

CAME NEAR CATCHING THEM.

Early Morning Burglars Narrowly Escape Falling Into Police Hands.

ROBBERS AT JUDGE DUNDY'S RESIDENCE.

Poor Cartridges Responsible for the Burglars Living - Reception That was Prepared for Three Young Ladies.

The members of the police force almost caught four burglars Tuesday night. They surprised the midnight marauders in the very act and even exchanged shots with them and it wasn't another North Twentieth street case either.

The first place at which the officers failed to catch them was at the corner of Sixteenth and Davenport streets, where Officers Bloom and Hyde discovered two men trying to break open a rear window of W. W. Guille's saloon, known as the "Annie No. 1."

The crooks discovered the officers early in the game and dashed down the alley. The burglars, following the officers, saw that the burglars got away. They left a heavy claw-pointed cold-chisel about two feet long behind them. The relic was taken to the station and apparently the officers are confident the burglars ever give themselves up it will be introduced in evidence against them, but if not it will be preserved as a souvenir of the exciting chase.

The other case assumed a much more serious phase, as if Officer Louzer's gun hadn't missed its three times in succession, there might have been a funeral or two, but the gun did miss, and that is why the corner feels worse today than anybody else in town.

Louzer's beat is on Leavenworth street between Twenty-second and Park avenue. He reported at the box at Park avenue at 3 o'clock and started out over his beat again, but at the corner of Twenty-fifth street he took a notion to double and go back. He took the middle of the street, to avoid making a noise, and went back as far as the corner, where he stepped upon the sidewalk, and almost immediately heard some one say "Look out; we're in for it now!"

He looked across Judge Dundy's yard and saw two men standing on the east porch. They at once started down the steps, and as they stepped out into the moonlight, the officer saw that they wore white masks over the lower parts of their faces. They walked toward him a few steps, but suddenly turned to the left, jumped the fence, and disappeared. He made a break for Georgia avenue. The officer reached for his gun and at that moment the taller of the burglars whirled around and fired at him. The ball whistled over the officer's car, and he gave chase and tried to recede, but a harmless little click was the only result until the fourth trial, when he succeeded in sending a bullet after the fugitive.

It was a beautiful chase that went over the smooth asphalt paving of Georgia avenue in the bright moonlight night. The smaller of the burglars ran like a deer and Louzer couldn't have caught him with Sivaiver, but at the second corner he fell and Louzer fell. He didn't wait to touch the ground before he was up and running again, and at the corner of Jackson street both men turned west and disappeared as completely as if a sewer had caved in and buried them.

Officer Enright was reporting at the box at Leavenworth and Park avenue when the first shot was fired, and ran down the alley to intercept the fugitives, but they didn't go his way.

The central station was notified and the patrol wagon with a squad of officers was soon on the spot, but the attempt to surround the burglars was fruitless.

If the bold, bad men had only been in a little less of a hurry and given the buccaners half a show they would have been caught, and how they looked every body would have known. It wasn't such a bad night after all, as the cold chisel and three unexploded cartridges with intended caps are interesting relics and are all that is needed to corroborate the officers' stories.

Scip Dundy's Story. "If Officer Louzer had not come near the judge's house last night until half an hour later, in all probability there would have been a dead burglar in Omaha this morning."

Scip Dundy yesterday reported to a reporter for THE BEE: "My sister, May, and her friend, Mrs. W. C. Connor of Dallas, Tex., who is visiting at father's, heard the burglar at the door and made an attempt to give him a warm reception. Both my sister and Mrs. Connor are good shots with almost any kind of gun, and they immediately stationed themselves in the hall a few feet from the door to await the burglar's entrance. The villain was leaving again, but trying to push it in. The ladies cocked the weapons and covered the door. They intended to shoot him the moment he stepped inside, but the appearance of Officer Louzer just at that moment scared the burglar away."

SOUTH OMAHA.

The Bank War Reopened. The trouble at the exchange over the Union Stockyards bank and the South Omaha National bank, that raised such a rumpus among bank officials and commission men a year ago, has been re-opened in a new direction. The friends of the National bank maintain that it is simply a freeze-out process on the part of the stockyards bank and stockyard officials.

Jackson, Higgins & Co., have let the National bank desk room in their office and now the stockyard officials have notified Jackson, Higgins & Co., that their rent, feed, freight, etc., will have to be paid in advance. On being seen Manager Babcock said: "It is simply a question whether or not we should have control of our property. Jackson, Higgins & Co. is the only firm in the exchange building which has not signed a lease. The bank interest, as a matter of fact, does not come in the question. While our leases have a clause prohibiting sub-letting, yet we have never refused any one the privilege of sub-letting. More than that, over a year ago I told Mr. Babcock of the National bank that he could have rooms, and they can be had today or at any time."

PERKINS' LATE PURCHASES.

All interested are urged to be present. The Junior Epworth league will give a social and literary entertainment in the Methodist church, Twenty-third and N streets, tomorrow evening. A fine programme has been arranged and a palatable lunch will be served.

At the meeting of Barbers' union No. 87, Treasurer Charles H. Durand's resignation was accepted and James Heath was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy. Mr. Durand was presented with a fine gift by his fellow-journeymen barbers.

WHEN HARRISON COMES.

Plans Laid for the Reception of the President. Mayor Cushing, General Brooke, Euclid Martin, Major Clarkson, Julius Meyer, Councilman Osthoff, Chris Hartman, W. N. Nason, Henry W. Yates, Councilman Cooper, Councilman McLeary, C. F. Weller, Chief Seavey and Councilman Cooper of the executive committee on president's reception met yesterday afternoon to complete arrangements.

General Brooke said he would invite the Omaha guards to take part. The committee on transportation reported that the cost of conveying 85 guests and it did not get through with less than $500. Members of the council who are members of the executive committee in connection with the Union Pacific had also donated the lumber for the platform and the services of fifteen men to assist in the work of decorating and building the platform. Major Clarkson wanted to know how much the committee would expend.

Mr. Hartman stated to the committee that the proprietors of the Paxton hotel had volunteered to furnish a lunch for the president and his party. The committee decided to accept of the hospitality thus extended.

The chairman of all the committees will report to the executive committee Saturday the amounts needed for each part of the reception work.

County and city officials are invited to a place on the platform to be erected on the court house campus.

Seven prisoners now in the county jail were brought before Judge Estelle yesterday afternoon.

Thomas Cline who is charged with having stolen $40 from James C. Mahoney April 10 pleaded not guilty.

Charles Adams, who forged a $70 check and got it cashed at the Windsor hotel January 25, pleaded a plea of guilty.

Ed Hochsheimer, charged with forging the names of John Riley and R. Price to a $50 note, pleaded not guilty.

William F. Wilas was charged with having stolen a $40 gold watch from A. W. Patnam, $60 of money and $140 of jewelry from George Falyan. He pleaded not guilty.

Henry House denied having stolen a $50 check, the property of B. F. Hughes.

Frank Williams gave the court to understand that he was not guilty of having stolen $2 worth of tobacco from the store of Carrie Bateman, while George Meyers admitted that on April 28 he stole $65 worth of watches from the pawn shop of Sam Egan.

HE PICKS UP SOME CHOICE BARGAINS.

One Hundred and Fifty-Five Thousand Dollars Invested by Him as an Evidence of His Faith in the West.

President Charles E. Perkins of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system has lived in Boston a long time, but he keeps his eye on the growing west all the same. Incidentally it may be stated that Mr. Perkins was long a western man by virtue of residence as well as predilection. He lived at Burlington, Ia., many years, and his handsome home on West Hill is still one of the features of that city. This may appear extraneous, but it isn't. It only shows on what foundation the faith of Mr. Perkins in the west is builded.

But a better evidence of the faith of this man, whose years of experience as the head of a mighty corporation have given him untold opportunities to see and learn, is the investment of cash in Omaha property. Within a week Mr. Perkins has invested $155,000 in real estate in Omaha. His first purchase was block 18 in Credit Foncier addition—once the hope of George Francis Train—for which he paid $50,000. This block lies between the B. & M. tracks and will in time be priceless. The next was a vacant lot in Hanson place, for which President Perkins paid $5,000.

Yesterday negotiations were closed whereby President Perkins exchanged $100,000 for some of Mr. G. M. Hitchcock's valuable real estate. The deal includes one of the best blocks in the city, block 50. It is sixty-six feet on Dodge street, near Thirteenth, at $30,000, and forty acres north of Hitchcock's first and second additions and east of the B. & M. track and dumb institute grounds, at $70,000.

Real estate men feel considerably encouraged at this evidence of interest in Omaha. It is held to denote a definite opinion that stagnation there is yet much life in real estate here.

The rosy freshness, and a velvety softness of the skin is variably obtained by those who use Pezoni's wondrous powder.

PRISONERS PLEAD.

Accused Persons Given Knowledge of the Charges Against Them. Seven prisoners now in the county jail were brought before Judge Estelle yesterday afternoon.

The trial of the case of the state against James Riley was commenced before Judge Estelle yesterday morning. The information charges that February 28, Riley, in the daytime, broke into the house of Eliza Leake and stole two silk dresses, valued at $75, besides other property.

The March Sugar Business.

Collector Alexander has received a clear certificate from Washington covering the auditing and adjusting of March business at the custom house, which included the warehousing and disposition of the great sugar shipments, in which complicated work it was generally admitted there would be misunderstandings and errors. It is a matter for congratulation, therefore, to the customs officials here that the department passed the whole month's work without calling attention to a mistake. The collector says that very much of the credit for correct details belongs to Clerk Crump and to Captain Phillips, the deputy surveyor, both of whom were as interested in getting through the emergency creditably to the office as though the responsibility rested on their shoulders only. Many believe that the success of our local merchants to save the expense of our local merchants and to avoid the chance for mistakes which temporary assistants might furnish, the local force put in their hands and the collector afforded every facility in his power for the making up of out-shippments prior to April 1, most of which was done out of regular hours.

Captain Phillips and Inspector Crump have been smoking XXXX A-1 cigars for several days, through the courtesy of sugar jobbers who acknowledged extra service by setting them up.
