HELP FOR FOOLS WITH MONEY.

An Ordinance to Protect the Unwary From Auction Shop Swindlers.

SAMPLE SCHEMES OF THE SHARPERS.

Even the Police Can't Prevent the Rural Fish From Biting at Such Tempting Bait-The Schemes.

An ordinance that passed its first and sec ond readings at the last meeting of the city council, and bids fair to ultimately pass, is aimed directly at an auction shop, at the southeast corner of Eleventa and Farnam streets, and other places of like character that are now in operation in the city, or may hereafter open up.

The ordinance was drawn by City Prosecutor Cobb, and is designed to put a stop to a very lucrative system of getting something for nothing that has been practised in Omaha off and on for years, despite the earnest of-forts of the authorities to prevent it.

For weeks it has been a daily speciacle in police court to see one or more deluded aucpoince court to see one or more defined and tion shop victims appear with a worthless piece of jewelry and a tale of woe and ask some redress at the hands of the law for an imposition by which they had been ruthlessly held un for their hard earned money. Without exception the victims were labor-ing men, frequently foreigners, and men

Complaint after complaint was filed, chargon the proprietors of the farmametreet place with obtaining money ander false pretenses, but during an unfortunate defect in the laws it was idle went on as merrily as before. Of late, the prosecutor has refused to file complaints against the parties, knowing full well what the result would be, but has de-voted his energies to drafting an ordinance that will cover the case and be the means of utting a stop to the outrageous imposition. Reference to the state of affairs existing in nnection with this joint has en repeatedly made by The tag, but it seems almost impossible head off the guilible suckers who are und to fall into the net.

Matters are an exact counterpart of what they were four or five years ago, when the auction joints flourished like the old-time green-bay tree, and prosecutions were then as now, of no avail. The only way that the police had of breaking up the joints was to stand at the doors and warn all prospective victims of the nature of the business carried on, and almost by force prevent them from giving up their money to any member of the robbing gang.

It was the only means by which anything could be accomplished, but it was religiously adhered to and persisted in until the auction fakirs gave up in dispust.

Since that time there has always been more or less of the work going on in the city, but never since then has it assumed the bold stand that it maintains at present.

It is believed that fully fifty complaints have been made to the police within the past two months by parties who have been vic-timized at the leading auction joint, and some of them have been most flagrant outrages. The goods sold there are almost absolutely worthless, yet prices are obtained that tegiti mate dealers would be glad to receive for good articles.
Gaudy colored banners announce that

*$10,000 worth of unredeemed pledges are to be sold at public auction," and the method of doing business inside is something after this some article, for instance a watch, is held up by the auctioneer who states that it was pawned by a widow who had met with sad reverses since her husband's death and reduced from affluence to actual want. He feelingly tells of her terrible struggle to keep the wolf from the door, but sickness at last compelled her to sacrifice her jewelry, ized dearly for its association with happier days, to keep her little ones from starving. She was unable to redeem the property and now it must be sold. It is hard on the woman, but it is a glorious chance, the opportunity of a lifetime, for a prospective pur-The watch is worth $1: chair cost $15. Who wants both for $35. Of course, there is a buyer, and that means an other complaint to the authorities. The property would be dear at $1.75, and in two instances the alleged gold had begun to turn color by the time the victim reached the police station. They are "washed" goods and the thinest kind of a "wash" at What fools the purchaser is the apparent sincerity of the auctioneer. He guarantees the article, hands it around through the crowd for inspection and allows it to be taken into the pawn snop next door, where its value is invariably fixed at an exorbitant figure and the intending buyer assured that there is from $20 to $40 worth of gold in the Cappers are employed to draw in people and to mingle in the crowd, where by their bidding and apparent knowledge of the great bargains to be had they assist in getting the courage of the victim up to the point where he parts with his money.

Cases have been reported where the money hrs almost been taken out of the victim's pocket, and he has been confidenced when he pocket, and he has been confidenced when he had no idea of making a purchase. Two such cases were reported within the past week. One old gentleman who was roped in by a capper made no bid whatever, but a capper standing near him bid $15 for a watch which was knocked down at that figure. The capper at once insisted that the old gentieman was the one who made the bid, and despite his assertions to the contrary he was virtually forced to take the property. Such a hullaballoo was raised that he didn't dare refuse, and was scared into giving up what money he had, $6, for which he was given a receipt and told that when he returned with the remaining $9 the watch would be turned over to him. The $9 will never be paid. As soon as the victim reached open air he headed for the police station where he showed his receipt and wanted the sharks arrested, but evidence was lacking to secure a conviction and nothng could be done.

Another aged victim who poured his tale of wee into the ears of the police, said that the auctioneer told him that if he bought a watch, that was then being sold, for less than $15, he would take it off his hands and give him $1 for his bargain.

He bought the watch for $17, and was sent to the cashier, to whom he related the cir-cumstances, and was told that he must deposit $5 to bind the sale, and the auctioneer would be at the desk after a while.

After making another sale, the auctioneer appeared, and the buyer then asked him for $6—the $5 that he had paid the cashier and the $1 that he had been promised on certain conditions. had been promised on certain conditions. The seller then insisted that the victim must pay the whole $17, and he would then refund $1, and that was the end of another deal, as the loser saw he was out $5, and at once shouldered his loan of grief and headed for

These are but samples of cases that have become monotonous to the authorities, and the out growth is an ordinance that provides penalty for any auctioneer or any one else who shall obtain any money from another by deceit, imposition or misrepresentation of facts that is calculated or intended to mislead or deceive.

In the meantime theofficers are doing their utmost to protect the guilible ones, and so infakirs that they watch the patrolman on the beat, and run in a victim or two while the officer is at the other end of his beat, and suspend operations while he is near at

A liberal estimate of the value of the tire contents of the ramshackle building would be $25. The more we near of Gus Thomas' new play, "Alabama," in the hands of Mr. A. M. Palmer's New York company, the more convinced we are that Mr. Boyd has made just the proper selection for the opening attraction for the new theater. It has been many years since any company or any play has received such universal plaudits from both the press and the people as the Palmer company in "Alabama" has during its present engage ment in San Francisco. The critics pronounce the performance simply perfection, and the performance simply perfection, and refer to it only with superiative adjectives. The play treats of southern life and is of very high literary form. The company includes the following weil-known artists: Messrs. Maurice Barrymore, J. H. Stoddart, E. M. Holland, Charles L. Harris, Edward Bell, A. S. Ables, Walden Ramsay, Reab Fax, and Miss May Brooklyn, Miss Emily Seward, Miss Agnes Miller and Miss Nannie Craddock. Promptiy at 9 o'clock next Monday the sale of seats for the entire engagement will commence, and from the present ment will commence, and from the present indications no advance sale of theatre seats that has ever been made in Omaha will equal it. For such an important event the prices are fixed at a very moderate rate. Seats on the entire first floor and in the first three rows of the balcony will be $2 each; seats in the remainder of the balcony, $1.50 each; parquet boxes, $15 each.

Country People Interested in the Advertising Train.

Mr. Loran G. Clark, a prominent mer-chant of Albion, and president of the Albion branch of the State Business Men's association, is in the city.

In conversation with a BEE reporter yesterday Mr. Clark said all the people in Boone county were enthusiastic over the projected exhibition of Nebraska products by means of a special train to be sent through the eastern states. The local branch of the Business Men's association has the matter in charge and Mr. Clark stated that he had had no trouble in collecting all the money necessary to pay his country's quest of the expenses.

"The time is ripe for inducing immigration," said Mr. Clark. "Our state was never in better condition and the people in our county realize that fact. We intend to send a well posted man from our place and load him up with plenty of advertising matter." "Don't you think it would do as well to send five or six men to represent the whole state instead of one from each county?"

"By no means," answered Mr. Clark quickly. "The people out our way wouldn't ontribute a cent to any such plan as that What we want is a man to boom our county. This thing is going to be one of the best things ever done for the state. The larger towns have had their boom and now we little fellows are going to catch it. Walnut Hill Citizens Add Zest to the Chicken Stealing Club's Campaign. The half dozen members of the Omana Chicker Stealers' club, accompanied by two colored professionals embarked on a Walnut Hill motor about 11 o'clock Tuesday night to go on one of their periodical raids.

Before they had rambled over the hill an hour the outfit managed to get themselves severely disliked.

At one place where the professionals were coaching their crew they ran against an obstacle in the shape of a couple of double barreled shot guns with a good sized man be-hind each set of triggers.

The gues and a couple of dogs were turned loose on the chicken fanciers and they flew. A dozen or more shots were fired at the flying chicken thieves but all went wide of their mark. Not so with the dogs though, their teeth had been recently filed and when they finally gave up the chase each had a portion of a pair of checkered pantaloons hanging to their mouths.

The club managed to get back to town with a bag full, evidently filled at some coop not protected with oranance.

There have been several previous attempts to introduce corn for food consumption into England, but not knowing how to cook it the natives have never taken kindly to it, generally using it for animals. Mr. Dawson is very familiar with the various large towns in Great Britain, and he is confident, Mrs. Dawson says, of making a great success of the enterprise. CASH FOR WORTHLESS SAND-BAR LOTS.

Very Smooth Scheme of a Very Smooth Man Discovered Almost by Accident-What He Was Doing.

To an enterprising Omahan, who is said to be quite a prominent individual and way up n secret society circles, is attributed the responsibility for working a scheme in Denver that came very near filling somebody's pockets before the people out in the mountains tumbled to the true state of affairs without paying a big price for the optical teething experience that costs some folks a pretty sum.

The swindle is admirably conceived to catch careful business men and the basis of the whole scheme is the fact that there is an addition to the city of Omaha in Douglas county known as Deer Park. This addition lies between Fifteenth and Twentieth streets, just south of Vinton street; in fact the northwest corner of the addition touches Twentieth and Vinton. It is a valuable tract of land, is passed by the South Omaha electric line, and lots there have a bona fide value of $1,000 to $1,400

The game of the swindlers is this: They attempt to trade Deer Pack lots for any Denver property that is worth anything at al. The point to whole transaction is that the Deer Park lots that they talk so glibly about are not in Douglas county at all, but in Sarpy county, and is an addition laid out near the Missouri river, and with no rapid transit line anywhere near it. It is a long way out from the very out-side additions to the city of Omaha, where ots are on the market at $75 to $100 each; is three miles, as the crow flies, from the cen-ter of South Omaha, and is six miles by any available route from the other Deer Park, yet the enterpris-ing realty dealers implicated in the scheme are endeavoring to unload this

solated property at the modest sum of $1,400

On the deeds purported to be given for this property the land is described as being in the southwest quarter of the northwest in the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 18, township 14, range 14, and it is mentioned in all honesty that it is in Sarpy county, but no abstract is allowed to get out of the hands of the promoters for legal examination. A fine map of Omaha is left with the holder of Denver property, on which he readily fluds Deer Park addition, which he proudly imagines to be the spot where he is going to own lots. The Sarpy county Deer Park is not marked as platted at all. Some idea of its value may be gained from the fact that an addition known as the B. & M. terrace, that is over a mile nearer the M. terrace, that is over a mile nearer the city and right on the line of the B. & M. railroad, was regarded in Omaha as a swin-

It is not known whether or not the Omaha nen are aware of the deception that is being practiced in Denver, but it is asserted by those who have investigated the matter at the other end that the only abstract of the property is a fake, a portion of it being new and fixed up with a scrap heading of an old

The fact is patent that a fraud is at least being morally attempted, and the matter has been laid before District Attorney Stevens of Denver. Owing to the difficulty and expense of securing evidence and witnesses from so long a distance, it is not probable that the case will find its way into the Colorado counts, but it is certain that the publicity given the case will result in the falling through of several deals that were on foot, and which have resulted in much valuable Denver and surrounding property being exchadged for land of comparatively little value on the banks of the Missouri in Sarpy county.

HARVEST EXCURSIONS.

They Meet with Popular Favor and Are Well Patronized.

The influx of harvest excursionists is very heavy and the west-bound trains on all the roads were packed to the full limit of their capacity both Tuesday and yesterday. Many of the trains are run in two or more sections on account of the large increase in travel. These people come from the central states, principally Illinois and Indiana, and a fair proportion of them are ticketed to Nebraska Yesterday was the last day for travel on the first excursion. Two more excursions will be run, on September 15 and 25. Both of these are expected to be much larger than the first

The tickets used on these excursions are good for thirty days but the purchaser must have it stamped before using it on the return After being stamped the ticket is only good for continuous passage one day from date of stamp. The railroads hope by this means to shut out the scalper in the manipulation of these tickets, and they will no doubt succeed in depriving the scal-pers of a large part of the profits which would otherwise come to their net. It will e impossible to use the tickets from inter mediate points, as they are only good for continuous passage, and if a passenger stops at any point the ticket becomes worthless beyond that point. It is highly prob-able, however, that the ingenious scalper will find some way to beat the railroads with these tickets.

The Metropolitan Company Will Ask Again for a Franchise.

The new ordinance introduced to the Council granting a charter to the Metropolitan Street Railway company was yesterday passed into the hands of the committee on viaducts and railways and the city attorney. It provides for the calling of a special election to allow the electors to vote upon the question of the charter. It also provides that the company shall have the right to enter upon each and every street in the city ccupied by the Omaha Street railway The council reserves the right to say what streets shall be occupied by two or more The power may be mule, horse, electric or cable. Work shall be commenced within ninety days after the franchise is granted and within eighteen months from that date three miles of road shall be constructed and in operation. On May 23, 1929, the franchise shall revert to the city and the Metropolitan company shall have the first opportunity of buying the same.

The three men practically agreed that a consolidation would ne necessary, and then election booths were

OMAHA, Aug. 26,-To the Editor of THE BEE: A recent issue of your paper contains what purports to be a report of a meeting between myself and a committee of the city council which should be corrected. Mrs. Witten, wife of William Witten of the Union stock yards force, has gone to What I said to the committee was:

1. That the Union Depot company had no funds at this time with which to complete the depot plant. 2. That if we had the money in our treasury the work could not be resumed until the pending injunction suit was decided or with-3. That if the legal obstacles were removed I had no information that would warrant me in assuring them when, if at all, the depot would be completed in accordance with the present plans.

4. That as the stock of the depot com pany was owned equally by the Union Pacific and Burnington companies and the money for prosecuting the work must be furnished by them, I would have to refer the committee for such information to the presidents or other head officials of those com panies.

Nothing was said in this meeting about the diversion to other uses of funds realized from sale of the depot company's bonds or other depot funds. No such diversion has been nade, and in fact no bonds have been issued by that company. No promise was made or implied by me that work would be resumed if the injunction suits were dismissed and of course there was no refusal by the committee to secure such dismissal 'until work has been actually and carnestly commenced on the depot structure and assurances given that there will be no further delay in the completion of the I will add in conclusion that I did not tender my services to the committee to meet Mr. Gould and bring him to a conference- in Omaha.

Thomas L. Kimball.
I concur in the above statement of facts relating to the recent needing of our committee with Mr. Kimball.
