Bases on Balls that Graduated into Runs-Denver Took the Second from Kansas City-Amatear Games.

Omaha, 6; Sloux City, 5, Denver, 6; Kansas City, 3.

Stoux Cirv, fu., Aug. 23 - | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The Omaha visitors took their revenge today, winning by a score in the ninth inning. It was a neck-and-neck, Greek-meet-Greek contest. The error coiumns are too full for strictly scientific playing, but the game was a very interesting one. It was for blood.

Meakin struck out many visitors, but be also gave too many bases. The visitors played with ginger and voracity, although at some periods their play was uneven and ineffective. Many of their errors were not serious.

The visitors scored in the first inning. Wright got to first base on balls and was advanced by Smith's bunt, on which he was thrown out. Then Wright scored on Genin's wild throw to third base, after which McGlone struck out and Dungan flew out.

In the third inning the visitors did a land office business. Hart got to first base on balls and to second base on a passed ball Wright got to first base on balls and Smith got to first base by being hit, filling the bases. Hart scored on Earl's overthrow to second base. Dungan got to first base on Morrisey's error and Dungan hit for three bases, scoring Wright, Smith and McGlone, McClelian was thrown out. Flanagan got to first base on balls, but was caught at second base. The score now stood 5 to 3 against the Huskers. But they pulled themselves together and made a strenuous struggle. Making one score each in the sixth and seventh innings, the Huskers tied the game.

The tie was still unsolved when the visitors took their half of the ninth inning. gan got first base on Strauss' error, Fields bunted out to Strauss, Walsh hit a single, and Hart got a base on balls, filling the bases. Then Wright made a hit scoring Flanigan. The game was honestly won by the visitors, but the tug of war will come tomorrow. Score:

Nonpariels Had Little Trouble Whipping the Orchards.

Pitcher Dolan's chief aim in yesterday's rame with the Nonpariol's was to punch a hole in the person of each of the batsmen as fast as they came to the plate. Besides he was very wild. The Orchards were no match for the Neupariels. They fielded poorly at critical points. McAuliffs had them well in hand and kept the hits down. Nelson's three-base drive was a feature. Lacey's throwing to and was ragged. Frank Mahoney's quick fielding of two hits in his pasture shut off runs where it seemed almost impossible to The Nonpariels were short both Jellen and Flynn. Jellen is attending the Bohemian turners meet at Milwaukee and Flynn is still nursing a sore ankle. The usual good crowd was out but the game was lacking in interest because the Orchards

Cranes Defeated at Blair. BLAIR, Neb., Aug. 23.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Bleir played the Crane company team here today and won "just as easy."

how Carrigan's colts were not in it today, although he promised to teach Blair bow to play ball. But the home team kept him too busy telling his men where the ball was going. Carrigan was in the box for the visitors, and the way the boys did hit him was a caution. To begin with the outfield was in a bad condition, the grass being too high. As Blair made two scores in the first inning by a lost ball and the Visitors made two in the fifth by the same means, hence neither side had any sinch on the account. The feature of the game was a long hit by Graver to the left field fence in the third inning, making a home and bringing in Halstead. Halstead, by the way, made three pretty singles, and Charley Tew played second base way up, making two very difficult pick ups. Husley made two long running fly catches which were difficult. Brott had which were difficult. Brott had on his pitching clothes. He struck out nine men and kept their hits scattered, so they were not effective.

The home team is talking of dispanding on account of poor patronage. The interest in baseball seems to be relaxing all over. Before it does, nowever, there will probably be a game played on the home grounds for benefit of the players who have played the season for no pay. If possible they want to arrange one for Labor day. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 28. - Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The game today between St. Paul and the Sugar Citys was a very one-sided affair, the locals defeating the visitors by a score of 18 to 5. Notes from Fremont FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 23 .- Special Tele gram to THE BEE.] -- Fremont has this year demonstrated itself to be a good baseoall town. It has uniformly given the best pat ronage of any town in the state. Fremont has caught its second wind on paseball. The depression coming from the six successive defeats has been overcome, and the team has struck its winning gait again, having captured the last five contests played, putting up better ball in all of them than has cen played at any time during the season.

The Fremonts have played thirty-ni The Fremonts have played thirty-nine games this season and won thirty of them, giving them a per cent of .769.

Fremont has so far made 254 runs against 166 by opponents.

Finch has been pitching winning bal lately, and promises to develop into a reliable man for the box. He is not so swift as Kimmell, but his curves are puzzlers.

Fremont won the symbathy of the grand stand at Heatrice last Thursday by insisting on going ahead when the umpire called the game on a tie at the end of the ninth inning.

It was called on account of darkness, but the sun was shining at the time.

With Kimmel, Finch and Stephenson for pitchers and Palmer and Taylor as catchers Fremont will always have a good reserve battery.

Frement's new men are Shortstop Gatewood from Sheboygan, Catcher Taylor of the Lincoln Giants and Pitcher Stephenson of Omaha—all first class players who make the team second to none in the state.

Hastings is scheduled to play here Monday and Tuesday. It will be for blood and revenge over the disputed game played by the vo clubs at Hastings three weeks ago. Finch and Patterson still lead in batting. The sluggers of the team had no diffiulty Fome on Wednesday. Omaha's reconstructed club will play the first home game of the new schedule here on Wednesday. It is no exaggeration to say that in the field Omaha is now fully as strong as before the wreck and is playing bail that is worth watching. Saturday's game at Sioux City was one of the tightest of the season, and was lost by a scratch. Sunday's was also very close and was honestly won by Omaha. The team has been strengthened in the pitching line since last here by the addition of McNabb of Denver and Hart of Duluth, both excellent men. "Rasty" Wright of Duluth is guarding right and hitting the ball some awful jolts. Me-Gione of Minneapolis holds down third and everybody knows how well he does his work. There is little reason why Omaha should not finish where she aimed to-in first place. At any rate she is making a strong bid for it. Shoux City is playing a strong steady game, however, and is dangerous. Kansas City's play is as irregular as it has been all season. There is no guessing what that team will do. Denver, too, is an uncertain quantity. The shaking up the Mountainers got last week did them a world of good, as their play shows, and while they may finish last, it is altogether reasonable to think they will come out with a better percentage than they now carry.

Go out Wednesday and show the boys your heart is not dead. They deserve your Help a Suffering Woman. About II o'clock last night Officer S. S. Drummy was called to the corner of Twelfth and Jackson streets to assist a woman who was sitting on the old church steps sobbing as if her heart would break. Beside her and with his arms around her sat the unfortunate woman's husband.

The woman was taken to the jail in the patrol wagon and placed upon the bed in the matron's room. Between her sobs she told this story:

"My name is Kleckner, and we have roomed with a Mrs. Brown at Fourteenth and Pacific. My husband is insale and is being treated by Dr. Koogh. He has been out of work for some time and we were behind in our rent and were thrown out. My husband wandered away yesterday. I found him, and as we had no place to go we walked the streets until 1 was nearly crazy with trouble and pain." Dr. Gapen was telephoned for but could not be reached. Dr. Lord was next tried, but did not want to come down. In lieu of a personal visit he directed the officers to give the woman a couple of morphine pills. This they decided not to do and Sergeant Whalen sent the patrol wagon for the police matron. For nearly an hour the poor woman lay there

When Mrs. Cummings appeared she went right to work and in less than half an hour had Mrs. Kieckner quietly sleeping. Pottsville, Pa., and the Surrounding Country Damaged by Water.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 23.-A fearful cloud burst broke over Pottsville this afternoon and the water poured down in torrents for an hour. The thunder and lightning were awful. The culverts were unable to carry off the water and some portions of the town were flooded. Fully 400 families were driven o the upper stories of their homes and their cellars and kitchens are filled with water and slimy mud. Cellars and stores are filled with water. Railroad tracks and streets were turned into rivers three or four feet deep and the raging torrents carried all sorts of goods and debris down to the Schuylkill river. Cars on the Reading & Pennsylvania road were moved by the flood and a passenger train on each road was and a passenger train on each road was blocked at St. Chair by the washing down of coal onto the tracks. The Reading train moved into the station with men ahead in water up to their waists clearing the track of lumber and rubbish. Several mills were flooded and fire engines were put to work pumping out the water in the cellars. Pavements were torn up and bricks and stones carried away. The damage is estimated at over $1,000,000. Reports from St. Clair, Port Carbon, Schuylkill Haven, Girardsyille, Minersyille and other points tell a story of devastation and damage by the rain and Union, Neb., Aug. 23 .- [Special to Till BEE.]-The third annual reunion of old settlers was held here yesterday, and no more enthusiastic celebration was ever held in eastern Nebraska. The attendance is estimated at about 4,000. The people of Union had made ample preparation to entertain the visitors. Music was furnished by Ma-riager's band from Nebraska City, the Union cornet band and the Avoca and Union glee clubs. An appropriate address of welcome was made by N. M. Alten of Union. Hon. S. M. Chapman of Plattsmouth was the orator of the day, and his address was full of eloquence and directed particularly to the early settlers of Cass county, of whom he took pride in saying he was one.

T. S. Allen of Lincoln delivered an eloquent address and received his share of applause. An appropriate address was also made by Dr. F. A. Simmons of St. Joseph. Plattsmouth as usual sent her large delegaion down and lent material aid in making it a success.

A fine game of ball in the evening was the attraction for hundreds of people, the contending clubs being Wabash and Union. The game was won by the score of 14 to 11 in favor of Union.

Hastings Happenings. HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 23 .- [Special to THE BEE. | -- W. C. Ridley, proprietor of the Buckeye hotel, and an old citizen, died yesterday afternoon of a complication of ailments. He was buried this afternoon, Rev. L. F. Britt, officiating. The Grand Army of the Republic post here, of which Mr. Ridley was a member, attended the funeral in a body. Last night was remarkably cold for this season of the year. A slight frost wilted tender vines, but in general no damage was done to crops. The ball fans of the city were thrown into spasms of delight when the news came that O'Day had been knocked out of the box. The body of Mrs. Julia A. Peabody, died of consumption, will be buried in Park-view cometery from the family residence, at Saunders and Fifth streets, Monday afterpon at 4 o'clock. Hastings college will open September 9, with every prospect of a large attendance. Next Friday night a mass meeting of the citizens will be hold in the opera house to discuss matters of public importance.

Drug Stock Closed Out. Table Rock, Neb., Aug 23 .- | Special to THE BEE. | - The stock of drugs belonging to Grav & Carman were sold teday under a chattell mortgage by G. R. Martin. The proceeds of the sale amounted to about $300 or less than half the sum called for by the mortgage. It is doubtful whether the drug store will be opened again.

Flooded the Cellar. About 5 o'clock vesterday afternoon a large water pipe, leading from the main into Paxton & Gallagher's store, burst. In a few minutes the cellar was flooded to a depth of a foot or more, and considerable damage done to the stock stored there.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Garrow Opera company opened an eight weeks season last evening at the Grand to a very large an appreciative audience. Long before 8 o'clock all the seat in the house were sold, and about 500 people were tůrned away.

Balfe's beautiful lyric opera, "The Bohemian Girl," captured the audience from the start, and throughout curtain calls were numerous. Considering that it was the initial performance the presentation was excel-lent indeed. Charles H. Drew in the role of the rollicking Devilshoof, chief of the Gypsies, made the hit of the evening. He sang his part magnificently, and his comedy work, especially the last act, was most fin ished. He proved himself to be one of the cleverest comedians now before the public, Laura Clementa is a charming artiste, pos sessing a voice of gare sweetness and range.

As Arline, the count's daughter, she me with very flattering success. Her rendition of "I Dreamt (Dwelt in Marble Halls" was simply exquisits; and received encore after John E. Brand gave an artistic and dignifled performance of Count Archeim, singing "The Heart Bowed Down" in his own superb way. Besides possessing a beautiful voice, he is likewise a very clever actor, possessing a empirating stage appearance.

Henry Hallam was pleasing in Thaddus, and his fine tenor voice revelled in the musical measures of the rule. Miss Clara Cornish as Queen of the Gyp-sies falled to do the part justice, though at times she showed glimpses of true histronic and vocal ability.
Mr. J. C. Polend's interpretation at Flor estine, the could's nephew, lacked verve and

Mr. Jesse Jenkins and Miss Lillian Swain did meritorious work. The chorus numbers thirty people, and considering that it was the inaugural eveng did fairly good work. Stage Manager Maurice Hegerman and Musica Director Fred Siminson are to be felicitated upon the splendid dressing, staging and ac-companiments of the opera. All in all, last evening's presentation was a veritable treat for all lovers of the ever old, ever new beautiful opera, "Bohemian Girl."

Brewers in Session. Sr. Louis, Mo., Aug. 23.-At 10 o'clock this morning the Brewers' union met in national convention at Central hall, this city. The only business transacted, was the election of John Beentold of St. Louis as president protem, and John Palmer secretary. The calling of the roll of delegates and the presentation of credentials was concluded the convention is to arrive at some settlement regarding the bovectt on the Annauerr Busch and Lemp breweries by a local union. The boycott has been enforced for two years, but it is expected the managers of these conerns will make an amicable settlement with the union during this convention. Tomorrow's session will convene at 9 o'clock. All the delocates have not arrived, but are expected tomorrow evening.

SMUGGLED BY RESORTERS.

Kingston, Ont., Merchants Profit Greatly by Illegitimate Trade. Kingston, Out., Aug. 23. -There is a good teal of smuggling going on along the St. Lawrence river, and it is mostly done by the summer resort visitors at the Thousand Island resorts. There are customs officers at Cape Vincent, Clayton, Thousand Island Park, Alexandria Bay and Westminster Park, but Uncle Sam is cheated out of a good share of the duties. Kingston receives the penefit of this smuggling trade. Summer visitors at these resorts go to Kingston on an excursion steamer which makes the trip daily, and they are given from two to four daily, and they are given from two to four hours to see the sights of the town, A good share of the excursionists take advantage of this time and go shopping. They return to their summer home on the same boat that carries passengers from Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg trains, and are unmolested by customs officials, who cannot determine in most cases whether they are Kingston everytopists or whether they are Kingston excursionists or passengers from American towns. Officers do their duty and prevent smuggling as far as possible, but at least three out of five of the excursionists have packages of goods

LOST HEAVILY IN WHEAT.

George J. Osborne of Milwankee Suicites by Drowning.

St. Patta Minn. Aug. 23.-On Friday night the body of a well dressed man was found floating in the river near the city and taken to the morgue. The body remained unidentified for two days, though a detailed description of it was published in all the papers. This afternoon it was recognized as the remains of George J. Osporne, superintendent of the Milwaukee company's vator in Minneapolis. Mr. Os mysteriously disappeared nearly a week ago and until this evening no clue had been obtained as to his fate or whereabouts. His sudden disappearance naturally aroused suspicion and an investigation into his affairs was ordered. far as known there are no grounds for assuming that Mr. Osborne did not leave his business affairs in perfect order. The fact, how-ever, that two ten pound stones were found in the pockets of his coat clearly indicating suicide, and it is considered as a suspicious circumstance. Mr. Osborne is well known. It is said that during the recent flurry he got caught and for quite an amount. This is largely conjectured, however.

WILL BENEFIT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 23. - The Proposed Cotton Rates Will Boom the Cresent City.

Picayune's Dallas, Tex., correspondent telegraphed the following: A dispatch from Austin says that cotton rates proposed by the Texas railway commission will have the effect of turning the fotton from Galveston to New Orleans. In respect to the practicability of the change, the concensus of unprejudiced opinion is that New Orleans possesses manifold ad-vantages over Galveston for handling ocean freight, possess deep water, is more centrally located than any other south ern port and has several more trunk lines of railways, two of which pierce the heart of Texas, and could quickly deliver freight each way at equitable rates. In short, a great future awaits New Orleans. This is the direct result of the Texas railway commission. It and the Texas alien land law gotten through the last legislature by the instrumentality of the farmers' alliance. Now the hurtful effects of both are being

MOLTKE AS A CHILD'S NURSE.

An Incident in the Life of the Great General of Germany.

From the German: In the great Bavarian city of Rosenheim there was great excitement one Sunday in June, 1882. Emperor William I, accompanied by Prince Bismarck and Count Moltke, alighted at the hotel Kaiser Bad.

Among the many who streamed through the streets to the illuminated notel was a girl of about 21 years, leading a 4-year-old boy by the hand. She, too, wanted to see the emperor, but was more anxious to see the celebrated general, under whose glorious command two of her brothers had fought. In vain she looked about for a safe shelter for her ittle brother; painfully she battled her way through the crowd. In the vicinity of the hotel, where it was shut off by the police, her glance fell upon an old man. She was puzzled about his uniform, whether he was a "financier, or a railway official. She thought: will leave the boy with him," and the next moment she made a neat bow to the old gentleman, pressed a gold piece into his hand, and said: "Say, Financier, will you be kind enough to keep this little boy with you? shall return in half an hour. I would like to look at that Moltke."

Before the old gentleman could reply the pretty girl was gone. Little Francel was terribly frightened. Finally the little fellow became quiet, and his nurse held a watch to his ear and promised

Meanwhile the Alpine girl battled her way through the crowd. She bowed to Bismarck and threw kisses to his venerable majesty, but the expected one, Count Moltke, did not appear. With a disappointed countenance she returned to her little brother's nurse. "Thank God, that you are here with my Franzel! Do you know, Financier, the newspapers lie. They said Count Moltke was coming, and he didn't "Do you know, girl, the newspapers lid not lie. Moltke is here in the city.

Of course, people do not know him, and that is the reason he is not seen. "He is here," the girl sighed, strok ng Franzel's blonde curls. "O, dear! the prettiest Alpine roses I would give

I could see the general. "Good!" said the old gentleman, cheerully, and he took a card from his pocket and on it wrote several words. with this note come to the hotel tomor row morning at 9 o'clock. I'll will warcant you that with this you will gain admittance to the field marshal. But do not forget the Alpine roses."

"Is it really true!" asked the Well, I shall try, but if you have fibbed to me, Financier, I will scratch your eyes out when I meet you. Here is a wanzgerl Buy yourself a measure of beer with it; but, listen, don't get drunk! Now, God bless you! Good

With a pleasant smile he left with his ich gift. Punctually at 9 o'clock the next morn ng the Alpine girl stood in the doorway of the hotel equipped with an imnense bunch of flowers. With smirking countenance the adjuant in waiting took the card, and Veva followed him up the stairs to the salon where the general was quartered. After a short announcement by the officer the door opened, but at that very moment, as Vova entered she dropped her flowers and screamed: "Holy mother and St. Jo—" for she tood before the man who had taken care of naughty Franzei, and he was the commander-in-chief in full uniform and dorned with orders. "Won't I be hanged?" asked Veva, when she had recovered from her first right. "Sir general, is it really true? could not help that I did not know Moltke smiled and reached out his hand to her. "Fear not, little one," he said. "It is all right. Thanks for your flowers and I will give you this dollar. Franzel played with it yesterday.

With a gracious smile Veva was dismissed. The dollar is still a hallowed token in her family. Count Moltke often related with pleasure how he earned 70 pfennings as a child's nurse.

Do Right for Right's Sake. Dr. Abram S. Isaacs in Harper's Young People: Great was the alarm in the palace of Rome. The empress had lost her costly diadem, and it could not be found. UNJUSTIFIABLE, UNCALLED FOR KILLING.

Firemen Tell Their Story of the Affair, Which Throws a Different Light Upon It-It Was Murder.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.-Two firemen of the Obdam who were eye witnesses of the shooting of the fireman who has, in all accounts, been called Duher, but, who they say was named Blum, today told their story of the occurrence in a Hoboken hotel. Their names are John Royer and Carl Persyn. Rover told the story in English and said:

"There are only three of us firemen left who saw the shooting. Blum was sick, he had not eaten anything for two days and could not stand his work. He went to the forecastle and sat down. Chief Engineer Bolt came to him and asked him if he would not go to work. Blum replied that he was sies and could not go to work. Chief Boit told him that he could go to the hospital. Blum said that he did not want to go to the hospital, but when he felt better would go to work again. Later the captain came to see Blum. The latter was sitting with his elbow on the table his head resting in his hand. The captain asked him the reason he did not want to go to the hospital? Blum answered: 'As soon as I feel better I will go to my work again.'

'Well,' said Captain Baker, 'you must go to the hospital.' Blunt spoke up, 'I won't go to the hospital; I will go to my work again as soon as I am a little better.'

"As soon as Blum finished his sentence Captain Baker whipped out a revolver from his sleeve and pointing it at Blum said: 'In the name of the king,' and fired. "After the shot struck him Blum eried

WIND AND WAFE.

Rough Weather Experienced by a Vessel Cattle Laden.

LONDON, Aug. 23 .- The steamer Loch Lowand (British), Captain Stephen, cattle laden, from Montreal August 7, which has arrived at Dundee, experienced severe hurri canes during the voyage, and the weather encountered was so bad that the men were unable to approach the cattle for two days. Seventy-seven head of cattle were lost and scarcely one head escaped injury. There was a sickening scene as the vesse was discharging her cargo, a number of butchers being busily engaged several hours in killing cattle on board the steamer and in the quay

The British steamer Dehomia which had on board a consignment of powder was completely shattered by an explosion. She was beached at Vigo where she was burned. Her crew were saved.

WAY IS 11?

Police Seem to Have One Sauce for Geese and Another for Ganders. Last night Officer Russell found a young nan and woman in a room near Fourteenth and Douglas. They were dressed in nature's costume. The young man's father had suspected something, and asked the policeman to make the arrest. Russell caught the couple, and then telephoned the station asking what to do. He was told to take the girl to jail and let the young man go. Tais he did and last night an erring maiden wondered between sobs why she should be locked up and the man who enticed her from virtue's path should go scot free. It is one of the in-
