GREAT DRAMA OF HUMAN LIFE,

Strangely Wonderful Conception of Mr. Vo Key Chamberlain.

FRACTURED HIS SCENIC EFFECT.

Talk With the Inventor of the Most Startling Exposition of Modern Times-The Syndicate Park Camp Meeting.

Omaba's first colored camp meeting is now open and doing pusiness.

The bars were thrown down last evening at Syndicate park and the heterogeneous manner in which the sheep and goats mingled was in startling contradiction to the plan of procedure mapped out for the last

Be it known that inasmuch as this is the first attempt that has been made in this direction not only in Omaha, but in the state, it is entered into with fear and trembling on the part of those having the matter in charge, but Elders Moore and Wilson are hopeful that it will result in a spiritual awakening of their respective congregations.

It is given out that the camp meeting will continue for two weeks, but the actual duration is as yet an unknown quantity. If the meetings are successful they will be continued longer than that time, and the results will be easerly watched to see whether or not a longer drawn out-session is advisable. The opening last evening was something on the spectacular order, and Rev. Vo Key Chamberlain of California was the shining

Brother Chamberlain is a rather attenuated mulatto, with a kinky beard, and affects a silk tile, while his personal appearance is very much enhanced by a garment of inde-scribable hue, very much resembling an English top coat with cape and an automatic reversible shirt front attachment. A single glance is all that is necessary to convince the beholder that the reverend gentlemen is "in it" to quite an exaggerated degree, and he did not fail to impress his audience with his did not fail to impress his audience with his own ideas as to his personal importance. According to his own story, Mr. Chamberlain was passing through the city and was prevailed upon by the elders to stop here, and in view of their urgent importunities he "consented" to tarry. He had a platform erected for his accommodation, and flooded the grounds with hand bills, which read as follows:

The great drama of human life, in two acts. The greatest tragedy and mystery of the ages. The coming sensation of the nineteenth century. A drama in which every man can know his everlasting destiny. A cut of Redondo beach, Cal., hotel and music hall appeared on the bills and an in-scription below conveyed the information that there "the grand bible drama first appeared before a portion of the world's best society which statement was further elaborated as

The Christ was born in a manger for reasons which the world cannot understand, but it seemed necessary for the grandest of his parabolical, dramatical and allegorical teachings to be dramatised and expounded before wise men of the eastern and western world, and in the magnificent structure Redondo (the circle of the Pacific) four stories high. covering over an acre of ground, reposing gracefully upon a slight eminence, eighteen miles south of Los Angeles, where the broad Paolife leans against the land with fine vista of sea and shore meeting the eye in all discovering the eye

Mr. Chamberlain informed the reporter that he was not seeking worldly glory or newspaper notoriety, but vouchsafed the in-formation that the impersonation of "Human Life" which he gave was something of his own conception, and that he figured it out after a revelation had been made that gave him the inside track on heavenly affairs. He admitted that he had preached on numerous occasions when he really did not know what he was talking about, and fur-ther said that many of the preachers in the pulpits today are occupying that very same position, but now that he is able to discourse "with the understanding" he is imperson-ating the rich autocrat, the beggar and the dogs for the spiritual advancement of the uninitiated.

"The bible's an inspired book," said the reverend impersonator, "an' it's necessary to use material things for examples to expiain it. The beggar don't mean a mendi-cant, but a spiritual beggar. The rich auto-crat is the good Christian, and the dogs are the rough people-what we call hoodlums in California. Now there might be some things in my programme that would be wrongly suggestive to carnal hearts, but it has a sp itual meaning. Luke vill, 9 speaks of the chambertain of the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven.' Chamberiain means tre urer, and is my name, and that is just what my position is here."

Mr. Chamberlain intimated that he was a disciple of Cosmos, and that what he knew was quietly revealed to him by psychic power. He pointed to a few yards of catico hiding the floor of the stage from the mourners' benches, and said that it heiped him in his impersonations by concealing the imagin-ary dogs while he was addressing them.

The reporter suggested that the imporsona-tions would be out of sight with a little some-thing unusual in the way of scenic effect. "I'm going to have one as soon as I get to Chicago," said Mr. Chamberlain. "I'm going to get a theatre and have everything handy, with cherubims and all those things. I had a scenic effect out in Grass Valley, Cal., but the get broke in transportation. It was a out in Grass Valley, Cal., but it got broke in transportation. It was a plaster paris cherubin and it wouldn't stand being handled. This is a fine thing when it's all fixed up with scenery and I'm goin' to put it on its feet as soon as I can. I'm just gettin' started now."

The opening hour had arrived and Mr. Chamberlain was cut short in the rehearsal of his plans and climbed upon the platform. For the next hour and a half he gave his audience a mixture of elocution, attempted ventriloquism and ministerial discourse. It was not apparent to the naked eye just where the revelation of every man's everlasting destiny came in, but the performance seemed to bear out the assertion of Mr. Vo Key that "the sacred drama would produce a revolution in the life and morals of the religious world."

The audience was a large one, and there

The audience was a large one, and there were fully as many Caucasians as Ethiopians among them. The general appearance of the grounds indicated a social gathering of some kind, and the religious feature seemed to be rather a side issue. Several tents had been erected, and more are to follow. Many of the religious enthusiasts will make their home on the grounds, and hold praise meet-ings every morning, but the regular public services will be held every afternoon and evering.

The indications are that the meetings will draw many who are not regular worshippers, but the crowd in at-tendance last evening was fairly well behaved, and the services of the special colored star-wearers were not called into requisition.
All hands are a little bit green as yet, but they bid fair to warm up with very little practice, and the camp meeting will pass into history as a big one in its way.

Supposed to be a Defaulter. CHICAGO, July 19 .- William Leuthstrom, manager of the Carey-Lombard lumber company, who has been missing from home for more than a week, is supposed to be a defaulter to the extent of $10,000. He was last faulter to the extent of $10,000. He was last seen by his wife a week ago Tuesday, at which time he told his wife he had to make a business trip. Saturday afternoon he left the office of the lumber company with $2,000 which he was going to deposit in the bank. Failing to show up by Tuesday, inquiries as to his whereabouts developed the fact that Leuthstrom had left the city. A hasty examination of the company's books showed shortages amounting in the aggregate to over ages amounting in the aggregate to over $10,000. Aithough a married man and a father of five children Leuthstrom when he left the city was accompanied by a woman with whom he has been occasionally stopping at the Briggs house since February last. It is known that the defaulter has been doing considerable speculating on change of late, yet the firm of whose interests he was man-ager had implicit confidence in his honesty. He is believed to have started for Australia. His wife and children are left destitute.

Omaha Has a Chance to Get Northern

Wyoming's Stock. Evidence is accumulating that the shortage in live stock supplies at the Omaha stock yards need not necessarily continue much longer. THE BEE's recent references to the matter have drawn the attention of western shippers to the advantages to be gained by unloading at this point, and a little persistent encouragement would land a greater volume of that class of trade in our commercial net, where it properly belongs. Thomas J. Bouton, editor of the Buffalo (Wyo.) Echo, who is a guest at the Paxton, informs The Beg that the extension of the B. & M. railroad to Gillette, the new town at the head of Donkey creek, Wyoming, seventy-five miles from Buffalo, which is to be consummated by August 10, practically insures for that road about all of the August 10, practically insures for that road about all of the cattle shipments from northern Wyoming. As nearly as can be calculated, these ship-ments will aggregate, in round numbers,

50,000 head. Copious rains during the spring and early summer have produced the best grass crop with which that region has been favored since 1883, and beeves are in prime condition. The first herd from northern Wyoming to go over the road this season is now on route to Chicago from Moorcroft, the present shipping terminus of the B. St. M. This trade ping terminus of the B. & M. This trade should not be suffered to slip through Omaha. According to the present status of Clay King of Memphis, and Mr. T. C. King of this city, his brother, are deeply interested in the suit. It will also be of great interest to a large number of people in ennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas. relatives of these gentlemen. The suit is for the recovery of property leased to the city of New York ninety-nine years ago, and the lease has just expired.

Ninety-nine years ago Robert Edward, at that time a large real estate owner in the city of New York, leased to the city for the term of ninety-nine years a considerable amount of real estate on which Broadway and several adjacent streets for some dis-tance are now located, the lease specifying that at the end of the lease the property with all its improvements should revert to his heirs. He died a bachelor, leaving an only brother as his heir. That brother died, leaving one child, a daughter, as his heir. That daughter married the grandfather of Colonel H. Clay King and as a matter of course her descendants are the heirs to that property. The King family have in their possession all the documents necessary to prove a clear title to the property in question, and as the lease has just expired suit is to be commenced at once to recover pos-

Mr. T. C. King of this city yesterday mailed to Mr. McLeary, the attorney for the heirs, his power of attorney, and as soon as a power of attorney can be obtained from all the known descendants of the Edwards family suit will be instituted. Mr. McLeary has associated with him another prominent attorney, and they are so confident that the ease can be pushed to a successful issue for their clients that they have agreed to bear all the costs of the case for a certain per cent of what they get for the heirs. The whole number of the heirs is now not known, but even if there were 1,000 of them it would still mean a magnificent fortune for all con

Toledo Street Car Strike Settled. Toleno, O., July 19,-The street car strike was settled at 3 o'clock this morning, the result of a conference among the companies, a committee of the strikers and the mayor. All motormen are to receive $1.80 per day of twelve hours, and drivers of horse cars $1.70. The men struck for $2 instead of $1.55 and $1.65, hence the settlement is a compromise. One of the noteworthy features of the negotiations was an offer by the consolidated company to give 2 cents out of every 5, 40 per cent of the gross receipts to the drivers and Enormous Crop Regarded Only in the Light of a Medium Through Which Greater Loss is Sustained.

FOLLOWING THE DEMOCRATIC IDEA.

LES MOINES, Ia., July 8 .- [Special to THE Bee. - Advance sheets of the biennial raport of Commissioner of Labor Statistics' Sovereign have just been issued, and the bound copies will be ready for circulation in a short time. As a whole it is one of the most unique papers ever issued, probably, as a public document. It is neither more nor less than a political pamphiet intended to defend and bolster up the idea that agriculture in Iowa is a monstrously losing pursuit, and that the majority of the farmers of the state are bankrupt or ought to be. As is well known, Iowa's chief agricultural production is corn. So Commissioner Sovereign hastaken great pains to gather statistics of the cost of raising this cereal, and devotes about a hundred pages of the report to publishing

The investigation covers a period of ten years, ending with 1889, and the figures given show that during these ten years the loss for the state on corn alone has been $84,-319,769. In two of these ten years a profit was made-$17,082,790 in 1881, and $9,533,613 was made—$17,052,700 in 1851, and $3,35,515 in 1852. All the other years show losses, the largest being in 1859, when the report shows it was $23,402,350. This is based on the fact that there were 7,063,000 acres planted that year which yielded an average of forty-one bushels per acre, and sold for an average of 18 cents per bushel. To get these astonish-ing results, this remarkable statistician bases his calculation on the following table as to the cost of raising an acre of corn:

lost of crib room ...... the Omaha stock yards' case, it would just Eight per cent on value of land ...... 2 55

Total cost per acre...... $10 33 Thirty-four bushels per acre is taken as the average production during the five years and on that estimate it has cost 30 cents a busnel on an average to raise corn.

Some supplementary recapitulations are also given. The cost per bushel, less shelling, is stated to be 28 cents; less shelling and hauling to market, 25 cents per bushel; less investment on land, 23 cents. On this basis, less shelling, hauling and interest on investment in land, the cost of corn production is 18 cents per bushel. The average worth of corn land per acre is given at $31.89. Regardless of these alarming figures, which are the same as were promulgated last year and were used by Governor Boies in his New York speech, the farmers of Iowa have this year planted more corn than ever, wil tory of the state, and will consequently lose a greater amount of money. But, happily, no one believes the figures are correct and the only harm that will come from the false report will be the reputation of the state abroad and the democratic party within its borders for the acts of one of its chief officers.

The remarkable division closes with this wonderful burst of rhetoric: "The producers and consumers are separated by an impassable gorge in whose bottomless cal-dron boils the sordid interests of speculation with accompanying combines inimical to the prosperity and happiness of the common people!"

The report goes on to state that the losses in other crops, except potatoes and flax, have been as great as upon corn, and says it is not merely that one article which is produced without profit. All other farm products exceptions, show as great propor tionate losses.

IOWA NATIONAL GUARD. The third regiment, Iowa national guard, will hold its encampment at Indianola August 18. In connection with this event the officials of the regiment have decided to introduce a pleasing unnovation which has been practiced in some of the eastern states, but never in Iowa since the raising of troops for the late civil war. Indianola is eighteen miles from the city, and the regiment will concentrate here and march across the counconcentrate nere and march across the coun-try to the camp. The regiment consists of companies H and A of Des Moines, G of Grin-nell, E of Perry, B of Newton, F of Oska-loosa and C of Iowa City. They will be mobilized here on August 17, and after dinner will parade the streets and then a march of ten miles will be made and camp pitched for the night in the woods and fields. At break of day the bugles will sound the reveille, and after a burried breakfast, cooked over camp fires, the command will form or the colors and continue the march. Arriving within half a mile of Indianola the regiment will form in line of battle, and throwing out skirmishes and flankers, will proceed to capture the town, which will be defended by company D of Indianola, and two companies of regulars from the Second two companies of regulars from the Second regiment, if the governor succeeds in secur-ing them from the war department, which is not now probable, as the Indian war of last winter so cut down the funds accessible for transportation that the war department has concluded not to send the troops. After a spirited engagement of half an hour with blank cartridges, during which the attack will be conducted on strictly military pruciwill be conducted on strictly military princi-ples, and will be of much benefit to the offi-cers and men, the regiment will capture the town, and marching to the already prepared camp, will take possession, and the four camps and school of instruction will begin. The boys of the Third will go in heavy marching order with knapsacks on their backs and blankets rolled upon them, and will in every way conduct themselves as soldiers on an active campaign. The regiment will be under the command of Colonel J. G. Gilchrist of Iowa City, an old army officer, and the popular colonel of the regiment, Lieutenant Colonel Al Swalm of Oskaloosa, Major Parker of Des Moines and Adjutant Thomas B. Wales of Iowa City, who will do everything in their power to make the first field maneuvers of Iowa troops since the war a decided success.

KNOXVILLE DRIVING PARK. The Iowa Driving Park, at Knoxville, Iowa, will be opened for the first public exhibition August 11, 12, 13 and 14. The enterprising citizens of Knoxville comprising the board of directors have put forth every effort to give to central lows the fastest track in the United States. Certainly Knoxville's new track is destined to be the Mecca of record breakers, if the pace set by the horses now working is any criterion. The track is the regulation shape, and is slightly different from others in the location of the wire and the view to be afforded the spectators.

R. D. Blynn, now famous in the United States, after having completed many tracks, reports the one at Knoxville superior to any other ever constructed by him. One hundred horses are now in training and the attractions at the August meeting will be second to none. The board of directors is composed of none. The board of directors is composed of the following enterptising citizens: H. Cun-ningham, J. R. Elliott, W. L. Collins, L. O. Donley, J. M. Donley, E. B. Woodruff, Geo. L. Boydston and H. L. Bosquet. Upwards of fifty thousand dollars have been spent by the management in securing and perfecting buildings, accommodations, etc.
