T. City.	Colonel Askwith's Mythical Imprisonment Causa an Investigation.
ER.	JUDGE M'GEE'S DIGNITY NOT SATISFIED.
	He is Bound to Have the De Facto Article - What Askwith and O'Neill Had to Say Yesterday.
ouse

Attorney Askwith was probably the most notorious man in Council Bluffs yesterday, the chief cause of his notoriety being the statement in yesterday's Bee to the effect that his imprisonment by Judge McGee some time ago for contempt was all a myth, he having been placed in the custody of his wife by Shariff O'Nelli, instead of occupying a bank in the county jail. The statement was made on the strength of Asking to with's own assertions, and was therefore entitled to considerable credence. At least Judge McGee thought so, for the first thing he did yesterday morning after reading Tith BEE was to go the office of Sheriff O'Neill for an explanation. He told the sheriff what the newspaper had said and asked him what he knew about it.

"Did Askwith say he wasn't in jail !" was the inquiry of the doughty sheriff. "No they say," said McGee.

"Weil, then, he's a d-d linr," And that was the end of Sheriff O'Neill's ay on the subject. Yesterday morning Askwith's friends met him on the street one by one and asked him about the story that was going the rounds, and they all united in telling him he had done a very foolish thing in making known the true state of affairs afternoon Askwith had come to the same conclusion, he havin heard that Judge McGee was making an in he having vestigation. He began to see visions of himself spending a day and a night behind the bars of the county jail, and it began to dawn upon his mind that possibly O'Neill might have to share the cell with him for a contempt of his own. From that time on his time was put in most industriously giving out the impression that he had been fooling when he made the statement to The Bkg reporter, and that his only motive had been to see to what extent human guilibility could be carried.

His anxiety to show up things in a differ-ent light, however, only served to make Judge McGee the more certain that the case would bear an investigation, and an investi-gation will be made during the next few days. If it shall be found that Askwith really spen that memorable night at his home instead of in the county jail, he will be put through the ordeal that he should have gone through several weeks ago. And if Sheriff O'Neill is found to have extended the limits of his notel so as to take in the remote cor ners of Oakland avenue it is possible that he city. may be called upon to lie over night in jail himself. Sheriff O'Neill was seen yesterday afternoon and an effort was made to find what he had to say about the matter. With the non-chalance of either a man with a chinch or else a man who has determined not to be a candidate for re-election, he replied that he was not editing a newspaper, and he did not care to talk. He will probably be given an opportunity to give his version of the case in the near future.

It Will b : a : trange Sale.

Think of it! A blanket sale in dog days, when the mercury is trying to climb out the top of the tube! Did you ever hear of such a thing? Yet that is just what Messrs, Fotheringham, Whitelaw & Co., the Boston Store people, are preparing for a surprise in the way of a special sale next week. During the early part of the season they purchased at a big' discount the largest stock of blankets and comforters ever brought to the Missouri valley, and just for the fun of the thing they are going to see how many people can be induced to buy such things for winter use, as they buy their leasures of the watering place and some of tem so much so that they will remain seval days.

The advisory board of the State Business Men's association met last night at the Millard hoter to consider the plan of sending a train-load of Nebraska products, accompanied by a good-sized delegation of energetic citizeas, through the east this fall to show the natives of the older states what the soil of this glorious young commonwealth can produce when it gets a fair chauce.

Activity in Boyd County.

BUTTE CITY, Boyd County, Neb., Aug. 13, [Special to THE BIE.] - Yesterday was a gala day for Butte City. It was the event ratifying the appointment as the county seat of Boyd county. The town was gally decorated with flying flags and streamers with appropriate mottoes. There were several thousand people on the ground, including large delegations from Atkinson, Stuart and other neighboring towns. The best of feel-ing prevails and all agree the county seat question is forever settled in Boyd county. The past week has been one of unusual activity. Thousands of feet of inniber are pried upon the ground for building and half a hundred new buildings will be under way within ten days.

Curronov, Neb., Aug. 13 .- [Special Tele gram to Tun BEE. |-Last night an informal reception and banquet was tendered Captain Penny, Captain Brown, the United States attle inspector, and Chief Clerk Comer of the Pine Ridge agency by the business men of Chadron to show the appreciation of the people for the manner in which the Indians have been governed since the outbreak. Captain Penny was highly complimented on his successful management of the Indians since becoming agent and the hope was freely expressed that he might be retained in office. The fear of Indians is a thing of the past and the ones who were most timid now feel perfectly secure and this is attributed to having a soldier as agent.

County Bridges.

An opinion was rendered by the attorney general yesterday in reply to a question asked by County Attorney J. J. Clark, at Mason City, with reference to the power of the county supervisors to use the county funds in building small townsnip bridges. He holds that the county supervisors are bound by law to construct only the larger bridges of the county with county funds, but may use their discretion as to whether or not to build the smaller bridges in that way. They may also use the county funds for grading approaches to the county bridges. He holds that the tax payers of a corporate town or city cannot be taxed to build culverts and township bridges outside of their municipal limits, except in such cases as those already noted. The question is of considerable importance, and there are no decisions of the points involved, but the decision of the attorney general is based on the provisions of the statutes.
