OMAHA SENT UNDER EASILY.

Figur City's Crowd Simply Scalps Shannon's Lambs on the Diamond.

HOW THE LAST GAME WAS LOST.

Denver Beats Milwaukee and Ties for the Lead Again-Kansas City and the Millers-Other Pascball.

Sloux City, 11; Omaha, 4. Minneapolis, 11; Kansas City, 8. Denver, 12: Milwaukee, 5. Lincoln-No game,

"It was an off day," remarked a crank in the grand stand at the close of yesterday's conflict; and the crank was correct, it was an off day.

Sioux City won too easy-the score stand-

The audience-as most baseball writers erroneously denominate as spectators-got their money's worth by a running fire of criticism throughout the game. I mention money here because the old axiom says time is money, and in this case the crowd threw it away by the handful.

The commodore was the first white leg, as usual at the bat. He went out from pitch to first. But not so with Jocko Halligan. He was feeling a trifle sore over his infantile batting of the day before, and the second ball Billy Hart cut loose he caught in the neck and it never stoppped until it brought up in alarming proximity to Jeff Bedford's

Of course the crowd cheered this nice piece of work, and when Jocko reached the bench his chest stuck out like that of a Brahma rooster's. Sutcliffe's liner was taken care of by the supple Mr. Scheibeck, but Papa Allen cracked out a single, which he mistook for a double, and the result was that Count Morrissey threw him out at second.

For the Huskers Poorman was quickly disposed of, Clarke tossing him out at first But Scheibeck made a single and stole sec-ond without half trying. Nicholson flied to McCauley and Swartwood got his base on balls. Still they should have been shut out, but they weren't. Walsh fumbled Morris sey's hot grounder, which not only let him safe, but put Swart on third, while She came clear home. A moment later Swart-wood followed on a passed ball.

And I might remark right bere that Halli gan's catching was decidedly Buffalo broth-erhood all through the game. Earle put a welcome estoppage to further proceedings by flying out to Sutcliffe.

It required but a brief fraction of time to send the lambs into the field in the second. Griffin went out from short to first, and Shannon from pitch to first. Walsh flied to And it was the same with the Huskers Walsh and McCauley took care of Van Dyke.

Shannon of Genins, and Hart struck out. Se that was tit for tat. Jimmy Donnelly started the third by a safe drive to right, and the crowd cried "here's where we win." But Dad flew out to left, and Genins, after making a circus stop of Twitchell's incandescent rap, threw him out at first. Then Halligan hit a short high one to Poorman, which Poorman generously muffed, Dennelly running home and Halligan making second on the error.

This tied the score and the spectators were happy, but when Hart presented both Sut-cliffe and McCauley with their base, they fractured the circumambient air with a salve ofmirthful howls. These were cut short, howby Griffin forcing Papa at second.

But the score was tied and the spectators were on easy street, so they thought, for again the Pumpkin Rollers went out in one, two, three order, Clarke pitching but four bails in the inning. That was quick work, and good work too.

The fourth was fruitless for Omaha, but the Huskers rolled up their sleeves and punched the wadding out of us.
Ewartwood went to first because Dad failed to got 'em over. Count Morrissey smushed away frantically at the whirling sphere and missed it. Then he hit it twice for a single just after Swart had stolen sec-ond, and of course the big right fielder came in on the drive. Then just to keep things moving Billy stole second, but Van Dyke flew out to Twitchell, and everybody prayed that that was the last of it. But alas for that that was the last of it. But human hopes. Genins connected for a couple of cushions and Earle crossed the rubicon, and a silence deep enough to bury a house in fell over the throng. Genins then stole third, and if Sioux City could have made any use of the grand stand he would have stolen that too. Hart's single scored Chawles and after he was safe in, Billy stole second. Mr. Poorman took his base on balls, and Schelbeck, bitting for a brace of bags, came Nicholson's out from Walsh to first gave the spectators a chance to gasp for wind. Five runs! Whew! That was heartrend Ing.

Then Omaha came in, but she looked hot,
as if she tired and disgusted, and acted just as if she knew the day was lost.

Despite this languer, however, she man aged to coax in a couple of runs-the last she

You see that chap, flart, was hard to Twitchell got to first because Billy refused to put them within reach, and on the big Prussian's error Halligan followed him there, as did "Old Cy" also, on four more The clouds began to roll by, but soon thickened again, as McCauley succumbed on a pop-up to Genins and reliable Sandy Griffin

Shannon was our last chance and he proved the right man in the right place, for while no less than four of the Huskers ran for his high fly, none of them got it, and commodore and Halligan scored. Walsh's out from She to the count ended

Omaha's run-getting. So you don't want to hear the rest, do you? The Lambs got beaten, and that's certainly Sioux City came right back," and as there wasn't much of anything to prevent them, they scored again, and this sort of thing con-tinued until the score stood 11 to 4, and the curfew tolled the knell of parting day, the leaving the world to darkness and to me. Then everybody went home mad to their

There was a breeze among traffic men both here and in New York over the big cut in all rail freight rates from New York to St. Paul which was made yesterday by the West Snore and Canadian Pacific. Every traffic man outside of the interested parties who talked about the subject declared the new $1.07 through tariff to be an open violation of the trunk line agreement—first, because the proper notice was not given to the Trunk Line association, and second, because the West Shore usurps a differential that it is not entitled to. Mr. Goddard and other trunk line men pre-tend to believe that this reduction of freights to St. Paul is merely the result of a misunder-standing and that an amicable settlement of all differences will be made on Thursday.

What Leo Will Say in Regard to the Social

Question.

IT WILL BE AN ENLIGHTENED WORK.

Unity and Conciliation the Fole Purpose Aimed At-A Bloody Pattle in Ind a-Over Two Hundred Killed.

ROME, April 28.-A prominent dignitary of the Catholic church, talking with a representative of the Associated press concerning the forthcoming encyclical letter of the pope on the social question, said the pope had condensed the doctrines of the greatest theologists on these matters and has adaped them to the requirements and conditions of the present epoch. He also brought into requisition the leading intellects of the United States and Europe. He insists with equity on the rights and duties of everything and of all capital, labor, state and individual. He is neither for or against an interest or school. He greatly deplores any divisions in the Catholic party tending, as they do, to diminish the social influence and moral action of the church. "The encyclical," said the dignitary, "will make a consideral impression, for it is an enlightened work, aiming sorely at unity and conciliation. It will not be a cry or protest against all the elements which form modern life. He seeks to conciliate them all by the acceptance of all legitimate interests and by reciprocal respect of all rights. A delicate matter is in regard to state intervention. It is incontestible that the church cannot give upon these purely historical contingencies absolutely definite instruction. Social problems are continually changing and monifying. Things that are good and equitable today are old and inapplicable tomorrow. Therefore the pope will be found, from a doctrinal point of view, somewhat reserved on this matter. Nevertheless, he demands relative intervention, changing according to places and circumstances, whenever justice, legitimate interests and disregarded rights require it. Thus, for our particular epoch, the pope exacts state intervention in favor of fixing a maximum number of hours of work a day; of a day of rest; of minimum wages; regulation the work of women and children, and in matters regarding hygiene and con-ditions under which work is performed in factories. Lee," said the speaker, "strikes the normal equilibrium, the true note, while he carefully avoids prejudicing in any way such social problems as may arise later on. The supreme inspiration of the document is to put Catholicism doctrinally and the lead of the social movement. Lee is at the head of the social movement. Leo is convinced that the democracy of America, convinced under other forms, will be the imported under other forms, will be the mould by which the future society and polities of Europe will be fashioned."

FIGHTING FOR A RAILROAD.

Struggle for Omaha Connections Between Yankton and Niobrara. HARTINGTON, Neb., April 28,- [Special to THE BEE. |- The extension of the Bloomfield and Wayne branch of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, which is now viewed as a certainty the present summer, promises a merry war between Yangton and Niobrara to secure its location. The distance from Bloomfield to Yankton is twenty-five miles, while to Niobrara it is twenty-eight miles, making very little difference in mile age, and the country through which the dif erent grades would pass is almost identical. Both cities offer a good gateway to South Dikota, which is the ultimatum of such an extension, thus making the natural adan extension, thus making the natural advantages of the two places about equal to the railway company.
