

THE OMAHA BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS. OFFICE: No. 12 PEARL STREET.

Delivered by carrier in any part of the city. H. W. TILTON, MANAGER.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 43. Night Editor, No. 21.

MAJOR MENTION.

N. Y. P. Co. Council Bluffs Lumber Co., coal. Craft's chertal, 504 Sapp block.

If you want water in your yard or house go to Kelly's, 302 Merriam block.

Complete accounts of the races will be found in the sporting column.

Walt's band will give its fourth annual promenade concert and ball tomorrow evening.

The special internal revenue taxes are due and must be paid before June 30 to Deputy Revenue Collector Galtzer.

Only guild will give a lawn soiree next Friday evening at the residence of Mr. J. Q. Anderson on 12th street, to which all friends are cordially invited.

Johnson Dixon, aged seventeen, was locked up last night, charged with seducing Carrie Green, aged fifteen, and asking consent to marry Dixon some time ago, but her parents refused on account of the youth of the parties.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following parties: W. H. Swartz and Mary McCool, both of Omaha; Robert E. Lee and Johanna Green, both of this city, and Edna A. Abel of this city and Nora E. Hall of Omaha.

In superior court a motion was filed yesterday by the defendant in the case of Henry Wagner against P. W. Adams, asking that the suit be dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff. He claims that he has been wrongfully joined in the suit.

The Oddfellows of Council Bluffs will hold their annual memorial exercises next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple. An excellent programme has been prepared for the occasion and the deceased members of the order will be commemorated in a fitting manner, in accordance with the time honored custom.

The Baz was in error when it stated that a judgment was given by Judge McGee in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Yoder against Hoffman and Altmanseger. The judgment was in favor of the defendant Altmanseger, and the case was continued as to the defendant Hoffman.

It is stated that a large number of damage suits will be commenced by property owners in the western part of the city, against the city of Council Bluffs, on account of the recent overflow of the Missouri river. They will allege that the water poured in from the inlets of the Thirteenth street and Avenue B sewers, ruining gardens, entering houses, and making devastation in general.

A motion for a continuance was filed in the district court yesterday in the case of the state against P. J. MacMahon, charged with embezzlement. The motion is supported by an affidavit of G. F. Wright, stating that he has seen a receipt from Edmond Latham, the prosecuting witness, in full for all the money which he claimed to have embezzled. He states that MacMahon insists that he Wright took the receipt, but so far has been unable to find it. He states that it would be suicidal to MacMahon to go to trial without the receipt and he accordingly asked for the continuance.

A merchant's opinion. Mr. John Caruzar, a merchant at Carazgar, Fulton county, Ohio, says that St. Patrick's pills are the best medicine he has ever used. The reason is that they produce a pleasant cathartic effect and are certain and thorough in their action. Try them when you want a reliable cathartic. For sale by all druggists.

SALE! SALE! At the Boston Store, Council Bluffs, Iowa. Special June sale for two weeks began Monday, June 8th. Accompanied by one and two of the thousands of bargains offered at this great sale.

WASH. CLOSET. 150 Vigorous suits for 10c a yard, 36 in. wide. 12 1/2c Columbia suits, choice styles, 54c, or 12 yards for $1.00.

10c ladies' silk vests, 12c, or 2 for 25c. 20c ladies' silk vests, 12c, or 2 for 25c. 70c ladies' alpaca vests, 12c, or 2 for 25c.

25c ballgown hose, 10c or 3 pair for 50c. Child received another lot of our No. 275 ladies' fast black hose, worth 75c, for this sale 25c a pair. Ask to see them.

DRESS GOODS. 50c brilliantines, during sale for 31c. All the newest and most desirable shades. All our goods are guaranteed to be the best in one lot for 57 1/2c during this sale.

All our $1.00 black goods in henriettes, serges, waltz coats, satin stripes, Drapé D'Alger, in one lot for 75c during this sale.

BOSTON STORE, Council Bluffs, Ia.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. T. C. Dawson returned yesterday from a visit to St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. L. Reese left last evening for Muscatine to attend the funeral of her mother.

W. J. Davenport of the Burlington returned yesterday from a few days' visit to Des Moines.

H. S. Lewis, formerly day clerk at the Ogden, is now occupying the same position at the Hotel Grand.

W. Ashton of Jersey City, N. J., supply agent for the Wells Fargo company, is in the bluff, accompanied by his wife.

Attorney General John V. Stone returned yesterday morning from his home, where he has been attending a session of the supreme court.

E. R. Fonda of the Union Pacific returned from his western tour, accompanied by George Yrooman, the chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the Union Pacific system.

Mothers will find that Haller's Pain Paralyzer is a sure and pleasant cure for dandruff.

LAMP EXPLODED. Mrs. George Cooper, who lives at 810 Avenue C, met with a horrible accident yesterday morning. She arose about 4:30 o'clock to get some milk for the baby.

She lit a lamp and was holding the tin cup containing the milk over it when the lamp exploded. The burning oil was thrown in all directions and a large share of it alighted on Mrs. Cooper, setting her clothing on fire.

She was immediately wrapped in flames and her agonized screams soon aroused her husband, who ran to her assistance.

The neighbors were also aroused, but by the time they arrived Mrs. Cooper had succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Dr. J. C. Waterman was summoned to attend to the injured woman. He found that she had been terribly burned on almost the whole of her body.

The burning oil had struck her in the face and the clothing which was on her back and her body had been soaked. The flesh on her face, arms and chest were burned to a crisp. At first her life was despaired of, but later in the day she was reported resting easily and it is now thought that she will do well.

Geosler's Malaria Headache Wafers. Cures all headaches in 30 minutes. At all druggists.

The finest line of spring and summer goods, most expert workmen, is what you find at Hitters, the tailor, 310 Broadway.

Dr. Woodbury, dentist, 30 Pearl street, next to Grand hotel. Telephone 142. High grade work a specialty.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Marvelous Exhibition of Intelligence Given at the Deaf Mute Institute.

WONDERS ACCOMPLISHED BY THE PUPILS.

Exercises Which Delighted and Astonished a Large Audience—Some Interesting Facts About the Great School.

"Many persons remark to me that they can understand easily how one manages to educate the deaf and dumb after a start is made, but it is getting the start which puzzles them. They don't see how it is done. We propose to give you a little idea of how the start is made."

Prof. Wyckoff then proceeded to illustrate by a class of primary pupils, while the large audience gathered in the chapel of the institution for the deaf and dumb, listened attentively. They not only listened, but watched, for there was fully as much for the eyes to catch as for the ears.

The professor called his auditors attention to some facts, readily conceded when stated, but not generally thought of at all. The pupils when they come to this institution know no more of English than of Hebrew. They perhaps communicate with friends by signs familiar to those of the home circle, but they have not even the advantage of a uniformity of sign language, and no knowledge at all of any written or spoken language.

The first lesson the teacher gives the child is the knowledge of names. The boy, for instance, has some sign by which he signifies his hat, but it takes much patience and tact to get into his head the idea that "hat" as written or printed means the same as the sign he has used. Other nouns follow, then the pupil is led into the further revelation that people, too, have names. It seems strange that a ten-year-old boy could not have any idea that he had a name, yet many a lad came to this school in just that condition, wholly unconscious of even that much of the spoken or written language so glibly handled by speaking pupils.

After learning names of things and persons it became necessary to learn the names of the things and persons by the use of objects. A key is shown, then the word written on the board and the child is asked to write the word on a piece of paper.

This exhibition, illustrated by the help of a bright little fellow at the blackboard, gave the visitors a peep at the mysterious and fascinating system of developing the intellects of the unfortunate. They were not only interested, but they were also amused. The other exercises on the programme of this, their annual exhibition, were likewise interesting. The pantomimic features were very amusing, several of them being very clearly and bits of comedy being presented so clearly by action and without a word spoken as to be readily understood even by those not at all conversant with the sign language.

John Halpin, a natural comedian, pictured most comically the sad fate of a cat which had been thrown into the water by a monkey during the temporary absence of the housewife. A number of the youngest pupils joined in a merry pantomime representing a school in which the teacher was overworked. Two colored boys, Masters Jones and Jeter, made an amusing showing of a melon-stealing scene.

Waldo Rothert, son of Superintendent Rothert, and who is one of the brightest pupils in the institution, gave an amusing sketch of "spirit photography," a number of the other pupils sitting for their pictures, the result in each case being an amusing surprise for both pupils and audience.

Recitations and songs of a more serious nature were given in the sign language by other pupils with equal effect. Three little recitations, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Miss Lizzie Trotter" gave as a sign recitation, "Mrs. Lofly and I." Messrs. Fulton and Jackson very earnestly rendered the hymn "America." Mrs. Grace Galt gave as a sign song "The Star Spangled Banner."

A flag drill and a dumb-bell drill excited much interest. They were rendered with wonderful precision and with an astonishing amount of rhythmic measures of the march, played on the piano, not a note of which could be heard by the participants, who were all of various musical tastes, and in connection with the precision of well-trained soldiers.

One of the most pathetic and pleasing numbers on the programme was the recitation of the Lord's prayer by little Bertina Trotter. She is one of the few pupils who can speak although almost blind. Her mother, Mrs. Hamilton, who is not familiar with the articulation shown by Miss Trotter, said that she was surprised to find that the child could not only understand, but could repeat the words of the prayer, and that she was surprised to find that she was able to do so.

Another of the most interesting displays in adjoining rooms. In one there were charts and diagrams showing various papers, mathematical calculations, etc., being placed in readiness for the inspection of visitors.

In another room was the art work done by Miss Clement's pupils. Here were crayonings, art paintings, water colors, and some other work of the children. The work charmed all who visited the room.

The visitors looked like a fashionable church fair. All sorts of fancy needle work, girls' and boys' dresses, hats, and shoes, attracted the eyes of the ladies, and the prices put upon those offered for sale were so moderate that many of the visitors were attracted to the general management of the immense household and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

Physical wants and industrial training are under the care and control of Superintendent H. W. Rothert, the latter being in charge of the intellectual training of the pupils in the school proper, which is entirely distinct from the general management of the household and industrial training.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

Delegates from Various Branches Hold a Secret Session.

FORN WAYNE, Ind., June 5.—The convention of railroad employes assembled in secret session this morning. Delegates representing the Brotherhood of engineers, conductors, firemen, telegraph operators and trainmen were present.

The question of disunion between the switchmen and other organizations was discussed. Public meetings were held this afternoon and evening. Among the prominent men present are George D. Howard of Toledo, grand chief of conductors, John A. Hall of Chicago, editor of the Switchmen's Journal, and W. A. Simons of Chicago, grand treasurer of the Switchmen's Mutual Benefit association.

It is understood that the discussions grew out of the question of the Switchmen's Mutual Benefit association and the other organizations at the time of the Northwestern strike were amicably adjusted.

This afternoon there was a grand parade of the railroad men and a public meeting. The meeting was addressed by Superintendent O'Brien of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway, J. M. Robinson of this city and M. D. Shaw of the Telegraphers' association of St. Louis.

A public meeting was held this evening. Addresses were delivered by Hon. L. S. Coffin of the Iowa railway commission on the "Daily Life of the Railroad Men" and interesting statistics of accidents resulting from the method of coupling cars. It is estimated that in the United States many as 15,000 men were either killed or maimed for life by accidents occurring from the present defective methods. He made a plea for a Sabbath day rest for railway men.

Over 450,000 Howe scales have been sold and the demand increasing continually. Borwick & Seileck Co., Chicago, Ill.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER. The last trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

The trial was in 1887, before Judge Deemer, and again Jones was found guilty, but before he was sentenced to the penitentiary, his attorneys, Messrs. Scott & Scott, now of Omaha, introduced evidence to the effect that the case was especially investigated with this point in view, and the case was brought to trial on the ground that the jury was set aside by the court on technical grounds.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES MEET.

Delegates from Various Branches Hold a Secret Session.

FORN WAYNE, Ind., June 5.—The convention of railroad employes assembled in secret session this morning. Delegates representing the Brotherhood of engineers, conductors, firemen, telegraph operators and trainmen were present.

The question of disunion between the switchmen and other organizations was discussed. Public meetings were held this afternoon and evening. Among the prominent men present are George D. Howard of Toledo, grand chief of conductors, John A. Hall of Chicago, editor of the Switchmen's Journal, and W. A. Simons of Chicago, grand treasurer of the Switchmen's Mutual Benefit association.

It is understood that the discussions grew out of the question of the