OMAHA HOLDS FIRST PLACE.

Yesterday's Victory Gives the Lambs a Lead in the Pennant Race.

SIOUX CITY WAS EASILY DEFEATED.

Milwaukee Takes a Fall from Denver -Lincoln Almost Shut Out Again -Minneapolis Has a Narrow Escape.

Omaha, 9: Sioux City, 5. St. Paul, 3; Lincoln, 1, Kansas City, 10; Minneapolis, 1. Milwaukee, 5; Denver, 0.

When Manager Shannon strode off the field last evening the scalps of nine Corn Huskers were dangling at his belt, It was the first bout with Sloux City, and,

as everybody expected, Omaha walked off with the laurets.

There was nothing of the snap order about it, however, and at several stages it looked as if the Lambs would be left in the sizzling puree. But good old Dame Fortune was lavish with her smiles again, and the White Sox pulled out in good shape with three runs to spare.

Sioux City died hard and strange to say, not one of the 1,500 people who filled the stands, felt the least bit of pity for them. They were satisfied with Omaha's work, though, if it was a trifle frayed at the edges, and they recognized that if she don't drop more than two games out of eight throughout the season she will stand a tremendous good chance of going up against Kid Nichols next fall for the championship of the earth.

So just by way of encouragement they gave the boys a cheer as Joe Waish slammed Scheibeck, the last man, out at first.

Lon Knight, for the first time since the opening of the season, was a bit off color in his umpiring, but he had an unusually large number of close decisions to make, and it was about an even thing for both sides.

If the whole Western association is as com-etent as Mr. Knight, kicks this season will be like angels' visits, few and far between The local aggregation played a mighty strong game, and a lucky one, and the Huskers' game was strong, too, but as luck would have it, her patting didn't tell. They hit the ball hard as a rule, but somehow or other it always went to one of the galaxy in the

Clarke pitched for Omaha and was a puzzle the Sioux couldn't solve at critical junctures. Billy, Hart, too, was at his best, but his best was not quite good enough to win the game Twitchell went to but first as usual, and by an old Columbus (Ohio) trick of his, he took first on balls. Halligan was thrown ou by Genins, but the commodors moved up a peg on the sacrifice. Old Cy came next. He was mad and his dove-like eyes emitted corruscant rays, like those of an anneonda when about to swallow an ox.

"Put it over and I'll kill it," he growled to Hart, and to his sorrow Hart did so It was only a single, but it brought Larry ome and awoke the silimbering echoes it the grand stand.

the grand stand.

McCauley smashed the ethereal three times is succession and Griffin went out to Then the Corn Huskers took their turn at the bat and the result was three runs before you could say scat!

First of all Halligan gathered in Tommy Poorman's graceful fly, but Sheibeck made second on a clean drive among the left field carriages.

That was horrid! But my, what fun there was the next moment when Nicholson hit to Clarke and Clarke turned and caught Sheibeck between second and third. It was a right merry chase for several seconds, and the crowd yelled and laughed and clapped their hands for they thought She was as good as out.

But he wasn't.

Just at the wrong time Shannon threw the ball too high for Clarke to get it, and Sheibeck reached third in safety and Nick second

Then the spectators fairly groaned as if they had lost a near and dear friend. As is invariably the case after a blunder of this kind dissister follows, and there was no exception to the rule this time.

Jakey Strauss made a single and both runners skipped across the plate. Morrissey followed with a base on balls, and Earle with another hit, which scored Jakey.

Right here the Lambs turned welves again and when VanDyke hit to Waish the nimble catcher was nailed at second, and Captain Danney fired the ball to McCauley ten feet ahead of the runner. It may be stated that this little move also elicited a remark or two from the populace. A quartette of eggs followed for the Lambs, while the Huskers took a full half dozen. In the fifth Halligan came to but first, and picking out a nice ripe one he lined it out like a shot to Tommy Poerman, and Tommy made one of his 1812 catches—that is, he muffed it, but adroitly scooped it up from the odorous clover and the umpire called Jocko My, what a howl went up at this, but Alonzo was as firm as Gibraltar, and Jocko

Alonzo was as firm as Gibraltar, and Jocko moped sulkily back to the bench.

"Take this one, old man!" cried Sutcliffe, as he swatted one of Hart's cannon shots, but Tommy couldn't, for it scraped the sky way over his bead and when he did get it. Old Cy was concecting a little scheme on second whereby he hoped to catch his breath. He didn't have long to tarry for Papa Alien hurled his wagon shaft against the sphere himself and again it soared over senile Poorman's head for two sacks.

That's what Tommy cot for cheating.

That's what Tommy got for cheating.
Of course but came in on Allen's hit, and a moment after big Mae sailed across the plate too, Shannon placing her out for a nice single.
In the eighth Omaha, on three bases on balls, a two-bagger and a single scored four more, and in the minth another pair, on two singles and a passed ball.

And these runs clinched the victory, for all the Huskers could do was to squeeze in two more tallies, one in the eighth and ninth each.

There were four double plays in the game, Wash, Shannon and McCauley making two, Clarke, Shannon and McCauley one, and Shiebeck, Nicholson and Morrisacy one, Brilliant work, that. The score:

OMAHA.

Lincoln Loses Again Through Inability to Bat.

Lincoln, Neb., April 25 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Lincoln lost the game to St. Paul today by the score of 3 to 1. Primarily the fault was in the failure of the Farmers' Alliance nine to bat the ball when the bases were full, and to place hits so as to avail anything. Stafford and Wilson, the battery for Lincoln, showed as much skill as their rivals from St. Paul, and the fielding of the Alliance boys was above par. But when the Lincolnians twice had three men on bases, they went out without making a score. Hart, the pitcher for the Apostles, is mainly responsible for it, and outside of Lincoln he would be called a mighty good twirler.

Taking the score as a criterion the defeat was owing first to an error of Irwin in fum-bling the ball in the last half of the fifth inning and letting Conley in, and a hit by Rourke that let in Goodenough and Ham-

Aitogether Lincoln had eleven men Aitogether Lincoln had eleven men on bases, but fate seemed to be against her and but one of them scored. In the third inning Cline, the first man at bat, made a run and the score up to the fifth inning stood I to 0 in favor of Lincoln. Then the catastophes took place and the Lincoln boys failed to do any-place and the Lincoln boys falied to do anything to change the luck of the day.

The last half of the fifth was the fatal inning. In brief it was: Conley made a safe single to right, Goodenough batted to left and made first, Conley going to second, Ely went out on a fly, and Hamburg hit to the middle infield. Irwin failed to hold the ball, and thereby let Conley in. Hart made a bunt and landed on first. O'Rourke hit to Cline, and went out, but Goodenough and Hamburg. and went out, but Goodenough and Hamburg, who were on second and third, risked desperate chances and both got in. One of the prettiest plays of the day was a double from O'Rowe to Tomney to Irwin. Abbey distinguished himself by a pretty three-base hit. The score:

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Director Leech on Finances. Washington, April 25 .- Director of the Mint Leech, speaking of financial matters, said: "The amount of money on hand in the treasury of the United States on the first of this month was $251,000,000, of which $498,-000,000 was trust money, held for the redemption of gold, silver and currency certificates, and the balance of $256,000,000 belonged to the treasury just as absolutely as any property which the government owns. How there can beany possibility of the government failing to meet obligations with this immense sum of absolutely free cash on hand is difficult to conceive. I hold that the government of the United States has in its vaults in good money today over $258,000,000 available for the legit mate expenditure of the government and that it is ridiculous to talk about there being the slightest possibility of any obligation of the government being dishonored. That the secretary should consider it wise to convert all his assets into the most available money, and to this end con-vert large amounts of subsidiary silver coin into lawful money, and that he should draw in from national bank depositories money which may be needed by the government seems emmently proper and should incite no seems eminently proper and should incite no concern. If the available funds in the treasury are less than at former periods of our national history it must not be forgotten that there have been purchased and retired since the advent of this administration, twenty-five months, $230,603,900 of interest bearing bonds at a cost including interest and premi-ums of $267,759,881. When we consider this immense amount of interest bearing debt wiped out in two years and the immense sav-ing of interest to the people of the country it will be readily seen that the moneys in the treasury have been put to good use."

A Wahoo Sensation. WAHOO, Neb., April 25 .- | Special to THE BEE, |-The people of Marietta township, this county, have been enjoying a sensation the past few days over the family troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, in which an attempted elopement, a call from a vigilance committee and the arrest of nine young men on the charge of attempted murder have played a prominent part. For some weeks a sewing machine agent named Freeman had been making the home of the Burgess family his stopping place and it is said an undue intimacy has sprung up between the lady of the house and the agent. About ten days age the woman went to Colon and represented to the grain dealers there that she wished little money and to to get a little money and that is return her husband would hau over some corn the following week. She se cured some $45 and then prepared to take the train, when her husband appeared on the scene and carted her off home. When the train arrived, Freeman got off the train arrived. Freeman got off and inquired if a lady had been there and was informed that there had been one there, but that she had gone home with her husband. He at once went out to the Burgess home, and reports say that Mr. Burgess was taken violently sick the same or the next evening. This aroused the suspicions of the neighbors and the old vigilantes were called together and after a council it was decided to go to the house and force Freeman to leave, if it had to be done at the mouth of revolvers. They consisted of leg bones and ribs. A huge jaw bone with teeth was also unearthed. A couple of old bottles filled with what had once been some sort of liquor were discovered resting upon a large stone. A large quantity of fragments of old East India blue and white crockery was unearthed, also a couple of curiously shaped earther pots. The bones were pronounced by a doctor to be the remains of men and women. They had evidently been buried for many years. A pair of slippers of a peculiar, pointed shape, almost falling apart with age was picked up by one of the relic hunters. They no doubt belonged to a woman. How the bones or the pit came there is at present a mystery. The bodies appear to have been thrown is perfectly naked. Councilman Bechel Pulls the Ordinance from Its Parliamentary Tomb.

OBJECTIONS TO IT EASILY ANSWERED.

Among Other Things a Little War is Made on Commissioner Morrissey-Routine Work of the Council.

Councilman Bechel won his battle last night, and after the meeting of the council was warmly congratulated by friends from the Fourth ward on securing the passage of the ordinance to grade Douglas street from Sixteenth to Twentieth. It was at an adjourned meeting, and the ordinance was rescued from the parliamentary grave to which it was consigned some time ago.

The new fire limits ordinance was called up and was referred to the committee of the whole. Mr. Specht introduced a resolution providing for the employment of a matron at the city jail at a salary not exceeding $50 per month. The resolution was referred to the committee on police, with instructions to report an ordinance upon the subject.

City Attorney Poppleton gave an opinion upon the subject of the garbage master ques-tion. He said, "The office of sanitary com-missioner cannot be abolished, because the acts of the legislature cannot be abrogated by municipal ordinances. The office of sanitar commissioner provided for by the city ordi-nances prior to the amending of the charter may be abolished by ordinance on the prin-ciple that the same legislative power which creates offices may abolish them without regard or liability to the persons holding suc

"The council may deprive the sanitary comany jurisdiction that it pleases.

"The fees cannot be reduced while the present incumbent holds his office."

The new ordinance, a digest of which was recently published in The Bee was introduced, read a first and second time and referred. and second time and referred. While this was being done, Mr. Specht arose and said. "Any man in the city can hant gar bage or clean cess pools, and I will see that he is not arrested. We have no garbage master as he has been legislated out of office and the office will be vacant until the new ordinance becomes a law."

Mr. Spect was called to order, the president remarking that he was talking to the lobby and not to the question.

The appointment of Dr. Clark Gapen as commissioner of health was presented.

The opinion of Attorney Poppleton upon the question of salary was presented and read. He said that if Dr. Gapen is appointed commissioner of health he will draw the sal-ary of commissioner and city physician as long as he continues to hold the office of city physician. The appointment was held over until the committee on judiciary can draw an ordinance abolishing the office of city physi sanitary commissioner. The city attorney furnished an opinion or the question of holding the bond election under the old system. He was of the opinion that it would come under the rule of general elections and must be held under the Australian ballot system, Upon motion of Mr. Bechei the Douglas street grading ordinance was taken from the files for consideration. He spoke upon the necessity of the early grading of the street and in support of the measure, and read the editorial that appeared in THE BEE on the evening of April 16. He said: "That editor-ial is so logical, that I challenge any man to controvert or dispute it."

Mr. Bechel said that he has conversed with the commissioners and is confident that they intend to give the city its portion of the road fund as soon as it is available. Engineer Tillson said that he had not made a careful estimate, but was of the opinion that the city's share would not exceed $12,000.

Upon the passage of the ordinance Messrs. Bruner and Morearty were the only members who voted "no." President Lowry said he realized that the board of public works is afraid to have the streets cleaned, "and in view of this we must take hold and have the streets cleaned, or at least those over which the president and party will pass upon the visit to this city The chairman on streets and alleys and the street commissioner will see that these streets

A resolution was adopted declaring that the street cleaning contractor is neglecting his duty, and that from this time on the council will stand by the board of public works in its efforts to compel C. E. Squires, the contractor, to do all street sweeping ac-cording to the terms of the contract now in force with the city.

Disreputable Colored Women Quarrel and Carve-White Man Razored. Edna Jones and Tode Brown, colored courtesans living on Capital avenue, became engaged in an altereation over a white man about 1 o'clock this morning.

The trouble started when the women met on Ninth street. A war of words ensued. The Jones woman endeavored to get away to her home, but Todie Brown followed and the war was continued with renewed force in front of the Jones woman's house.

Having exhausted her extensive vocabulary of profanity, the Brown woman pulled a long, wicked looking knife from her bosom and plunged it into her enemy.

The knife cut through the clothing and entered just above the navel. The wounded woman uttered a scream and sank to the sidewalk. Blood flowed profusely for a while, but was finally staunched. The wounded woman was taken to the police station in the patrol wagon and the city physician summoned by telephone at 1:30

m. After an examination Dr. Gapen found that the knife blade had glanced downward, and had not penetrated the abdomenal cavity. The wound is about three inches in depth. The woman suffers considerable, but the physician does not think that any serious results will follow.

Tode Brown is reported to be a rather hard case, any it is reported that this is not the first cutting scrape she had been interested in. Up to 2 a. m. the Brown woman had not been arrested. Charles Rogers came into the police station t about 1 o'clock this morning with an ugly razor cut on his head. He said that a man named Bon Smith had cut him. The men were having a dispute over a white woman in a dive under the viaduct. Rogers' head is not severely cut, and he departed after reporting the matter.

ROME. April 25.-[Special Cablegram to THE BEE,]-There have been an increased number of inquiries at the United States legation here as to whether it is safe for Americans to travel in Italy without fear of insult or outrage. This feeling of dread upon the part of Americans who are desirous of visiting Italy this year has seriously affected the sale of tourists' tickets for Italy. One of the largest tour houses recently instructed its agent in this city to ask the United States egation to give the firm a letter which the could use in their business, assuring Ameri-cans that they could travel in Italy in perfect safety. The United States legation was compelled to refuse to grant this request, as in view of the continuance of the violent newspaper press attacks upon Americans the United States officials here could not feel justified to do so.
