Stoux City, In., Aug. 24 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The Huskers again went down today before the stalwart Omahas. The home team had vowed revenge for yesterday's experience, and betting was free that the green earth would be duly mopped with the visitors and a strenuous effort was

It was in the sixth inning, after a good deal of hard luck that the tables were suddealy turned. McGlone got a base on balls, but was crowded off at second by Dungan. McClellan hit a fine one to right field and then Flannagan getting a base on balls the bases were full. Thereopon Shields knocked a three-bagger. It was a long, high fly and although Swartwood got under it and claimed it got in the sun, the material fact remains that he did not save the fly, and the bases were cleared. Fields scored on Walsh's

OMAHA'S PROSPECTS.

Chat About the (lub and the Outlook for the Season.

The Western association is now hard at work on a four club basis, and will undoubtedly finish the season in this form. The Omaha's will return Thursday morning from Sioux City, and in the afternoon meet the Kansas Citys in the first of a series of four gemes-the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th. On September 1, 2, 3 and 4 Denver will be here and on the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th the Sioux Citys. Until Saturday Manager Leadley was the next thing without pitchers, but now has McNabb, Hart and Stein, and be considers the team as strong as any in the association. Until recently the boys have been hitting well, and it was only poor work in the box that lost them so many games. In the last two games, however, the twirling has been superb, and there is but little doubt but what the Lambs will quickly pick up in their stick work again. Anyway it is safe to guarantee good ball, and the public, who are nore or less interested in the crub's fortunes for another year, will likely strain a point in giving it good support for the balance of the season. In Manager Leadley Omaha has a manager she can feel proud of. He is an

The Lincoln merchanis who have loaned him thousands of dollars are unxious to know if they are to be paid the money due them, but I ave has nothing to say.

Western Lines Again Resorting to Schemes to Down Finley.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 24.-The Indiana, Illinois & Iowa road has made application for membership in the Western Freight association. Ordinarily this would not be remarked as a circumstance worthy of special mention, since the line in question is simply a short link forming a connection between certain eastern and western roads. But considering the stir that was recently occasioned by the alleged manipulation of through rates via this connecting link, a peculiar significance is given to the event. A few months ago some of the Chicago great bulk of through freight between the Missouri river and eastern points was being diverted to the Peoria route, via the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa road. The latter line, being in a position to exact a division of the through rate both from its eastern and its western connections, was found to be receiving at least double pay for the service performed. The complaint was that it used a portion of this money to influence shippers, thereby securing busi-ness by the manipulation of rates. Not being a member of any association it was not subject to the rules and regulations that govern other roads, but Chairman Midgley issued an order to the western connection of the Indiana, illinois & Iowa directing them to cancel their joint tariffs with that line on Missouri river traffic. The roads chiefly affected by this order were the Burlington and the Athison. Both refused to obey it. An appeal was taken to the board of commissioners of the Western Traffic association of which these companie are members, and the question was partially considered at the meeting of August 11. is to come up for final action at the next meeting of the commissioners, September 4. and there has been no question up to this time as to what the decision will be. The question to be decided is what divisions shall be made with roads not members of the Western Freight association in cases where such divisions are not within the jurisdiction of the joint commission. Foresceing the outcome of this agitation, the Indiana, Iowa & Illinois has taken steps to become a member of the association and so avoid the threatened punishment. There is little doubt that it has been advised to do this by the Bur-lington and Atchison and perhaps by the Chicago & Alton, those being the three roads

POSTPONED ACTION. The joint committee of the Trunk Line and Central Traffice associations has issued a circular announcing that the reductions in the east and west-bound freight rates, previously authorized on account of the change at Grand Rapids, will not become effective September 1, the date originally announced. The ma-jority of the Michigan lines, however, have already issued their tariffs, to go into effect on that date and will probably not consent to the delay. Chairman Blanchard has called a the delay. The shipments of flour, grain and provisions from Chicago to the seaboard by the ines in the Central Traffic association aggregated 20, 30 tons, against 18,160 for the pre-edding weak, an increase of 1,878 tons, and against 29,8,6 for the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 9,858 tons. Outlaw Sims of Alabama Defies the Whole United States. Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.-A telegram has been received at the Department of Justice from United States Marshai Walker of the southern district of Alabama, giving some meager detalis of the arrest and subsequent rescue of the outlaw Bob Sims, known is the "Alabama outlaw." Saturday night the marshal reported that Sims, who had been running an illicit still, defles both the federal and state authorities. He lives on the border between Alabama and Mississippi and has friends on both sides of the line.

Judge Taft, not clearly understanding the nature of the exact offense committed by Sims, telegraphed today to the marshal, ask-ing him if he held a legal warrant and for what crime. He is awaiting a reply before taking any steps, as he wishes to be sure whether the expense of organizing a posse, which is considerable, would be justified by the circumstances.

The Schuylkill river was mine feet above low water mark at 12 o'clock last night. At 7-a in the water had fallen to seven feet, and at 2 o'clock it was still five and one-half feet above low water mark. Consternation reigned supreme at the Bawman Eyangelical camp meeting near Mohrsville, this county. Lightning struck a number of trees and some of them in falling came dangerously near crashing upon the tents. A regular stream of water rushed through the woods and carried away bedding and furniture. Bishops Bowman and Esher of Chicago, who were present, said in all their experiences they have never witnessed such a storm at a camp neeting.

At the Philadelphia & Reading station this afternoon it was learned that the track be-tween Robsonia and the wreck at the culvert, west of Wernersville, has been tempo rarily remired, but no trains were permitted to leave Reading for the scene of the wreck, except the workinen's train. The passenger trains bound west are being held at the station in this city.

The washout where the freight train plunged into the culvert is 700 feet long and very deep. Several hundred passengers were compelled to around the slate, in the train compelled to spend the night in the train near the wreck. In this city one-fourth of the streets were under water. Hundreds of cellars were filled, sewers were choiced up, and in many houses the flood reached the first floors.

SAVED BY CHANCE.

Daring Attempt to Wreck and Rob a Train.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 24.-A daring attempt was made to wreck a train on the main line of the Illinois Central road vesterday. Had the northern bound accommodation train from Water Valley to Grand Junetion been going ten miles an hour faster there would have been an awful disaster. About seven miles north of Horly Springs, carpenters were repairing a bridge. As the north-bound train come in sight of the bridge the engineer noticed that one rall seemed to be unduly elevated. He quickly applied the air brakes, and reversed his engine. It was well he did. As the engine went on the bridge it was discovered that a piece of iron, known as a stirrup among bridgemen, had been securely fastened to the rail and would have thrown any train from the truck, Luckily only the front trucks of the engine lines began to protest that rates were not being maintained by certain of their competitors. The reason given was that the Word was soon sent along the road, and soon after a posse of men, with M. L. Brewer of Holly Springs at their head, went in pursuit of the perpetrators of the deed.

In the excitement of the narrow escape from being thrown with his train from the bridge into the water below, the engineer noticed two negroes sneaking away through the bushes. Suspicion was directed toward them. The posse heard of the negroes being seen in the vicinity and an accurate description was secured of both.

After a chase of several hours Mr. Brewer caught the two negroes. They gave their names as Will Frost and Will McDowell. ney were separated by the posse, and each said enough to implicate the other. They were confronted by witnesses and confessed to having done the deed. Frost said Me-Dowell had a large axe, which he intended to use for breaking open coaches in case of wreck.

The negroes were taken to Holly Springs Both have the reputation being hard characters and it is thought that they intended to wreck the train for the pur nose of robbery.

LET THE BRUTE DIE. Still Keeping Almy's Name Before the Public. HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 24.-Miss Jeannette Thomas, a relative of Prof. Pattee, whose connection with the Almy case has often been referred to, tells a story of a midnight visit received from the murderer July 15, two days before the murder of Christie Warden. This night Miss Thomas slept in the room usually occupied by Christie Warden when she stayed at the house of Prof. Pattee. She was aroused in her sleep by a noise in the room, when she sat up and asked who was there. Her throat was instantly grasped by a hand and a voice whispered: "Keep still; I'll not injure you."

The intruder then asked her if this was not Christie Warden's room, and where Christie was. Miss Thomas told him Christie had left the house in the afternoon. He demanded to know Miss Thomas' identity and then said

"I am the lover of Christie Warden. Her parents and sisters oppose my suit and I can-not see her at home."

He then said to nor: "Don't ever mention ee how it is. If it were known that any man had entered her chamber at night her repu tation would be blasted forever. You would not want to have that occur, now would you!" he asked with a sarenstic laugh. He then pressed a pistol against her breast and made her swear never to betray him. He then said he had been in the room before, and asked if the door was fastened. Miss Thomas knew by this that he was lying, as the door has no fastening on it. He then forced an object into her hand which proved to be a 44-call-bre revolver cartridge. He told her to guard it carefully and let it always be a reminder of her oath, for if she ever breathed a syllable f this affair he would kill her. The intruder then departed. Miss Thomas' story confirms a theory that and long obtained among those interested in the case, but was withheld from the public. Almy was wildly jealous of Prof. Pattee, and this jealousy was of the most cruel and unjust suspicion born, involving the professor and Miss Warden. This undoubtedly ac-counts for the midnight visit to Patter's house, where the murderer noped to find sub-stantial proof of his suspicions and went armed with his two revolvers prepared to kill both suspected persons.
