Sloux City, Ia., July 30.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The old adage, "a road beginning makes a road ending" was illustrated by the Omaha visitors.

In the third inning the Corn Huskers fell upon Mr. Baker and pounded him unmercifully. Towards the close of the game he recovered his speed somewhat, but it was too late.

But the score hardly does justice to the work of the visitors. Their hitting was good and at many points very sharp, but with Baker's weakness in the box it was useless.

This closed the scoring of the visitors, but they had had their fun. Pop called for a second inning after Dugdale had made a hit and advanced to second base on McClellan's sacrifice.

The Corn Huskers played one of their best games and kept up the lively game they struck two weeks ago. It would be useless to detail their points.

Union Pacific Suffers Through Them. Believed to Have Started Because of a Conference of Bankers on the New Cotton Bill of Lading.

New York, July 30.—The stock exchange was full of false rumors today affecting the credit of banking houses and commercial firms and the free market in which the price of big houses of securities caused great anxiety. It was believed by many that there must be some foundation for the reports and many holders of stocks and bonds threw over their securities. Union Pacific suffered most from the bear attacks which accompanied this liquidation and sold down to 39 1/2, or 1/2 below the lowest point. Cotton and other staples were also affected by the rumors.

Investigation showed that the rumors were based on a report that a meeting of bankers had been held in this city, which some one conjectured to mean that a banking house was in trouble. It turns out that a meeting of bankers was held on Tuesday, but it is said to have been for the purpose of discussing the new ocean bill of lading for cotton adopted at the Liverpool cotton conference last Monday.

The Evening Sun prints the following in its extra edition this evening: "For several days there have been low whispers in Wall Street about the proposed reorganization of American banking house. It has been understood that in consequence of its connection with some outside enterprises, the house has been in a very shaky condition. The question in question is one of the oldest on Wall Street and its foreign home is one of the oldest in the world. The first talk about it began some months ago, when the bills of exchange of this house were discriminated against. Then about two or three months ago it was understood that a large house was in trouble and that another large house was helping it out of its difficulties. It was stated that by tomorrow it would be definitely known whether or not the house would pull through."

COMMONS TAKES UP PUGLISM.

Late Pritchard-Smith Fight Made a Subject for Discussion.

DEMAND MADE THAT SCRAP BE STOPPED

Recent Economic Crisis at Rome Results in Almost Ruining Many of the Ancient Families—German Budget.

LONDON, July 30.—A novel subject for parliament was discussed in the house of commons today. Mr. Henry Peyton Cobb, member for the Rugby division of Warwickshire, referred to the recent Pritchard-Smith fight and urged the government to take stringent steps to stop a revival of illegal prize fights under the pretext that they were simply gladiatorial contests or boxing bouts.

Mr. Henry Matthews, secretary of state for the home department, in reply said that the courts had already laid down the law as to what constituted a prizefight. Mr. Matthews added that if the evidence was forthcoming to show that a boxing contest was of an illegal character all concerned in it would be prosecuted whether the fight was with or without gloves.

The house of commons sat until 4:30 o'clock this morning. The members engaged in a prolonged discussion of the amendments to the education bill made by the house of lords, with the government supported. There was also a strong opposition to the grant of money for the training college (Ireland) bill by the Irish conservatives and radicals, who accused Mr. Balfour of bolstering up popery.
