ALL GOING WITH THE TRAIN.

Nebraska Counties Enthusiastic Over the Scheme to Advertise the State.

SOME OF THE REPORTS SENT BY THEM.

Rapidly Pushing the Work of Organization and Preparing Exhibits to Send Through the East.

General Secretary Hockins of the Nebraska State Business Mon's association is in receipt of many encouraging reports from various points in the state concerning the train which will be sent through the east to advertise Nebraska. The train idea was conceived by Mr. Hodkins, and his society has taken hold of it with a vigor that has already insured its success. The following county reports have been prepared from the correspondence on the subject received by the general secretary:

Antelope county writes for information and says it proposes to do its part. Adams county reports that it will fall in line and expects to furnish a good deal of extra advertising matter.

Buffalo county is to the front as usual with all enterprises. The local branch is co-operating with the Real Estate exchange of Kearney and proposes to raise $275 for advertising matter. The smaller towns in the county are are all taking hold of the matter and will cooperate with the county seat as all counties

Butler county, with David City in the Butler county, with David City in the center, and nearly all the towns organized, expects to be able to help, and has got up steam already. They expect to show that Butler county is the center of attraction, and located in a good section of the state. Let every county remember that the main object of this advertising train is to show Nebraska in her true light and prove that it is as it should be, the greatest agricultural is as it should be, the greatest agricultural state in the union. Boone county will respond with its proporionate amount toward the fund for expenses of the advertising train of Nebraska pro-ducts. So writes Loran Clark, president of the Albion local branch. Another county is added to the list. If anyone doubts that the advertising train is going to start he would better read over the list of counties reported. Cass county is going to be well represented. They expect to make a good display of fruits, H. N. Dovey, second assistant secretary, and S. S. English, chairman of the state trade committee, both living in this County ensures success.

Cuming county reports through M. O Gentzke, third assistant secretary of the state association, and L. F. Chubbuck, president of the West Point local branch, that they have already raised $175 and will probably double that amount for extra advertising matter. The different committees from each town in the county meet on this Thursday at Beemer to make full arrangements and elect their delegate.

Colfax county held a very interesting meet-ing last Thursday evening. Mr. Rosenberg of the Schuyler local branch said there was no question but what they will do their part. Custer county comes to the front by orranjazing all their towns into local branche bis week. Edward Pickett, state organizer reports that they will be well represented and will have one of the finest displays that and will have one of the finest displays that can be shown in the state.

Dawson county reports through K. K. Kennan of the Gothenberg Water Works Investment company that they will be glad to co-operate with us in this undertaking and will perfect arrangements at an early date.

Deduc county is making full arrangements Dodge county is making full arrangements with all the towns in the county. H. J. Lee, treasurer for the general fund, promises that Dodge county will do its share toward advering that portion of the state to perfection.

Douglas county will raise its $600 besides furnishing an unlimited amount of advertis ing matter showing up the manufacturing interests of Omaha and the resources of the county.

Frontier county says: "Are we in it!"
The Curtis Courier comes out with blazing head lines stating that Frontier county will cortainly be in it. They have called a meeting to be held in Curtis Saturday, August 29, at 2 p. m., to consider the project. They have extended an invitation to Stockville, Eustis, Maywood and Moorefield, also every precinct outside of the places named to be in Curtis on the above date to help perfect plans to on the above date to help perfect plans to the country of the places of the pl on the above date to help perfect plans to-ward having Frontier county represented on the advertising train, and with a pusher like S. They have already held a special meet-ing and are getting the work started, but owing to the reunion progress cannot be re ported until about September 10. Holt county, as usual, was the first to re spond. They are making full arrangements and offered the advisory board any amount of money from $800 to $2,500 to let them send a car along direct from their county. But after understanding that each county would have space in the cars and a delegate to represent each county and advertise it, they shook hands with the board, bade them good-by and said: "We will be with you."

Kearney county never was benind in any enterprise and is making arrangements to send a delegate with the train to represent their interests. It already has six men in the east advertising the county and encouraging people to come west on the harvest excursion this fall and visit the county. Knox county never was known to be outdone in anything, and proposes to show on the advertising train that the northern part of the state is equal to any portion of it. Lancaster county is going to be ably rep cancaster county is going to be any represented. As the capital of the state is located in this county, every business man should be interested in having a good representation. The matter was left with the executive committee of the Lincoln local branch with full power to act and we can all expect Lincoln to do her part. Merrick county, although one of the smallest counties, will get there just the same. It is proposed to bring the matter before the Agricultural society and make full arrangements through it assisted by the local branches. H. M. Kokjer writes us that if the train goes he thinks we can count on Merrick county without a doubt.

Otoe county, besides being one of the pest counties in the state for small grain, proposes to prove by the advertising train that fruits of all kinds can be raised in Nebraska as well as any other state and committees have been appointed in nearly all the towns to make full arrangements to have Otoe county fully represented in every respect.

Polk county has already appointed a committee to correspond with the different towns in the county, and the Osceola branch has not only guaranteed that it will raise the money for the general fund but will furnish advertising matter besides.

Saline county is getting there also. The Tobias Tribune has started the pall to rolling with a good editorial, showing the advan-tages to be derived through the advertising train. The larger towns in the county should certainly co-operate with Tobias and belp perfect arrangements so that the county will be fully represented.

Thurston county, being limited to Pender to set in this matter, believes that it would be almost impossible to raise the necessary money. It is advised that no county fail in this matter, for on every hand the state board is congratulated in this undertaking and everyone says that it will be the greatest card for Nebraska that was ever known, and as "in union there is strength," let each county do its part,

Washington county knows when it sees a good thing, or the Keeley institute would never have been established. Same with the advertising train. F. H. Webster county was the first to send credentials certifying that M. R. Bentley of Red Cloud was duly elected to represent the county on the advertising train. This county, not being organized, arrangements were made with the Agricultural society together with the citizens and they are already raising their money and perfecting plans for their exhibit. As fast as delogates are elected their credentials should be made out according to form already published in the State Business Men's Association Journal, and sent to the general secretary at Omaba. Money Under a Sidewalk. Captain Mostyn is the possessor of $6 more than he knows what to do with. Workmen were busy yesterday remov ing some old wooden sidewalk at the corner of Tenth and Harney streets, and as one section was raised, a boy who was looking on discovered the money-a $1 and a $5 bitlrolled up in a wad. He was about to pocket it, when an Italian, who was sitting on his loorstep near by, rushed up and took the money away from him, claiming that it was his property. The boy sought a policeman, who took the cash away from the dago and sent it to the station. Thither Airs, Dago sent it to the station. Thither Mrs. Dago wended her way shortly afterward and laid caim to the money as her property. She knew that it belonged to her, because when she went to bed last night she placed $10 under her pillow. The money included a $1, a $5 and two $? bills. This morning the roll was missing, and she concluded that the noney found must therefore be her property. although the two $2 bills were still missing, Captain Mostyn and the city prosecutor de-cided that the boy was entitled to his find until the rightful owner could establish his claim, but the prosecutor declared that the captain had no right to turn over to the boy money he had taken from some one without the permission of the latter. So it happens that Mostyn is still holding the cash, and al-though soveral of the habitues of the station and police court have endeavored to have him
