Haggling About a Receiver for the Nebraska Fire Insurance Company.

THE COURTS WILL HAVE TO TAKE A HAND.

Order of the Court Disregarded by the Insurance People-Cases I isposed of by the Judges Yesterlay.

Judge Wakeley had set yesterday for hearing arguments and appointing a receiver to look after the affairs of the Neoraska fire insurance company.

He was on the bench promptly at 10 o'clock, but the case went over until to-When the last hearing was had, it was ordered that all of the papers in the case be turned over to the court. This order was disregarded and when the case was called no papers had been presented.

There will be a bitter fight when the question comes up, as the representatives of the company declare that Welpton shall never be appointed to wind up the affairs. In support of their opposition they will file a number of affidavits, showing that he is not a fit man for the ulare. The state officers will also oppose Howell, who has been named by the company and litigation promises to continue unless the court takes the matter into its own hands and appoints a receiver of its own selection.

Cases were disposed of as follows:

Judge Ferguson—Charles H. Fry vs George Burke et al, continued by consent; David E. Thompson vz Omaha National bank, on trial.

Dick Wilde Enjoined.

The famous barn owned by Dick Wildo has got into the courts. The structure stands on Seventeenth avenue, near the residence of Fred A. Nash. Some time ago the council granted Wilde permission to move the building to the other side of the lot, which would bring it close to Nash's house. Protests fied, but they were of no avail. Nash time by the forelock and last night secured an injunction from Judge Doane restraining Wilde from moving. The case will be implemented and until that time the para will re-

CHICAGO OFFICE OF THE BEE, I

CHICAGO, May 28. Commenting on the recent report of the Nebraska bureau of labor and industrial staistics and the farmers' alliance memorial to he legislature, the Tribune says: "According to the facts only two farms in seven in Nebraska are mortgaged at all, and but one in eight for any other purpose than that of the purchase of land, the buyer paying part down and giving security for the rest. Do the alliance leaders want these obligations to be repudiated, the occupant to claim full title when he has paid for only one-fifth part of it! It would be but a short additional step to the position that a man has a right to anther man's farm for which he has paid nothing at all, and then we should simply fall back upon the old plan of letting the strongest take and hold till a stronger one came along to dispossess him. There would then be no object in cultivating the soil, rince no man could be sure of being permitted to rear where he had sown. The same rule carried into towns and cities would equally stifle commercial and manufacturing activities there and we would find ourselves lapsed back into semi-barbarism, with no accumula-tion of food, fuel, clothing, shelter, or other property to provide for the wants of the fu-

UNCLE SAM FOOLED THEM. A local paper says that the captain of the revenue cutter Andrew Johnson narrowly escaped losing his rew while in this port a day or two ago. The men on the cutter are working for $27 a month, while the union working for $27 a month, while the union rate in the lakes is $2 a day. When the cutter arrived in port it struck the walking delegate of the union that it would be a bold stroke to "pull" the crew, or at least get them to strike for higher wages. With this end in view sundry confabs were had with some of the sailors. It was arranged that a boat was to put off from the slip late in the evening with the delegate on board. When he reached the cutter a demand was to be made for an increase in wages. If it was refused all hands were to go ashore in the cutfused all hands were to go ashore in the cut ter's boats and take to the woods until Uncle Sam's wrath was appeared or their wages raised. The captain got wind of the plot in some way and steamed out before the delegate arrived.

JUDGE TORREY'S BILL.

Proposed Bankruptcy to Be Talked Over in Public Tonight. The board of trade has called a meeting at the chamber of commerce building for tonight and invited all citizens interested in the subject of bankruptcy to be present. Judge Jay L. Torrey, the author of the bankraptcy biil will address the meeting upon the subject of bankruptcy legislation and particulars as to the provisions of the bill bearing his name. A representative of THE BEE met Judge Torrey at the Paxton and found him an earnest advocate of the cause with which his name is so conspicuously associated. In accounting for his presence in the city, the judge said: "I went out by invitation to speak upon the subject of bankruptcy before the trans-Mississippi commercial congress, which convened at Denver last week; the board of Trade at Cheyenne invited me to ad-dress it upon the subject, and then I came here for a conference with our friends and am informed that the board of trade has called a meeting for tomorrow, Friday, night at the Chamber of Commerce building for the consideration of the subject. I shall, of course, speak of the provisions of the bill, outline what we hope to accomplish, and invite inquiries from the gentlemen who may In referring to the subject of the great number of endorsements the bill has received, the gentleman said: "The unanimity with commercial, industrial and profes-bodies have endorsed the bil sional seems conclusive as to its merits. The same number of endorsements have vever before been accorded to any measure. While hundreds of the foremost bodies of the country have passed favorable resolutions, I have in mind but four in the whole country which have passed adverse resolutions, and my information is that even that small number were passed without a knowledge of the provisions of the bill; one of the bodies was in California, one in Kansas, one in Missouri and one in Massachusetts. A funny thing occurred in the senate with reference to the action of the body in Kansas. One of the senators from that state submitted to the senate, and had filed in the archives, a copy of a resolution. The other senator submitted and had filed a letter from the same body ipon the subject, which was construed and intered in the records as an endorsement of the bill. Noting the contradiction while in Washington, I examined both documents and after a very careful consideration reached the conclusion that the body had acted adversiy, and in order to make sure wrote for nformation, but never received any reply to my 'etter." In referring to the interest of Nebraska in the measure the author stated that some seventeen petitions had been filed from influ-ential citizens of this city in favor of the en-actment of the bill, and that petitions have been sent from South Omaha, Beatrice, Lin-coln and St. Paul, and that the following bodies had passed favorable resolutions: The board of trade and Nebraska Paint, Oil and Blass club of this city and the board of trade and Retail Grocers' association of Lincoln and the State Business Men's association.

When the subject of opposition to the bill was mentioned the judge referred to the subject as follows: "There is a small amount of spasmodic opposition. The most conspicuous opponent is a millionaire house of Chicago, which fings the giving and receiving of pref-erances profitable, and therefore dees not wish to be interfered with. The fact that here is a national organization with officers and committeemen in every state promoting this agitation, and that it has not been possible to organize a counter-movement seems conclusive that there is but one side to the question and designed to enable honest in vents to be discharged, to bring about a quick and economical administration of bankrupt estates and prevent fraud."

Reference was made by Judge Torrey in the course of the conversation to the fact that some years ago during the existence of the old bankruptcy law he had gove to California in pursuit of an absconding bankrupt, and had captured him, fought him through two writs of habeas corpus and one discharge be-fore a commissioner and rearrested him three imes before succeeding in starting east with um, and that enroute from California to St ouls he had placed the prisoner in jail in this city for a couple of days.

The shipmonts of Mr. Pillsbury have excited so much comment that large dealers have looked into the shipments from Minne-apolis to Duluth to see if there is anything more going on. The fact that surprised several was that since the 300,000 bushel deal was made, May 8, there have been 955 cars sent forward to Dulnth from Minneapolis, 196 of these having been snipped Tuesday. This means that 954,575 bushels have been shipped since the 300,000 bushels of May, making nearly a million bushels.

Resolutions of Condolence. The executive board of the state Knights of Labor adopted the following: Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Mas-ter Workman of the Universe to suddenly call from our midst our brother, David Buter, one whose life work spent in the cause of numanity and civilization has lightened the burdens of the weary and awakened the light of hope in the eyes of the sad; Whereas, We humbly bow submission to he mandates of our Divine Ruler, and Whereas, We recognize that while the famly has lost a loving husband and father, the order a staunch advocate, the community a neighbor tried and true; the state has lost a citizen to whom she will ever look as one of those who has done as much as any other for ts advancement and whose first desire was for its prosperity and its aggrandizement; therefore be it

Resolved, That the state executive of the state assembly of the Knights of Labor of Nebraska in executive session assembled do ender the wife and family of our deceased brother and co-laborer our sympathy pro-found in its sincerity in this a dark hour indeed for them in the depth of their affliction
