He was offered $2 for his trouble, but he spurned it. Walker was undecided for a time whether or not to have all the city officials arrested on a charge of larceny, but he finally decided to bring suit for the amount. Granted a Rehearing.

The arguments for a new trial in the case of Dr. J. C. Shrader of Iowa City against Mr. and Mrs. David Hoover of Walnut were made in the superior court yesterday afternoon. The case was tried about a week ago. The plaintiff wanted $100 for fees for professional services in a case which he had been summoned to Des Moines to attend. The result of the trial was a verdict of $6.50 for the plaintiff. This was objected to by the attorneys for the plaintiff, who claimed that if the services were worth anything they were worth more than $3.50, and they immediately filed a motion for a new trial. Judge McGee heard the arguments and granted the request.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Paving of an Alley Objected to by Property Owners.

CITY COUNCIL COULD NOT DECIDE IT.

Contractors Go Steadily on with the Work and No One Seems to Care to Interfere with Them.

At the last meeting of the city council a petition was read from a number of property owners asking that the work of paving the alley between Seventh and Eighth streets and between Broadway and First avenue be nipped in the bud on account of the great expense to which they would be subjected. The council hemmed and hawed, and didn't know just what to do about it, but there was a sort of vague understanding that the contractor should be required to stop the work until the council could have a chance to look around and find out just what it wanted to do about the matter.

Yesterday the work was going on just as usual, and so far as is known, it will continue to go on until the end of the chapter. The city or property owners can enjoin the contractors from going on with the work, but if they do so they will have to stand good for all damages that the contractor may suffer by not being allowed to go on. No one wants to stand good for the damages as the contractors paid in advance for all the material which is being put into the paving and the damages would accordingly mount away up above the limits of the pocketbook of any of them. It is probable that the work will go on as was at first intended.

PLAYED PARACHUTES.

Sam Patch and Steve Brodie Find Youthful Emulators.

A lot of small boys were playing at the upper end of Fifth avenue last Monday evening, where the bluff is being cut away. They each had a small paper umbrella, which they loaded with sticks and stones and allowed to float, parachute-like, from the top of the bluff to the bottom.

At last Harry Van Brunt, the ten-year-old son of Alderman H. H. Van Brunt, was struck with a bright idea. He rushed home and soon returned with an umbrella. Going to the top of the hill he opened the umbrella, stepped back a few feet and then made a run for the brink, holding the umbrella over his head. Flap, flap, went the umbrella, and down, down, went the boy. The other boys looked on with bated breath, half expecting their companion to be dashed to pieces at the bottom of the hill. But they were disappointed, and the small boy alighted on the ground, a hundred feet from where he started, as easily and comfortably as he could wish.

The whole thing seemed so nice that the eight-year-old brother of the hero had to have a chance at the new and delightful plaything. He, too, descended in safety, and in all probability they would have been working the parachute yet had not some of the grown friends of the boys appeared on the scene in time to prevent any more of the dangerous sport.

As the matter stands now the two Van Brunt boys are heroes in the eyes of their companions, and it will probably be ten years before the last regret disappears from the hearts of the others at the thought of what they missed.

District Court News.

Mrs. Amelia Guill has filed in the district court a protest against allowing the will of her late father, Joseph Holman, to be admitted to probate. She alleges that the will was not signed by her father with his free consent, but that he had been childish and feeble for some time prior to his death, and while in that condition was induced to sign his name to the paper by certain designing persons. She also claims that the witnesses did not sign their names to the will in the presence of each other or of Holman, and on these grounds she asked the court to set aside the will and divide the property among the various children as though the will had never been executed.

In district court yesterday the whole day was occupied by the $15,000 damage suit of Cocke & Morgan against M. E. Smith. Part of the arguments of the attorneys were made, and they will be completed this morning.

Coyne in Trouble Again.

The Crangle-Maish case, which fairly monopolized the papers about a month ago, has bobbed up again. Yesterday morning Flickinger Brothers, who represented the defendants at this end of the line, received word from the prosecuting attorney of Rock Island county, Illinois, requesting them to send on a certified copy of the depositions which W. L. Coyne sought to introduce in evidence when the case was on trial, and stating that Coyne had been indicted for subornation of perjury in trying to get the Fluegels to sign their names to the papers. Clerk Campbell of the district court, and his entire force of assistants, were busily at work all day yesterday getting the copy into proper shape. The trial of Coyne will take place next week.

Protecting the Fish.

"I wish you would give a write up to a number of parties who are engaged in hunting and fishing illegally," said one of the most ardent of the lovers of sport in Council Bluffs, yesterday to a reporter. "The statutes of Iowa forbids the taking of fish by seine, snare, or net, at any season of the year. We are situated in a thickly populated community, with only slight resources in this direction at best. One would think that self interest would prompt these fellows to be a little careful how they make way with the fish that are in our streams, even if their regard for the law did not; and yet the law is being violated right along.

"A number of us local sportsmen have banded ourselves together to assist in prosecuting to the full extent of the law anyone who may be found taking fish in this illegal manner. We are interested in protecting the fish in all the waters in this vicinity, but we are especially anxious to protect those in Honey creek. Pat Gilmore has been stationed at the latter place for the sole purpose of guarding it and seeing that the law is complied with. We would like to have the aid of all lovers of legitimate sport in driving these butchers out of their business."

Assaulted a Young Girl.

A bold attempt at an assault was made late last evening in the southern part of the city. A young man named Walter Luring was riding on his bicycle near the corner of Eighth street and Ninth avenue when he heard a woman scream a short distance away. Looking in the direction of the sound he saw a young girl running toward a house. He followed her and inquired what was the matter, when he learned that she had been overtaken by a man who put his hand over her mouth to silence her after which he threw her down in the weeds, and would in all probability have accomplished his purpose had it not been for the approach of Luring on his bicycle. The girl was nicely dressed and respectable looking and about eighteen years of age. She gave her name as Amy Wilson. She could not describe her assailant as she had not had a chance to get a full view of his face.

Do Horses Talk?

We have our doubts on this subject, but if they could, we believe their first words would be to ask masters always to keep a bottle of Haller's Barbed Wire Liniment on hand. It is unequalled for cuts, bruises and sprains.

In fact, horses fairly cry for it.

ALONE AND UNNOTICED.

Joseph Anderson Dies in a Carriage Enroute to the Hospital.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. King, assistant county physician, was called to see a sick man at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Jones streets.

Dr. King immediately responded to the call, and found Joseph Anderson lying upon a pallet of straw in an up stairs room. Anderson was evidently suffering considerable pain, and the physician called a carriage and had the sick man removed to St. Joseph's hospital. Upon the arrival of the carriage at the hospital a chair was brought out for Anderson, and he was carried into the reception room. As soon as the chair was placed upon the floor in the room one of the sisters looked at the occupant and was shocked to see that he was dead.

The man had died while being taken from the carriage to the entrance of the hospital. Coroner Harrigan was immediately called, and after viewing the body ordered the remains removed to Heafy & Heafy's undertaking establishment.

Dr. King, assisted by Coroner Harrigan, held a post mortem upon the body last evening. It was found that the left lung had shriveled up so that it was smaller than the heart. Consumption was the principal cause of Anderson's death. The unfortunate man had gradually wasted away. Disease was found among the organs of the heart, liver and kidneys.

Coroner Harrigan will hold an inquest at Heafy & Heafy's at 2 p. m. today.

Anderson had no friends or relatives in the city. He had been ill for a long time, and being unable to work managed to worry out a miserable existence. How long the man had been ailing was impossible to learn as no one seemed to know anything about him.

ALBRIGHT DOESN'T LIKE IT.

He Wants to Be Relieved from the Insurance Company's Receivership.

Hon. Thomas H. Benton, auditor of state, Attorney General Hastings, Mr. G. W. Albright and his attorney, C. J. Smyth, entered Judge Irvine's court yesterday evening about 5 o'clock for the purpose of giving the Nebraska insurance company case another twist.

Mr. Smyth stated that his client wished to be relieved from the receivership and to surrender the responsibilities that had been placed upon him as receiver for the Nebraska insurance company to some one whom the court might appoint.

Judge Irvine promptly replied that he could not relieve Mr. Albright without a report of what he had done with the property entrusted to him, and he would not do so even then until he had consulted with Judge Wakeley with regard to the matter for there was danger of having a conflict in the orders of the court unless they proceeded very carefully. He advised Mr. Albright to hold possession of the property until next Saturday when the insurance company has been notified to appear and present its side of the case. The judge instructed Mr. Albright to allow Auditor Benton full and free access to the books, but not to permit any one else to have anything to do with the property under his charge.

Mr. Albright said to a BEE reporter that the reason he wished to be relieved of the receivership was that he had been restrained by an order from the court from removing the notes, books and papers to his office, and it was very inconvenient for him to work at the office of the insurance company and attend to his own affairs at the same time. Under the circumstances he simply wished to get clear out of the matter and let someone take it who had nothing else to look after.

COKE STRIKE.

Special Meeting of the K. of L. at Scottdale to Consider It.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 19.—A special from Scottdale, Pa., says: The Knights of Labor assembled here in special convention at 10 o'clock to consider the coke strike. The convention is largely attended. Nearly all the delegates say they have instructions to continue the strike.

Several riots occurred this evening, one striker being shot and slightly wounded. One of the seceders from the strikers' ranks who has been working was hooted by a crowd of strikers on the street and driven into the Scottdale house by a mob of 1,000 men that would not disperse until the fire hose was turned on them. Shortly after two deputies from the Valley works tried to assert their authority over the maddened mob. A rush was made for the deputies, one of them fired, wounding a striker. The deputies were trampled under foot in a moment, but were picked up and carried away by town policemen, while the mob fled before another assault from the fire department. Soon another rush was made, the deputies taken from the police and pounded and kicked in a horrible manner. Under the advice of the leaders the strikers finally let them go.

Serving Eviction Notices.

OSKALOOSA, Ia., May 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Notices are being served by the Excelsior coal company upon striking miners that those owning houses on the company's premises must remove them and those living in company houses must vacate them at once to make room for new men who are ready to go to work. About four hundred strikers, most of them heads of families, are affected by these notices and trouble and hardship are expected. The conference of miners and operators which was to have been held today will take place Thursday next.

ESMERALDA MUST HAVE COAL.

Probability That the Chilian Vessel Will Resort to Force.

NOTHING TO PREVENT SUCH ACTION.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company Issues Strict Orders to Its Agent at Acapulco Not to Sell Fuel.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A special to the Mail and Express from Acapulco says: "It seems certain that the Esmeralda must have recourse to some desperate means to secure coal, for coal she must have if she is to get back to Chili. It was announced today that the Pacific Mail steamship company has ordered its agent here not to sell the Esmeralda coal under any circumstances. This order was communicated to the commander of the Esmeralda, and it is now thought probable that the Chilian will take coal by force. This is more probable as it is now almost certain that the Esmeralda's captain is in command of the Itata, having boarded her when the two vessels met off this port Friday night. Should the acting captain of the Esmeralda decide to take coal by force there is absolutely nothing to prevent him from hauling his vessel alongside the coal hulks and taking what he wants, for the forts are worthless as against modern ordnance and the Esmeralda could if molested lay Acapulco in ruins in half an hour."

There is a disinclination on the part of the officers of the Pacific Mail steamship company to talk about the company's action touching the sale of coal to the Esmeralda. Vice President Houston was not willing to state specifically whether or not the company's agent at Acapulco had been ordered not to sell the Esmeralda coal. He said, however, that the only other station along that coast where she could get coal were San Diego and San Francisco. The dismantled steamer Moses Taylor is the coal hulk of the Pacific Mail steamship company at Acapulco and lies at the moorings a few hundred yards from the city water front and directly opposite the American cemetery. It is an easy matter for the Esmeralda to go alongside and with her crew of 350 men take on board coal at the rate of twenty-five to thirty tons an hour. Meanwhile the city would be at the mercy of the Chilian guns. In ten hours she would have 300 tons on board. She would be unmolested so far as Mexican naval or military powers are concerned. There are never more than 500 soldiers in the vicinity of Acapulco and the war vessel Democrata is not equal in power to the Esmeralda's steam launch. Of course the Mexican authorities would protest, as would the Pacific mail agent, but the protest would be of no avail in the face of the guns of the Esmeralda.

CITY OF MEXICO (via Galveston), May 19.—A dispatch from Acapulco says that the Esmeralda's officers finished buying provisions last night and it is believed at Acapulco that the Esmeralda secretly loaded some coal and was to receive more this morning outside the harbor.

CANADA CALLED DOWN.

Secretary Rusk Issues an Order on the Importation of Swine.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Secretary Rusk today issued the following order:

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19, 1891.—Whereas, Under the act of congress approved August 30, 1890, it has been provided by the department of agriculture in order to protect the sheep and swine of the United States from contagious diseases now existing in foreign countries that all sheep and swine imported from Great Britain and the continent of Europe must be held in quarantine for a period of not less than fifteen days; and

Whereas, The Dominion of Canada makes no requirement of quarantine for sheep and swine imported into that country from Great Britain or the continent of Europe; and

Whereas, To permit the importation of these animals from Canada into the United States without quarantine would be dangerous to the stock interests of the United States owing to the failure on the part of the Canadian authorities to enforce this measure of protection, and would enable importers to evade the quarantine at United States ports; therefore

It is ordered, That all sheep or swine to be imported from Canada into the United States are hereby made subject to the regulations of the department of agriculture of date October 8, 1890, and the exception contained in the third and sixth regulations of the said date as applicable to Canadian sheep and swine is hereby rescinded, and all animals named in said regulations except cattle imported from Canada are subject to the same conditions and requirements as if they were imported into the United States from Great Britian and the continent of Europe.

HIS SNEAK MISCARRIED.

Charles Austin's Novel Method to Settle His Board Bill.

When Charles Austin was driven to the police station at 1 o'clock this morning he looked as if he was prepared to make quite a visit.

For some four months past Austin, who is a colored man, has been rooming with Mrs. Smart, also colored, at 220 North Thirteenth stree. Austin is quite a dude and has paid his room rent with promises instead of cash. Yesterday morning he gave up his key to the house and agreed that his trunk and satchel be held until his indebtedness had been settled.

Shortly after midnight Austin effected an entrance into the Smart domicile and with the aid of a friend carried his big Saratoga down the stairs and out into the street. The noise awakened Mrs. Smart, who called a patrolman and the whole outfit, trunk and all, were given quarters at the jail. Austin won't be bothered with room rent for a month at least.

REPEAL VS. PROHIBITION.

Long Haired Men and Short Haired Women Not Wanted in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 19.—[Special to THE BEE.]—It has just leaked out here in anti-prohibition circles that emissaries of the New York Voice have visited nearly every county in this state for the purpose of procuring a list of the voters at the last election, which is to be used as a mailing list for the Voice in the forthcoming campaign for the repeal of the present prohibitory law.

It is now generally understood by parties well posted that the Voice will devote twice as much attention to the impending struggle in this state as it did in Nebraska last year. It has also arranged, so it is reported, to take the entire charge of the prohibitory side of the question.

During the Nebraska fight the Voice put in circulation in that state all the way from ten to sixty thousand copies of its paper each week until the close of the campaign. It was generally conceded by all who gave the matter any study that the work done by the prohibition sheet, while of a lawless and illegitimate class of journalism, had a superficial effect upon a certain set of its more impressionable readers.

It has also come to the knowledge of those who will have the anti-prohibition campaign in charge that the New York Voice has made a formal request upon all prohibition organizations, national and state, demanding that their organ be given absolute and exclusive management of the Iowa fight. They set forth in their request that the work done by the prohibitionists in Nebraska was wholly ineffective, and that while the anti's used their money to employ workers to bring out the votes—on the other hand the prohibitionists appropriated all their means to defray the expenses of orators, who traversed the state in every direction.

The Voice in its demands urges the avoidance of a repetition of the Nebraska mistake and recommends that in the campaign now impending here that the services of low priced orators be dispensed with, and that none but competent and energetic field workers and organizers be employed.

Averill of this city, and the name of the corporation is the Cedar Rapids & Marion City railway company. A capital stock of $400,000 is authorized. A board of seven directors has been chosen consisting of Bernard E. Sunny, Theodore P. Bailey, Frederick W. Horne, Halleck W. Seaman, James L. Bever, Walter D. Douglas and Arthur T. Averill. Speaking to the Kansas men, he said they did not understand the situation in his part of the country, where ignorant foreigners were brought to the polls and voted by numbers. Kansas had an intelligent constituency. Pennsylvania required patient education and the success of the reform movement depended upon the education of the people. "The Knights of Labor will vote the principles of their organization and when you form a party embodying such principles as have been announced here tonight you will find every Knight of Labor standing at the polls and doing his full duty."

The meeting dispersed, cheering again and again for Powderly and the Knights of Labor.

A BAD SKIN DISEASE

On Limbs 5 Years. Bedridden 3 Years. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Feared Amputation.

Cured by Cuticura at Cost of $3.50. Now Does Her Own Work. A Wonderful Cure.

I must write and tell you of the success I have had in using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I had been troubled for nearly five years with skin disease in the right limb and all the doctors in this city could do nothing for it. I tried everything, until at last I thought I should have to have the limb amputated at the knee. It was swelled to twice the natural size, and I could barely hobble around on crutches. I was in the house, part of the time bedridden, for three years and could not get out. I happened to look in the newspaper and saw the CUTICURA advertisement, and as I had now retried that I used two bottles of the RESOLVENT and three boxes of the CUTICURA. I am now able to do all my work, both in house and out of doors, and my limb has as natural as could possibly be under any circumstances. It is a most wonderful cure. I had given up hopes of ever being well again. If this will benefit you, you are welcome to use it to the best advantage. Any one not crediting this will find me by addressing me at the above named city.
