LONDON, June 13.—[New York Herald Cable Special to The Bee.]—The statement in the Herald from the Garner family has attracted much attention in all parts of the country. A good deal of sympathy is expressed for the young lady, whose generosity and magnanimity led her to marry a ruined man, but whether the man himself should have permitted so great a sacrifice is another question. A young woman unacquainted with the world could not possibly judge of the far-reaching effect of the verdict rendered at the recent trial.

The storm still rages, too, around the prince of Wales and an attempt will be made next week to make his conduct a subject of discussion in parliament. Two members have given notice of the questions for Monday but they are men of no weight or consideration in the House, mere fuzzy busy-bodies who provoke nothing but ridicule whenever they open their mouths.

The prince of Wales is a man of no weight or consideration in the House, mere fuzzy busy-bodies who provoke nothing but ridicule whenever they open their mouths. PARIS, June 13.—[New York Herald Cable Special to The Bee.]—When M. Camille Flammarion, the famous astronomer of Juvisy, read the ideas of L. Abbe Fortin in respect to the effects of the sun spots upon the weather he seemed surprised. He was found on his knees in front of a number of thermometers, the bulbs of which were covered over with various colors, to judge the effects of heat on colors. He held in his hand a book which was full of calculations he had made for days past. He was asked what he thought of Fortin's theories. He said: "He speaks according to the ideas of Suzei, who wrote over two hundred years ago upon the magnetic effect of the sun's rays."

PARIS, June 13.—[New York Herald Cable Special to The Bee.]—The weather continues rainy and windy. The thermometer registered 54 degrees. We have had no real spring sunshine yet and women still cling to their serges, waterproofs, umbrellas and

Aside from the little burst of indignation against England for her supposed treaty with King Humbert, the Italian coast is in case of war, which, if true, would make the "perfidious Albion" a part and parcel of the triple, or rather quadruple alliance, the great feature of the Parisian newspapers has been the great London baccarat trial. All the fashionable papers have devoted columns after columns to the intricacies of the coup d'etat and the possibility of a coup d'etat, but the general conclusion they almost all arrive at is a violent condemnation of the prince of Wales.

For several days there has been quite an uproar of excitement about the coming presentation of M. de Lesseps, and this is now the sensation of the hour. When the Suez canal was completed M. de Lesseps was called "Le Grand Français" and since the shipwreck of the Panama his name is covered with maledictions. M. de Lesseps was apprised of the intended process by a newspaper reporter who went to interview him. The reporter was shown into a room where Monsieur and Mme. de Lesseps were seated sipping their coffee.

"The process has been decided upon and M. Prinot has been designated to take charge of it," observed the reporter. "Mme. de Lesseps turned pale and exclaimed, 'How could you have been so thoughtless as to have in this cruel point manner shocked my husband, who is ill and very weak, with such terrible coffee.'"

M. de Lesseps who looked very much broken down said: "C'est invraisemblable! Je ne saurais dire ce que je devrais dire à votre premier informé à cet égard. On n'a rien à me reprocher les comptes sont la pour prouver la correction de ma conduite on doit s'empêcher de dire que je suis pauvre." "Mme. de Lesseps then arose and with a clear but tremulous voice said: "Les Bruits qu'on fait courir sont indignes. Je suis impossible qu'il n'y ait pas de mal. Je suis bien que tous ceux qui ont perdu de l'argent dans le Panama nous accusent de avoir fait fortune et que beaucoup de personnes plaignent contre M. de Lesseps. On y a accorde une croix comme un de val nous être enrichies avec le Panama. Sachez monsieur que ma fortune et celle de mes enfants sont engages en grande partie dans cette affaire malheureuse et que mon notaire pourrait montrer tous les titres nous avons payés de notre argent comme les autres et qui sont compromises comme ceux de tout le monde."

Paris is teeming with Americans. Colonel Loudon Snowden has been among us looking wonderfully well. He is about to rejoin his post as United States minister at Belgrade. Speaker Reed has been one of most interesting spectators in the chamber of deputies where he watches the debate from the presidential box. The sitting was a dull one, so he had no opportunity of judging the French method of quelling irate legislators.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago are going on a visit to Mr. Grant, American minister at Vienna. Mr. and Mrs. George Rossevelt are at Hamburg. Among the familiar faces on the boulevards during the past few days were Mr. Edward Meigs Smith, Rear Admiral Upholder, Frank Mason, consul general at Frankfurt, A. J. Drexel, from Curisbad.

Mrs. Brodhead, Miss Minnie Tracey, the American prima donna, and her mother are on tour forthome. Trustee Beale, United States minister to Persia, left for Athens to visit his sister, Mme. Bachemsteff, there, before proceeding to his post.

Mrs. Senator Cameron, Miss Cameron and Miss Haines have left for London. Mrs. Levi P. Morton and Miss Morton leave Paris this week for Schwabach. Mrs. William Reid with her father, Mr. D. O. Mills, will sail from Liverpool in July. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander, use Crocker, of San Francisco, are here. Also Mrs. David Graybar of New Orleans. The Rev. John Cornell and Mrs. Cornell of Nice sail for America at the end of this month.

BEHARAE, June 13.—[New York Herald Cable Special to The Bee.]—"Can you, who have been studying the war question for the Herald in Russia," said a Bulgarian statesman as he lighted a fresh cigarette, "can you tell me why Russians are angry with Bulgaria?" "I only know what responsible Russians say," he replied.

"What do they say?" "That Bulgarians are ingrates. Russia poured her best blood and spent vast treasures to free Christian Bulgaria from Mohammedan Turk, but Bulgaria knew what Russia's ambitions and plans were for the future, and knowing them accepted these sacrifices. Now she stands in Russia's way and acts against her interests with her enemies."

"I know that is how they talk," he said with emotion. "Russian statesmen have come to me saying that Russia created Bulgaria and that we must submit to her or be crushed out of existence. Knowing this we watch anxiously the signs of war, but we are not afraid. There will be no fighting this year. Russia will no longer be content with the possession of Constantinople. It is a secondary question. There is not a turn nor a twist of this intrigue that I have not either figured in myself or watched in detail. When Russia gets Dardanelles she will sweep all the Balkan nations into her empire and then begin the conquest of Europe. Make no mistake about Bulgaria's position. Russia and Montenegro are working for Bulgaria. Bulgaria for Bulgaria, is our idea. It grows every day. Premier Stambouloff is stronger than ever. If he should be killed there are a dozen other Stambouloffs ready to take his place. We are all grateful to Russia. We acknowledge that the Russians freed us and our prosperity today is an honor to the czar, but we want to be left alone. When the Russians came to free us they were astonished to find that our peasants were all petty proprietors and enormously superior in intelligent education and resources to the slavish, stupid, and ignorant Bulgarians.
