Lost and Found.

Jack Roberts, a blacksmith who works for S. J. Noble on upper Broadway, reported the theft of a suit of clothes from the Ogden livery barn yesterday morning. He said that he had just bought the suit and took it into the barn to keep it over night. Yesterday morning the suit was missing. Officer Kelly was put on the track of the thief, but was unable to find him. He had a large, well developed suspicion, however, and he told the object of the suspicion that the best thing for him to do would be to return those clothes where he found them as soon as he could. In some mysterious way the clothes found their way back to the manger where they had been left, and Robert's heart was gind.

People Who Want All Property to Be

Equitably Taxed. A goodly number of the taxpayers of the Fifth ward met at Erfling's hall last night for the purpose of discussing the question of assessment. Henry Ostnoff was elected chairman of the meeting. F'red Schnocke said that the great difficulty wite the assessment is that the men with little cottages and limited means pay the taxes, while corporations and wealthy men escape. The time is ripe for action, and if the assessors will not Assessor Frankila said that this year the large property owners will be compelled to pay their share of the tax, as he has assessed pay their share of the tax, is de has assessed according to value. Henry Osthoff said that it is a well known fact that the corporations escape. The Thompson-Houston light company that has property worth $1,000,000 is assessed on a valuation of only $13,000. This is decided by wrong, but what are we to do! The city has decided that no change can be made in the assessment after it goes into the hands of the

Mr. Osthoff thought the proper thing to do

Mr. Osthoff thought the proper thing to do would be to appoint a committee to examine the books of the assessor.

Assessor Franklin was on the floor in an instant and said: "You may appoint all the committees you chose, but no committee can examine my books. I will let any citize, see the books, but no body of men shall see them notil they are turned over to the county clerk".

Mr. Franklin thought the movement spite work upon the part of trick O'Keefe and Jim Connolly. They think they have a pig by the ear, but they will be fooled.

"Why will you object to a committee lookng at the books?" asked Mr. Schnocke.
"I understand it," responded Franklin,
"but you can't fool me. Connolly has been "but you can't fool me. Connolly has been all over town reporting that my work is not well done. He does this simply because I discharged him. My reason for this was, the man lives in the Sixth ward and there was no reason why I should hire nim to help me do my work when there are plenty of good men in this ward that I can hire. This, gentlemen, is not half that I could tell you.

but it ought to be enough to satisfy you. I will tell you, however, that you have got a fair and equitable assessment this year. I have taken into consideration the location and surroundings of the property."

"Last year," said Mr. Schnocke, "Alvin "Last year," said Mr. Schnocke, "Alvin Saunders was assessed at $1,200,"
"It is not so this year," continued Assessor Franklin. "When you see my books, you will see that Saunders is assessed at $15,000, A. J. Poppleton at $20,000 and Jim Brown at $10,- Poppleton at $20,000 and Jim Brown at $10,(500). This I am telling you, but no committee can come to my office and see my books."

"Won't you let three gentlemen look over your books?" asked Mr. Dailey.

"No, sir. You can look over the assessment on your lots, but you can't look after any other lots." continued Mr. Franklin.

"Dick O'Keeffe's ruling, that property of cornorations must be assessed in the ward in porations must be assessed in the ward in which the office is located, will result in this ward failing short $250,000?'

The meeting denounced the resolution of the commissioners in the most emphatic terms.

Mr. Schnocke moved that a committee of three be appointed to see that all real estate and personal property is listed for assessment. The motion prevailed and the chair appointed Messrs, Schnocke, Erfling and Minnahan. As soon as the committee can learn whether or not the provisions of O'Keeffe's resolution has been carried out another meeting will be held to take propent. another meeting will be held to take prompt
