FOR CALAMITY CROAKERS,

Financial Situation in Nebraska Thoroughly and Honestly Considered.

COMMENDED TO CHEAPER MONEY CRANKS.

Accumulated Profits of the State's Citizens to Render Them Entirely Independent-An Important Pecuniary Phase.

> CRICAGO OFFICE OF THE BEE, CHICAGO, July 14.

Commenting on THE BEE's reports from various counties of Nebraska as to the financial condition, the Journal this evening says: The deposits in the state and national banks are $50,507,000. This money is owned by those who went to Nebraska as poor men twenty years ago to engage in trade or in the mechanical industries, or in agriculture. Not a cent belongs to the "protected classes" as a calamity writer would say. The entire sum has been accumulated by honest profits in commerce and by honest labor in the shops and on the farms. It is nearly enough to pay the entire mortgage indebtedness of all the people of the state. It averages 447 per head of the population while the ultra flat money cranks demand that new currency shall be issued to make the entire sum average $50 per head. The people of Nebraska have almost reached this point by their profits and savings. It is evident that the alliance workers, the silver inflation-its, the flat money cranks, the professional labor agitators and others of their kind have little or nothing to support their vain an false theories in the condition of the people of Kanasa and Nebraska where they have beemost active in their proselyting labors.

The Tribune this morning says editorially The Tribune this morning says editorially:
The statistics reported yesterday from Nebraska present a phase of the pecuniary situation that may be commended to the consideration of those who are shouting with Peffer for cheaper money and plenty of it. The deposits of the state and national banks aggreeate $50,0000, or $47 per capita of the population of the state. The total is nearly enough to liquidate all the farm mortgages in Nebraska. Meanwhile the state is growing rapidly, having doubled its production in the last few years, and this mostly by virtue of borrowing money from capitalists in other states, the profit on the employment of which was far greater than the interest paid for its use. Now suppose the demands of the sliver mankes should be conceded, and the finances of the country go down to a the finances of the country go down to a basis of 75 cents on the dollar, as would be the inevitable consequence. The money hor-rowed on farm mortgages would be paid off in three-quarter dollars and the debtors gain 25 three-quarter dollars and the declars gain 25 per cent by the change.

But the depositors in the state and national banks of Nebraska would lose just about as much as the farmers gained by the depreciation of 25 per cent in the purchasing power of the dollar. Some people in the eastern states would be losers by the change, but practically the situation would balance itself so far as Nebraska was concerned one class of its would be losers by the change, but practically the situation would balance itself so far as Nebraska was concerned, one class of its citizens losing what was rained by arother. As a whole the citizens of that state would be no better off than before. Supposing that no general loss was entailed by the resulting commercial panic there would be no benefit to nobody in the state that was not counterbalanced by an equal loss to somebody clse.

By voting for free silver coinave the people would simply take money out of the pockets of one set of its citizens in the hope of enriching another set, who are no more entitled to favor by the law or protection from the consequences of going into debt. Yet the cry of the alliance people is that they want no class legislation, and oppose all efforts to legislate in favor of one class as against any other. If the malcontents in Nebraska should vote for that still greater monstrosity, the subtreasury feature of the Ocaia platform, and the vote should prevail, they would administer to themselves a still worse blow. There would be no more good money to lend for farm improvement or any other purpose, and the 13,000,000 acres of yet unoccupied land in Nebraska might go begging in the absence of any but flat money to pay for its cultivation and buy the produce after it had been raised. The people of that and other states would pass through a few months' season of financial fever, the hectic flush of which might be mistaken by some for the glow of health, and then would come the collapse. might be mistaken by some for the glo-health, and then would come the collapse.

JUDGE BLODGETT'S RETIREMENT. There has been a good deal of talk about the retirement of Judge Blodgett, who will this month complete his seventieth year and also the twentieth year of his service

His twenty years' service to the government will entitle him to full pay $5,000 per year—during the remainder of his life, even though he leave the bench. It is the belief he has no intention of retiring, uni tirement should be made necessary by failing JIM HALL'S CONDITION.

Mr. Charles F. Davies, "the parson," arrived in town this morning from Beloit, Wis., where he said he left Jim Hall this morning

"Anoring like the mischief."

"Hail is in the pink of condition," said the amiable parson. "He looks well and cats heartily—that is, as heartily as a man can eat under the circumstances. He gives me every assurance of putting up a good fight. No, I won't say we'll win, but we'll make a good man fight hard for his life, I teli you." CANNON OUT FOR GOVERNOR.

It is said on good authority that Joseph non is hard at work for the nomination for governor of Illinois. He is said to be writing letters all over the state and sending word to his friends that they are expected to look after the delegations in their respective counties. Comptroller Matthews, a represenative of the Cannon wing of the p who wants the nomination for himself, little worried by these reports, but thinks in the end he will be able to beat out the states man from Danville,

A MODEL LODGING HOUSE. When the new seven-story building at School and Clinton streets, half a block south of Madison street, is completed, it will be opened up as a lodging house under the name of the Friendship hotel. The hotel, which is intended for the accommodation of unmarried men from the accommodation of unmarried men from the ranks of the mechanics and laboring classes, will have 540 rooms fitted up on the six upper floors of the building. It is the intention of the men behind the pro-ject to make the Friendship the model lodging house of the world.

THE GLUCOSE SYNDICATE.

It is understood that the plant of the Chi cage sugar refinery will be the first of the glucose properties to be transferred to the English syndicate which has bought out the old trust. The Chicago plant is valued at about $1,000,000, counting the real estate to which it has title. It is the purpose of the British investors to at once take possession of as many of the glucose plants as possible. They have purchased a new and improved process, by means of which, it is claimed, a 15 per cent increased yield may be had from each bushel of corn used. One or two of the plants will be changed somewhat and de voted to the manufacture of starch. one of the plants, said to be that at East St. Louis, will be converted into a distillery. It is said by those connected with the syndicate that they will take up the fight against the whisky trust and carry on the war in earnest. War is also predicted with the starch trust. Scarcely a year ago there was organized in New York city the National starch company which was the amalgamation of nearly all the starch companies of the country. This com-pany has paid two large dividends already and it is not likely that it will watch any en croachment on its trade with complaicency.

THIEVES CLEVERLY CAPTURED. An interesting story was revealed by the confession of two clever hotel thieves ar-rested here and turned over to New York officers last evening. Two years ago two excursion steamers collided in New York harbor. Several people were hurled into the water, among them Engene F. Robinson, who would have drowned had not one of the passengers jumped into the water and saved the sinking man at the risk of his own life. It afterwards became known that the rescuer was Joseph Givendelmyer, owner of extenwas Joseph Givendelmyer, owner of exten-sive mines in Nevada, and prominent in New York financial circles. Mr. Robinson hunted him up and presented him with a gold watch valued at $350 and a solid gold chain as a token of his gratitude for an act that saved his life. Last January, while divendelmyer was stopping at a hotel in New York, his watch and chain and considerable money were stolen. The roblec have been working were stolen. The police have been working on the case ever since, and vesterday Chicago officers arrested Daniel Albriso and Mathew Fishpin, who were in the hotel at the time of the theft, as they were disposing of the watch at a pawn shop. KNOCKED OUT THE VETO. Mayor Washburne last night vetoed the ordinance giving the "Economic gas company" a franchise to tear up and lay pipes in the streets of the city, which has been the phject of much newspaper comment. The council promptly passed the ordinance over the veto-54 to 10.

ODDS AND ENDS. Architects are now making designs for two more big buildings for the world's fair. These structures have never been included in the estimates for the thirteen immense buildings that are soon to be under way at Jackson park. One of the new buildings is to be a snoe and leather palace and the other a music hall.
Representatives of the largest and most in fluential newspapers in Europe will visit Chicago before the opening of the exposition and after inspecting the buildings will go back and write up the big show. For the expenses of these mon $25,000 will be raised.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Anderson, a your Chicago bride and groom, are making a wed-ding trip to New York on bicycles. The National Bank of the Republic has just been organized here with a capital of $1,000,000. Eighty-four thousand watermelons were re-

HEAVY FAILURE.

Howell Lumber Company Lays Down Its Load of Debt. The mammoth lumber interests repre sented in Omaha by the Howell lumber company is in financial distress. Yesterday afternoon the company executed a bill of sale to C. L. Chaffee, the lumberman, of the entire stock, yards, book accounts and effects of the local house the consideration being $112,655.

This was immediately followed by an at achment in favor of the First National bank of Chicago to secure large claums of an amount not made public. Nothing definite has been learned locally of the extent of the trouble or the amount of he company's assets or liabilities. Mr. lewett, manager of the local house, was unable last night to make any statement. The main office and yards of the company are in Chicago where Samuel R. Howell, the president lives and manages the business. The branch at this city is run under the name of the Howell lumber company, and mother at Atchison is under the firm style The local yards here form one of the largest lumber interests in the city and are under the management of Mr. H. N. Jewett. The failure was the talk in lumber ircles last night. The Howells circles last night. The Howells have had the reputation of doing business after a manner of their ownand have not found it necessary to let their rivals know of their trade or commercial transactions. It has been generally under-stood among lumbermen for some time that the company has been unfortunate in its investments in timber lands in Kansas and Texas and the failure is attributed in a large measure to their unfortunate deals which have been made by the branch houses. Then again the company has had rules and a large amount of money has been spent in litigation over that matter Surprise has been expressed at the sale of the local branch to Mr. Chaffee instead of the First National bank of Chicago, which is mown to have been backing the company for some time.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

Showing Made by the Enumeration Completed Yesterday. The work of taking the school census of Omaha has just been completed. Total increase over the number reported last year is 2,753. There are some very singular features to this school census business, when the figures of the past two years are compared. In the First, Second, Fifth and Eighth wards there is an apparent decrease in the number of school children, but the gain in the other wards is sufficient to overbalance this and show a respectable increase. The most remarkable variation is shown in the Third ward, where last year the enumerator claimed he could find but 712 persons betwee the ages of five and twenty years. This year the number returned is 3,014, showing an increase of 2,302 in that ward It is generally conceded that the enumerator for the Third ward last year must have made an egregious error in his work. In 1889 the Third ward enumerator returned 1,036. The figures from that ward for the past three years' enumerations seem to indicate that there has been a marked difference in the ability of the enumerators and persons of school age residing in the

MANAGER CHAPPEL TALKS.

Ch'oigo & Alton's Interest Will Be Cast for Harmony.

RUMORED CALIFORNIA RAILROAD DEAL

Standard Oil Company Magnates Said to Be After the Southern Pacific -Rockafeller Denies the CHICAGO, July 14.—General Manager Chap cil of the Chicago & Alton, discussing the attitude of his company with respect to the Western Passenger association, said today "I am glad it is over and we know just where we stand. It is a relief to know we are once more managers of our road and need not ask the permission of our competitors whether we can make a change in the interest of our patrons and stockholders.

"The meeting of the managers last Saturday was a mistake. I supposed it to be a general movement endorsed by the higher officials of all the roads and only learned while the meeting was in session that the call had been issued by the Rock Island and the Illinois Central against the advice of several other roads. Had I known this earlier there would have been no report from this road at the meeting. The Alton has nothing to regret in the course it has pursued. We are firmly of the opinion today as we ever were that it is the duty of the mem bers of the association to live up to the agreement and Chairman Finley's rutings conflicted with it. He has no right to make a ruling not authorized or consistent with the agreement. We have been urged to appeal from his decision and let the association decide the matter. If we did that we would be obliged to abide by the association's ver-dict, and it is practically certain that twothirds of the members would to sustain the chairman, if for no other vote pose than to punish the Alton for its refusal to join the Western Traffic association. The only course left open to us would be with-drawal from the association. We prefer to let them throw us out, as they have done, and so take upon themselves the odium of causing whatever trouble may follow. If they can stand it we can."

It is the general impression that at the special meeting of the Western Passenger asso-ciation next Thursday it will be decided to exchange certificates with the eastern roads on excursion business. If this is done, how-ever, it will probably not be without some hesitation on the part of the immediate competitors of the Alton, as doubtless the least the Alton will do will be to meet any through rates that may be made to eastern territory by shading its local rates and making the tickets good to bearer both ways. BREAKING A BATE AGREEMENT.

The agreement of the Central Traffic as sociation lines to make no reduced rates on account of harvest home seekers excursion is in danger of being smashed by the same influence that wrecked its ruin last year. It transpires that the Lake Erie & Western, the Ohio & Mississippi, the Chesapeake & Ohio, and other roads from Cincinnati and Indianapolis have decided to adopt the ex cursion rates to western points by way of St. Louis. The Pennsylvania and Big Four will apparently be forced to meet the competition by way of St. Louis and the Monon will no doubt find it necessary to protect itself by making the same rates by way of Chinggo It is the same rates by way of Chicago. It is thought by some that the movement will go on until it involves the entire territory of the Central Traffic association

EASTERN TRAFFIC AFFAIRS. At the meeting of the freight commission of the Central Traffic association today the docketed subjects to the various sub-commit tees with instructions to report at an adjourned session tomorrow.

Rumored Railroad Deal. San Francisco, Cal.; July 14.-The Chronicle's Los Angeles special says: Reports of a startling nature have been received here from New York regarding a railroad deal of great magnitude. A well known and reputable citizen of Los Angeles recently learned in New York that the Huntington and Searles interests, having the control of the Southern Pacific company, had changed hands and had been acquired by the Standard oil company Rockafeller, Paine, Brice, Thomas and others, who it is expected will go into the directory of the company September 1, when Rockafeller will assume the office of presi-dent. The informant says he heard from Rockafeller's own lips of this report when he Standard oil king said it had long beer his ambition to control the transcontinental railroads. His ambition would not rest with the acquisition of the Southern Pacific, for he will be content with nothing short of a through line from the Atlantic to the Pacific to the Standard oil crowd acquiring the Huntington, Searle's interest in the Southern Pacific railroad, was shown to William Rock-ateller this morning. He stated that he had not heard of any such transaction being con templated.

General Thomas stated that he was in entire ignorance of any such plan. The Southern Pacific officers at San Francisco denied all knowledge of the alleged sale of the Southern Pacific to the Standard Oil company magnates.

Decision Against Corporations. ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.-The attorney general has just received from the general term of the third department very important opinions involving the right of the state to collect from corporations the organization tax in the case of the consolidation of corpor ations. The actions were against the Nickel Plate railroad, so-called, and the Fitchburg railroad, and were submitted upon an agreed statement of facts at the general term in May. The amount of the tax in the case of the Nuckel Plate (principal and interest) is over $57,000. The court holds that when two or more corporations consolidate the consolidated corporation is a new corporation and becomes so by virtue of the provisions of the state authorizing the consolidating and thus brings it within the scope of the act of 1886, which imposes a tax of one-eighth of 1 per cent upon the capital stock of every cor-poration incorporated under the laws of that state, to be paid at the time of incorporation and as a license for the privilege of incorporation. The court bolds that the companie must pay the tax and directs judgment to be entered. The cases were argued by Hon. Samuel E. Williams of Cleveland, O., as counsel for the Nickle Plate. These test cases were brought at the instance of the secretary of state. Traffic Managers Meet. New York, July 14 .- The advisory board of the Western Traffic association met this morning. The following roads were represented: Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Northwestern, St. Paul, Burlington, Atchison, Illinois Central, Denver & Rio Grande, Rio Grande Western and Wabash. At 2 o'clock the board took a recess for an hour. The subject of joint agencies was discussed and it was finally decided to postpone action in regard to their abolishment until the October meet-

WOULD MURDER NEAL'S GUARD

Discovery of Plans for the Release of Allan Jones' Slayer.

JAILBIRDS IMPLICATED IN THE PLOT.

Jailor Horrigan Intercepts a Letter That Revealed the Scheme-He Fears That Neal May Polson . Himself.

When Ed Neal, the condemned murderer of Allan and Dorothy Jones, received word that the supreme court had confirmed the sentence of death in his case and fixed the day for his execution, he remarked:

"It is a long time until October." He was probably thinking then of a plan for his escape which has been maturing for some months and the first tangible evidence of which was made manifest on Friday evening last.

Ever since Neal's trial, a woman of the town known as Jo Clark has been in communication with him by one means or another. She was allowed to send him notes and before the death watch was placed over the condemned man she was given an occasional chance to converse with him.

All of the letters watch she wrote him were filled with maudiin expressions of affection and some of them with desperate statements of what she would do to save him from his

These were considered harmless by the officers of the jail and but little attention were paid to them until the last decree of the supreme court in the murderer's case. When this was received Jailer Horrigan promptly issued an order prohibiting the woman from holding any private conference with Neal or sending him any notes.

A few days ago however Mr. Horrigan became convinced that the woman and Neal were in communication and he at once took steps to detect the means employed for the purpose. The Clark woman called every evening and talked with the murderer from he walk at the south side of the jail, but as his conversation was heard by the jailer and the guards no attempt was made to stop it. One of these talks, however, furnished Jailer Horrigan a clue. A word was dropped which led him to suspect that the woman was trying to get word to the murderer through one of the prisoners in the jail.

Mr. Horrigan went to work and soon dis covered the means employed by the desperate woman to communicate with her condemned It was found that the letter had to pass through the hands of four parties is order to reach Neal.

Pat Ford, jr., was serving a $50 fine out, and Mr. Horrigan found that he had a hand in the affair. Young Ford had been given some privileges about the jail, and when his treachery became known Jailer Horrigan went after him and gave him a lesso in prison discipline. The jailer simpl threshed the offender in the most approve The jailer simply style of the art and placed him in seclusion until the expiration of his term the next Following the clue which was panning out so well Mr. Horrigan secured the letter from the Clark woman before it reached Neal's The letter was a revelation. It contained plan for a cold-blooded attempt at murder necessary to secure Neal's release. The Clark woman wrote, in a lot of maudin gush, that Ernest Raymond, one of the alibirds, would watch his opportunity to overpower Decker, the assistant jailer, some ime when he was alone, and would secure he keys and release Neal. If it cost the life of every man in the jail the desperate woman wrote, it would be bet ter than that Neal should suffer the death denalty. This statement confirmed the suspicions of Jailer Horrigan, who has thought for some time that Raymond was staying in the couny jail for some purpose. The young man is a convict bird from the Stillwater peniteniary and is known in police circles as "Still water." His right name is Ernest Raymond and he has spent six months of the nine that he has been in the city in the county jail on various charges. He is now believed to have been in a conspiracy with the Clark woman to secure Neal's release from fail and to have resorted to petty offenses in order to keep in tail and carry out his plans.

Mr. Horrigan at once gave Raymond a taste of solitary confinement and turned the woman's note over to Sheriff Boyd. Mr. Decker, the assistant jailor, against whom the assault was planned is an elderly man and is frequently in charge of the jai when Mr. Horrigan is absent. The plan to assault him is laughed at by the jailors, as they claim that even if such an attempt were ssful Neal's death watch and others in the jail who are are friendly would to successfully resist any attempt to release the murderer.

Jailer Horrigan says he has had a great deal of trouble in preventing Neal and his inamorata from exchanging notes. Several parties who are in jail on petty offenses have been allowed some privileges. They do the cooking and wait on the tables. It is to some of these people that the Clark woman sent notes and they would smuggle them into Neal with hi meals and return his answers to her, Horrigan says he has finally succeeded in stopping this and now has only one fear and that is that the woman will get poison to Neal and that he will take it.
"Do you think Neal would take poison if he could?" was asked. 'I do," replied Mr. Horrigan, "The woman is desperate and would rather see Neal sui-cide than to have him hanged. Neal is a oward and would rather swallow poison than have his neck stretched.'
