William Windnagel Found Dying in a Pool of Blood.

HIS THROAT CUT FROM EAR TO EAR.

William B. Kyle Suspected of Having killed His Former Partner as the Result of a Business Quarrel.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 20.- [Special to THE Bng. |-A case which will prove to be either a murder or a suicide came to the attetion of the police this morning. At 6:45 a.m. a telephone message was received from Twentyseventh and Randolph streets that a man had cut his throat. The patrol wagon with Officers Sipe, Carl Schmidt and Bon Malone hurried out to the scene and found on the floor of a 'dingy little butcher shop in the two-story brick block owned by J. J. Gillilan an aged butcher named William Windnagie weitering in his own blood. The gory fluid was welling from a big gash in his throat, and he was surrounded by his wife and a small crowd, who were vainly attempting to staunch the flow of blood. Dr. R. E. Giffen was called to the man's aid, and after working with him for two hours deemed it best to have him sent to the St. Elizabeth hospital.

The officers made a thorough investigation of the affair, and elicited the following facts: Windnagel has been running the butcher shop for some time in partnership with a man named William H. Kyle. Some two or three weeks ago Kyle and the injured man got into a fight over some matter of business, and Kyle is said to have chased the old man around the block with a big butcher knife. Soon after that the business partnership was dissolved, but Kyle, who had nothing to do or any money to live on, was allowed to sleep in the shop. This morning early the old man got up and went about his work as usual. He rooms just above the shop, and his wife growing tired of waiting for him to come to hreakfast, went down stairs to find out what was wrong. Just as she reached the bottom of the stairs Kyle was seen to run out of the shop.

The woman was horrifled on entering the place to find her husband stretched out on the floor with the blood welling from his throat, and a big butcher knife with a blade at least a foot long lying a few feet away. The alarm was then given and the police ar rived. Kyle was taken into custody and brought to the station, and will attempt to clear himself of the charge of murder which will probably be placed against him. He is a man of about fifty years of age, and his appearance is far from prepossessing. He strenously denies that he killed the oid man, and says that it was a case of suicide. His hands and face bore the marks of blood, and a handkerchief he had in his possession was soaked with gore. He says that he went into the shop just a moment before Mrs. Windnagel saw him come out, and finding the old fellow lying on the floor stooped over to see what was the matter, when he got the blood on his person. He explains his apparent running away by saying that he was just going out to give the alarm. He was put in the sweatbox this morning and told Marshal Melick that Windnagel had told him several times that he intended committing suicide; that his wife was untrue to him, and he did not think that the children were his own. This story is regarded, however, as a little fishy, as, so far as can be learned, the couple did not have

A Citizens Ticket. * DAVID CITY, Neb., March 20.-|Special to Tus Bss. |-The livliest caucus ever held in this city was held last night. The main fight was over city treasurer, but the personality of the candidates was lost sight of, being entirely engulfed in the bitter warfare waged by the banks. While the question of saloon licenses was not an issue the men nominated are license men. The ticket nominated is: Mayor, S. Clingman; treasurer, D. G. Sabin; clerk, E. B. Taylor; city engl ncer, P. C. Patterson. All but the treasurer are the present incumbents of the respective offices. The caucus was composed of citizens of all political parties. Italians Hold a Mass Meeting to Denounce the New Orleans Affair.

WROUGHT UP TO THE HIGHEST PITCH.

Only Wise Counsel from Leading Men and Prompt Action by the Police Prevents Serious Trouble.

ALMOST A RIOT IN NEW YORK,

NEW YORK, March 20 .- Cooper union hall was packed with 5,000 Italians of New York and vicinity tosight, called to denounce last Saturday's tragedy in New Orleans, and outside, notwithstanding the drizzling rain, more than as many more were unable to gain entrance to the hall. Shortly before 9 o'clock the crush outside broke down the doors and a number of people were injured in the rush. One hundred and fifty policemen were kept busy. The presiding officer was A. DeAnzelo. The speeches were nearly all in Italian, and the denunciations of the New Orleans tragedy were almost terrifying in their venemence. To pacify the crowd without it was addressed from th balcony by a number of speakers.

When President DeAngelo stepped to the front of the platform and rapped for order there was a lull in the noise of the hall. He said quietly and impressively, "italiani," then a roar of "bravo" barst from the thousands of Italian throats. The applause was resistless in its vehemence for fully five minutes, and so it was through the entire meet-ing. Every man was excited to the highest pitch. But a word seemed necessary to transform them into a throng of demons. The committee in charge seemed to realize this and took every precaution to avoid any trouble. Near the close of the meeting, when the resolutions were being read several persons in different parts of the hall arose and asked to be allowed to speak.

These requests were refused by the chair man. Then men who wanted to speak they appealed to their fellows, asking if they meant to sit there inactive, and urging them to act and avenge the wrongs done in New Orleans. The instant they began to tak in this way prominent men on the platform urged the audience to be quiet and orderly. Meanwhile the pelice had taken the rot in citors in hand and hustled them out of the hall. It was a critical moment and the lead ng men of the meeting acted none too soon They admitted after the meeting that has they allowed any one of those in the audience to have spoken for five mirutes bloodshed would have followed, as the men present would have been so wrought up that they would have started a riot without knowing

Dr. Asetta, in his speech, said the massacre was a deed not done by the American people, but by villains. #### LAWRENCE BARRETT DEAD. | PARNELL TO RESIGN HIS SEAT. The Great Tragedian Expires Suddenly from Heart Distase. New York, March 20. -Lawrence Barrett, the tragedian, diod this evening at the Windsorhotel of heart failure. He was unconscious but a short time before his death. His wife and Dr. Chambers of this city were with Mr. Harrett when he breathed his last. His last sickness dated from Wednesday night, when he was obliged to leave the theater where he was engaged. It was said at that time that he was merely suffering from a severe cold and would be out in a few da/s, and the same report was made the following day. Even vesterday reports from the sick chamber were very favorable. This evening Dr. Chambers called at the Windsor hotel at 9 o'clock to see the patient and shortly after announced that he would remain all night. Death occurred at 10:45. Heart failure, the physician declared, was the cause of death. Dr. Chambers says that on Wednesday Barrett had a cold and whon he returned home from the theater was selzed with a severe chill. The next day symptoms of pneumonia appeared and a consultation was held by Drs. Chembers and Walker and Dr. Oliver of Boston. Mrs. Barrett was also summoned. At the consultation the case was diagnosed as a grave phase of pneumonia and complications made it serious, as for two years Barrett has been a sufferer from throat disease. Between 5 and 10 o'clock this evening there was a rapid hange for the worse and when the consultation was held the sick man was only semi-conscious. For fifteen to twenty minutes before he died he was wholly unconscious.

Barrett has two daughters, now in Europe. The funeral will probably take place in Bos-Edwin Booth was at the players' club in bed when notified of his death. He was

REMOVED CATHOLIC TEACHERS. A Wisconsin Indian Agent's Action

Liable to Create Trouble. WASHINGTON, March 20.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The action of Indian Agent

Kelsev at Green Bay agency, Wisconsin, in removing all the Catholic teachers and appointing Protestants in their place is likely to have a far-reaching and unexpected effect. It will be recollected that the senate hesitated a considerable time before it finally confirmed Mr. Morgan as Indian commissioner. This hesitation was largely due to the charge that Morgan was bitterly hostile to the Catholic church and would use his of-ficial position to injure it. The Catholics of Wisconsin united in a statement of Agent Kelsey's action and ferwarded it to Father Stephanie, who has charge of the Catholic bureau of missions here. They also urged him to demand an explanation. Father Stephanie at once called on the president and laid the matter before him. Secretary Noble was sent for and the situation was discussed at some length. The 'secretary has written to Agent Kelsey for an explanation of the removals. It is regarded as certain that Commissioner Morgan knew of Agent Kelsey's action and approved of it. Morgan is in Chiengo at this time. The president has sent him a short telegram there in relation to the matter, and it is thought that unless Morgan can make a satisfactory explanation a new commissioner will be installed before the grass again becomes green upon the Dakota

The latter took to the settees, the windows, the corridors, the house in fact, any place where they might escape the monotonous reading of the clerks. A few railroad men dropped into the senate from time to time, remained a few moments, and then sought the more congenial places in other parts of the building.

After the reading had progressed for some time both Senators Moore and Switzler directed the attention of the senate to the fact that the pristed copy of the bill differed in some respects from the one which was being

The difference lay in the fact that in the former the numbers and letters indicating the class to which the goods belonged appeared at the head of each page, and not at the end of every line, as in the printed bill. The senators mentioned stated they did not know at that time whether this omission would affect the bill. The reading continued until 5:50 p. m. when Senator Mattes moved the senate take

The Green Divorce Case. NEW YORK, March 20.- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-In the supreme court special term today the trial of Mrs. Laura R. Green's suit for divorce from Douglas Green, the former partner of Commodore Rateman in Wall street, was 'commonced. Mr. Green created quite a sensation by cloping with Mrs. McCrea, and is now in Europe with her. He never put in any answer to the suit. The plaintiff offered two witnesses only, and their evidence being insufficient, Judge O'Brien adjurned the case in order to secure further evidence.

Grip Epidemic in Pittsburg. PITTSBURG, Pa., March 20 .- The grip is epidemic and fully four thousand cases are reported. The disease is far more acute than before known here.

The speakers counselled quiet observance o the laws of their adopted country by all means, but it was noted that the resolutions fiercely condemning the "murder of our New Orleans brothers," etc., and asking the United States government to punish th "perpetrators of the outrage," were carried with a vehement "Si" that was unanimous.

More Threats by the Mafia.

Sr. Louis, Mo., March 20.-1 Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-Dispatches from Texas say the New Orleans Mafia is sending threatening letters to persons who have ex pressed disapproval of their methods. As a result of his free expression of conviction that the New Orleans killing of the Mafie members was right, John Lang, a wealthy and prominent citizen of Houston, is in re-ceipt of a letter, purporting to have been signed by Mafia authority, warning him to keep his mouth shut or he will be done for. It is written in red ink with the customary skull and cross bones.

FREE COINAGE QUESTION.

Wyoming's Senator Thinks the Wes is Misrepresented.

NEW YORK, March 20.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Senator Carey of Wyoming is spending a few days in the city on his way home from Washington, "The so-called free coinage craze in the west has been largely exaggerated," said the senator. "A great mass of the clear headed and conservative element is in favor of giving the present law a thorough trial, believing that it will meet fully the business requirements of the coun-try. Western people do not believe that the government may place its stamp on a piece of metal and make it worth its face value though the western business man be lieves in sound money as much his brother in the east, only the west the west be lieves in a larger circulating medium, The talk of some republican sliver senators about their constituents wanting to form an alliance with the south in order to secur The people of free coinage is idle. He said his action was in ac-cordance with the policy recently decided upon. It is contrary to the best interests of the government to reliaquish at the present time for export any considerable part of the most convenient form forour gold supply. He did not regard it as probable that gold would be forced to a promium by reason of the present policy against the exportation of the povernment's limited supply of gold bars. NEW YORK, March 20.—Superintendent Macon received notice from the treasury officials this afternoos that two requests for officials this afternoon that two requests for gold bars for export had been refused. When the bankers received this news they ordered $750,000 in coin at the sub-treasury, which will be shipped tomorrow, making the total shipments so far as known $1,275,000.
