NEW YORK. May 23-The stock market today continued its upward movement and while in only a few stocks was there material improvement for the day, everything advanced and bull points for next week were thick. The bank statement showed a small increase in the surplus reserve. but this had no apparent effect at the time, for it had been effectually discounted in the early dealings. The grangers naturally led in the market and buying orders from the west were, if anything, the leading element in the strength of the market, the confidence being based on the latest reports of the condition of the crops and the anticipation of an unusually heavy freight movement this season St. Paul was, as usual of late, the most active stock by a large majority, but Rock Island displayed the most strength and with the two industrials it is alone in scoring a marked advance for the day. The opening was made at a slightly lower class of prices than those of last evening and Louis-ville & Nashville was down 5% per cent, but the buying began in carnest immediately and prices under the lead of Rock Island and Northern Pacific preferred moved up until checked by realizations. Rock Island was up

Hendricks, but his photograph says that he is an accomplished prevaricator.

Friday night George was arrested as a vag by Officers Hudson and Walker, after quite a chase, and locked up. Yesterday morning Sergeant Sigwart thought he had seen that face before, and on looking over a lot of photographs that are kept on file at police headquarters, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith, he discovered an astonishingly good likeness of George, for whose arrest, by the way, a reward of $25 is offered.

Breaker.

It seems that Mr. Brown-Hendricks broke all at Hiawatha. Kan, last September, and since that time he has been roaming free as a bird wherever fancy and good judgment die-tated. It would seem that discretion would have kept him away from Omaha, but he didn't think so, bence his griaf grief.

Shortly after his prisoner's escape, Sheriff Cashman came to Omaha in search of his man, but although he was here at the time and, in fact, has been here ever since the officers failed to locate him. Brown was a brakeman and was arrested for disposing of mortgaged property. He was very indignant over his arrest, an it was not until he was shown the photograph that he weakened and admitted who graph that he weakened and admitted who he was. He denied that he sawed his way out of jail, but insisted that a couple of friends of his, an engineer and conductor whose names he refused to give, sawed their way into the jail three days before the time set for his trial, and he merely walked out through the hole. His wife, who was em-ployed about the jail during his incarceration there, departed with him through the same aperture. aperture.

Since their residence in this city, the pair have lived at 1310 California street, and a complaint was lodged against the woman some time ago, charging her with being a street walker, and an officer was detailed to watch the place, but he failed to run across Brown, who kept himself very close. The woman is much smoother than her husband, and when the latter was unbosoming himself to the detectives this morning she remarked, "shut your mouth, you blamed fool, don't you see that they are just trying to pump you f' Brown was told that the sheriff was coming after him, but he said he would not go back without a requisition. Dr. Birney cures catarrh, Bee bldg.

Hired to Murder.

Henry Long was held to answer before the superior court for the murder of Oscar Crandall, at Red Bluff, Cal. The only direct evidence against Long was that of the Boyden brothers, one of whom is also charged with the crime. He alleges that Long confessed ommitting the murder to them. e exam business the weak merchants' and others to wanted to get out of business de the times an excuse for failure, so that the merchants still in business represent the more solid class of men who have the enter-prise to push their trade for all there is in it. If the renorts of the merchants themselves are to be believed, the merchants themselves are to be believed, the outlook for them is especially pleasing, and they have reason to feel confident. With the country enjoying a from, Omaha cannot help but be prosperous. COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The market has presented some noteworthy eatures during the past six days. Eggs have been in very light receipt and have sold largely at 15c-a big price for this season of the year. The high price does not appear to materially increase the receipts, and all arrivals are picked up promptly. Poultry has sold all the week at about steady prices and the market has been devoid of any interesting feature. Butter has been very weak. Eastern markets were in such shape that the packers and shippers could not afford to pay over %@10c per 1b., and as the bulk of the receipts have had to go to them it follows that the greater proportion of the butter has had to sell at that range. Some select packages are picked up by the local retail trade at a little more money, but the demand from this source is limited.

The hay market has firmed up on the decrease in the receipts. FRUITS.

In the way of fruits about the only thing to attract any attention has been strawber-ries. They have been arriving at the They of t rate of two or three cars per day and as prices have been low stocks have moved off freely. The quality of the fruit has been quite good, but this week the St. Louis county berries will commence to come, and they have the reputation of being the finget grown. The groups goid to being the fluest grown. The crop is said to be large and the fruit very choice.

CONCERNING VEGETABLES

there is very little to be said. Potatoes have been slow and the market is low to what it was last month. Some kinds of new vege tables are scarce to what they usually are at this season of the year.

SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

This has been a week without any special feature of change in the wheat situation. Copious rains in this country have assured the growing crop of winter wheat and also a very fine stand of the spring sown grain which has had a bearish effect on our domestio market, local operators being very bear-The foreign situation is unchanged ish. The foreign situation is discussed since the last report and foreigners are rep-resented to be buyers of our new crop futures. Exports of flour and wheat have been quite large, but our home situation has counter-balanced this to such an extent that the balanced this to such an extent that the market at Chicago closed Saturday with a loss during the week of 3c per bushel. Corn has ruled very weak and with a ma-terial loss in value. The long expected re-ceipts have materialized. The visible supply is expected to again show quite an increase. Prices have been very soft and there seems to be a great deal of long stuff thrown on the market from all directions as well as a conmarket from all directions, as well as a con-tinued bammering by local bears with large lines of shorts. The market closed with a loss of 7c per bushel for the week on the July option. The demand for cash corn has censed almost entirely. It is possible that it may not stop here: however the approximation may not stop here; however; there appears to be no doubt out what the market will be oversold and the reaction caused by the same

Outs the sharp when it comes. Oats closed on Saturday at a decline of 6c per bushel for the week on the July option, caused by the copious rains. This cereal last week was reported as being injured by the drouth, but all fears in this direction are discalled and many this that there mill cell dispelled and many think that they will sell still lower, as the growing crop is doing nicely and the acteage is exceptionally large. Provisions have had an uneventful week, suffering a loss with the general decline in pork. The market in barreled pork is es-pecially heavy. Many country holders are yet clinging to their holdings and it seems almost impossible for the mar-ket to react as they appear un-villing to take a larger load. Chicago local talent, understanding, this continues to hammer the market on anything like a re-action and some say will accountable forces action and some say will eventually force the county out. It is predicted by provision men of good judgment that we may expect to see pork below $10 before any material re-action may be expected. The following are weights. There was little trading in culls and thin pigs at £25024.15. Notwithstanding to-day's advance, prices are still from 15620c lower than at the close of last week. The receipts of the week, though 10,000 head less than for the corresponding week last year, were large for the season, and as they bid fair to continue liberal for some time to come, buyers are not operating with much confidence. This is not to be wondered at when the flat condition of the market for hog products is considered. Shipners are not taking nearly as many hogs as they were a few we ks ago. the bottom in sympathy with wheat. CHICAGO, May 23. — Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to S. A. MeWhorter—Provisions have shown more weakness today than any day of the de-cline. Larger lines of long property have come out. The market lately followed grain so closely that it will probably continue to de-cline while grain goes down, especially corn, and react with it though nothing on the floor now lookslike reaction. It should not be for-now lookslike reaction. It should not be for-new prices in provisions and buyers for consump-tion at home and abroad evidently think this year will be no exception. In wheat the con-tinuance of brilliant weather, loss of conf-dence and depicted margins, together with year will be no exception. In wheat the con-tinuance of brilliant weather, loss of confi-dence and depieted margins, together with depression in other markets are responsible for to iav's weakness. Equidation by weak holders has been quite general. It has been supposed that the short interest was limited, but some commission houses say their books are still heavily short while Partiridge is un-derstood to have out a larger line than for months. The speculative temper is decid-edly bearish and operators on that side find little opposition and a yielding market. They are inclined to press their luck vigor-ously. It would seem prudent to cover on soft spots even if sales are put out on little raities for if anything should occur to seri-ously atarm the shorts their market is in shape to raily very sharply. Prices may be con-siderably lower as the season advances if crops continue favorable but we are likely to be sharp buges meantime. The news has been tulish today but traders gave it no at-tention. Charters for 255,000 busiels were made here and New York reported 224,000 busiels for exars of corn for the first two busies for each or with the prospect for invite estipments. There will probably be a first decrement in the visible supply reported on Monday. Corn and oats on the start too and the be suddenly stampeded. A good many shoestring operators are short 50,000 where 5,000 would be too much if the market
