

HAD NO RIGHT TO WALK OUT.

An Investigation to Be Made Into the Recent Railroad Strike.

OFFICIALS AND TRAIN MEN IN SESSION

Brakeman Crail Caught by a Broken Coal Chute and Buried in the Tank - Railroad Personal.

The recent strike of the freight trainmen on the Fort Worth division of the Union Pacific is being thoroughly sifted, and the men who were responsible for the trouble will be severely disciplined.

The chiefs of one of the railway organizations said: "We cannot expect the railroads to keep their part of an agreement when we do not keep ours."

Brakeman Crail, who was buried in a tank of coal, was caught by a broken coal chute and buried in the tank - Railroad Personal.

The conference lasted all afternoon. In the morning Messrs. Clark and Holcomb of the Union Pacific and Messrs. Wilkinson, Yroman and Clark, together with a committee of two engineers from the Nebraska division, held a conference and adjusted several small matters in connection with affairs on the Nebraska division.

Under Six Feet of Coal. Brakeman Charles Crail came near being killed on Saturday. The apron of a coal chute at Pine Bluffs caught Crail jumbled on the end of it. The load slid into the tender so quickly that Crail was caught. He was buried in five tons of coal. He was six feet under coal.

It took Engineer O'Connor and his fireman twelve minutes to rescue the brakeman. They expected to find a dead man under the coal. Crail had been crushed and bruised, but will soon recover. In falling he threw one hand over his mouth and nose and could breathe the gas freely.

Four years ago Crail was attacked by a party of tramps in a box car of a moving train near Bushnell, Neb., thrown to the ground and seriously injured. Two years ago the young man was squashed while coupling cars, and altogether has had quite a lively time of it.

The Rock Springs Mines. At Union Pacific headquarters the report from Cheyenne that one of the mines at Rock Springs had been shut down in anticipation of a strike for the eight-hour system on May 1, is denied. The officials say that the mine was closed because the demand had decreased, as is usual, every winter, and other mines could supply all the coal required.

Notes and Personal. A meeting of all lines in the territory of the Central Traffic association will be held in Omaha, Neb., for the purpose of revising the tourist rate sheet.

Major J. W. Paddock, government director of the Union Pacific, started this morning for Boston to attend a meeting of directors which takes place on Wednesday.

W. F. Fitch, general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway at Marquette, was in Omaha this morning on his way home from Hot Springs, S. D., where he had been spending a week.

James Warwick, a clerk in the Union Pacific general freight office, received a telegram Sunday from Brooklyn announcing the serious illness of his mother and started at once for her bedside. Yesterday morning a telegram was received at the office announcing the death of his mother. It was forwarded to Mr. Warwick at Chicago.

MAKING A HUSTLE. The Garbage-master Trying to Get a New Lease of Life.

The decision handed down by City Attorney Poppiet and presented to the council last Saturday night has rattled the garbage master. By that decision he realizes that he will have but a few days longer in which to work the business. He realizes that his gold mine has been about worked out, and he is making a desperate effort to get out of the business before the fat office that he has held, he has been making a still hunt out for a new business. He has already cold that Mayor Cassing will give him the name of the council and when it comes up Messrs. Boehl, Burdick, Chaffee, Cooper, Cooper, Madsen, Madsen, Moroney and Cooper will vote for the confirmation of the appointment. These men are not averse to talking on the subject, and if their remarks are an indication of the way they will vote, Morrissey is counting without his hosts.

Just when the appointment will be sent to the council is not known, as the mayor refuses to say, though some of the knowing ones state that it will appear tonight.

Even if it should, the council should manage to squeeze through, he will not have things his own way in the future, as he has in the past.

It is evident that the council has been suspicious of Morrissey for a long time. Last fall a number of complaints were filed against him, charging that he had been in the interest of the city. The complaints were so frequent that a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Olson, McLeerie, Lowry and Blum, was appointed to investigate his plan of operation.

That committee sat for days, and examined a score of witnesses, nearly all of whom testified to a system of over-charges and neglect of duty.

On November 6 the committee reported as follows: Your committee has taken testimony from citizens and people connected with the business transacted by the garbage master, and recommend that the two night watchmen on the dumps be discharged. The ordinances covering the office of garbage master have not in our opinion been amended, and they have been grossly abused to the dissatisfaction and detriment of the public. We submit the following recommendations, which in the opinion of your committee will give much cheaper service, be a revenue in place of an expense to the city, and will be a benefit to the city in a healthy and clean condition.

The report was signed by all of the members of the committee.

On November 11 it was reported to the committee of the whole.

Morrissey put in his work at some point along the line. The report was tucked in the pigeon hole and there it remained for weeks, at last, met on March 24, Mr. Specht, chief of the city fire department, unearthed the report and succeeded in getting all of the papers in the case referred to the committee on the part of the chairman.

This committee found plenty of cause for prompt action. The members, Messrs. Specht, McLeerie and Conway thoroughly investigated the case, and on April 14 presented a report, the findings in which were the same as those by the special committee appointed last winter.

On account of being out of town Mr. Conway did not sign the report.

The report was laid over for one week and the committee instructed the city attorney draw an ordinance to cover the management of affairs of the office. Last Friday night the report was called up and adopted, and together with it there was an ordinance that provides as follows:

The only persons authorized to remove the contents of water closets, vaults, cesspools or privies are those who have been duly licensed for such purpose.

Any person upon payment of the sum of $50 to the city treasurer and producing the receipt therefor to the city clerk, and giving a bond as required by ordinance, may engage in the business of cleaning water closets, cesspools or privies.

The bond shall be in the sum of $1,000, to be approved by the council.

The persons engaged in this business shall

HE MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Arrest of an Alleged Leader of a Gang of Criminals.

CHARLES GAVIN IN JAIL IN THE BLUFFS.

He Killed Two Postmasters and Burglarized Countess Postoffices - Something of His History.

Two postoffice inspectors who have been working in Council Bluffs and Omaha for the past week have arrested a man whom they consider the most desperate postoffice thief living.

He is known as Charles Gavin, alias J. T. Kelley and is now in the county jail in Council Bluffs.

Word was received here some time ago to the effect that Gavin had robbed the postoffice at Albuquerque, N. M., of $15,000, and that detectives who were on his trail traced him to Omaha, where they lost sight of him.

Two well known inspectors took up the search and on Friday located him in Council Bluffs. The inspectors were standing in front of the postoffice when Gavin passed. They were not sure that he was their man and so stopped inside the building to look up their descriptions of the burglar.

The examination satisfied their doubts as to the identity of the suspect, but when they went after him he had disappeared.

Council Bluffs was searched thoroughly for the criminal, but no trace of him could be secured, and it was supposed that he had come to Omaha.

Postmaster Clark and the local postal authorities were on the alert for the burglar for Gavin, expecting him to call for it under the name of Kelley. The burglar came in with the rush at the noon hour, asked for mail to his room, and when he was asked for mail to his room he could be apprehended.

Yesterday word was received that Captain Martin of the Council Bluffs police force had captured Gavin and locked him up in the county jail.

Council Bluffs authorities are making strenuous efforts to suppress all the details in connection with the arrest and intimate that they don't think they have the right man. The prisoners, Wednesday afternoon, Contractor Kelley of Council Bluffs, but further than that will offer no explanation of his business, but the arrests at the time the crimes with which he is charged were committed.

I guess there is no question but what the inspectors have the right man, and that the biggest catches made in years.

Gavin has been in the past a number of postoffice burglars, and is a very desperate criminal. He has killed two postmasters and one officer of the law while trying to escape, and would not hesitate to murder a man at any time rather than be captured.

The Right of "Eminent Domain." OMAHA, April 27.—To the Editor of THE BEE: In regard to the supposed accidental repeal of section 94 of the city charter, relating to eminent domain, I think I can throw some light on the subject. The section was all right when the bill left the senate, but the mistake was made in the report of the committee on municipal affairs of the house, when they reported the bill back for final passage. Section 94 had been amended in the senate, but precaution was not taken there to insert that number in the repealing clause. The house committee, in error, corrected this mistake; but made a more serious one by also repealing section 94.

In the last day of the session, in the usual course of business, the committee on municipal affairs, in order to save the charter bill, it became necessary for the friends of Omaha to obtain about a dozen extra copies of the bill. Among others I offered my assistance and was sworn into the service of the bill. It fell to my lot to carry this particular part of the charter. I believe that a mistake had been made, but nothing could be done to correct it. It was my plain duty to enroll this bill, and I would like to ask now if it is not a fact?

Section 1 of article 3 of the constitution, in substance: "No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in its title; and no law shall be enacted, unless the true nature and objects of the same are clearly and distinctly expressed in the title or sections so amended shall be repealed."

Comparatively few people are familiar with the inside workings of the legislature. If the matter were better understood, the surprise over its blunders and carelessness would not be manifested. The wonder is, that the state session succeeding session with so little harm done. And in a metropolis, the city ought to be thankful to the framers that they didn't know how to wipe out the face of the earth. They had the will to do it. Yours truly, WING B. ALLEN.

MAHONEY, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE POOR FARM, HAS CRUISED AROUND THE COUNTRY.

There are two things to bear in mind in buying a suit of clothes. One is to buy a good article, and the other to buy it at a right price. The English language has many queer kinks and turns in it and many a plain sentence in plain common every day English, is susceptible of being turned around into an entirely different meaning. Take a blackberry, when it's green, it's red. Take the average man in search of a bargain in a suit of clothes, he walks into a store, walks up to the smiling salesman and says: "I want a cheap suit of clothes." Now that's just what he don't want; he wants a suit of clothes cheap. They sound a good deal alike but they're two mighty different affairs. Some stores make a business of selling Cheap Suits. Our business is selling Suits Cheap. Time and again have we demonstrated the fact, to your satisfaction, that when we advertise to sell anything cheap, the goods are always good. A week ago, we advertised between seven and eight hundred suits at four ninety and five ninety. Did we sell 'em? Well we should smile; We sold so many and sold 'em so quick that we were broken on sizes before we knew it. To insure another big week in our Men's Department, to accommodate the dozens of customers who could not get fitted, on account of coming too late, we will put on sale this week, six hundred suits, just as good as gold, at prices you never saw named for these same goods in your life.

FIRE AND POLICE.

Very Busy Session of the Board Last Night.

Mayor Cushing presided at the meeting of the fire and police commissioners last night. The charges against Officer McBride were read and testimony for the defendant taken. It could not be proven that the officer had been doing anything in Craig's saloon on the night of April 17, and the case was laid over until the next meeting.

Chief Detective Haze requested that speaking tubes from the detectives' room to the jail and Chief Seavey's office be put in. The matter was referred to the committee on property and the committee on men and discipline.

A communication from the chief stated that Officer Foley had been subpoenaed for jury duty and asking instructions. The letter was referred to the city attorney for a decision.

Chief Seavey requested that each patrolman be supplied with an annual ticket for the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium. The tickets can be purchased for $5 each. The chief thinks the patrolmen need exercise and the health of the city. This matter was referred to the committee on finance.

A statement from the chief of police gave the following report for March: The amounts are: For city prisoners, $ 758; For city prisoners, $ 758; For city prisoners, $ 758.

The report was referred to the finance committee.

Chief Galligan is an applicant for police honors and presented a letter of recommendation signed by Governor Boyd.

Chief Galligan requested that the board purchase at once one horse for the city truck for the new horse house at Twentieth and Spring streets. Chief Galligan wants the truck at once, so that he can have the one now at No. 1 horse house, and the other at No. 4 horse house.

Fire Alarm Superintendent Coulter requested that he be employed as an extra-inspector for temporary duty. Superintendent Coulter stated that many of the wires had become slack during the winter and should be tightened at once. The desired authority was given.

A petition from four colored men, praying to be appointed to places in the fire department. The new fire department is to be organized and the colored race should have a representative in the department. Mr. Gilbert said that he thought entirely out of place for any nationality to ask for a place in that manner and considered the petition a piece of monumental rage.

John G. Schabert, pastor of the First German Presbyterian church, has written a letter to the board of aldermen and council members, asking for a place in that church during service beating drums and blowing horns, much to the annoyance of the colored people.

The committee on men and discipline submitted Dr. Gapan's report of the physical condition of the police. The committee recommended that the whole police force be examined by a doctor at some later date.

A complaint was made against the Globe savings and loan company, situated on Dodge streets. It is claimed that the building occupies four feet of the sidewalk. It is claimed that the Globe company had a contract with the city to occupy the sidewalk. The chief was instructed to enjoin the company in regard to obstructions on the sidewalks.

Commissioner Hartman stated for the benefit of those willing to see if any more patrolmen were to be appointed that the number could be done at present and that a week's notice would be given in the papers before any new recruits were taken.

Druggists' liquor licenses were granted to the following: C. Shrader, 1702 North Twenty-sixth street; Bishop Brothers, 1902 South Thirteenth street.

The report of Detective Haze against the violator of the Sunday liquor law and which was referred to Mr. Gilbert, was returned with the recommendation that the police be instructed to observe section 233 of the criminal code. Officers when finding saloons open on Sunday hereafter will arrest the offender and an effort will be made to convict them.

Mr. Hartman, in speaking of the Sunday liquor law, said that he was told by a reliable person that certain policemen were in the habit of covering up saloons, and that they then from saloonkeepers and forgetting to return the amount. For this accommodation the saloonkeepers were allowed a little more leeway in the Sunday matter. Mr. Hartman said that was nothing more or less than blackmail on a small scale and that he wanted to arrest out these men and have them discharged.

No business was transacted in executive session.
