

SQUIRES IS HUNG UP AGAIN.

His Sweeping Bill for Last Year Stricken from the Appropriation Ordinance.

COLONEL MORRISSEY'S CLAIM REDUCED.

Some Energetic Oratory Engendered by These Bills and John Nelson's Contract—What Ten Councilmen Accomplished.

When the council convened last night the early indications were that the adjourned meeting would be of short duration. But all signs fell in dry weather, and in the city council. There were thirteen members present, and for hours they fought over the passage of the monthly appropriation ordinance. At last the oratory came to an end and the ordinance was put upon its final passage.

This brought on a pretty fight, as there were nine members who voted, yes and three nay. It lacked a majority, as Mr. Olson had disappeared without obtaining permission. A call of the house was ordered and it looked like an all night session.

The trouble arose because Frank Morrissey's garbage bill of $2.50 was included in the ordinance.

The resolution to lay off without pay all inspectors when not employed was adopted.

The vote by which the contract with the Johnson electric company's contract was approved was upon motion of Mr. Olson reconsidered, a new contract and bond presented and laid over for one week. The old contract was defective in some particular.

The report of the appraisers, showing $375 damages resulting from the proposed grading of South Fifteenth street from Union street to Oak Hill addition No. 2, was adopted.

Quarrelling Over a Contract.

The bond and contract of John Nelson, who is to haul away dead animals, was presented and referred to the committee on police.

Mr. Specht objected to the contract, saying that Nelson was not the lowest bidder.

Mr. Osthoff opposed the contract, saying that Nelson proposed to skin the animals at the dump and then leave the carcasses on the bank of the river.

Mr. Lowry thought the contract all right. He said that in the past there had been a system of robbery carried on that the owners had paid for hauling animals away and that afterwards the amount had been charged up to the city.

The contract provides that fees of $2.25 shall be collected from the owner of each animal and that the fee shall be paid to the city and the city shall be removed free of charge, providing that Nelson is allowed to remove and retain the hides.

Mr. Bruner favored the approval of the contract and having matters in shape. He said the council had monkeyed too long with its dead animals and garbage contracts.

Mr. Specht objected to the contract because it makes no provision for the handling of mules, donkeys and steers.

Mr. Davis thought the contract should provide some way by which the city can keep tabs on the number of cats and dogs that Nelson hauls away.

Ordinances on Passage.

The following ordinances were read a third time and passed: Providing for the laying of gas, water mains, and making sewer connections on South Twenty-second street, from Poppleton street to the city limits; creating a tax to pay for the construction of sidewalks; ordering the grading of Hurt, from Thirty-eighth to Fortieth street; creating a sewer district in Cedar Park.

In addition, the ordinance providing for the removal of garbage was read and referred. This ordinance provides that the board of health may issue orders to any person who parties up pay $25 into the city treasury. It also provides that the board of health shall divide the city into districts.

The appropriation ordinance brought out a lengthy discussion. Mr. Osthoff moved that it be placed upon its passage.

Mr. Ellasson, an amendment, moved that the sweeping estimate of G. E. Squires, amounting to $7,900 be stricken out.

Some member asked that William Birkhauser, who stated that he would furnish the council with a communication relative to street sweeping.

Quintanilla Birkhauser said that he wrote such a letter and gave it to Mr. Morearty.

Mr. Davis stated that the Squires bill was for sweeping that was done last year. The records of the board don't show that the work was poorly done. It is merely a statement of the members of the board of public works. If Squires has not lived up to his contract, knock him out.

Mr. Olson thought that if Squires could win in the courts, it would be better to allow the bill and save the city money.

Mr. Birkhauser said that he is used to abuse, but thought he was doing right when he voted against the allowance of the bill. He did not blame the members of the board. The fault was with the city engineer and the inspector who certified to the correctness of the bills for August, September and October, 1890, the ones under controversy.

Mr. Bruner, the orator of the council, the member of the special committee appointed to investigate the matter, said that he would blame the inspector. He passed upon the streets that had never seen the broom. Mr. Bruner favored allowing the bills and then be more careful in the future.

The motion to strike the bills from the ordinance prevailed and all papers were referred to the city engineer and the inspector as to the legality of Squires' claims against the city.

The city attorney is instructed to send for persons and papers.

With the Squires bill stricken out and Morrissey's bill reduced to $4, the call was dissolved, the ordinance passed, and just before midnight the council adjourned.

SCARED THE TENANTS.

Explosion of a Dentist's Vulcanizer Shakes Up a Big Building.

The noise of a terrific explosion started the people in the vicinity of Sixteenth and Douglas streets yesterday afternoon at about 3:30 o'clock. A heavy brass vulcanizer in the office of Dr. Withers, a dentist, in room 402 Brown block, exploded with great force, shaking the building to the foundations, shattering the windows and tearing the plastering from the walls. Dr. Withers had been seated directly under the vulcanizer but a moment before the explosion occurred.

The explosion was undoubtedly caused by some defect in the vulcanizer. The noise registered less than three hundred pounds when the explosion occurred. The noise of the explosion was distinctly heard for several blocks.

The Latest Conundrum.

Why is Haller's German Pills and Burdock like the most popular soap of the day?

Because they both cleanse the skin and leave it soft and velvety.

Glover's Pistol.

Officer Glover lost his revolver on Sixteenth street yesterday afternoon. He will pay a reward for the return of the shooting iron to the city jail.

PLATE MARKSMEN.

They Fire Their First Shots at the Bellevue Range Today.

Yesterday was a busy day at the rifle range at Bellevue, nine miles south of this city. The beautiful green sward was given another shave by the mower; the flus for competitors and scorers were pitched, the telephones were repaired at the dining room on either side of the range; the beautiful crimson streamers to indicate the direction of the wind were hung to the breeze, their color appearing as a host of men were let into a knowledge as to how to mark the shots, manipulate the targets and announce the scores to the expectant officers and men on the range before the butts. In a word, everything was put in readiness for the preliminary practice which begins today.

As a consequence it was a busy day for Major Benjamin, superintendent of small arms practice; Captain Coudine, camp commander; Captain Guilford, assistant officer, and the other officers; and private, who have this year been assigned to duty at the range.

The following is a complete list of competitors and is now published for the first time:

MAYOR HAS QUOTED THE LAW.

He Says the Councilmen Have Put Themselves in a Bad Box.

ONE VETO THAT WAS WELL GROUNDED.

No Funds for Carrying on the Contract—Liability of the Councilmen for Excess Debts Deliberately Incurred.

Mayor Cushing thinks he has one on the council and chuckles gleefully while he explains how a number of the members have placed themselves in a position where they are liable to get into trouble.

This prospective trouble arises on account of the over-riding of one of the mayor's vetoes. Some days ago the board of public works awarded Hamilton & McDonald the contract to construct the Bemis park sewer.

The contract was made and sent to the mayor for his approval. After looking it over, he stamped it with his veto and returned it to the city council. Tuesday night that body rejected the veto and approved the contract, Mr. Blumer voting in the negative.

The mayor admits the necessity of the sewer, but thinks the council has exceeded its authority by accepting a price in excess of that allowed by law.

Objection to the sewer was constructed against the price of the awarding property owners, who went into court, claiming that the tax levied to pay for the sewer was in excess of the law.

PARDNER'S POULTRY.

Sad Story of an Ambitious Man and an Industrious Hen.

If you want a cigar just apply to D. S. Pardner, at the union depot, and you will get it, but don't give away your source of information.

Pardner is railway postal clerk at the depot, but a short time ago he concluded to indulge in farming on a small scale. After corresponding with various live stock ranches all over the country with a view to purchasing a flock of well bred guinea hens he made up his mind that he would better buy the eggs and have the fowls made to order.

He went to Colorado, bought dozen eggs, and deposited them under a hen in which the maternal instinct was strongly developed for the time being. He was not aware that some of "the boys" had inspected the eggs before he received them, otherwise that hen would not have been entitled to four weeks' pay and a great deal of sympathy.

Where ignorance is bliss it doesn't pay to break the eggs too soon. So Pardner possessed his soul with patience and carefully carried the hen every morning, standing right for four long weeks, while she did her best to swell the poultry census. It wasn't a bit of use, and finally Pardner tried to hurry matters by breaking the eggs.

Then the secret was out. The eggs had been boiled.

As a rule Superintendent Coats of the city hall is not a practical joker, but yesterday he told a story that promises to cause his life to be a barren waste for several days to come.

Yesterday in a back room of the building his men commenced the construction of a huge car that is to be used in hoisting stone to the tower that is to be built on the southeast corner of the new hall. The car is to be constructed of iron and steel, and is to be a barrel wagon for several days to come.

This morning a party of eight-seers, in going through the building, happened to see the machine and curiosity was naturally aroused. One member of the party stepped on a lever and the machine started to move.

Mr. Coats looked both wise and solemn and in a stage whisper replied: "Ed Neal is to be hanged. O'Connell is out. I don't want you to say a word about what you have seen or heard."

With uplifted hands and the members of the entire party swore themselves to eternal secrecy and with blanched faces and trembling limbs went out onto the street.

To show how well and how long they kept the secret, it is only necessary to say that ten minutes later a score or more of people were in the back room of the building, clamoring to see the Neal gallows. Since that time Superintendent Coats has been acquainted with the gallows building trade and he really wishes that he had told the truth.

A QUESTION OF CASH.

The New Electric Light Contract May Not Be Approved.

The Thomson-Houston company has secured the contract for furnishing the rest of the city with 700 incandescent lights, but it is a question if the lights will diminish this year as the mayor is quite liable to stamp his veto upon the agreement.

The fund for the lights is being raised by the city, but the price is being paid by the city, and the question of finances will stand in the way.

Last year the city set aside $55,000 for lighting purposes and at the present time the fund is about exhausted.

COLLECTING SUGAR BOUNTY.

The Work Will Be Done Under an Inspector's Supervision.

Mr. Everett B. Norton, an internal revenue collector detailed to look after the matter of paying the bounty on sugar manufactured in the United States under the law enacted by the last congress, is in the city and spent yesterday in consultation with Collector Peterson.

The position held by Mr. Norton is a new one and the duties are in an unsettled state, but are rather the nature of those of an agent of the internal revenue department with supervision over inspectors detailed to inspect the sugar turned out from the several factories and fix the grade.

Mr. Norton will have jurisdiction over Nebraska and Utah, including the sugar factories at Norfolk and Grand Island and one near Salt Lake City. He will remain in Omaha for a few days and then proceed to these points for the purpose of making himself acquainted with the surroundings, etc.

Previous to his appointment as a government officer a few days ago, Mr. Norton was connected with the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, having been in the newspaper business for a number of years.

Only Dealers Can Peddle.

John W. Mason, commissioner of internal revenue, has caused a statement to be published with reference to the peddling of manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars. Every person engaged in traveling from place to place selling tobacco, cigars or snuff is required to give to the collector a bond in the sum of $50, and under this bond he is required to sell nothing but full stamped packages as put up by the manufacturer. If he should violate the statute and retail tobacco, snuff or cigars to any purchaser found on his way.

A person, therefore, or other merchant who sends out a wagon and wishes to supply his customers with tobacco, snuff or cigars in retail quantities, without involving himself in liability under the statute, must first fill the orders given by them to his fixed place of business, and then fill the orders and get about the packages as the property of the persons ordering. Having done this, the sales are to be regarded as made at his store, and he may thereafter send out the packages in his wagon, or otherwise, and deliver them to the customers, whether they are in the town or country, without violating the internal revenue laws.
