Sec. 5. That appeals or writs of error may be taken from the district courts or from the existing circuit courts direct to the supreme court in the following cases: In any case in which the jurisdiction of the court is in issue; in such cases the question of jurisdiction alone shall be certified to the supreme court from the court below for decision.

From the final sentences and decrees in prize causes.

In cases of conviction of a capital or otherwise infamous crime.

In any case that involves the construction or application of the constitution of the United States.

In any case in which the constitutionality of any law of the United States or the validity or construction of any treaty made under its authority is drawn in question.

In any case in which the constitution or law of a state is claimed to be in contravention of the constitution of the United States.

Nothing in this act shall effect the jurisdiction of the supreme court in cases appealed from the highest court of a state where the construction of the statute providing for review of such cases.

Sec. 6. That the circuit courts of appeals established by this act shall exercise appellate jurisdiction to review by appeal or by writ of error final decision in the district courts and the existing circuit courts in all cases other than those provided for in the preceding section of this act, unless otherwise provided by law, and the judgments or decrees of the circuit courts of appeals shall be final in all cases in which the jurisdiction is dependent entirely upon the opposite parties to the suit or controversy, being aliens and citizens of the United States, or citizens of different states; also in all cases arising under the patent laws, under the revenue laws, and under the criminal laws, and in admiralty cases, excepting that in every such subject within its appellate jurisdiction the circuit court of appeals at any time may certify to the supreme court of the United States any questions of propositions of law concerning which it desires the instruction of that court for its proper decision. And thereupon the supreme court may either give its instruction on the questions and propositions certified to it, which shall be binding upon the circuit courts of appeals in such case, or it may require that the whole record and cause may be sent up to it for its consideration, and thereupon shall decide the whole matter in controversy in the same manner as if it had been brought there for review by writ of error or appeal.

And excepting also that in any such case as is hereinbefore made final in the circuit court of appeals it shall be competent for the supreme court to require, by certiorari or otherwise, any such case to be certified to the supreme court for its review and determination with the same power and authority in the case as if it had been carried by appeal or writ of error to the supreme court.

In all cases, not hereinbefore in this section made final, there shall be of right an appeal or writ of error or review of the case by the supreme court of the United States, where the matter in controversy shall exceed $1,000, besides costs. But no such appeal shall be taken or writ of error sued out unless within one year after the entry of the order, judgment, or decree sought to be reviewed.

Sec. 7. That where, upon a hearing in equity in a district court or in an existing circuit court, an injunction shall be granted or continued by an interlocutory order or decree in a cause in which an appeal from a final decree may be taken under the provisions of this act to the circuit court of appeals, an appeal may be taken from such interlocutory order or decree granting or continuing such injunction to the circuit court of appeals.

Provided, that the appeal must be taken within thirty days from the entry of such order or decree, and it shall take precedence in the appellate court; and the proceedings in other respects in the court below shall not be stayed unless otherwise ordered by that court during the pendency of such appeal.

DUTIES OF MARSHALS.

Sec. 8. That any justice or judge who, in pursuance of the provisions of this act, shall attend the circuit court of appeals at any place other than where he resides shall, upon his written certificate, be paid by the marshal of the district in which the court shall be held his reasonable expenses for travel and attendance, not to exceed $10 per day, and such payments shall be allowed the marshal in the settlement of his accounts with the United States.

Sec. 9. That the marshals of the several districts in which said circuit court of appeals may be held shall, under the direction of the attorney general of the United States and with his approval, provide such rooms in the public buildings of the United States as may be necessary and pay all incidental expenses of said court, including criers, bailiffs and messengers.

Provided, however, that in case proper rooms cannot be provided in such buildings then the said marshals, with the approval of the attorney general of the United States, may, from time to time, lease such rooms as may be necessary for such courts; that the marshals, criers, clerks, bailiffs and messengers shall be allowed the same compensation for their respective services as are allowed for similar services in the existing circuit courts.

Sec. 10. That whenever an appeal or writ of error or otherwise a case coming directly from the district court or existing circuit court shall be reviewed and determined in the supreme court the cause shall be remanded to the proper district or circuit court for further proceedings to be taken in pursuance of such determination. Whenever on appeal or writ of error or otherwise a case coming from a district or a circuit court shall be reviewed and determined in the circuit court of appeals in a case in which the decision in the circuit court of appeals is final, such cause shall be remanded to the said district or circuit court for further proceedings to be there taken in pursuance of such determination.

TIME FOR APPEAL.

Sec. 11. That no appeal or writ of error by which any order, judgment or decree may be reviewed in the circuit courts of appeals under the provisions of this act shall be taken or sued out, except within six months after the entry of the order, judgment or decree sought to be reviewed.

Provided, however, that in all cases in which a lesser time is now by law limited for appeals or writs of error, such limits of time shall apply to appeals or writs of error in such cases taken to or sued out from the circuit courts of appeals. And all provisions of law now in force regulating the methods and systems of review, through appeals or writs of error, shall regulate the methods and system of appeals and writs of error provided for in this act in respect of the circuit courts of appeals, including all provisions for bonds and other securities to be required and taken on such appeals and writs of error, and any judge of the circuit courts of appeals, in respect of cases brought or to be brought to that court, shall have the same powers and duties as to the allowance of appeals or writs of error and the condition of such allowance as now by law belong to the justices or judges in respect of the existing courts of the United States respectively.

Sec. 23. Appeals and writs of error may be taken and prosecuted from the decisions of the United States court in the Indian Territory to the supreme court of the United States or to the circuit court of appeals in the Eighth circuit in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit or district courts of the United States under this act.

Sec. 14. That section 691 of the revised statutes of the United States and section 9 of an act entitled "An act to facilitate the disposition of cases in the supreme court and for other purposes," approved February 16, 1875, be and the same are hereby repealed. And all acts and parts of acts relating to appeals or writs of error inconsistent with the provisions for review by appeals or writs of error in the preceding sections 5 and 6 of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 15. That the circuit court of appeal in cases in which judgments of the circuit courts of appeal are made final by this act shall have the same appellate jurisdiction, by writ of error or appeal, to review the judgments, orders and decrees of the supreme courts of the several territories, as by this act they may have to review the judgments, orders and decrees of the district court and circuit courts; and for that purpose the several territories shall, by orders of the supreme court to be made from time to time, be assigned to particular circuits.

For a Spiritual Song.

A Christmas Story—A poor country congregation found itself badly in want of hymn books. The clergyman applied to a London firm and asked to be supplied at the lowest (church) rates. The firm replied that on condition the hymn books contained certain advertisements the congregation should have them for nothing. Necessity knows no law, and the minister sorrowfully complied, thinking to himself that when the advertisements came they could be removed from the leaves. The hymn books arrived, and—joy of joys—they contained no interleaved advertisements. At the Thanksgiving service the good parson joyously gave out the Christmas hymn, and the congregation sang the first verse with fervor. When they reached the last line they found that this was what they had been singing:

"Hark! the herald angels sing,
Beecham's pills are just the thing;
Peace on earth and mercy mild,
Two for man and one for child."

HELLMAN

SPRINGS to the FRONT WITH A SPRING SALE

The old "cock-and-bull" stories of "Smith, who busted," "Jones, who burned out" and "Ole Olsen's stock that got lost in the shuffle," will not be palmed off on our patrons this year. We have the goods and it matters not how we got them. We sell them so cheap that some sarcastic people may think we stole them, but that matters not; we have them and you can have them, too, for less money than any other house in the west can furnish them to you

Spring Overcoats.

We have them for $4, if you want 'em; understand, though, that they are not $10 coats, but they are eye-openers for $4.

However, we have a $6.50 and $7.50 Overcoat, in four different shades of Meltons, with silk facing and silk sleeve linings, that needs only to be looked at to be appreciated.

We have the very latest style of half box, 5 rows of stitching, silk sleeve linings, and in every respect a complete Gentleman's Spring Overcoat, at $10.

And if you want to be way up in tone, we have Suits to match them.

To the young man who wants to see a few novelties sweeter than the first rose of summer, we say come in; our Overcoats are on exhibition, and we will be glad to show them to you.

To Mothers:

In the past our Children's Department has been somewhat neglected, for the want of space to handle it properly. This has now all been changed. We have an ample and roomy Children's Department in our store, and we have put in one of the most tremendous stocks of children's goods ever shown by any house in the city.

We have over 5,000 Children's Waists in stock this day. They are all the newest and latest designs.

Our 35c waist is as good as our 75c waist was last season.

Our Children's Suits start from 3 to 15 years old, ranging in price from $2 to any reasonable price for a boy's suit.

We have paid special attention to suits for short and stout boys, so bring in your plump and fat fellows and we'll fit 'em.

Who Said Hats?

Why we do, and there isn't another man in town dares open his head, for we offer—

Fine fur stock of all the latest blocks from a one-inch brim to the size of a Quaker hat, in

Dunlap and Knox Blocks For Only 95c.

The same square crowned Railroad Hat that was so popular with us last year at $2.50 we have promised the manufacturer to sell at least 5,000 of. There is but one way to do that and that is to name a price—we say

$1.50 for That Hat.

That may seem impossible, but we have promised you no "cock-and-bull" and will stick to it, though it may come hard.

We won't say much about Pocket Hats and Crush Hats, but we have more of them than some people have hay, and the price will be right.

The long and short of it is: We are in the swim, and let those follow who can. Their journey will be rough and rugged. THE OLD RELIABLE

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Warring Factions of the Evangelical Church Still at Outs.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 2.—The Bowman evangelical conference this morning deposed from the ministry and expelled from the church Rev. D. A. Barr of Adamstown for gross slander and defamation of character. Rev. L. P. Sprong brought the charges on the strength of a postal card written by Barr to Sprong, on which occurs the words: "You are fast gaining the reputation of being the champion liar of America. If you have a superior it must be either Esher, Horn, Bowman or Yeakel."

The anti-Bowman conference transacted routine business mostly.

His Holiness' Birthday.

ROME, March 2.—The pope today received congratulations upon the eightieth anniversary of his birthday. Upon receiving the visit of the college of cardinals, his holiness compared the position and difficulties of the church in present times with the position in the days of Pope Gregory. The pope said he was gratified at the progress of the faith in England. He also said if God spared him until his episcopal jubilee he would devote part of the offering he might receive to the suppression of slavery.

Cardinal Lavelletta presented an address from the Sacred college. The pope, in course of his response, said he had passed another year of anxieties and vexations, due to attacks on the church. His position was similar to that in Gregory's pontificate, when the church combatted the Lombards. Though the barbarians tried his patience, Gregory's greatest trials were with internal enemies, who were less ferocious but more evil than the barbarians. So now, the malice of the church's enemies was subtle, but their snares would not prevail.

John Wesley's Birthday.

LONDON, March 2.—Today was the one hundredth anniversary of the death of John Wesley, the great theologian and founder of Methodism. AN INSANE WOMAN'S DEATH.

She Ended Her Unhappy Life by Jumping Into a Well.

Mrs. Mary Dudak, a Bohemian woman who resided with her husband on Twenty-fourth street near the Union Pacific tracks, committed suicide about 6 o'clock yesterday morning by jumping into a well a few rods from the house.

The suicide was discovered about 8 o'clock, by a neighbor who went to the well, and saw the face of the unfortunate woman on the surface of the water.

The police were notified and the patrol wagon was sent out, but as the coroner had not put in an appearance, the lady was not removed from the well. A crowd of excited Bohemians gathered about the place, and from them it was learned that the deceased was a patient at the hospital for the insane at Lincoln for about six months, but was released about two months ago. Since her return home she had not been violently insane, but her mind was evidently unbalanced.

She had talked and acted queerly, but gave no intimation of any inclination to take her life.

She was about the house as usual in the morning, until her husband started off to work about 6 o'clock. She left the house shortly afterward and nothing more was seen of her until no body was discovered in the well.

The deceased was twenty-one years of age. She had lost two children and it was that that affected her mind. Her shoes were found by the side of the well curb, where she had left them before plunging into the water. The well was about twenty-five feet deep and contained six feet of water. It was a primitive affair and the curb consisted of a rough, box-like spout barely two feet square.

The husband of the dead woman was sent for, but knew of nothing unusual that had induced his wife to take her own life. She was apparently in her usual frame of mind when he left home and did not seem to be suffering either physically or mentally.

Coroner Harrigan took charge of the remains and empaneled a jury. The inquest will be held at Heafey & Heafey's at 10 o'clock this morning.

Against Deaconnesses.

CHICAGO, March 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The presbytery of Chicago is not in favor of having female deacons in its churches. In a voluminous report a committee of three, who were selected at a previous meeting, advised the presbyters this morning to report in the negative to the general assembly upon the subject. In explanation of the refusal of the committee to endorse the claims of the women, the report says, among other things: "After a careful review of the old and new testament; after much research in sacred and profane history; after reference to writers of early ages, we your committe, have been unable to find one instance where the office of deaconess is alluded to."

Statue of Sherman.

NEW YORK, March 2.—A meeting of business men was held today to take steps looking to the erection of an equestrian statue of the late General Sherman. A committee, including Chauncey M. Depew, C. N. Bliss, Horace Porter and A. S. Hewitt, was appointed to take charge of the work.

A LIZARD IN HIS STOMACH.

Mike Daly Will Drink Less Water in the Future.

CHICAGO, March 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A dark green lizard, three and one-half inches long, crawled out of Michael Daly's stomach today. Last September, while in a little town about eight miles from Erie, Pa., Mr. Daly drank from a spring near the depot and next day he felt queer inside. About a month ago the lizard began causing him serious trouble for the first time, and he had serious fits of vomiting. He was told that whisky would kill the animal, and drank until he had tremens, but the lizard held the fort. Then he consulted a doctor and was told to drink nothing but salt water for twenty-four hours. He also ate two or three pounds of salt pork. About 10 o'clock this morning a pan of hot milk was placed by his bedside. When Daly leaned over he felt something crawling up the side of his stomach and in another moment the reptile was in his throat and fell with a splash into the pan.

Heartlessly Deserted by His Children.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—William Fulton, aged eighty-two, died yesterday at the poor farm near this city and was buried in the potters' field. He was for years a farmer of this county and was at one time worth $40,000. He divided his property among his children upon the death of his wife and has been absolutely deserted by them. A few weeks ago he was shipped by a daughter in Kansas to a son in this state, who promptly shipped him back to his sister. The daughter again sent him back and arriving here sick and penniless he was sent to the poor house.
