He Shot to Kill.

About midnight Tuesday night there came near being a tragedy on Broadway, near the corner of Tenth street. The matter was reported to the police, but did not get into the hands of the reporters until yesterday. At the hour mentioned Ed Bates and James O'Leary were standing at the corner near the Tremont house, the point where Bates had a long and bloody encounter last fall. While they were talking two men passed, and some remark made by O'Leary caused them to stop. One of the men approached O'Leary and demanded satisfaction for what he considered an insulting epithet. O'Leary explained that he was not applying to him, and that he was unconscious of his presence when he uttered it. The explanation was not satisfactory, and the stranger drew a revolver and fired. Bates then took a hand to prevent further trouble when the other stranger pulled a revolver and fired. The ball struck O'Leary on the forehead, but it did not penetrate and only plowed a deep furrow in the flesh instead of penetrating the brain.
Both strangers fled. O'Leary is a violent drunkard when O'Leary fell to the earth stunned by the shot.

Official Robertson was near the place and heard the shot. He ran to the scene and saw the two strangers were out of sight.
Neither Bates nor O'Leary recognized the men, but so far as they knew were entire strangers in the city. O'Leary's wound is painful but not serious.

They Are Not Satisfied.

The case of Dr. J. C. Schrader of Iowa City, against Mr. and Mrs. David Hoover of Walnut was brought to an end in superior court yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, when the jury brought in a verdict of $1.50 in favor of the plaintiff. The suit originated in a claim for fees for professional services. Dr.
Schrader valued his services at $100, but Mr. and Mrs. Hoover did not value them worth near that much.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Presidential Party Held Up for a Short Time at the Transfer.

HE SPOKE IN THE SWITCH YARDS.

Great Cr.-wds of Bluffites Gather to Cheer the Party—Stopped by the Deaf Mute School Children.

Yesterday was Harrison's day. Early in the morning the crowds began to take the motor trains that ran to Omaha every five minutes, except when they did not run on Saturdays, and by noon it seemed as though half of Council Bluffs had taken advantage of the opportunity that was offered it of seeing a real live president. The motor line experienced one of the biggest bonanzas of its existence. One conductor who went to Omaha at about 10 o'clock reported a harvest of 300 nickels, and on his next run, which he made about an hour later, he had 152. So it was from half past eight in the morning until noon. Many also went over in rigs, so that it is estimated that not less than 3,000 people went over from the Bluffs.

Among the crowd were the mayor and most of the aldermen. It had been decided that they would not go over in a body, as there was a general feeling in up to 6 o'clock Tuesday evening that the Bluffs' delegation had been rather neglected in the making of the general arrangements by the Omaha city council. During the evening, however, the whole Omaha council came over in a body to see the mayor and the board of aldermen, and after an interview had been had they changed their minds and decided to go.

The members of Abe Lincoln post, Grand Army of the Republic, shared the feeling of loneliness with the council, with the addition of not being remembered, even at the last minute, so they went to the transfer in a body at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.
They were accompanied by their dragoons under the leadership of Wall McFadden.
Fully 2,000 people who had not been able to see the president in Omaha, and many others who had seen him, went to the transfer along with them. The motor company, as in the morning, did a land office business.

The presidential party was advertised to reach the transfer at 5:30, but it was not 6 o'clock before the train came in sight over the Missouri river bridge. At last it reached a point about seven hundred feet west of the transfer, where the crowd had congregated, and there, surrounded by box cars, sheds and railroad tracks, the president made a speech from the rear platform of the rear car. It would not have been a very inspiring landscape upon which to look out, had it not been for the fact that the president's face greeted him. Still the president made his speech and was greeted with hearty applause when he had finished.

Postmaster General Wamaker was then called for, and he too made a few remarks.
Secretary Rusk of the agricultural department then appeared, and he too made a statement which he had just entered and was about to leave on the largeness of her agricultural products. Last of all, Mrs. Harrison called for a speech. She stepped to the platform and bowed to the throngs on both sides of her, after which the whistle blew, the bell rang, and the train pulled out of the yard en route to St. Louis.

At the deaf and dumb institute, a greeting had been prepared for the party. Superintendent Reed had made arrangements for the train to stop a moment on the tracks, as it passed through the grounds of the institute, which had been decorated with flags. On each side of the train were gathered the children who evinced the sight as much as though they had been gifted with all their senses. The president bowed to them and received a greeting in return from 200 pocket-handkerchiefs. The grounds had been decorated with flags.

Growth of Banking Business.

In another column of THE BEE this morning will be found the last statement of the First National Bank of Council Bluffs, a remarkable exhibit as showing the growth of the banking business in Council Bluffs.
Within the last year the bank has increased its capital by doubling it, and the statement shows that business has increased in about the same ratio. A good part of this increase is due to the confidence bestowed by safe financing and able management of the new president, Mr.
George P. Sanford. The steadily growth in the business of the bank is a credit to the city. The statement will be examined with interest by the citizens of Council Bluffs, and it will be a good deal of satisfaction for the people of western Iowa to know that their oldest financial institution still keeps its prominent place in the front ranks.

Go and hear the popular singers, Mrs.
Sherman and Miss Oliver, Thursday evening.

An Evening's Amusement.

The entertainment given this evening in the parlors of the Presbyterian church will prove very novel and attractive. There will be a short musical programme, followed by the opening of the "Circular Library," which will be a very amusing surprise to those who inspect it. Strawberries and ice cream will be served during the evening.
The following is the programme:
Come Where the Sunflowers Bloom.....
Sunflower Chorus.
I'm as Happy as a King.....
Solo and Chorus.
He Was a Prince..... Miss Oliver.
Gung a Ling Ling..... Sunflower Chorus.
Swing Song..... Chorus.
In Sweet September..... Hope Temple.
At the Court of the Czar..... Sunflower Chorus.

Wants a City Hall.

Alderman Smith has been drafting an ordinance for the past few days which he will present at the next regular meeting of the city council. It is an ordinance providing for the erection of a city hall, for the cost of which, together with the grounds, is not to exceed $50,000. The ordinance authorizes the voting of bonds to the amount of $50,000 or less, which shall run ten years, payable after five years at the option of the city. The tax which is to be levied is not to exceed one mill per year on each dollar's worth of taxable property.

The ordinance has been showed to several members of the council, and some of them are in favor of it. Others, however, are opposed to making any further additions to the indebtedness of the city. Whether a majority of the members favor the scheme cannot be told at present, but it is certain the ordinance will find some thorns in its path.

Dress gingham—Everything in that line from the 7c dress gingham to the finest Scottish goods. At 7c, 8c, 10c and 12c we show a beautiful range of patterns. At 15c we show a very fine line of zephyr gingham, the style and finish almost as good as the most expensive. Boston Store, Council Bluffs.

Dry storage at low rates, stores and household goods. J. K. Snyder, Pearl street.

Well Sentenced.

Yesterday morning among the crowd of creatures who daily appear before the police judge was an individual who answered to the name of T. J. Sullivan. The charge against him was improper conduct toward little girls.
Sullivan spent the night in the city jail and received a $50 fine yesterday morning. He will do twenty-five days work on the street.

Try Duquette & Co.'s Pomona fruit juice tablets. They are delicious.

The latest addition is the Shantung pongee, India silk finish, sold everywhere for 30c, our price 12c. A beautiful range of colors, nine apple tissue, the great leader, for 12c.
Boston Store, Council Bluffs.

For an evening's enjoyment go to the Presbyterian parlors Thursday evening.

Well Cleaned Streets.

The streets of Council Bluffs were never in such a tidy and clean condition as they are at the present time, and a large part of the responsibility for the good work rests upon Officer Watt and his chain gang. The street commissioner's wages are kept busy hauling away the little piles of dirt swept up by the tramp brigade.

COUNCILMAN C. CHEER.

Feed, Tobacco Burning and Electrical Industries.

As a pleasant termination of the day the Omaha city council tendered a very delicious banquet to the councilmen of South Omaha and Council Bluffs who were present and participated in the exercises as the guests of the Gate City fathers. Upon the conclusion of the drive to the depot in the wake of the president, the councilmen of the three cities met in the ordinary of the Millard and over a banquet board discussed questions affecting the interests of the three municipal governments.

The menu was begun with the introduction of "Mr. Oscar Pepper," and terminated with a toast to the "Widow Clifton." But a more elaborate explanation will be found in the following:

Mock Turtle aux Quenelles. Anonitillo Botted Salmon, Shiraz Sauce.
Potatoes, Parsnips.

SEVERE NEWS CENSORSHIP.

Telegram Sent from Lisbon Subjected to the Closest Scrutiny.

PORTUGAL IN A BAD WAY FINANCIALLY.

Published Statement That Lord Wolseley Has Become a Home Ruler—More Religious Rioting
in Greece.

MADRID, May 13.—Advices from Lisbon state that a severe censorship has been placed over telegrams sent from or into the city. Even news telegrams destined for the official journal have been stopped. The well known political economist, Coelho, has written a letter in which he says that Portugal has a colossal deficit, enormous loans contracted upon humiliating terms, and that she is confronted by poverty, industrial and political crises of the most threatening kind.

Religious Rioting at Corfu.

Corfu, Greece, May 13.—The anti-brew excitement, which has existed here for some time past and which caused an outbreak about April 27 when the body of a child who had been murdered was found in the Hebrew quarter, is becoming more venomous. The Greeks then claimed that the Hebrews had murdered a Christian girl, and the Jews retorted by declaring that the Greeks had murdered a Hebrew. The Greeks broke into the Hebrew quarter and built a bonfire in the square and declared that the Hebrews should be burned. A number of Hebrews were beaten and otherwise injured. The rioters were dispersed by the troops.

The excitement caused by this incident has never died out and yesterday rioting was resumed. Two Hebrews were killed and a number of Greeks were injured. The rioters and now surround the Hebrew quarter.
Hebrews are forbidden to pass outside of the troops and all stores kept by Hebrews are closed. A detachment of troops has been sent here from Athens to restore order.

London, May 13.—England and France have sent gunboats to Corfu to protect their subjects.

Revolt in New Guinea.

LONDON, May 13.—A South American dispatch says the people of the lower order have revolted against the authorities in Dutch Guinea, that several serious conflicts with the insurgents have occurred in which many persons were wounded, and that the situation is constantly becoming more alarming. A dissonance between the governor and officials under him as to what measures should be adopted serves to heighten the disorder.

Gladstone Improving.

LONDON, May 13.—Mr. Gladstone is progressing toward recovery. Sir Henry F.
Ponsonby, the queen's private secretary, called on the aged statesman this morning, and the queen sent a special messenger this evening to inquire about his condition. Park Lane, where Mr. Gladstone resides, was yesterday blocked with carriages containing persons anxious to obtain the latest news from the sick room.

American Suspected of Dynamiting.

DUBLIN, May 13.—A magazine exploded today at Donahadee, a town in the county of Down, where Mr. Gladstone resides, was yesterday blocked with carriages containing per-
the sick room.

Wolsey Reported a Home Ruler.

DUBLIN, May 13.—The National Press today announces that since his arrival in Ireland, after having been appointed commander-in-chief of the military forces of that country, Lord Wolsey has been a home ruler and says he does not see any danger from a military point of view in granting home rule to Ireland.

IOWA AND N. BRASKA NEWS.

A Public Improvement Enjoined.

EXETER, N. H., May 13.—Special Telegram to THE BEE.—At the regular meeting of the board of supervisors of Dodge county the contract was awarded for the construction of a drainage ditch about four miles in length diagonally across the Platte valley near North Bend. The contractors, Messrs. Mc-Donald, Penfold & Co., who have the work under way, yesterday had an injunction served on them out of the United States district court at the instance of the Union Pacific railway company, the road being interested in the matter, and claiming that the ditch crosses its right of way, and will endanger its roadbed from washouts. Work has been suspended.

Patriotic Geneva Citizens.

GENEVA, Neb., May 13.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—About three hundred of Geneva's patriotic citizens were up at 5 o'clock this morning and went to Fairmont on a special train to see President Harrison. He passed through. All were well pleased with him and with the little speech he made them.

An Alliance Case.

CEARAPIDS, Ia., May 13.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—W. E. Bell, organizer of the farmers' alliance for the Fifth congressional district, has issued a call for a special meeting to be held at Marion, May 27, for the purpose of forming a district organization.

Suicide of a Traveling Man.

MR. PLEASANT, Ia., May 13.—[Specia Telegram to THE BEE.]—A young traveling man named Graves, a deaf mute, became despondent at his unfortunate condition and shot himself in the heart in the Hotel here yesterday evening. His friends are unknown.

Fire at Brunswick.

BUNSWICK, Neb., May 13.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A fire broke out last night in the drug store of Dr. Seigel, and before it could be extinguished damage to the amount of $700 was done to the stock and about $100 to the building.

Will Join the Federation.

Action Taken by the Order of Railway Conductors.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 13.—Today's session of the convention of the Order of Railroad conductors was probably productive of more important results than any action taken by the organization since its incorporation. By an almost unanimous vote the convention in effect decided to join the federation of railroad employees.

The convention was called to order at 1 o'clock by the chief conductor. The first business before the convention was the reception of the reports of the committees on the grand officers' report, jurisprudence, grievances, appeals and insurance.

The report of the committee on insurance was
