ECHOES FROM THE ANTE ROOM,

Legislation Enacted By the Supreme Lodge

Covert Celebrates Its Anniversary-Supreme Chancellor Shaw's Circular-Consolidation in the Arcanum-Notes.

The supreme lodge Ancient Order of United Workmen closed its nineteenth stated meeting at Detroit, Mich., last Mouday, having been in session since the 16th inst.

The delegates and officers of the supreme lodge were entertained in lavish style by the citizens and officials of Detroit.

Very little business of an important nature was transacted, the greater part of the session being taken up in the discussion of ques tions which come up regularly every year. An effort on the part of the Illinois delegates, to have created a $1,000 beneficiary,

January 18, the date of the death of John . Upchurch, the founder of the order, was set apart as a memorial day. Due proclama-mation of this fact will be made annually by the supreme master workman requesting that subordinate lodges observe this day in an appropriate manner in memory of their deceased brethren.

A report of the committee on good of the order was adopted to the effect that it would be beneficial to the order for each grand jurisdiction to bring about a system of exchanges of rejected risks between the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the other fraternal beneficial societies which conduct their business through the medium coased brethren. of subordinate lodges within each jurisdic

The attempt to have the supreme lodge change from annual to biennial sessions was unsuccessful.

The supreme lodge constitution was smended to provide that "no person shall be admitted to membership in the order who is engaged in the sale, by retail, of intoxicating liquors as a baverage."

The recommendation of the supreme master workman that the order should have a uniform and complete system of emblematic designs worthy of its prominence and rank as the largest society of its kind in the world, met with favor, and a series of emblems were adopted for the supreme, grand and bubordinate lodges. The armortal bearings of the supreme lodge are as follows: A shield argent; on a bend sable the capital letters A. O. U. W. in gold; on the sinister to a new proper rayed against suprement. letters A. O. U. The armorial bearings of the grand and subordinate lodges are distinguished by a border of a different are distinguished by a border of a different color and also by a design appropriate to each state instead of the eye and book on the sin-

A flag was also adopted for the order to be of the same proportions as the flag of the United States; it shall have a white field, upon which shall rest the emblems of the anchor and shield, above which shall be the letters "A. O. U. W." and below said emblems may be inscribed the name of the lodge or jurisdiction. For subordinate lodges the colors of the emblems and letters shall be

States jurisdiction in Council Bluffs cele-brated St. John's day by holding a lodge meeting in the afternoon and a social meet-ing in the evening at which the knights and ladies were present.

The next convocation of the general grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States will convene at Minneapolis, Minn., July 22, and the general grand council of Royal and Select Masters will hold a session at the same place beginning July 21. These meetings will be very largely attended by members of the royal craft from all parts of the United States.

The supreme council and sovereign grand consistory of the Scottish rite of the south-fra jurisdiction met at Washington on Wodnesday. At the morning session the thirty-third degree was conferred in full form on Francis L. Carpenter, commander-in-chief of Wilmington consistory No. 13 of Wilmington, Det., and Albert C. Smith, commander-in-chief of St. Andrew's consistory No. 43, Bristol, Tenn. The vacancies occuroing were filled by the election of the following: Brother George Davis of West The supreme council and sovereign grand following: Brother George Davis of West Virginia, heutenant grand commander; Brother Edward H. Covert lodge celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary last Monday night by holding a anniversary last Monday night by holding a social session and a banquet at which members of the lodge, their wives and daughters were present. Charles Southard, master of the lodge, called the assemblage to order, after which the master-elect, J. S. Gibson, welcomed the ladies in a few words. C. K. Coutant gave a brief history of the lodge and C. Hartmann and E. K. Long entertained those present with some interesting reminthose present with some interesting remin Iscences of their membership in the lodge, after which Past Grand Master French after which Past Grand Master French of Kearney related many interesting anecdotes in connection with the history of the order, which he interspersed freely with poetry. Grand Master Slaughter then responded to the toast, "What is the Grand Lodge" in a nappy strain, referring to the fact that all the noted men in the state were Masons. In the course of his address the grand master spoke upon the great subject of charity, during which he remarked that the grand lodge of Masons had done more to relieve the suffering in the western part of the late than all the churches in the state.

The Illinois brigade, Uniform, Rank will hold its annual encampment August 19 20 and 21, and it is the intention of the brigadier and 21, and it is the intention of the brigadier genera, to conduct the encampment on strictly military principles, guard mounting, dress parade, division, battalien, regimental and brigade drills included. It was decided to effer no prizes. The legislature passed an act at its last session allowing the Illinois brigade Knights of Pythias to have the use of the state's camp and garrison equipage for the purpose of holding an encampment after the National guard had been in camp. Tents, biankets, stoves, cocking utensils are all included.

Major General James R. Carnahan has pre pared and published his annual report con-cersing the condition of the Uniform rank. the condition of the Uniform rang.
It contains a very flattering exhibit of the growth and prosperity of the order in nearly every part of the country. The total receipts for the year have been $10,608. The report shows an increase of $6,020 has been made in the membership for the year, or 4,000 since the session of the supreme lodge. There are now 34,000 in the Pythian army.

The following is an extract from a circular upon the endowment rank issued by the su-preme chancellor and ordered to be read in every lodge of the order: LATE NEWS FROM ARMY POSTS

"Since its organization fourteen years ago the endowment rank has paid to beneficiaries of deceased members nearly $1,000,000, and during the past twelve months has added to its membership over 4,000 members, representing $0,000,000 of new endowment. The retirement of Colonel Joshua Fletcher while under sentence of court-martial, modified by the president, has been the topic of conversation this week. It is generally looked upon as settling a disgraceful affair and relieving the Second regiment of a stigma which was cast upon it by an officer of years and experience. The remitting of the benalty, however, has not been favorably commented upon, although the penalty was more of a picnic than a punishment. There was not a member in the regiment who would was not a member in the regiment who would not, barring the disgrace attaching, gladly welcomed such a sentence.

The national board of examiners recently oncluded a long visit to the soldiers home. One of the last acts was to direct that every member of the home be subjected to a thor-ough physical examination, and also financial standing, a report on the result to be forwarded to the board at Washington, not later than next September. This was done with a view to compelling those whose pensions enable them to so do to take care of themselves; also those who are physically able to make a livelihood, in order that their places may be filled by those not having means, or being physically unable to support themselves, Rumors are again current that quite a number of changes will take place here this sum-mer among the troops.
