ANOTHER RAILROAD A PRIME ESSENTIAL

Views of Shippers on the Situation-South Omaha Packers Declare They Must Have More Cattle or Move.

The editorials in THE BEE of a week age and also in yesterday's issue, upon the establishment of closer trade relations be tween this city and Montana, and advocating the construction of more direct railroad communication between these points, have excited a great deal of comment among business men and public spirited citizens.

It is stated upon good authority that the Burlington road, which now has a line extended in the direction of this great mining and stock country as far as the Belle Fourche and stock country as far as the Belle Fourche river in Wyoming, before the close of this year will be finished and in operation to a point less than ninety mules southeast of Sheridan, the country seat of Sheridan county, Wyoming. It will then have only about two hundred miles of new line to con-struct in a northwesterly direction through a step and real waters. rich and well watered country, to reach the Northern Pacific road, which runs into Helena. With this connection made Omaha dealers and manufacturers, and Nebraska producers will at once be brought into direct commercial communication with Helena and more important cities and mining centers of Montana.

A well known grain man who was averse to allowing his name to be used, stated yes terday that the possibilities of this scheme of trade relations were simply immense. "It is not generally known," said he, "that Montana is in a fair way to be one of the greatest wheat producing states in the union. Her soil is very rich, as is plainly shown by several experiments which have been made with wheat, and she has plenty of water. They can easily raise wheat up there which will run from forty to sixty bushess per acre. They cannot raise corn as the climate is not suited to it, but the reputation of Nebraska as the greatest corn growing state in the union is already estab-lished, and the people of Montana want some of our corn.

"Another thing," he continued, "It has practically demonstrated that it is a better business investment to bring cattle into Nebraska off the ranges and feed them our corn before shipping, than to ship the same corn east. It also uses up our surplus corn. In order to do this satisfactorily, however, we must have more direct railroad commun cation and it is highly important that the business men of this section should meet those of Montana and establish closer relations in order that both points may put forth all their efforts to attain the desired

Secretary Nash of the Omaha & Grant smelting and refining company, stated yes terday that he had just returned from Mon tana and was firmly convinced that Omaha should allow no chance to escape whereby she might get a firm hold on the country adjacent to Helena. Recent developments prove conclusively that there are large deposits of copper in the Big Horn country in northern Wyoming and southern Montana, and there are strong pos-sibilities of gold and silver.

"We get large quantities of ore from Helena and that vicinity," said Mr. Nash, "but we labor under a great disadvantage in having to pay the same freight as the Chi cago people do, and then we have to ship our product to Chicago. A direct line from the mining country into Omaha would this rate directly, and put us on a better footing. That is a great country up there and Omaha ought to have all the trade from that section."

from that section."

Euclid Martin, president of the board of trade, stated that Montana and Wyoming were naturally tributary to Omaha, but under existing conditions the greater part of the trade of the country goes to St. Paul by reason of the more direct railroad connections He thought something should be done to bring this trade to Omaha and was in favor of ammediate action on the part of the board of trade and other organized bodies looking towards that end. It would be a very good plan, Mr. Martin suggested, for a number of the surrounding country and cultivate the business acquaintance of the people. The numerous excursions of this nature taken by the board of trade, he said, had been produc-tive of much good. Nearly every man in the party had picked up a customer here and there and these had brought more and thus increased the trade of the city. Moreover, these trips had a tendency to broaden the ideas of the business men or Omaha and resulted, indirectly, in good to the city.

Mayor Cushing agreed most emphatically with the ideas suggested by The Bre and said Omaha should, by all means, use every effort to obtain and hold the trade o obtain and hold the trade important section. It was a matter for immediate action on the part of the commercial organizations of the city and they should take the matter in hand at once. He was heartily in accord, he said, with an measure tending to increase the commercia standing of Omaha.

General Manager Holdrege of the B. and M. was asked his views on the subject under consideration and unhesitatingly declared that the importance of the county sought to be made tributary to Omaha was not to be questioned, but the only way to encourage the building of railroads connecting Omaha with the territory around Helena was to give the railroad world some assurance, by both words and acts, that rail road property was worth something in this part of the country. The continual agitation of the cry for lower rates, when everybody knew rates were already too low, only re-sulted in depreciating the value of railroad stock, and no one in this country or in Europe could be induced to invest a dollar in railroads. Until something was done to re-Europe count be induced to invest a dollar in railroads. Until something was done to re-store the confidence of capitalists in railroad securities west of the Mississippi, he said it would be idle to talk of building any more roads in this territory,

"I have given the subject very little atten-tion," said Manager Edward A. Cudahy of the Cudahy packing company, as his attention was called to the editorial in THE BES in regard to trade and shipping facilities to and from Montana. "There is plenty of trade with the section. Montana has plenty of cattle, and good cattle, too. and we need the cattle. At present what cattle think that we do not get many cattle from that section, as I suppose the railroad lines leading from the Montana pasturages, have direct lines to Chicago, and of course would give preference to shipments of course would give preference to shipments to Chicago. We could use all the cattle that Would be shipped from that state to this market. If the grazing sections of the state were tapped by railroad lines with direct or good connections here, with good fair rates, there is no reason why we should not get the bulk of the stock shipments. I do not know how much it would benefit Omahs by direct routes as Montana now procures most of its products from Missour points. But we do need and badly the good cattle that Montana markets and anything that will give us their cattle will greatly benefit this section."

WELCOMED THE GUARDS. Omaha's Soldier Boys Arrive Home from the Hoosier State.

"Omaha captures the encampment for This was the announcement displayed in attractive colors on a large banner that graced the sides of the special car in which the Omaha guards returned from the encampment at Indianapolis. Two smaller though otherwise similar banners were borne by the boys as they marched from the depot to the armory, and the re-ception accorded them could not but convince them that Omaha was better satisfied with the result of their work than if they captured the big urill prize that they tried so hard to win.

The guards came in yesterday morning at 105 over the Burlington and were met at the epot by the veteran firemen and an escort from the paid fire department. There were six of the fire laddles under Captain Graves, dendent in bright uniforms, shining but-one and white gloves.

The veterans numbered a score and were headed by their president, Hairy Taggert. They were attired in their natty brown uni-forms and had turned out to show their good feelings towards the guards and reciprocate for similar conduct on the part of the sol-diery when the vets returned from Platts-outh once on a time. Before the train had reached a standstill the guards began piling out upon the plat-form and the long roll of the drummers was even longer drawn out than usual, for the 'Heilo, Johnnies" and "Ah, there, Charlies," had been passed around

The line was soon formed, however, and the guards marched down the platform, being saluted by the "ets as they passed. "Parade, rest," was the order given at the foot of the incline, and the boys chatted awhile with their friends and answered scores of questions until the s of questions was unloaded. and until the luggage In the meantime the vets and firemen passed up to the viaduct, and there awaited the guards, who took a position at the rear and the march continued to the armory. There was no band, because that matter had been overlooked until the last moment and then ne could not be secured for love nor money At the armory the guards were met by sev eral prominent citizens who congratulated them on securing the next encampment as well as on their gentlemanly behavior which had made so many friends and won so many good words for Omaha.

The guards had no fault whatever to find with their treatment while away, and had only praise for their entertainers at In-

They were confident that they put up a such better drill than they did a year ago at Kansas City, and attributed their defeat to the illness of several of them, being handicapped not only by the absence of some of their men, but by the sickness of some who took part in the drill at a time when they should have been in bed. However, they do not complain but trust for better luck next time. They will begin drilling at once for the encampment of next year, and hope to make a better showing on their own grounds. To Prosecute Timber Thieves. MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 8 .- Land Commis sioner Hunner, talking about the stealing of timber from the state lands, says that active steps will be taken to save to the state the timber stolen from state lands and prosecute the thieves. "Papers have been forwarded," Mr. Hunner said, "to a sheriff in the northern part of the state, directing him to seize a lot of nearly one million feet of logs which were cut on state land and then hauled with those belonging to other parties. It would have been much better for the state if the timber had been left standing, but as it was not there is nothing left to be done but get all that can be realized from it and prosecute the thieves. This will be done as soon as the evidence is accumulated. Other suits will follow. Special agents of the state have discovered that in numerous instances state lands have been stripped. Forty-acre tracts that ought to be worth $4,000 are not worth 40 cents. Just how much has been lost to the state from this source will never be known, as the lands are mostly university

An All-Water Route To Be Arranged Between Europe and Chicago. Cook County's Poor House Scandal.

CHICAGO OFFICE OF THE BEE, 1

CHICAGO, July 8. Albert Verillion and C. Bourbon, two French mining engineers, are at the Grand Pacific, enroute to Utah, "Our mission," said Mr. Bourbon, "is to inspect mining districts in Utan, Colorado and other west ern territory with a view of making an official report that can be relied upon on the Bourse. A great many wealthy Parisians are ready to invest considerable capital in American mines, but they want to be assured that the plan will insure them success. Wildcat reports about American enterprises are so common in Paris now that one can scarcely bslieve anything about America."

SIX BIG BREWERIES. Chicago capitalists, it is said, are about to start some local enterprises that will cause a tremendous shaking up in brewery circles. They propose to build six big breweries here, two to be located on the South Side, two on the West Side and two on the North Side. There capacity is to be 250,000 barrels each per annum. The latest improvements are to be introduced, including the Tackeman process, and beer is to be sold at $3.50 per barrel, it is stated. As the present price is $6 old companies will have some lively competition.

The originators of the new syndicate mean business and claim that they can pay dividends of 15 per cent yearly. The names of the syndicates are for the present withheld.

AN ALL WATER ROUTE. "Atlantic & Great Lakes trading company (limited)," is the title of a big English syndicate which proposes to establish an ail water route between Chicago and Europe. It will build and operate its own vessels for which purpose a capital of $5,000,000 has been subscribed. Already contracts have been made with large importers of Chicago, Mil-waukee and Detroit, it is said, by which contract many merchants have agreed to ship and to instruct their foreign agents to ship all goods via this line.

Stribbings, she explains, was the trusted financier of the family, but she asserts he has abused the confidence reposed in him and that his pretended efforts to shield her fortune from being dissipated in a scheme for his own benefit. Mrs. Durham is the daughter of Peter Johnson, a well-known resident of Chicago, but since her Salvation Army experience began, she has married and now lives in California.

THE IOWA RATE CASE. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern ill appeal to the United States courts from he decision rendered several days ago by he lown supreme court which sustains the legality of the Iowa joint rates. It will be remembered that the Iowa legislature and raitroad commissioners established a distance freight tariff and later joint rates on two or more roads by making the through rates equal to 80 per cent of the locals. The Bur-lington, Cedar Rapids & Northern secured an injunction, holding that the state authorities having once established "reasonable" rates, had no right to scale the tariffs 20 per cent lower. The Iowa supreme court has now dissolved this injunction. Pending appeal to the United States courts the Iowa roads have not decided whether or not they will put into effect the objectionable joint rates.

The men quarreled at supp and Durrell finally struck the cook in the face. Mad with rage, Eastry ran into the kitchen, seized a revolver, and without a word pointed it at Durrell and fired. Tho bullet struck Durrell in the right shoulder. "For God's Sake, don't shoot," exclaimed the wounded man. "Don't shoot, Charley; I didn't mean nothing."

"I'll teach you to hit de nex' man," replied the infuriated cook as he pulled the rigger again and sent a bullet into his vic-

Durrell screamed with pain and fear, and as he turned to run the blood flowed from his mouth and nose. He staggered as he turned, and even as he was falling Eastry shot again and the third bullet struck the stable boy behind the right shoulder blade. He plunged forward on his face and did not speak again. Eastry was locked up, NEBEKER MAY RESIGN.

There is a strong probability that United States Treasurer E. H. Nebeker will resign.

court and a brother-in-law of Mr. Nebeker.
Last Thursday C. B. Lovitt, father-in-law of Mr. Nebeker, died at Covington. He left an immense estate, in which his son-in-law, Nebeker, is largely interested. Moreover, it requires some man conversant with the af-fairs of the estate to manage it properly, and to other person has the requisite knowledge. Hon. John W. Bookwalter, the millionaire, at one time a candidate for governor of Ohio on the democratic ticket, says that the only hope of the democrats in 1892 is to nominate William R. Morrison of Illinois for president, He has just returned to his home in Spring-field, O., from an extended trip in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and other western states, and finds a decided sentiment for Morrison in these states and the democracy can get it in part by nominating Morrison, with a New York man for vice president. He thinks such ticket would sweep several republican granger states.

A POOR HOUSE SCANDAL. A scandalous state of affairs is said to exist in the poor house, and the county commis-sioners have begun an investigation. What the Health Scekers at the Black Hills Resort are Doing. HOT SPRINGS, July 8 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The past week at Hot Springs has been one of lively interest to the residents of this health resort, and together with the perfect summer weather we are now having. gives an air of prosperity to everything.

The entrance of the B. & M. road here last week is of crowning importance to Hot Springs, as by this road it is connected with the great Burlington trunk line giving us direct connection with points in southern and western Nebraska as well as Wyoming and Colorado. The event was celebrated in the usual manner amid the firing of salutes, the playing of the band and the cheers of the assembled spectators.

Both the Eighore and Burlington roads ran excursions in for the Fourth, bringing crowds of visitors and it is estimated there were four or five thousand visitors here on that day. The Fourth was celebrated here in a manner never before equalled in the Black Hills and was a perfect success in every respect. At 10 o'clock in the morning a grand parade left at the intersection of Sevath and Chicago streets ending at the Chau-unqua grounds where a number of orations were delivered by a number of prominent speakers. In the afternoon an excellent ball game was played by the Hot Springs and Custer nines. Both teams displayed excellent work and the game resulted in favor of the Custers, the score being 6 to 5. Immediately following the ball game was a bear fight, which was in turn followed by a number of races in which large prizes were of-fered. In the evening the display of fire-works was something grand, as the high nills pere afford an excellent place for pyrotechnical displays. The most gorgeous of these was that of Fred T. Evans, where four men vere kept busy in setting them off.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS DISCUSSED.

Work of the Chorus Class-Relating Flood Stories-Arrangements of Donne College Students to Entertain Visitors.

CRETE, Neb., July 8 .- [Special to THE BER.] -The Chautauqua attendants were lulled to sleep last night by the patter of the rain upon the roofs of the tents. But miner difficulties never discommode a tenter, and so the work today has gone on as busily as ever, and the lectures have been as well received. The subject of the devotional exercises and bible reading this morning was "The Five Thousand Fed." Dr. Huribut noticed the following characteristies of Christ: His attractiveness, His sympathy, His thoughtfulness, His use of human instrumentalities, his abundant resources. The chorus class met as usual this morning. As Dr. Palmer remarked to the singers, no rain ever prevented a chorus from meeting. It is no easy task to take a body of singers who have never before been together and transform them in a week into an almost perfect chorus. Yet this is just what Dr

Palmer has done, as last night's concert showed to all hearers. At 10 o'clock the normal class met as usual n the Congregational building. Dr. Huribut considered the "Reign of Solomon." He dealt with the reign under the various divisions of its works, its sins, its characteristics and its dangers. The audience was large and attentive. At 11 o'clock Rev. Young delivered the orenoon lecture. His subject was "The Great Lone Land." He described the introduction of agricultural products and impleents among the Indians, and noted the influence of the missionary. From four small potatoes introduced by Mr. Young the Indi-ans of the north now raise thousands of busheis. The worst oath a Canadian Indian can indulge in is "May you see a ghost!" Mr. Young gave a very interesting account of his christianization of a band of Indians and ex-plained also the Indian alphabet. At 2 p. m. Mrs. St. John, the wife of a cousin of the great and only John P., spoke under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance union. Mrs. St. John is a very forcible speaker, and held the attention of her audience from beginning to end.

The normal class held a second meeting at 4 p. m. This was made necessary by the great amount of work to be done. At the same time the primary teachers' class met. Tonight Frank Beard gives a lecture with crayon illustrations. Tomorrow is Chautau-qua recognition day. The class this year is in unusually large and enthusiastic one and the exercises promise to be very interesting. The programme will give one something of an idea of what will occur. It is as follows: Ninth Day-Wednesday, July 8, Chautauqua Ninth Day Recognition day. MORNING.

8:00—Devotional service and bible reading. Dr. J. L. Hurlburt, "Christ the Bread of Life." 8:00—Children's class, Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, 9:00—Chorus traming, Dr. H. R. Palmer, 9:00—Young people's class, Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, nedy.

8:00 Camp fire of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle. The concert last evening was unusually fine. The programme consisted of two parts of six numbers each. A great variety of selections were rendered. The Adelphian quartette, which has just returned from Fro-mont, appeared in one selection and was forced to respond to a double encore.

The following are some of the people on the counds: Fred Knight, A. B. Stevens of Lincoln, H. A. Kennicot of Nebraska City, Rev. E. B. Dean, pastor of the First Congregational church of Elgin. Many of the teachers amused themselves in their spare hours today by relating various grades of flood stories. It is a prominent characteristic of the Chautauquan that be suits everything to the weather. The students of Doane college now on the grounds have arranged for a grand reunion and picnic to take place on the college grounds omorrow evening. NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

a number of canines have been shot. One man was bitten, but it is not known whether the dog was mad or not. Lightning struck and instantly killed Mrs. P. F. Deppe, residing in Holt county near Atkinson. She was standing in front of her home when the fatal polt struck her, burning her bonnet and bleaching her face. R. R. House, a Crete boy, was at Downs, Kan, visiting triends and attended a game of baseball while there. He was requested to act as umpire and complied. A big bully in the crowd took exception to one of his rulings and attempted to thrush him, but got the worst of it. Later on he rushed upon House unawares and felled him to the earth by a terrible blow over the head with a ball bat. Young House has just recovered sufficiently to be brought home. His assallant has been arrested and will have his trial in October and it is hoped he will get a good long term in the penitentiary for his owardly assault. W. T. Sharp, county clerk of Stanton county, was accidentally drowned in Mas-kentine cross while on his way home from the depot where he had gone to meet his wife. The creek was swellen by the rains and was ten feet higher than usual. It is probable that Mr. Sharp missed his footing while crossing a bridge and fell into the stream. His body was found about a mile and a half below the bridge. The unfortu-
