Excitement in Wheat Continued With Frequent Sharp Fluctuations.

PARTRIDGE SAID TO BE EMBARRASSED.

Prices Very Easily Influenced in Either Direction—Belief That an Eastern Clique is Manipulating the Trade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The excitement and nervousness in wheat was continued today with frequent sharp fluctuations, though the range was narrower than that of yesterday and the close somewhat lower. The business done was higher than during the past few days, chiefly because the bulls no longer bore care to risk much on their convictions. Their timidity in the early part of the session was largely the result of Partridge's action yesterday in allowing his short traders to be covered in the open market; traders were inclined to wait the clearing house statements to make sure that his checks in settlement of differences were paid. When it was known that he had responded with the necessary funds they breathed more easily, but there remained another deterrent shadow cast upon the market by the action of Partridge, who was alternately advancing and depressing prices. The absence of Partridge, whose dealings have out of a figure in the transactions of each day, also tended to make business light.

Prices were very easily influenced in either direction. The bears taking warning by Partridge's order to cover, were disposed to do much, would rush into the market and cover whenever there seemed to be any unusual movement in the way of buying and on the other hand the bulls would seem crazy to sell when the action of the market or any item of news seemed to indicate a momentary depression. New York started off cool and steady and covered in the afternoon. Clearances from all the ports yesterday and today have had a bullish effect, and Logan, White, Schwartz-Dupee and Comstock were in receipt of a large quantity of wheat from the New York account. December sold early at 1.00 1/2 and moved along up and in a short time sold at 1.00 1/4. The market began to get out of its early purchases for the New York account. The market was generally active and firm became an aggressive seller. Under his raising the market broke back to 1.00 1/4. He repeated the same operation, which was not part of it at all.
