FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

Binger Acquitted of the Charge of Assaulting Peter Benson.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Rehearing Granted by the Supreme Court in the Case of Shellenberger vs Ransom—Odds and Ends.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 28.—(Special to This Bee.)—The trial of Fred Binger, charged with assaulting Peter Benson, was held in the district court yesterday. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal for Binger.

The testimony showed that the row took place between a lot of Germans and Swedes, and considerable difficulty was experienced by the court in securing the services of an interpreter, the half dozen spectators who were acquainted with that language feigning ignorance. Finally a man whom the judge knew wandered in and he was pressed into service. The testimony showed that Binger, Benson and a half dozen others were at the house near Third and O streets last Saturday engaged in a drinking bout and all became hilariously full. When the parties became sober next morning Benson found he had his leg broken and suspected Binger of having done the job. No fight had taken place and it is surmised the fellow engaged in a drunken bugging match, in which Benson was accidentally injured. Binger was therefore discharged.

A pathetic incident in connection with the affair happened yesterday. Some one told Mrs. Binger that the trial would take place in the "big house on the hill," which she understood to mean the capital. She accordingly planted herself on the steps of the state house and remained there from early morning until after noon, without anything to eat. Several persons noticed her, and endeavored to find out what she wanted, but all the reply they received was, "Fred Binger, Fred Binger." Finally, supposing the woman was demented, word was sent to the police station and Officer Splain went up and brought her down. The mystery was all explained, however, when, upon entering the room where the trial was taking place, she rushed up to the defendant and threw her arms around his neck.

DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Field was engaged this morning in hearing a number of motions, many of them of no particular importance save to the litigants.

In the libel cases of the Misses Ella and Libbie Miley against the Massee the plaintiffs were given a continuance of ten days, a new petition, the old one being knocked out, and also to make W. X. T. Duncan a party defendant.

Arguments were also heard on the demurrer filed by Colonel Philpot on behalf of Monday McFarland, who doesn't think that the first and second counts of the indictment against him, in which he is charged with conspiracy, should, from a legal point of view, be allowed to stand. The court took the matter under advisement.

The attorneys for Jerome and Emma C. Williamson, who are racing for a divorce, were engaged this morning arguing the question whether Jerome should pay Emma some money to live on while the suit is pending.

The case brought by the New Republic against Editors Davis and Thomas to recover for a press they claimed was no good was settled and dismissed this morning.

In county court the McCormick harvester company have a kick coming. They don't like the tactics of H. C. Tabor, who has been acting as their agent, and bring suit to recover $2, which they claim he received from W. Cunningham for a wagon, but which he was neglected to turn over to them.

Michael Kilroy also files his complaint with the same tribunal. He says that some time last fall he contracted with S. K. Emerson to lease the latter his farm in West Oak precinct. Emerson agreed to pay him half of the rent $225 in all, on February 1, and to give a note due October 1 next for the balance. Emerson moved onto the farm last November, but has made no move to fulfill the contract, wherefore Michael sues for the whole amount.

A REHEARING GRANTED.

The supreme court yesterday granted a rehearing in the now celebrated case of Shellenberger vs Ransom. This case involves the title to an undivided one-half of a farm in Oloo county. Maggie and Joseph Shellenberger were the owners of the farm. About four years ago the father, Lee Shellenberger, killed Maggie Shellenberger, and according to the plain letter of the statute of descents in this state, he succeeded to and became the owner of Maggie's interest in the farm and he conveyed the interest thus acquired to Frank Ransom and John Watson as pay for their services as attorneys in defending him for the murder of Maggie. Afterward Lee Shellenberger was convicted, and while his case was pending on an appeal to the supreme court a mob took Shellenberger from the Oloo county jail and hung him. Then the right of Ransom and Watson to the farm was denied by representatives of Joseph Shellenberger, and it was claimed by him that he had murdered Maggie he could not inherit her property, but her interest would go to her brother Joseph. This suit was brought to determine the question raised. The Oloo county court, Judge Chapman presiding, decided the matter in favor of Ransom and Watson, and the case was appealed by Joseph Shellenberger to the supreme court, where about three months since the judgment of the Oloo county district court was reversed and a decree was entered declaring in favor of Joseph Shellenberger. Since then the case has attracted considerable public attention, and the papers have contained articles taking issue with the supreme court and criticizing the result arrived at. Ransom and Watson applied to the court to have the decree set aside, and this has been done.

At the meeting of the members of the normal school board of Nebraska the following officers were elected: President, B. E. H. Kennedy; Secretary, J. W. G. Brown; Superintendent of Public Instruction, G. W. G. Brown.

About $2,000 worth of valuable books have been added to the state normal school at Peru.

The annual meeting of the city principals and superintendents of schools of Nebraska will be held early in May. It will be held in Lincoln.

The North Nebraska Teachers' association will hold its annual meeting at Norfolk April 2.

On the same date the Southeast Nebraska Teachers' association will hold its annual meeting at Peru. Fully three hundred teachers will attend these meetings.

Superintendent Fordyce of Auburn and his assistants in the schools at that place were in the city today taking in the sights, and spent considerable time watching the proceedings of the legislature.

LANCASTER COUNTY TEACHERS.

Today the Lancaster County Teachers' association held an instructive and interesting session in this city. Among the leading features were the following: "President's Message," Prof. T. Davidson, "Words," Prof. J. C. Fentzer; "Literature in the Homes of Country Children," Miss Tillie Hope. Discussions on a number of interesting and useful topics were indulged in and other features were presented in which school children took part.

THE DISTRICT JUDGESHIP VACANCIES.

The bar association held a meeting this afternoon at the court house for the purpose of determining what attorneys shall be recommended for appointment by Governor Boyd to the position of judges of the district court. Attorney A. S. Tibbets was chosen as the democratic nominee.

Great interest centered in the nomination of a republican nominee, and there were over a dozen candidates. Hon. Charles L. Hall was finally chosen.

WANTS HER DOWRY.

It is reported that the divorced wife of J. G. Roberts, the engineer recently killed at Sutton, seeks to have the $20,000 insurance on his life going to Roberts' sweetheart, Miss Taylor of Alois. In Mrs. Roberts' claims that she was married again to Roberts this winter and wishes the dowry allowed by law.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Under the Australian ballot system no more declarations can be made by the nominees on the various tickets, the time for so doing having expired yesterday. There is therefore no chance for J. H. Ames, the democratic nominee to withdraw.

C. B. Beach, republican candidate for council from the second ward, is ill at his home on L between Tenth and Eleventh from an attack of influenza.

The Westinghouse electric company of Minneapolis downed the Weeping Water electric light company in a recent law suit in Cass county and secured judgment for $3,033 against the latter named company. Today the Weeping Water company took the case to the supreme court on alleged error.

MOREHOUSE'S MUSIC.

He Gets Tangled Up in a Peculiar Piano Performance.

G. R. Morehouse was arrested yesterday afternoon on a complaint of C. E. Morrell.

It is claimed by the complainant that on or about February 11 he entered into a partnership agreement with Morehouse in the piano and music business. Their war rooms were located at 1013 Chicago street.

The complainant charges Morehouse with unlawfully converting to his own use the proceeds of six pianos, the property of Chickering, Chase & Co.

A Bee reporter called upon Mr. Morrell at his place of business yesterday afternoon. In connection with the case Mr. Morrell said: "I entered into partnership with Morehouse about the middle of February. He then had six pianos which he claimed were his own, and put them into the business against $2,500 of my capital. The first I knew of any crookedness was about March 1, when Morehouse came home and said he had sold the pianos to Lyne & Healy of Chicago. As the music was not shipped I wired the Chicago house and their reply stated that they would not ship goods until money was received."

"I then found that the pianos were mortgaged for nearly $1,000. The Royston loan company held a $500 mortgage; R. F. Masters, $250, and Frank Ott, $200. None of these parties knew of the other mortgage."

"Mr. W. L. Ray, general agent of the Chickering-Chase company at Chicago, is in the city endeavoring to get an insight into the matter. Mr. Ray says that the six pianos in question were shipped as a consignment to Morehouse, and had never been paid for. Mr. Ray is here to protect the interests of his house. It is also claimed that Morehouse, who lives at 3223 Pacific street, has raised considerable money on notes, but this rumor could not be verified."

Morse Struck a Bonanza.

The purchase made this week by the Morse dry goods company of the entire stock of men's furnishing goods and children's clothing formerly owned by Robinson & Garmon, has caused a great deal of comment in business circles. No firm has probably carried as fine a line of men's furnishing goods as Robinson & Garmon did, while their children's clothing was far ahead of anything in this western country. Mr. Morse is to be congratulated on his fortunate purchase.

New Warrants Out.

New warrants were issued yesterday for H. B. Kennedy, Charles Behrens, William Donnelly, Charles White and Henry Hornbaker, all charged with gambling or keeping gambling devices for the purpose of running games of chance.

Sam's Pardon.

Sam Stevenson, the man who at the February term of the district court 1888 was convicted of rape and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary, has been pardoned and will be released next Thursday.

JOYOUS EASTER TIDE HERE.

Christians' Evidence of Christ's Triumph Over Death to Be Commemorated.

CHURCHES WILL RING WITH HOSANNAS.

Great Preparations Made to End the Forty Days' Fast with a Celebration of the Glad Festival.

All of the Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches have made elaborate preparations for special Easter services today and in all of the churches sermons and music appropriate to the day will form the feature.

Following are the musical programmes and announcement of services in the principal churches:

ST. PHILIP'S CATHEDRAL.

At St. Philip's cathedral, on Ninth street, the music will be very choice. Ciparosa's "Grande Messe Militaire" will be given with full orchestra, quartet, and chorus of twenty-five voices. A special feature, and a treat for connoisseurs of church music will be Cappocci's "Laudes Pueri" at the offertory. This will be the first rendering of this unique piece of church music in America, although its composition dates back to 1861, when Plus IX, inaugurated the chapel of St. Cecilia in the catacombs of Rome. Inspired, no doubt, by the opening words of the psalm, the composer had prepared a choir of 150 little boys and like them hidden away among the gloomy recesses of the catacombs. The pope was so struck with the beauty of the music, as well as with the appropriateness and the originality of the idea that he caused the procession to halt, and at the termination of the ceremony he dubbed Cappocci a knight of the Order of St. Gregory.

It has been arranged for full orchestra by Mr. Salisbury.

Extending solos written for a tenor robusto, will be sung by Mr. Kluzie, with a chorus of thirty ladies' voices—the two choirs of the cathedral being combined for the occasion.

No pains have been spared to render this grand composition in a manner befitting the theme. The freshness and the purity of the girls' voices in Miss Swift's choir make a delightful accompaniment to the grand notes of the tenor.

RELEASING SUGAR.

How the Bonded Box Car Scheme is Worked

Speaking of the large shipments of sugar that are now and have been for a week arriving in the west, it is distributed after April 1, Mr. Alexander, surveyor of customs, said yesterday:

"By a wise provision in the McKinley tariff bill our American refiners were authorized to re-warehouse in bond during the month of March, in order to accumulate a sufficient quantity to meet the tremendous demand which was now and is to be made when the duty ceased, on April 1, 1901. No such emergency has ever arisen in Customs experience before, and it has taxed the genius of the treasury department not a little to provide means for releasing thousands of tons of sugar simultaneously, in all parts of the United States. One move was to constitute all cars in which sugar should be loaded, temporary warehouses, under customs seals, and authority was granted to have these bonded cars to any point within a customs district, consigned to the collector of that port, to whom all papers should be sent. The parties to whom the sugars are ultimately to be delivered are required to care as yet to arrive there. The sugars having been withdrawn from the refiners' warehouse—at their own port, prior to April 1, and on that day or thereafter to make re-warehouse withdrawal entry for consumption. In order that the thousands of cars at local stations may be unloaded, it has provided that the several collectors in whose district they are located, can appoint deputy inspectors for temporary service, whose terms and other expenses shall be paid by the parties sorted. The cautious officers all over the country have been busy, and it is likely that the whole scheme will be worked out successfully."

"It will be of local interest to glance at a few figures connected with the business at the port of Omaha, to date—and a number of cars are yet to arrive—there have come into this district 3,107,383 pounds of sugar costing $140,000, and on which the duties, if collected, would have been $74,458.50. When we remember how largely sugar is used and how essential an element it is in the domestic economy of every family it will be very easy to realize the magnitude of the blessing which the new tariff brings about."

BREVETTES.

"The Rivals," a society drama, will be presented by home talent at Washington hall on Friday evening, April 5, for the benefit of the Croche.

An open meeting of painters and decorators will be held on Sunday, March 29, 1 p. m., sharp at Green's hall, 1115 Farnam street. Good speakers will be present to speak on the value of great importance to the painter. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A special meeting has been called of the Young Men's institute for Monday evening to make arrangements for the funeral of their late brother, William Franklin, who died suddenly last evening at his residence. Mr. Franklin was a well known attorney.
