

THE OMAHA BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE: NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by Carrier in any part of the City. H. W. HILTON, MANAGER.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 43. Night Editor, No. 23.

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. P. Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal. Crafts' chaps, 304 Pearl block.

Special communication of Bluff City lodge No. 71, A. F. and A. M., this evening for work in the first degree. All Masons invited.

Charles Carpenter was sent out yesterday by the city marshal to look up cattle which are reported to be running at large in the various parts of the city.

Lee Eisenberger was fined $5 and costs yesterday afternoon in Justice Hamner's court for committing an assault upon A. Ellis. Ellis appeared against him.

Dan Carrigan and Miss Luella Manchester are to be married this morning at the St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church at 8 o'clock. They will reside in the fourth street.

A message was received yesterday from Neola announcing that Mr. Lahman, the proprietor of the Lahman house at that place, had been stricken with paralysis Saturday evening.

The remains of J. W. Kilgore were moved yesterday from the vault in which they were deposited at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Kilgore, to the cemetery.

A. D. Cook and S. Salesman were brought to Council Bluffs from Crescent City, where they were given a preliminary sentence for the larceny of a boat, and are now in confinement in the county jail.

The arguments in the case of D. C. Redmond against William "Sidentopt" over the ownership of several thousand acres of land about ten miles north of Council Bluffs were made by the attorney in the superior court yesterday. The case was submitted to the court and taken under advisement.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county recorder yesterday afternoon by the Oakland mercantile company, with its headquarters at Oakland, Puttawattone county. The incorporators are J. H. Graf, C. E. Bruen, A. A. Bruen and A. J. Graham and the capital stock is $15,000.

A collision took place Sunday night at the corner of Broadway and Pearl street between a Fifth avenue street car and a horse-drawn wagon. The accident was caused by the failure of the motor man to turn the switch properly.

A peanut stand kept by a man named Rich, on Main street near the corner of Willow avenue, lost its peanut roaster yesterday morning by fire from the heating apparatus.

The city marshal commenced his annual tour of the city with notifications for property owners to keep their alleys clean. There are a good many alleys in the city, and they are a good deal of a nuisance.

John Wright, who lives at the Fourteenth avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, was arrested yesterday afternoon by a deputy sheriff on a charge of insanity.

The complaint was made by a brother of the afflicted man, Charles Wright. He said that his brother had been ill and that he thought his mind had been affected by the illness.

A special session of district court was held last evening for the purpose of hearing the evidence in the motion to dismiss the injunction suit that was brought against E. B. Sherlock by L. M. Turner.

The motion to dismiss was granted by the court, and the injunction is barred. The records were produced, and it was proved that the injunction had been granted and the defendant was discharged.

Dry storage at low rates, stoves and household goods. J. R. Snyder, Pearl street.

Cobal! Cobal! Cobal! Plenty of them at L. G. Knotts, 29 South Main street. Telephone 203.

To Lovers of Horses—The largest lot of oats, and the finest in the city, also hay and feed of all kinds, at S. Goldstein & Co., 1322 West Broadway.

Drs. Woodbury, dentists, 30 Pearl street, next to Grand hotel. Telephone 145. High grade work a specialty.

When about to build don't fail to get prices from the Judd & Wells Co., 513 Broadway. Telephone 27.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. E. A. Babcock of Avoca is in the city. C. Wesley and wife leave today for the far west, where they will seek a new home.

Spencer Smith has gone to Washington to attend a meeting of the interstate commerce commission.

Wallace McFadden returned Sunday from Davenport, where he went to take four children to the soldiers' home. He was greatly pleased with the surroundings there.

W. H. M. Pusey and John N. Baldwin have been appointed delegates by Governor Hanna to attend the commercial congress of western states, which is to convene in Denver, May 18.

Prof. James McNaughton, principal of the Mayville, N. D., state normal school, has the following engagements for the holding of teachers' institutes during the spring: Mayville, April 27; Hope, May 4; Cooperstown, May 18; Pembina, May 25; Grating, June 1; Milton, June 8.

T. True and M. J. Bellinger have returned from Colfax, where they have been drinking water for the last two weeks. Dr. Bellinger has evolved a scheme for the building of a first class bath establishment during his absence, and the Colfax papers have devoted considerable of their space to talking over the project.

Everything in house furnishing at Mandel & Klein's on easy payments. 320 Broadway.

The Fairmount cigar at the Fountain. For Sale—Two hundred tons of coesand baled hay. Inquire of Ben Marks.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

How the Authorities Managed to Bag Kelly, the Postoffice Burglar.

CAPTURE OF A DESPERATE CRIMINAL.

Still Hunt of the Officers—A Decey Letter—Approach of the Forces—How the Prisoner Acts.

The man who was arrested Sunday afternoon on a charge of having broken into a postoffice out west is found to be J. C. Kelly, who was mentioned in Sunday's Bee as having broken into the postoffice at Albuquerque, N. M., and stolen $15,000.

Kelly is the brother of Contractor Michael J. Kelly of this city. He was called to the Bluffs from Denver, where he has been living for the past six years, by the death of his father and mother, which occurred within three days of one another about a week ago.

Kelly is in the county jail and is held under strict surveillance, orders having been issued by Commissioner Hunter of the United States court not to allow any one to see him.

When Kelly was first arrested the police were of the opinion that they had the wrong man. All efforts to locate him up in the story he told were unsuccessful.

He stated that he had been in Denver for the past few years engaged in the mining business. This is the only point where his story showed any traces of improbability.

His hands are as soft as a woman's, as much unlike those of a professional miner as could be imagined. Then Inspector Patterson, of the post office department, was here last week, he said that Kelly had another name by which he was known fully as much as by the one by which he goes when he is in the city of his birth.

That name was Kelly, and Kelly had been through a vigorous pumping process in order to get him to divulge, if possible, what he knew of the name Gavin. He protested that his name was Kelly, and nothing else, but said that he knew a man named Gavin, who kept one of the largest gambling houses in Denver. The name of the gambling house, the size of the callous spots on his prisoner's hands would indicate that his occupation was that of a gambler much rather than a miner.

Kelly's arrest took place under rather sensational circumstances. H. V. Slead, one of the city's best detectives, who had been following Kelly, went to the house of Contractor Kelly, at 1115 Broadway, where he had come, addressed to J. C. Kelly, and bore a special delivery stamp. Kelly signed his name to the book which had been prepared for the purpose, and the mail carrier left the house. He ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

When the mail carrier left the house, he ran all the way to the police station, with the visions of $300 reward dancing before his eyes, so that he could hardly see the sidewalk. He finally arrived at the station, and said that he had killed the man who, it is said, had already been killed by the police. He had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country. At the station there was something of a commotion, so that more than four policemen were needed. It was finally decided that Captain Martin, accompanied by two mail carriers, each armed with a revolver, should go to the house to see if the man who had been reported to be the most bloodthirsty villain in the country, was still there.

department set apart for the sale of window shades, draperies, lace and wall papers. In each of these the arrangement of the goods was as elaborate and the display as extensive as those on the lower floors. In the profusion every new and beautiful thing that the manufacturers of the world have produced could be found.

The doors were opened at 7 o'clock, but it was not until after 10 o'clock that the crowds could be induced to permit the store to be closed for the night. No goods were sold during the evening and all who attended pronounced the opening to be a great success. After the close the ladies and gentlemen who constitute the large and faithful corps of clerks were agreeably surprised by an invitation from the proprietors to join in a banquet at the Grand. Thirty covers were laid and a magnificent supper of seven courses was served.

Commencing this evening, the Boston store proprietors will, in further consideration for the social enjoyment of their clerks, inaugurate the early closing movement, that has been agitated in vain each summer in Council Bluffs, and will close their store at 6 o'clock on all but Monday and Saturday evenings during the entire summer and autumn.

Max Bourdieu, having associated himself with the Council Bluffs Music Co., desires to thank the public for the patronage in the past and expresses his good will for the future. He will be pleased to have upon his old friends, as well as new ones, at the Council Bluffs Music Co.'s place of business, 538 Broadway.

Newest styles in furniture and carpets; the cooking stoves in the world at Mandel & Klein's installation house, 320 Broadway.

Do you want an express wagon or boy? Ring up the A. D. T. Co., telephone 179, No. 11 North Main street.

The Boston Store, Council Bluffs, will close hereafter at 6 o'clock Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Friday evenings, Mondays 9 o'clock, Saturdays 10 o'clock. Boston Store, Council Bluffs, Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co.

District Court Notes. A default was taken in the case of Sarah Hart against Hutter J. Berger and Eleanor Waley, which was brought to collect a note for $420, and to foreclose a mortgage given to secure the amount.

In the case of E. G. Conley against L. A. Hart, T. J. Hart and A. Hart, a decree was rendered for $250 in favor of the plaintiff, and a decree of foreclosure on a part of lot 24, Johnston's addition.

In the assignment case of Thomas Green & Sons, E. E. Hart the assignee, filed his preliminary report, stating that he had sold a part of the packing house product and had received cash to the amount of $30,000 for it. He asked for more time in which to dispose of the rest, and for an order from the court authorizing the distribution among the creditors of the cash on hand in proportion to each one's claim.

The first of the cases on the law assignment was taken up in district court yesterday morning. Three of the trustees named, accused, John Langen and J. N. Casey, on account of sickness in their families, and X. suffering from a broken heart, the case of John Witt against F. M. Witt and C. M. Witt was the first case on the assignment.

A suit which was brought by the plaintiff to collect a note for $250 which had been made out by the defendant, with C. M. Witt as surety.

The Boston Store, Council Bluffs, will close hereafter at 6 o'clock Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Friday evenings, Mondays 9 o'clock, Saturday 10 o'clock. Boston Store, Council Bluffs, Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co.

It is to your interest to consult Mandel & Klein before you buy your furniture, carpets or stoves.

The Old Story. A Swedish priest named Lena Rasmussen is stopping at the boarding house of Mrs. Warner on Vine street and is at present camping on the trail of a man named Peterson, who, she claims, is responsible for her ruin. She came here from Moline, Ill., and at once reported her case at the police station. She was engaged as a domestic at Moline and while there she met Peterson, who commenced to pay her attentions. It turned out to be the old story of the treachery of man and weakness of woman.

When Peterson found out that the girl was going to make him trouble, he left the country and went to Lincoln, Neb. She found where he had gone, and at once set out in pursuit. When she reached Lincoln she learned that he had gone to Omaha. In Omaha she found that a man named Peterson was working in this city, in some carriage shop, the name of which she did not know. She has settled down here with a determination to make her erstwhile lover come to time.

Belgian Miners Will Strike. BRUSSELS, April 27.—The Federation of Belgian Miners has decided to strike with the German miners in order to obtain laws making eight hours a legal day's work and granting universal suffrage.

Indicted for Election Frauds. WACO, Tex., April 27.—The grand jury adjourned after investigating into the alleged municipal election frauds. Thirty-four indictments were returned against prominent citizens. A sensation is the result.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

SICK HEADACHE. Positively cured by these Little Pills. They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Prostration, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Costed Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable. SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

The Boston Store, Council Bluffs, will close hereafter at 6 o'clock Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Friday evenings, Mondays 9 o'clock, Saturday 10 o'clock. Boston Store, Council Bluffs, Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co.

The Chicago Times, Tribune and Herald arrive in Council Bluffs 5:10 p. m. on day of publication, and are delivered at once to all parts of the city by swift and careful carriers at only 30 cents a week, including the mandatory Sunday issue. The Saturday or Sunday issue alone 5 cents each. F. R. Nugent, agent, postoffice box 164.

Muir has all sorts of fruit, shade and ornamental trees, Broadway, opposite postoffice.

P. Ice Cappings. E. E. Pierce, who passed a forged check on E. J. Hancock a few days ago, was bound over to the grand jury by Judge McGee yesterday morning in police court. He was unable to give bail and was sent to the county jail. Pierce, last fall, passed a check on the proprietor of the Manawa hotel with his own name written to it, when it turned out he had no credit in the bank.

T. W. Fisher, arrested Sunday night by the police, was taken to the police station for a preliminary hearing. He was charged with the larceny of a watch and a pair of shoes from the store of J. H. Graf, at 1115 Broadway.

JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT. For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Coughs, Colds and Lung Troubles. It is the beverage for NURSING MOTHERS, the SICK and the DEBILITATED, and during COVALESCENCE. IT STRENGTHENS THE SYSTEM.

None is "just as good" when on an empty stomach as the genuine imported article, which must have the signature of "JOHANN HOFF" on the neck of every bottle.

27 MAIN STREET. Over C. B. Jaquemin & Co. Jewelry Store. Gas Heating Stoves. NO ASHES! NO SMOKE. Just the thing for bath rooms, bed rooms, etc. Call and see our large assortment.

C. B. Gas and Electric Light Co. 411 Pearl and 210 Main Street.

Officer Murphy for being drunk, was found to have with him a pair of brass knuckles. He was given a lecture on behavior and a fine of $30.30.

DeLong's Book Deal. Ed DeLong was arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. The complaining witness was Amos Wright, who claimed that the young man had come to his store and ordered a pair of boots, saying his father had sent him for them and would pay the bill. DeLong, however, the keeper found that the father had not sent the boy to him and that he refused to pay for them. He accordingly had a warrant issued for the arrest of the young man, to Justice Swearingin's court. He gave bail in the sum of $100 and was released until this morning at 9 o'clock, when he will have a preliminary examination.

PRESBYTERIAN MATTERS. Support of the Hospital Decided on by the Association. The Presbyterian association of Omaha met last night at the First Presbyterian church and considered several matters of church.

A report of the progress and condition of the Presbyterian hospital was submitted by Dr. Henry, who has charge of the institution. He reported excellent results from the work of the hospital thus far.

The institution was opened last August and several other matters were discussed and the association took steps to increase its funds for the permanent support of the hospital.

The needs of several of the mission churches in Omaha were then discussed and plans adopted to assist some of them and then the association adjourned.

Dr. Birney cures catarrh. Boo bldg. Sun-drawn's Second. The Sunday school met last night in the cafe of the Paxton hotel, and after disposing of a very palatable supper the subject of single tax, as advocated by Henry George, was discussed.

Mr. C. F. Beckett was the chief speaker in favor of the single tax plan, and Prof. Homer P. Lewis was the leading opponent of the George theory. Mr. Lombard, Mr. McIntosh, and several other speakers took part in the discussion. There were about thirty members of the club present and the evening was very much enjoyed.

Saving the Curs. The city clerk's office was the busiest place in the city yesterday. This was caused by the fact that there is a great rush to secure dog tags before the May day slaughter begins. The clerk is experiencing considerable trouble, as he is receiving a great many applications for dog tags, and is unable to issue them as fast as they are applied for.

To Bee-Keepers. I carry a full line of Beekeepers' supplies, including comb foundation, honey knives, smokers, sections and all supplies for the apiary. M. S. ROOP, 520 E. Broadway, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Sims & Saunders—Attorneys at law, Prager federal courts, Rooms 3, 4 and 5, 524 West Beno block, Council Bluffs, Ia.

H. J. Chambers—Attorney at Law, No. 19 Neil's store. Telephone No. 253. Business hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Council Bluffs, Ia.

D. H. McDaniel & Co., Butchers' and Packers' Supplies, Market Fixtures, Casings, Slices and Sausage Makers' Machinery, 823 E. Main street, Council Bluffs, Ia. Also dealers in Hides and Furs.

Blight on Kansas Wheat. TOPEKA, Kan., April 27.—The secretary of agriculture has received a letter from Russell county stating that the wheat there is turning yellow and appears to be dying. A small greenish insect has been found which is undoubtedly the cause of the blight. A similar report comes from Rich county and the secretary has ordered an investigation.

Suffering Negroes in Oklahoma. ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 27.—A dispatch says people arriving at Paris, Tex., from points along the Canadian river in the Indian Territory say negroes are coming over from Oklahoma begging for something to eat. Their condition is said to be pitiable. Many are now trying to make their way back to their former homes in the southern states.

Kiowas Proceed with Allotments. SMOKE AND FOX AGENCY, I. T., April 27.—The government allotment agent has induced the Kiowa Indians to proceed with their allotments, promising to try and persuade the government that payment for the land should be made in money instead of cattle and implements.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

Wreck on the Southern Pacific. EL PASO, Tex., April 27.—An east-bound Southern Pacific freight was wrecked at Strauss this morning. Brakeman Manley was killed, and the engineer and fireman badly injured.

&lt;