Gasoline Explesion.

The fire department was called out yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by an alarm of fire from Oakland avenue. A blaze had started in the residence of Chief of Police Wade Cary, 335 avenue F, and was getting in its work with a good deal of rapidity when the itemen arrived. It was soon put out, how-ever, and the damage was mainly confined to the kitchen, where it had originated. The cause of the fire was a gasoline explosion. cause of the fire was a gasoline explosion. Mrs. Cery had been filling the gasoline stove, and in so doing some of the fluid leaked out on the floor. When a few minutes later she struck a match, the gas that had been forming ignited, and in a second the whole air was ablaze. The kitchen and all its contents were almost entirely ruined, and it is thought the complete loss will amount to $200.

Stole in Broad Daylight.

The residence of H. C. Addis on Platner street was entered by thieves yesterday morning. The members of the family were all out in the back part of the house during the morning, and when they went into the front part they found that some one had taken advantage of their absence to go through all the available rooms. The articles in the various closets and dressers had been thoroughly overhauled, and several rings and other articles of jeweiry were missing. Upon investigation it was learned that one of the neighbors had seen a man enter the house during the morning by the front door, which had been left open. She was able to give a description of the offender, and upon this description a man who gave his name as F. Allen was arrested yesterday afternood by Officer Keily. None of the stolen articles were found upon him but he was identified as the man who had been seed entering the front door of the house.

Declared a Vendetta. Justice Hammer's office was filled yesterday afternoon with a crowd of chattering Italians, who afforded the spectators more amusement in a brief half hour than is usually crowded into a lifetime. There were about a dozen in the company, and they have been living in tents on the bottoms and trayeling over the city for several days past ex hibiting three mangy brown bears and a bob-dead. All of the old citizens of Omaha re member Colonel William S. Jones, a harmless old man, who was one of the early settlers of the state. For a number of years prior to his death he made his home at Eleventh and Farnam streets. Last fall he was taken sick and died November 2. For a number of weeks prior to his death Carpenter had administered to his wants. Death came suddenly and at the same time the watcher disappeared. It was known that Jones was the owner of a gold watch and considerable money. After death a search was made for this property. but it was not to be found. On account of but it was not to be found. On account of Carpenter's sudden disappearance, sus-picion rested upon him to such an extent that detectives were placed upon his trail. A few days later he returned to Omaha and was arrested by Detective Savage. Upon being searched at the central station, he yielded up the watch formerly owned by the dead man and a large sum of money. His defense now is, that Jones gave him the property prior to his teath The case against Carpenter was closed and submitted to the jury at 5 o'clock last even-ing. An hour later a verdict of "not guitty" was reterned. Carpenter was at once released from custody and given possession of the property that was taken from him at the time of his arrest.

Judge Doane disposed of a vast amount of business yesterday. Last season W. J. Paul put up a number of fine brick houses at Twenty-sixth and Harney streets. Case & Kennedy were the contractors. In the con-struction of these houses there was a large sum of money that was never paid. Mort-gages to the amount of $35,000 were executed and liens amounting to $20,000 were filed, the defendants claiming pay for labor and material. It was agreed that the cases, some thirty in number should be tried at this term, and with this understanding 150 law-yers were before Judge Donne to lay. Some of the partles to the suits were not ready, while others wanted to take judgments. As a compromise, and to make all interested morities feal critics and to make all interested parties feel satisfied, the cases were continued until the next term of court. Leo Hart has commenced suit and asks to be divorced from his wife, Ellen. The couple nave been married since 1857. The husband now charges that his wife is a drunkard and upon many occasions has threatened to take is life

William Cassidy who has been in the county all for several weeks on the charge of rescuing a prisoner was released this morning and the case dismissed from the criminal docket. Cassidy resides in South Omaha. One evening he was sitting in a saloon when an officer entered and with his club commenced to boat a small boy about the head and face. Cassidy denounced the beating and intimated that the policeman was drunk. While this was going on the lad went up stairs, jumped out of the window and escaped. To square himself the officer arrested Cassidy and sent him to jail.
