The meeting of the Capital City Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle last Friday evening was one of unusual interest being rendered so by the presence of Prof. Hicks of the state university, who favored the circle with an interesting talk upon the subject "Geology." After his talk the members availed themselves of the professor's kindness by pronounding to him numerous queries, all of which were answered in such a manner as to impart a vast amount of indecrees, all of which were answered in such a manner as to impart a vast amount of information. This meeting signalized the beginning of the circle 's study of French literature which, together with that of geology, will complete the year's course. Mr. J. W. Irish of the circle, who two years ago spent a week in the Yosemite valley, read an interesting description of that wonderful work of nature.

All went heme profuse in their praises of Mr. and Mrs Jamison's hospitality.

On Wednesday evening Mr. P. I. Costello was the recipient of a genuine surprise from the Lincoln Hibernians, of which organization he is the esteemed president. Walking down O street with a couple of the members his attention was called by them to the fact that there was a light in the hall and they proposed going up for a while. His astonishment was amusing when, on opening the door, he found the hall thronged with a jolly youth and beauty, all on pleasure bent. He had not time to recover from his bewilderment when the vice president, Frank Sheppard, advanced and, after addressing a few appropriate words of congratulation to President Costello on his return from the east and his restoration to health, presented him a handsome gold-headed cane. The mem-bers all came forward then to shake hands and welcome back their president, after which the young people danced to the inspir-ing music of the Lincoln Union orchestra until the small hours of the morning.
