

THE CITY.

Don't fail to hear George Francis Train at the Boyd this evening.

Andrew Nelson will not carry a gun in his inside pocket until he has earned $22.50 to pay for his last indulgence in this line.

Moses Alexander, charged with passing a counterfeit silver dollar, was turned over to the federal authorities for trial yesterday.

J. Peterson, the man who stole twenty pounds of coffee from J. N. Haley, was given twenty days in the county jail by Judge Holsley yesterday.

Sergeant Graves has reported to the chief of police that his special detail of six men has served 220 notices on property owners to clean up.

Guess what? even the headless young men are using Spanish Court Cream. It positively drives away those facial blemishes so common to young men, ask your druggist for it.

The libel suit against the Swedish Post, in which C. A. Lundeen is the complainant, occupied most of the afternoon in police court yesterday.

The rush for dog tags still continues at the city clerk's office. Already 278 dog owners have contributed to the city treasurer and saved their pots from the fate that was in store for them at the hands of Count Pulaski.

County Treasurer Adam Snyder from this time on will give his entire attention to the duties of his office. He has just closed a deal and sold his butcher business to Hamilton Bros. The new firm will take possession Friday morning.

The work of redistricting the city into voting precincts comes at the council chamber. City Clerk Greaves, under whose supervision the work is being performed, hopes to have the report in shape so that it can be submitted to the council next Tuesday night.

Stephens Coats is not very popular among the members of his own immediate family, and Tuesday night he attempted to compel a little involuntary admiration on their part by physical force.

John A. Hays, alias "Omaha Jack," finished a sixty day term in the county jail Monday and celebrated her release by fracturing a beer glass on the skull of a fellow companion.

Doctors may differ in opinion as to the cause of the feeling of languor and fatigue so prevalent in the spring; but all agree as to what is the best remedy for it, namely, Ayer's Sarsaparilla; it makes the weak strong, and effectually removes that treacherous foe.

Decision in Favor of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

The new Palace sleeping cars of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry., with electric lights in every berth, will continue to leave the Union depot, Omaha, at 6:10 p. m., daily.

War on Cows. Belligerent Seventh Warders Meet and Pass Resolutions.

The councilmen from the Seventh ward, the citizens and the council committee on police have declared against the Seventh ward cows.

Lost No Time in Qualifying. Frank Morrissey and Dr. Clarke Gapon, who were Tuesday night confirmed by the council as sanitary commissioner and commissioner of health, respectively, appeared before City Clerk Graves yesterday and took the oath of office.

Capital City's Successor. Colonel Wheaton has appointed J. G. Waring, formerly regimental quartermaster, to the captaincy of company C, to succeed Captain Catley, retired, and Lieutenant W. J. Furness has been appointed regimental quartermaster to succeed Captain Waring.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. Those who are inclined to be skeptical concerning the hypnotic entertainments which are in their progress at the Grand opera house, should see Dr. Davis catch a subject from the audience, who has been hiding in the extreme rear of the house, hoping to escape his hands.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

Omaha's Godfather Will Lecture Here Tonight.

George Francis Train, who has done more in the past twenty-five years to advertise Omaha than any other man, and who is just starting out on his fourth globe trotting expedition, will lecture at the Boyd this evening.

Mr. Train has always been a warm friend of this city, and is personally acquainted with all the older citizens. The time was in days gone by when Mr. Train practically owned Omaha, and no one acquainted with the facts disputed his claims of having built the city.

Mr. Train will arrive in Omaha at 10 o'clock this morning via the Northwestern and will be received by a committee of prominent citizens. He will speak of his efforts in building Omaha for the past thirty years, particularly during his three previous trips around the world and of the part he took at the time the terminus of the Union Pacific was fixed at Omaha.

Mr. Train's wonderful ability as a talker is well known to the citizens of Omaha. He has crowded more facts into a five minute talk than any other man on the continent.

The real estate exchange has caught the spirit of the occasion, and Tuesday night he attempted to compel a little involuntary admiration on their part by physical force.

Mr. Train will probably introduce Mr. Train to his Omaha audience and Mayor Cushing and a number of other leading citizens will occupy seats on the stage of the Boyd throughout the lecture.

SANITARY MATTERS.

What the New Board of Health Talked About.

The first meeting of the new board of health, as created under the amended charter, was held in the rooms of the fire and police commission yesterday.

The only absentee was Mr. Burdick, whose present being Mayor Cushing, Chief Seavey, Sanitary Commissioner Morrissey, Health Commissioner Gapon and Councilman Blumer.

Health Commissioner Gapon reported 103 cases of contagious diseases during the month and twenty-seven deaths from the same.

The rules governing contagious diseases under the old board were adopted, with the exception that the quarantine in cases of diphtheria was extended from one to two weeks after the recovery of the patient.

Chief Seavey wanted Mr. Specht, chairman of the council committee on police, to come before the board and submit the ordinances before the board to govern the sanitary condition of the city.

At a meeting of the Omaha architects in the rooms of the Builders' and Trades' exchange, resolutions of condolence in the death of Herbert Reynolds Best were adopted.

They Got it of Course. Jim! oh Jim! I say, Jim! Yeup—comin', mum; what's er matter? Why baby has got the colic; run down to drug store and get a bottle of Haller's pain paralyzer; quick, now.

More Pennsylvanians. The last party of Pennsylvania excursionists will reach this city Friday morning.

All for Sister. How much money have I got in my bank? Forty-five cents, stranger—only want five cents more. What will I do then, stranger? Why, you see, sister has such a terrible cough, and people say it will be bad on her if she don't get better soon, and the folks tell me Haller's sure cough cure will cure it right up; so you see—five cents! Thank you, stranger.

DOLLARS AND SENSE.

There are two things to bear in mind in buying a suit of clothes. One is to buy a good article, the other to buy it at a right price.

The English language has many queer kinks and turns in it and many a plain sentence in plain common every day English, is susceptible of being turned around into an entirely different meaning.

Take a blackberry, when it's green, it's red. Take the average man in search of a bargain in a suit of clothes, he walks into a store, walks up to the smiling salesman and says: "I want a cheap suit of clothes."

Now that's just what he don't want; he wants a suit of clothes cheap. They sound a good deal alike but they're two mighty different affairs.

Some stores make a business of selling Cheap Suits. Our business is selling Suits Cheap. Time and again we have demonstrated the fact, to your satisfaction, that when we advertise to sell anything cheap, the goods are always good.

A week ago, we advertised between seven and eight hundred suits at four ninety and five ninety. Did we sell 'em? Well we should smile; We sold so many and sold 'em so quick that we were broken on sizes before we knew it.

To insure another big week in our Men's Department, to accommodate the dozens of customers who could not get fitted, on account of coming too late, we will put on sale this week, six hundred suits, just as good as gold, at prices you never saw named for these same goods in your life.

In a full line of sizes, guaranteed fast color, and every thread wool, cut to fit, made to stay, lined with good Italian and trimmed in first class order, suits made to sell at ten or a dozen dollars, at the remarkably low price (the lowest ever known) of 300 BLACK CHEVIOT SACK SUITS. In a full line of sizes, guaranteed fast color, and every thread wool, cut to fit, made to stay, lined with good Italian and trimmed in first class order, suits made to sell at ten or a dozen dollars, at the remarkably low price (the lowest ever known) of

$6.00 A SUIT. 300 ELEGANT BLUE SERGE SUITS. In all sizes, every thread wool, a fine dressy spring suit, cut, lined, made and trimmed in first class shape in every way. Suits that would bring twelve dollars just as easy, at the sensational price of $8.90 A SUIT. "Suiting" you will certainly suit us.
