Evening with the Muses. The novel entertainment, to be given in the Presbyterian church by the Ladies' Aid society Thursday evening, promises to be well attended as it will be amusing. "An Evening with the Muses" is the title of the entertainment and the programme will be as varied as the minds and experiences of persons. Each member pledges to procure $1 to be devoted to the building fund of the new church, and Thursday evening each will tell in rhyme how she got her $1, when, where and from whom, with all the feminine embellishments that ingenious and interested ladies are so fond of making it interesting. This will be a treat.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Capture in Missouri of a brace of Iowa Criminals. Sheriff George S. Rainbow and Deputy C. R. Redfield of Harlan, Shelby county, Ia., arrived in Council Bluffs at 5:30 o'clock last evening in charge of J. K. Cumberland and wife. The prisoners are charged with the murder of James Roberson and his son Jasper over a year ago. Sheriff Rainbow said that Cumberland and his wife had been living on some property belonging to Roberson and located just in the edge of Harlan. One day, over a year ago, Roberson sold a valuable piece of property for cash and he and his son, Jasper, staid all night with the Cumberland household, but have never been seen or heard of since that time. Soon after the mysterious disappearance of the Robersons Cumberland and his wife quietly left the country and were located at Springfield, Mo., after a long search. Sheriff Rainbow said that the first words spoken by Cumberland and his wife when arrested were: "Have the Robersons been found yet?" He thinks the capture is a good one, but says it will be hard to prove the crime, as no trace has been found of the bodies of the missing men.

TOUCHED FOR FIFTY.

W. G. Edwards' Bad Experience With Caters of the Night. W. G. Edwards will not make a practice in the future of counting his money on a street car in full view of the passengers. He did that foolish thing Monday night on a Twenty-fourth street car, and yesterday he was filled with $67 worth of resentment and regret. Edwards is a gasoline merchant and lives at 2415 Hamilton street. He kissed his $67 good night on the car just before reaching Hamilton street and then hurried home and went to bed. He did not notice anyone else getting on the car at the time that he did, but when he found his bedroom window open yesterday morning and his trousers on the ground just outside, he concluded that some evildoer and impudic mortal had followed him home. He reported the case to the police but his chances of recovering the money are not brilliant.

SHIRTS RETAILED

While you wait. A well known fact that we never mark goods up. When we advertise anything at a price, that's the price so long as the goods last. We don't sell anything cheap for a day or two, or three, and then raise on the price after that. That may be all right from one point of view, but not from ours. We sometimes advertise an article for say three days; we do this as we think that that time will see them all gone. Should any remain on the fourth day you're welcome to them at the same price, but that seldom occurs. About a month ago we put in stock a large quantity of unlaundred

WHITE SHIRTS

They are not worth fifty cents, but are worth thirty-five to forty. We find that when a man will pay that price he'll invariably go a little more and buy a fifty center. When any article in our stock don't sell as it should, we've got a happy way of making it. We mark 'er down, whole lot, about a hundred dozen, all in one pile, and you can take your pick for three days
