A Social Event Among the Hebreus A Man Arrested on Suspicion of Peing the Much-Wanted A. M. Morris.

There was dissatisfaction by the car-load is the city yesterday over the result of the prostly with the democrats, for the republicans had not built their hopes very high. J. D. Haywood began suit in district court and were therefore more easily suited than the vesterday against Lewis Smith on a note for democrats, who had noted to sweep the board. The returns of which had not come in at the hour of going to press. The democrats hoped that the returns from that precinct, when they game in, would show a sufficient gain for riam block. large. But when they came in at about 2 whock yesterday afternoon and showed a total vote of 9, of which 5 were democrats and t republicans, their disgust knew no

Sometime during the day someone conceived of the idea of contesting the election in the 'Third ward in which the vote for Van Brunt and Garmonde, and which finally resulted in the election of Van Brunt by the throwing out of two democratic votes, which had been evidently thrown into the box at the same time. The action of the judges in thus throwing out these two votes was censured by some on the ground that upon counting the badots in the box and the numther of voters as shown by the clerk's Tecord, the two were found to be equal, and that the votes could not have been in at the same time. The judges, however, deny the state-ment that the two numbers coincided.

Another thing to which the democrats ob ject is the throwing out of a republican ballot which bad been put in with the name of Gunnoude written on it, and on which the name of Van Brant had not been cancelled. The judges threw out this vote, as they thought the law directed. But Gunnoude's friends claim that the fact that his name riends claim that the fact that his name was written on the ballot is sufficient to show that the voter intended to vote for Gunnoude, and the vote should therefore have been counted for him. How these claims will stand a test at law it is impossible to tell, but the democrats say if they can knock out their opponents on these points they will successful a satisfaction of the same with a successful satisfaction of the same with a successful satisfaction of the same with a successful satisfaction of the same with a same with a successful satisfaction of the same with the same with a same succeed in seating Gunnoude by a majority of one, and it is a thing worth working for Mr. Gunnoude does not like to admit that he would be willing to take the lead in a move of this kind, but it is easy to see that he would have no objections to his friends doing it for him if they should see fit. A meeting of democrats was held last night and it is understood that something will be done in this line today.

Another thing which it is said is likely to cause trouble is the fact that the poll books and the ballot box were not brought in from the Second presenct of the Sixth ward until nearly twenty four hours after the votes had been counted. A precinct which only east nine votes seems like an insignificant thing upon which to base a centest, but it is laimed that no one knows but there might have been forty votes cast there, and the box might have been "doctored" by someone after it left the hands of the judges and be after it left the hands of the judges and be-fore it came to the city clerk.

On the other hand, it is claimed by some that the vote in the Second precinct of the Sixth will never be counted in anyway, from the fact that it is not known positively that this is in Pottawattamie county. The boundary line of the state at this point is yet a matter of uncertainty, and before the ques-tion is settled it promises to be a source of trouble. Before the election there were about fifty voters registered. A dispute arose as to who were entitled to a vote, and the result of the dispute was that all but about fifteen of these registered voters were thrown out of the list as being outside the boundary line. The voters who were treated in this way were naturally somewhat indignant over what they considered an in-fringement of their rights and they threaten to make things lively for the ones whom they consider responsible for the occurrence.

The Boartz Trial. District court opened yesterday morning with the usual large crowd of spectators that had gathered to hear the evidence in the case of the state vs William Boartz. The witnesses were the same as those who testified pon the first trial, and there were few, if any, new features brought out. The first witness placed on the stand was Robert Stephenson. This man is considered one of the most important witnesses for the state, be having been with Donahue at the time the shooting took place. He testified that on the evening of the tragedy Donahue was in the side room of a saloon playing cards. He (Stevenson) went to the door to call Donabue out. When he came out Boartz was standing at the door, and as Donabue passed Boartz drew agan and fired, after which he turned to a bystander and said, "When I pull a gan I pull to shoot; I don't fool." He then went home and Donahue was put upon a couch, where he soon died.

The entire morning was taken up with the statements of the case to the jury by the attorneys and the examination in chief of Stephenson. In the afternoon the witness was put through a rigid cross. examination, which he submitted to without going back on any of the statements which he had made during the examination in chief.

during the examination in chief.

After Stephenson's cross-examination had been finished. C. Leibeld was put on the stand. He claimed to have been an eye-witness of the shooting but when asked as to whether he was positive that the defendant and the man who did the shooting were the same one, he replied that he did not catch a very full view of the man who wielded the shooting iron, and so could not say positively whether the defendant was the order not. whether the defendant was the one or not.

Charges and Countercharges. Yesterday morning in police court F. M. Phillips, the sewer hand who was arrested in A. K. Belgum's place on South Ninth street, was fined $10.10 for drunkenness. As soon as he had been released he was re-arrested on on an information filed by Belgum in Justice Patton's court charging him with malicious destruction of property, in throwing a beer keg through Belgum's window. Another information was also filed, charging him with impersonating an officer. Belgum claimed that Phillips told him he was an office, and in that way tried to frighten him into giving him a drink.

Belgum and Forgerslot were released or bonds yesterday, in the sum of $1,500 and $1,000 respectively, pending their trial on the charge of larceny, which was preferred against them by Phillips on Monday.

DESERTER GILMORE'S CRIME. A Soldier Charged With the Murder of His Comrade.

William V. Gilmore was led out of the po lice court room yesterday morning in irons. Hewas in charge of Officer Newman and was bound for Fort Omaha.

Gilmore is a deserter from troop F. Ninth cavalry, a colored regiment stationed at Fort Robinson. He deserted in November, 1889, a few weeks after the murder of Emanuel Stance, a sergeant of the same troop, who was foully assassinated one dark night while on his way from Crawford to the

One of Gilmore's comrades was tried and convicted of the crime and sentenced to fourteen years imprisonment. While in prison the convict corresponded with Gilmore. The latter was unable to read or write, and the persons who wrote his letters for him learned in this way that Gilmore was the one wno was guilty of the murder. They disclosed this fact to the authorities, and the search for deserter and murderer was prosecuted more vigorously than ever.

The soldier who had been convicted was pardoned after serving six months, but nething was heard from Gilmore until his arrest here last evening.

The Omaha officers have had a discription of Gilmore and have been looking for him for over a year, but notwithstanding the facthat he has been here several months and went under his proper name his identity was not discovered. During his stay here, Gi nore workedi'n several livery stables as a carriage washer. After his arrest he acknowledged that he was a deserter, but denied the more serious crime with which he was charged. He will be confined in the guard house at Fort Omaha until arrangements are made for his removal to Fort Robinson.

Officer Russell, who made the arrest, will laim the large reward offered for the capture of the murderer.

MORE FUN IN THE COUNCIL.

Omaha's Aldermanic Aggregation Holds a Lively Session Last Night.

INSPECTOR DENNIS AGAIN ON THE RACK.

Another Committee Appointed to Investigate Him-A Resolution for the Benefit of the Garbage Master.

The council burned the midnight oil last right, with all of the members in attendance. From the start President Lower was in a bad humor and for a time it looked as though a small riot was brewing on account of his efforts to secure order. Members were for and 8 against ordered to take their seats and spectators were ordered outside the rail.

Mayor Cushing vetoed the resolution authorizing Chairman Birkhauser to make a tour for the purpose of inspecting the pavement in other cities. The veto was sustained b a vote of 10 to 6. Mr. Birkhauser wanted his salary to go on while he is absent and also wanted $150 to pay his personal expenses.

The mayor stated that in the future all denands for additional street lighting should go to the committee on gas and electric ights and the gas inspector. Said he: 'As it is now gas lamps are placed as petiioned for. In my opinion it would be better to hold a meeting and decide upon where the lamps that will be put in this year should be located. By doing this! think the city could get its lamps at a much lower price." The council adopted the suggestion of the mayor, and at some near date a council ion of these lamps.

The library board, through its chairman, A. J. Poppleton, asked that the council appoint a committee of three to confer with the library board relative to the erection of a library building at some accessible point in the city. The communication was placed on meeting will be neld to decide upon the loca-

Chairman Birkhauser of the board of public works was instrumental in the effort to create a new city office, that of timekeeper to look after the street cleaners. He presented the name of John D. La Course and asked that his approximent meaning of the that his appointment be confirmed and the salary fixed at $3 per day while actually employed in the discharge of his duties. The request for the appointment of this man was referred to the committee on paving, curbing

Last right Dennis Fitzpatrick filed charges against him He says Dennis has meiddled with the work of plumbers of the city, and besides this is wholly incompetent to fill the office he now holds. Immediately Mr. Morearty was on his feet to move that the charges be laid on the The motion was put and defeated by a vote of 7 to 11.

Mr. Chaffee moved that the matter be referred to the committee on sewerage and that the members of that committee be authorized to send for persons and papers and that the investigation be made. Morearty grew warm and argued that no member dare charge that the former investigation was not thorough.

"No person wants to make any charges against you, but you know that you never returned the testimony to the council," said Mr. Chaffee. "It is in my desk and can be had at any time." returned Mr. Morcarty.

A heated discussion followed for half an hour, when the charges against Dennis were referred to the committee on sewerage, with instructions to investigate. This committee is composed of the following members; Budish, Bechel and Donnelly, Ed Burns, the sidewalk inspector, objected to the repairing of sidewalks being taken ont of his hands. He said that this is the only work on which he can make any money. The protest was referred to the committee on sidewalks,

The citizens in the west part of the city petitioned for an extension of the electric light lines on West Curning street to Lowe

A resolution for the benefit of Frank Morrissey, the garbage master, was introduced and adopted. This resolution states that the garbage master has been to Lincoln, where he has labored with the committee having m charge the Omaha charter amendments; that he has caused that committee to introduce a clause providing for a $2,400 per year sainry.

In his resolution Mr. Olson viewed with alarm the acts of the garbage master. The city clerk will at once forward a copy of this resolution to the committee, and wi-also inform the committee that the council committee suggested all the charter amend-ments that are needed. A resolution by Mr. Elsasser, that Chairman Birkhauser be authorized to visit east-era cities and learn something about paving, was adopted. He is authorized to expend $150 on his trip.

Mr. Morearty wasted Mr. Donnelly, chairman of the paving committee, to go along.

Mr. Elsasser thought that City Engineer Tillson should go with the members and the three be allowed $300 for their expenses. Mr. Cooper thought these gentlemen might read up on paying and learn as much as by taking the trip.

It was finally decided to send Mr. Birk-muser and give him $150 as pocket money.

Mr. Olson moved that the vote by which the garbage master resolution was adopted be reconsidered. The motion carried and Mr. Olson stated that he had been misinformed about the $2,400 salary matter. This clause was stricken out of the resolution. This brought the whole matter before the ouncil again. Mr. Elsasser said he went down to Lincoln last week and while before the committee Morrissey butchered the charter in a frightful manner, amending matters that per-tained to his office is nowise whatever. The resolutions as amended were adopted and copies will be at once sent to the Doug-The petition asking that Thirtieth street be widened from Farnam to Dodge was placed on file, as the petitioners had failed to deposit the money to pay damages.

The fire and police commission was authorized to purchase 8,000 feet of nose. The bits for street lighting presented by the gasoline lamp companies were declared void for the reason that they were opened be-fore coming into the council chamber. The Ohio street lighting company had bid $22per lamp. The city clerk will re-advertise for bids.

Mr. Olson went after the garbage master again. He moved that all of the papers relating to the javestigation held last summer be referred to the committee on police. The motion prevailed. church in 1892, met last night in the cafe of

Mr. Edward Rosewater was elected chairman of the meeting and I. Phillippi chosen as secretary. Bishop Newman, in explaining the call for the committee meeting said he had from the first inception of the that the conference should be held in Omaha been possessed with an honest pride in try-ing to do that which he believed would be a great benefit to the city and the entire west in many ways. In the first place, if the conference is held in Ornaha it will give the east another excellent opportunity to see the west and to see Omaha. It will west and to see On.aha. It will do more than this, for there will be delegates present from every civilized nation on earth. It will be of great advantage, the historical state of the concerned of the con advantage, the bishop said in a business con-sideration and as a means of elevating the sentiment of the community. "If I were an active business man of Omaha." said the bishop, "I am sure that I would consider

The questions to be met and decided upon now were: First, can the $25,000 required for the entertainment of the conference be secured, and, second, will the citizens of Omaha be inclined to open their homes and Omata be inclined to open their homes and entertain 250 or 350 delegates for a month?

The general conference will have 500 delegates and will be the most exciting conference held since 1844, when the question of African slavery caused a division in the charch. The question of the eligibility of women as members of the annual and general conferences will come before the conference of 1822 and will come before the conference of 1822 and will come before the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come the conference of 1822 and will come be fore the conference of 1822 and will come the conferenc ence of 1892 and will create profund interes for the reason that the matter has been voted on by all the Methodist churches in the land, is now being voted on by the annual confer-ences and will then be referred to the gen-

Another matter should be carefully considered, the bishop said. If the conference is held in Omaha and the delegates are not properly entertained it will probably injure the city. Chicago and Boston are anxious to get the conference, and if the citizens of Omaha think they had better not undertake it, then the choice can soon be made between the Hub and the city by the great unsaited

The chairman then called for a report of the committee of live that was appointed to make a special canvass for subscriptions, and Mr. L. S. Reed reported that himself and J. L. McCague had presented the matter to the banking institutions of the city almost a year ago, but had not met with very flattering encouragement in the shape of sub-scriptions. He felt somewhat discour-aged by the effort made then and did not think that any better success would result from a canvass at present.

Bishop Newman said that a number of letters had been received from prominent mempers of the committee who could not be present. Messrs. Frank Colpetzer, Max present. Messrs. Frank Colpetzer, Max Meyer, H. T. Clarke, John Meshane, A. P. Hobkins, Clark Woodman and others sent word that they could not be at the meeting, but they were ready to do their part in help ing to secure the conference for Omaha.

Mr. Erastus Benson spoke carnestly in favor of going ahead with the raising of the

J. L. McCague thought that the commissioners of the Methouist church ought to be satisfier with a substantial guarantee from reliable citizens of Omaha that the conference would be entertained by Omaha without specifying the amount of money to be Mr. R. C. Patterson asked Bishop Newman if it was not a new thing for the Metho-dist conference to require a cash guarantee from the city where the conference is held. "Such a thing was never known before," said the bishop, "in the history of the Methodist church, and ifOmaha succeeds in raising the funds asked for she will stand subline in her isolation." The bishop then said that he had suggested to the commissioners sont from the cast that this guarantee be re-quired simply because there was a feeling of oubt in the minds of the commissioners as to the ability of Omaha to entertain the cele gates. With the pressure that was brought to bear upon the commissioners from other cities anxious to secure the conference it became necessary for Omaha to do somethin ausually liberal in order to make sure of getting the great gathering. The expense of entertaining the delegates has heretofore been paid by the church, but if Omaha pro' vides for this important item in 1892 is stroduce a new thing in the financial part of the work. This guarantee had been made simply to satisfy the bishops who composed the commission that Omaha is able to entertain the conference. Dr. Leisenring was present and spoke with nuch fervor. He talked from experience much fervor. gained in assisting in the entertainment of delegates to the general synon of the Lutheran church two years ago, and he beleved that the 500 delegates could all be entertained in the homes of Omaha citizens. Bishop Newman said that if that if the en tire $25,000 should not be need then it would not be called for. It will be collected pro rata and per centum, but he wished to pro-Mr. Rosewater suggested that a motion or solution of some kind be passed so that the ousiness might be gotten in good shape. Mr. Benson moved that a committee of ive beappointed by the chair for the purpose of securing signatures to a bond which will guarantee the payment of $5,000 for the en-tertainment of the quadrennial conference of the Methodist church in Omaha in the year

The chairman appointed the following committee: Erastus Benson, J. L. Mc-Cague, Clark Woodman, R. C. Patterson and Chomas Kilpatrick. The committee withdrew from the room nd in twenty minutes returned with a bond which guarantees the payment of the sums placed opposite the names of those who sign it. The intention is to get fifty or one hun-dred signatures to the bond. Eight names were placed on the bond within ten minutes after I was submitted to the meeting.

By motion of Mr. Benson the names of lark Woodman and E. Rosewater were added to the committee of five, making it This committee will proceed at once to s are the fifty or more signatures to the bond and will report at a meeting to be called by Bishop Newman some time before the first

The meeting adjourned with a feeling that definite step had been taken in the right direction and that the conference is practically secured for Omaha.
