A Compliment to the Keystone Express. The close of a report of the recent international Homoepathic congress written by one of the Chicago delegates reads as follows: "The fitting introduction to the im portant work of the congress was by means of the celebrated Keystone express, running over the famous Pennylvania line.

Sylvania line.

Leaving Chicago, nestling on her inland sea and fanning herself into that marvelous activity which characterizes her daily business life, we took the train shortly before the sun assumed its meridian height and in a little more than twenty-four hours of penceful and rapid transit out into the distant east, we were safely deposited at the City-by-the-Sca. The memory of that happy ride; its gently-gliding, rapid motion; its perfection of detail; its absolute safety; its picturesquesness of scenery; its genial courtesy of its officials, and its home-like com-forts, all tended to rest and invigorate us. It was indeed a fitting introduction to the most important convention which the world of homoepathy has ever seen.

Then came the humming cadenza of the homeward wheels. We know of nothing more inspiriting than a rapid ride from Philadelphia to Chicago on this far-famed Pennsylvania line. In its fostering care we lived, we mused, we ate, we slept and we formulated beautiful dreams. We were fulled to rest by the unceasing vigils of this gigantic cor-poration. We became its happy, loving and trusting ward. We left its sheltering roof and its palatial train with unceasing regret.

Hope for the Injered. For years there has been a difference of pinion between county and city officials as to who should care for the indigent sick within the city limits. The county officials have held that the city should take care of these and emergency cases, while the city officials have held that the duty rests with the county. While this warfare has been waged between the various officials, men have been allowed to die upon the streets, o administer to their wants.

The way matters now stand the question s liable to be settled. The county oners have instructed County Attorney Mahoney to confer with City Attorney Poppleton and the council has issued the instructions to its legal adviser. Mr. pleton is now in the east, but immediately upon his return he will meet Mr. Mahoney and the two legal gentlemen will agree as to where the line shall be drawn.

Mr. Mexall Explains.

One, Neb., Aug. 6.- To the Editor of THE Bee: At the suggestion of one of your courteous correspondents, I will tell you something of "Calamus."

Yes, I spoke to the people on that day. So nuch of reports are true. It is also true that a flag was over the speaker's stand. There was an abundance of small flags. You would like to know the exact facts about that now famous flag. An unsuccessful effort had been made to get a large banner. Failing in that a small national flag was sewed onto two yards of regular red and white bunting, so as to supply the starry blue corner. It was not an elegant fing, but it was the best that could be improvised. It was the "red, white and blue" with only forty-two stars. It floated over hundreds of union soldiers as loyal as ver followed that starry banner when the ever followed that starry banner when the nation's life was imperilled.

I claim to be of that number. I was of company E, Seventy-second filmols infantry, and am not totally unknown. I never uttered a disloyar sentiment in my life, I would sooner lose my right arm than to dishonor the flag and my country. I only wish that every soldier of Nebraska could hear or read that oratios, and then would liars and slanderers be put to shame. I do not presume they would all approve all that I said, but I do know they would find nothing disloyal or treasonable in it. More than that, that oration was written before it Bootns 6 feet 4 inches high, 32 mehes wide and 32 inches deep, made of cold rolled steel with two coats of paint inside and two coats of japan on the outside, with the patent fold-ing feature, $6 each for each compartment. Ballot boxes 19x12x13 inches, made of japanned tin, with patent slot closing device, $2.50 each, or boxes 21x12x14 inches, $3.50 such. Cards of instructions in lots of 1,000, than that, that oration was written before it was delivered, and while the delivery did not committee on court house and jail.

Judge Helsley petitioned that Boston
Green, a well known vagrant, be sent to his friends at Marshalltown, Ia. Referred to follow verbatim the written oration yet it was mainly the same throughout and did not contradict its tenor in a single utterance. I think it is infamous to be thus slandered. The Ord Quiz published that the stars had been cut from the flaz. This statement is wholly untrue. I am fully convinced that that paper would not correct that base slandar. the committee on charity.

Coroner Harrigan was on hand with his usual batch of bills. During the month of July his report showed that inquests on the following cases had been held; W. O. Boggs, Fannie Tate, George Bradley. William Methat paper would not correct that base slander though every man at Calamus were to testify as to its faisity. I do not blame my comrades for being indignant, but they have been deceived by a lying, slanderous, local press, aided and abetted by the State Journal. If the Grand Army of the Republic men, who had a right to be indignant, come to know that these wrongs have been partly propagated by Grand Army of the Republic men, who know they were disseminating falsehood and libel, what of them? Shall innocent, loyal and worthy Grand Army of the Fannie Tate, George Bradley. William McFarland, Oldia Schneider, Charles Keys and a female infant. He also had a bill of $2.50 for mileage, $4.50 for subprending witnesses and $4 for summoning jurors. The total, $91, was allowed. The witness fees for the mouth were $97, while the jury fees for the same poriod reached the sum of $101.

There were five bids for sloping the banks along the Park street line of the poor farm. They ranged from 19 to 25 cents per cubic yard for removing the earth.

The constables who served notices for the nocent, loyal and worthy Grand Army of the Republic men have such infamy heaped upon them partly by Grand Army of the Republic The constables who served notices for the board of equalization presented their bills. them partly by Grand Army or men, and there be no remedy!
