PRESBYTERIAN BODIES.

Meeting of the Omaha Presbytery and the Seminary Directors. The Seminary Directors. Yesterday the presbytery convened at 8:30 o'clock and an hour was devoted to a service of prayer. The business session was commenced and the whole of the fore-noon devoted to hearing the replies of the churches of the presbytery. Nearly all show an increased membership and most of them are in good financial condition. The attendance was considerably harvar

The attendance was considerably larger than at the meeting held last night. At noon a lunch was served in the base-ment of the church. Most of the afternoon was spent in examining two young ministers, Rev. A. J. Mont-gomery and Rev. Alexander Robinson. Rev. Robinson took the preliminary examination and Rev. Montgomery took the final ex-amination in church bistory and Greek. He stood the examination very satisfactorily and the presbytery decided to ordain thim at the evening session. Rev. Montgomery is a very bright young man and is thoroughly educated in both collegiate and theological branches of learning.

Dranches of learning. Dr. Sexton, the synodical missionary gave a talk of twenty minutes upon the work throughout the state. He sain that if the missonary board had the necessary means he could place twenty additional men in th field to good advantage. Speaking of the missionary work among the Indians in Ne-braska, Dr. Sexton said there are a num-ber of thriving church organiza-tions among the Omaha and Winnebago tons among the Omaha and Winnebago tribes. At one place, near Ponca, they have a Young People's Society of Christian En-deavor composed entirely of Indians. A large number were present at the even-ing session to witness the ordination ser-vices. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Sexton of Seward, synodical missionary of Nebraska, and Rev. A. B. Byram of Craig delivered the charge. The only matter of a business nature trans-acted was the admission of the newly or-acted was the admission of the newly or-dained ministers to the presbytery, and the names of Rev. A. J. Montromery and Rev. Alexander Robinson were ordered enrolled. The closing session will be held today and

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS. Paving Projects.

"Please state through the columns of THE BEE," said an active business man and influential citizen, "that our paving and improvement prospects are very bright. It is provement prospects are very bright. It is proposed to pave Twenty-fourth street from A to Q streets, Q street from Twenty-fourth street to the Q street viaduct, Twenty-fifth street from L to Q and Twenty-sixth street from L to Q streets, thus completely paving the business portion of the city and giving necessary facilities for hauling to and from Omaha. Undoubtedly the council will take action on all these newing matters at the action on all these paying matters at the meeting Saturday night. The day of im-passable streets is past."

LAKE'S ELABORATE EXERCISES. Arbor Day Celebrated with Peculiarly

Appropriate Ceremonies. Again the Lake school has sustained its reputation of never doing things by halves. The occasion was Arbor day and there were ten trees, the gift of John I. Redick, to piant. The janitor and a hired man performed most of the labor, while the teacher and the 500 pupils celebrated in a manner that would have made J. Sterling Morton happy, could he have been present. The forenoon session of the school was devoted to the regulation exercises, but there was a great time after dinner. In each room there were poems, recitations and essays upon the subjects of wood, trees and people who have been connected with

The forcests. Promptly at 3 o'clock, upon a given signal, the Lake school drum corps, consisting of thirteen boys, eight with fifes, four with snare drums and one bearing a bass drum that towered high above his head, narched into the hall beating a lively march. The 800 boys and girls took "position." Miss Wit-mun's pupils set the step and marched into the hall four abreast. They were followed by the pupils from the other rooms, after which the column marched out the south door, down the steps and about the grounds in a soldierly manner. The marching con-tinued until the pupils from Miss Valentine's and Mrs. Cariisle's room, the class of '91, and Mrs. Carlisle's room, the class of '91, had been brought to a tree in the southeast had been brought to a tree in the southeast corner of the grounds. The column stopped while the band played "Captain Jenks." Here a hollow square twas formed about the tree, after which Miss Whitmore, the principal, delivered a neat and appropriate address on "Arbor Day and Tree Planting." closing with the remark: "I decicate this tree to the pupils of the Lake school." Park Improvements Are Prevented

Through Charter Amendments Dr. George L. Mider, chairman of the park commission, is not feeling hopeful over the prospects in store for the commission during the coming season.

In conversation yesterday the doctor said : 'I am only too sorry to say that I have official information that that portion of the amended city charter referring to parks is in such a condition that it will result in taking away all the power of condemnation which the commission formeriy possessed. In South Omaha the commission would have power to act, but in this city our hands are tied.

"What does this mean for the parks and boulevards that the commission had under new charter. "The only possible thing that I see is to ask Governor Boyd to include the considera-tion of the park law in his call for an extra session of the legislature. "We have had large forces of men at work on the Bemis park boulevard and in the parks about the city, but since interpreting the law, all of the men have been called off and the chances are that nothing can be done this summer. As matters now stand we are almost powerless to lift a hand, simply on account of the legislature failing to give us authority to act." The other members of the commission were seen, and all expressed themselves as being of the same opinion as Dr. Miller.

The park commissioners met for a few mo-ments during the afternoon, passed the fol-lowing resolution and adjourned: Resolved, That as the legislature has re-voked the direct
