FIVE HOT ROUNDS MADE UP THE FIGHT.

Dixon Had the Best of the Go Alway—Results of Yesterday's Ball Games—Other Sporting News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 28.—The battle between the bantam weights, Dixon and Willis, at the California tonight occupied less than twenty minutes. Willis was knocked out in the fifth round, after having had the worst of a hard fought battle from the very start.

Dixon's style of fighting was not known very well here, and he was not expected to do much fighting, but he forced his fight from the very first round. He rushed Willis hard whenever he could get him at close quarters and beat him with ease.

Willis struggled hard to hold out against the colored man's assaults, and in the half dozen sharp rallies he fought back manfully, but was not able to hit as hard or as frequently as his opponent.

His quickness and his ability to stand hard punches, saved him from defeat earlier, but after being knocked down in the first round and unmercifully pounded in the four following rounds, he was greatly weakened and the blow which finally sent him out was a light one compared to a dozen others which he had received.

Dixon was apparently unharmed and as soon as he saw Willis could not rise in the fifth round the colored man gave a leap almost half across the ring, while the spectators cheered him wildly.

Willis was practically unknown to many here, and the betting before the fight was in Dixon's favor, ranging from 100 to 7 to 100 to 90. Great interest was taken in the men were trained faithfully and both were in perfect condition. Hiram Cook was referee. Dixon's seconds were Tim O'Rourke, Mitchell and Bill Akers. Willis was seconded by Martin, Murphy and Billy Smith.

In the first round the men sparred cautiously for fully a minute, Dixon showing the greater advantage in reach. Then Dixon and caught Willis on the jaw, sending him down. When he rose there was the liveliest kind of rally, the men slugging each other at close quarters, Dixon being having the best of it. Willis hugged as much as possible.

The second round was opened cautiously by both men. Dixon was rushed, but accomplished nothing. A moment later he planted a swinging left on the Australian's jaw. Several sharp rallies and then clinching followed. They kept up a close saw on each other at the closest possible range. The round closed with cheers for both men.

During the third round both were very wary at first. Dixon then landed his left on Willis' body and right in his jaw. Neither budged much during the round. In the fourth round after two minutes of sparring Dixon rushed and landed on Willis' jaw and both several times, receiving two heavy blows on the head. Willis was very quiet and saved himself by dodging.

The fifth round was opened like the others. Neither seemed disposed at first to rush and force matters. Willis then clinched on Dixon a sharp rally near the ropes in which it was given and taken for a moment, though Dixon landed a number of hard blows. Presently Dixon caught the Australian on the jaw with his left and sent him down. Willis rose to his hands and knees and took his third round on the head. He was not able to rise and when Dixon rushed him he stood prepared to receive the attack. He was not able to do much, however, in the rally that followed and Dixon's right soon came into contact with Willis' jaw and the latter went down flat on his back. He left heavily and landed on his head. Willis had expired Willis' seconds had to lift him from the floor, and Dixon was declared the winner. The colored man seemed as strong as when the fight commenced.
