$5,000 Stock of Hats, Flowers, Ribbons, Laces and Ornaments Badly Wet at the Paxton Hotel Fire.

TO THE TRADE. R. R. Harris, traveler for T. B. Smith & Co., 114 and 116 Wabash avenue, Chicago, had three rooms full of milli-nery goods at the Paxton hotel at the time of the fire, which he was delivering to the millinery trade of Omaha. Some of the goods were badly wet, while some were not damaged to any great extent. I have purchased the entire stock, as you will see by the following affidavit. С. А. STONEHILL. Омана, Neb., April 18, 1891.

R. R. Harris, being first duly sworn, says that his entire stock which was in the Paxton hotel fire of recent date was purchased by C. A. Stonehill, and no other firm secured as much as one dollar's worth of these goods. R. R. HARRIS.

NEBRASKA PEOPLE APPRECIATE

A Good Thing When They See It. This is proven by the way in which the business of the New England Mutual Life insurance company has grown since they entered the state for business two and one-half years ago.

Besides being the oldest old line company in the country, it has always had the reputation among business men of being very economically and conservatively managed, paying liberal distributions of surplus annually.

An examination of their contract shows plainly another reason for its popularity, viz.: The high cash surrende and paid up values which the Massachusetts law compels them to endorse on every policy, making it cashable any year for the assured's equity, if he chooses to discontinue. Their Nebraska manager, Mr. W. J. Fischer, reports business 50 per cent ahead of 1890 since January 1, 1891.

H. E. Palmer & Son, General Insurance

Agents.

This is a veteran firm in fire underwriting. Captain H. E. Palmer, the senior member, came to Nebraska thirty-one years ago. For twenty-one years past he has been en-gaged exclusively in the fire insurance business. From a local to a special and state agent—for nearly eighteen years in charge of the entire business of the Home insurance company of New York west of the Missouri river, covering the territory of Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and the territories. Has adjusted all their losses during that time. The son, Mr. George H. Palmer, was born in the busindss—at fifteen years of age he was agent for fourteen companies. For the past year and a half they have represented in Omaha six stalwart companies, all first agencies, and for the year 1890 have written over $50,000 in premiums, a splendid showing for a new firm. Their business is a general business—covering fire, accident, steam boiler, employers' liability, and elevator insurance. They have also been appointed general agents for ten western states from the Mississippi to the Pacific coast for the bond department of the Fidelity and Casualty company—bonds of suretyship for persons in positions of trust. The German Savings Bank. There is no one feature that adds more to Omaha's financial solidity than her banking institutions, and in this connection we note with pleasure the rapid and solid growth of this comparatively new bank which is the latest financial institution organized in Omaha. Their deposits in the first eighty business days reached the sum of $301,417.13, which is a high commendation of the business ability and confi-dence in the conservative policy of the executive management of this institution. The officers and board of directors are particularly fitted for the different itions which they fill so admirably scribed capital of $500,000 with a stock holders liability to depositors of $1,000,000 which offers a security to depositors equal to any in the world. The immense growth of the business has compelled the management to seek new and more commodious quarters, which they have done, and about Sept. 1st, '91, when the new Karbach block is finished, on the corner of Douglas and 15th streets, they will occupy the handsome banking rooms which will be especially arranged according to the wishes of the bank management. This institution has secured the authority from the comptroller of the currency for the organization of the German National bank and this organization will be perfected about the time they move to their new quarters. The officers and directors of the bank are as follows: Frederick Metz, sr., president; Chas. J. Korbach, vice president; Henry Bolln managing director; L D Fowler, cashier, Frederick Krug, George Heim-rod and Henry Meyer. The bank has won well deserved encomiums from all who have observed its wonderful success in the world of finance,

At the recent annual meeting of the stockholders and board of directors the cashier submitted a statement of the condition of the bank; also a report of earnings and expenditures since its or ganization; also recommendations as to the disposition of the same which was highly satisfactory to all concerned. The report was accepted and recommendations adopted as follows: EARNINGS AND EXPENDITURES. Earnings, $27,404.18. Expenditures, $9,485.16. Profits from June 2, 1890, to April 11,

The unusual bargains in millinery at S. Hoffmau's have caused such a rush of business at their piace, 1408 Douglas street, that many of their customers could not get waited upon.

We regret this very much and have added five more sales ladies to our usual force to prevent this in the fu-For this coming week we are going to beat the record by putting Child's sailor hats to 6c. Ladies' black Milan flats to 15c. Ladies' black Leghorn flats to 20c. Ladies' beautifully trimmed hats, $1,50. Ladies' trimmed hats (better material), $1.98, Ladies' elegantly trimmed hats, $2.48, All these trimmed hats are retailed for double our prices quoted. Ours are strictly wholesale prices. Remember 1408 Douglas street leads them all in styles, beats them all in variety and paralyzes them all on prices. HOFFMAN, Millinery.

The Practical Stenographers. Prof. F. W. Mosher, principal of the shorthand and typewriting department of the Omaha commercial college, has just completed a very paactical book on the study and practice of shorthand writing, called "The Practical Stenographer," This book begins at once with the practical work of teaching the principles as found through the reporting style, which is really the only practical style of shorthand writing. Much valuable time has been wasted by students in the long, la-borious maze of "principles" contained in the old corresponding style. All this useless toil is happily avoided in Prof. Mosher's book, and yet the subject is very thoroughly and systematically pre-

The book is copiously illustrated with plates and is plain and comprehensible to any person of average intelligence. It is published by Rohrbough Brothers and may be found at the book stores. Price, $1.75; postpaid, $1.85.

In arranging for the president's tour great care was taken to select the route over such lines as would afford the party the best possible service and in every way contribute to the pleasure and enjoyment of the trip.

Among other roads thus honored, is the Burlington route, the president hav-

A. L. Deane & Co.,

Dealers in Hall's safe and lock company's celebrated fire and burglar proof safes, bank locks, vaults, door and time locks. Since Mr. Deane assumed control of the business, some two years ago, t has grown with wonderful rapidity, until now they enjoy the proud reputa-tation of being the most suc-cessful safe and lock firm in the west. Having placed safety deposit vaults in the First National bank of this city and many other banks throughout the west, entitles them to the fullest confidence of the public. A L. Deane & Co. occupy the two large and commodious salesrooms known as Nos. 321 and 323 South Tenth street. In connection with the above they have a repair shop under skillful mechanics who are experts in all kinds of safe and lock work. Much credit is due Mr. R. J. Pope, their efficient general manager, for his untiring efforts in behalf of their patrons, and the public generally.

Mrs. Knowles Playing Even. Mrs. Jack Knowles walked into police court yesterday and, declaring that what was sauce for the goose was sauce for the gander, filed a complaint charging her nus-band with adultery. Mrs. Knowles has had a detective force working on the case for some time and claims to have a dead sure case against her husband.
