EIGHT GAMES IN A STRETCH.

Kansas City Scalps That Ornament the Omaha Lodge Poles.

JOHNNIE SOWDERS' WILDNESS WAS FATAL.

He Couldn't Put 'Em Over Without Being Hit-Last Games in Omaha-Lincoln and Mitwankee Win.

Omaba, 11: Kansas City, 8. Lincoln, 8; Denver, 6. Milwaukee, 3; Duruth, 1. Sloux City -- No game.

ESTERDAY'S eighth straight Omaha has taken from Kansas City this season, and that is all they have played; but as basebail patrons have had an elegant sufficiency of the Cowboys during the past four or five days, they will certainly overlook an abreviated report of their last appearance here. No team ever fought harder than they did to come out on top in the final struggle but it was down in the books, and again they were compelled to succumb.

They started out bravely enough and looked like sure winners, but that was while the Omahas were rolling up their sleeves and picking out their best clubs preparatory to knocking out the game a little later on, which they did after the most approved fashion as the score attests. This afternoon the Lincolns will be here, and as they have proved the Lambs' only stumbling block this season, the cranks can be prepared to shed a bucketful of brine, However, a victory or defeat just now cuts no figure so far as the Omaha club is con-cerned, for if all stories hold true it will be dispanded Sunday evening, and another ten days will see the Lambs widely separated.

Of course this is a severe blow to the local cranks, and a severer one to Omaha, but it can't be helped. Business men who should have responded long ere this and devised ways and means of keeping the great team here have remained utterly passive, and no stranger has turned up willing to jeopardize two or three thousand for the purpose of keeping the outside world apprised that there is still such a place on the maps as the city of Omaha.

The Omaha team today is the finest that ever represented a Western association city, and with the bright prospects of playing off the world's series with the winners of the National league pennant in October it would be a paying investment for any enterprising, intelligent, hustling capitalist, or any numper of such who might see proper to take hold But it now appears to be too late, so it will little more of the great national sport to turn out today, tomorrow and Sunday as these three games end the team's existence here.

OTHER WESTERN GAMES.

Lincoln Takes Occasion to Stop Going Backward for a Time.

Lincoln, Neb., July 9.- Special telegram to THE BEE.]-Lincoln is becoming distinguished for breaking away from the old fashioned nine-inning game and putting up a game that lasts until sunset. The usual rule was followed today, and a ten-inning game was played before the Farmers convinced the Mountaineers of their superiority. Lincoln led from the start, making four scores in the first luning, through the aid of a wild throw shortstop. At the of the seventh inning the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the Farmers, but the Denver boys managed to tie the rcore in the ninth inning by Gilliand knocking a fly away above Cline's head and letting Brennan in. When the agriculturists came in in the tenth inning Head Farmer Dave Rowe sent the ball over in the dog fennel along the banks of the rushing Antelope, and meanwhile found time to cut a swath as far as third base. Farmer Flannagan then took the flan and pounded out two bags and sent Dave home. O'Day followed the example of his alliance brothers and helped Flannagan over the nome plate. The Mountaineers could not work a similar abination in the last half of the tenth and retired defeated. Score:

and Hastings gracefully yielded the first game of the series to our neighbor city-

perhaps to encourage the visitors, and at the same time to prove beyond contradiction that our boys are not hoggish. Luck was with Fremont from start to finish. The excite-ment was intense. No such demonstration has been witnessed in this city since the days has been witnessed in this city since the days of old Western league games. The audience was a wild and woolly one, and it required the united efforts of three policemen to keep the frantic crowd from surging in on the diamond. Excusable errors of the home team at critical times lost the game. For the home team Robrer was invincible. The hig slurgers touched him up lightly. The remont boys put up a magnificent game, LINCOLN, Neb., July 9 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: William Walter, who was mentioned in yesterday's BEE as supposed to have been on the train which was wrecked at Ravenna, O., had been to Neola, Ia., on business for his firm, the Parker commission company of New York. He left Council Bluffs on the 2nd, and was therefore on the eastbound passenger and must have passed through Ravenna at least one hour before the wreck. His not telegraphing promptly to his friends signifies nothing, as he had busi-ness at the sait mines at Warsaw, N. Y., which has undoubtedly detained him. I think he is at Trenton, N. J.

The Bee always takes advantage of the first trains which leave the city in the morning. Where the trains do not leave as early as could be desired. The Bee hires a special.

For instance, the B. & M. fiver from Chi cago to Denver reaches the southwestern part of the state earlier than any other train. But it does not pass through Omaha. I' does not come within 21 miles of this city. The BEE therefore meets that very important train at Plattsmouth. It does so with a special train. This special leaves Omaha at 3 o'clock in the morning. It is loaded with Bas's. There are thou sands of them. The train thunders down to Plattsmouth, at which place the papers are transferred to the B. & M. Flyer. Two minutes later the Flyer is ratiling along at a speed of forty-five miles per hour. London, July 9 .- The emperor of Germany arose early this morning. After taking a canter in Rotten Row he returned to Buckingham palace where, in company with the empress, he received deputations from the various German social and benevolent societies of London and the diplomatic corps. In a speech the emperor said that he had been much impressed with the accounts he had received of the desolation caused by the slave dealers, "given me," he remarked, "by week will be a report from the board of com-missioners on joint agencies. When this question came up at the last meeting it was Major Von Wissmann, who told me that there were districts in South Africa through which he had passed in which he found that prosperous, densely populated villages had entirely disappeared when he returned two hours later, the slave hunter not having left a man alive there. I am glad that it fell to the united fleets of Germany and England, for New York and Chairman Walker will follow him in a day or so. While in the city Mr. Midgley will attend a conference that acting in unison, to be successful in checking the export of slaves."

During the afternoon the emperor made his second appearance on Rotten Row. This time he was dressed in the uniform of a Prussian general. The emperor was mounted upon one of his own horses (brought from Germany with a number of others) and was attended by an aide-de-camp. There were crowds of fashionable people present on the row about that time and from them the em peror received general salutation.

Colonel McClure repeats that in obedience to a telegraphic request from Mr. Lincoln he visited the president at the white house the day before the Baltimore convention of 1884. At that interview Mr. Lincoln carnestly explained why the nomination of a well known southern man like Andrew Johnson would not only nationalize the republican party and the government but would greatly lessen the grave peril of the recognition of the confederacy by England and France. He believed that the election to the vice presidency of a repreelection to the vice presidency of a repre-sentative statesman from an insurgent state that had been restored to the union would disarm the enemies of the republic abroad and remove the load of sectionalism from the government that seemed to greatly hinder

In conclusion Col McClure says: "No in timation, no trace of prejudice against Mr. Hamlin was exhibited, and I well know that no such consideration could have influenced Mr. Lincoln in such an emergency, find he believed Mr. Hamiin to be the man who could best promote the great work whose direction fell solely upon himself he would have favored Hamiin's renomination regardess of his personal wishes, but he believed that a great public achievement would be attained by the election of Johnson, and I re-turned to Baltimore to work for Johnson although against all my personal predifiction in the matter."

General Vifquain's Theory.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 8 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: The fact that the water in the Colorado desert is still on the rise while the water in the Colorado river is falling, leaves one to conclude that the former action is independent of the latter; and that the waters accumulating in the desert must be an influx from the Gulf of California, due to some subteranean volcanic action, which accounts, perhaps, for the unusual intense heat premiling in that region just now.

It is to be presumed in case the water keers rising in the desert that one or the other of the great newspapers of the country will soon reconnoiter the situation over there, if the government does not. It surely is a phenomenon worthy of close study, inasmnch as the inland sea which is now forming there will reclaim a vast expanse of territory that but a few days ago and for centuries was a bar ren desert, arid as the African Sahara.

If the physical change that is taking place over there is due to the waters of the Guif of California, it will as you well say in an editorial reference on the subject, correct an error made by the American plenipotentiaries of the Guadaloop-Hidalgo treaty of 1848; in as much as the head of the gulf will find itself in the United States instead of in Mexico. We will thus have a Pacific Chesapeake as well as an Atlantic one, but on a much larger cale; and who knows but what a Pacific Baltimore will site there where heretofore nothing but cactus and prickly pears grew! Evidently if this were to happen, if the gulf has indeed extended in the United States, the Americans would soon have a port at the hend of navigation from which American shipping would work wonders in that part of the world and sway the destiny of the Mexican California in such a way indeed as would of necessity make that region part and por-tion of the United States soon after our dvilization invades its shores with our com-nerve; the political change would follow the onysical change. It is to be hoped indeed that you are right your surmise as regards "the correction of he mistake in the treaty of 1848." s the greatest diplomat after all. VICTOR VIFQUAIN.

FORGED RAILROAD CHECKS,

Pennsylvania Company's Paper Has Been Successfully Counterfeited.

PROBLEM THAT PUZZLES DETECTIVES.

Band of Check Passers Led by a Beautiful Girl Working Jersey City - Sample of the Product.

New York, June 9.-An organized band of check passers, with a beautiful girl to lead them, is the problem that the detectives of the Peansylvania railroad and the detective force of Jersey City are wrestling with. It is the custom of the Pennsylvania railroad to pay its employes on the New York division with checks drawn on the Hudson County National bank. For many years these promises to pay have been regarded as legal ten der in Jersey City and have been accepted without question by the saloon keepers and merchants in the vicinity of the ferry. Phousands of them were cashed every month and until this week no question about their genuineness has ever been raised. The men that have been engaged in floating the bogus paper were evidently thoroughly posted on the situation and must have had the real checks of the railroad company in their pos-session for months to make the counterfeits One of the clews the detectives are working is by means of the company's check stubs Phey propose to trace out every person that has received a check from the corporation and who has to have it cashed.

Charles Cannon, an employe, told a reporter that it was the opinion of the men employed on the road that a vast scheme to defraud the tradesmen all along the line had been ren-dered abortive by the premature presentation of the worthless checks. "We ought not to be paid for a day or two yet," he said, "and as far as I can learn from a dozon detectives the worthless checks were presented last Monday. The shavers were too smart to go to any of the places where large numbers of these checks are passed every month, but visited saloons where they received compar-atively few. In every case they were accepted without hesitation and the fraud was only discovered when the bank sent the checks to the Pailadelphia office for verifica-

"From what the detectives say, they are looking for a girl, a stenographer, and a young man employed in one of the depart-ment offices. She left the service of the company when the young man she was en-gaged to and several others were discharged at least this is what the questions of the detectives indicate. Of course I know nothing about the affair, as I have not received my check yet, and have not been mixed up with the case in any way beyond being questioned by the detectives."

The bogus check in the hands of the Jersey City police reads as follows:

PENNSYLVANIA RAHMOAD COMPANY, ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT,

Accounting Devaler Mr. St. July 6, 1891. July 6, 1891. The treasurer of the Pennsylvania railroad company will pay at the Hudson County National bank, to Nelson Rogers or bearer, thirty-four dollars (84). J. N. Lust, Auditor, The paper it is printed upon is a little thicker and a little different in color from the genume checks, but it bears the same amount of engraving, and although one-fourth of an inch wider, might be easily passed upon any one not an expert. The signature is an excellent imitation. The known victums are Police Commissioner Kelley, James Fitzgerald and Michael Foloy, all saloonkeepers, who cashed checks ranging in value from $35 to $60 on Monday and deposited them in their banks. When they reached the Hudson County National bank they were at once thrown out as spurious.

A similar attempt to float worthless Penn-sylvania railroad checks was made in 1887. Detective Joseph Francis then discovered that the plates for the checks were made at one place in New York and printed in another. He advised the offlicials of the road, and all the checks of that month were signed in red ink. That completely frustrated the plans of the forgers.

BOUGHTON'S DRUG STORE, He Claims That He is Not Conducting a Saloon.

William Boughton, who owns a grug store at Twentieth and Grace streets is the subject of an investigation by the fire and police commisoners. Broughton denies that there is anything illegal connected with his permit or way of doing business. "Reed has been trying to kick up a fuss every since last fall," he said, but my permit was granted just the same. There was no misrepresentation about it, as every member knows just what my business is I don't run a saloon. I sell wines and liquors as I have a right to do for medicinal ourposes. If a neighbor came in and said his family was sick and wanted a pint of whisky I would let him have it for medicinal pur-I would let him have it for medicinal pur-poses. I own 330 feet fronting on Twentieth street in this block and I wouldn't run a sa-loon or anything else that would injure my property. This is a part of town where a man couldn't run a saloon, as the neighbors would protest too strongly against it. They don't want anything of the kind here. This is a part of town where a I am a druggist, but don't pretend to be a pharmacist. I sell patent medicines and toilet articles. Reed tailed to me about it and wanted to know what right I had to claim to be a druggist. I showed him Webster's definition of the word. There don't seem to be as much difference between that and a pharmacist as there is in the old country. Reed needn't come up here from Nebraska City to make trouble. I was down there a while ago and saw some things that wouldn't look well in print, and I wrote 'em down when I got home.

I have complied with the letter of the law, and the state board of pharmacy has no more

o do with the case than a farmer out on the prairie. I talked with the members of the prairie. I taked with the mentoers of the fire and police commission personally, and Mr. Hartman referred me to Mr. Gilbert, who, he said, was the lawer of the board. He told me to get any good legal opinion and I furnished him that of Judge Lake, and my permit was granted two years in succession."

At this juncture an ice waron drove up and the driver entered and asked for some saits. The proprietor said he didn't keep anything of that kind, but had something else just as good in the way of patent medicine. He may good in the way of patent medicine. He in-timated that a little "magnesby" in liquid form would be the proper thing, but the young man was of a different opinion and said he believed it advisable to seek a doctor, Mr. Boughton concurred in the view and the lisappointed departed.
