Chicago Elevators Not Pooled -Bankers Endorse Foster's Plan-Earmony With a Vengeance-Another Baseball Deal.

CRICAGO BUREAU OF THE BEE, ? Cmicago, Ill., Aug. 28. George A. Mulzer is the name of a St. Louis man who has evolved a remarkable plan for the construction of a system of narrow-gauge roads extending from St. Louis to New Orleans, Albuquerque, N. M., and the farming lands of Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and nearly all the western states. This system is to be known as the "Farmers' Railroad of Missouri and the Southwest," But it takes cash, and much of 1t, to build railroads. Mulzer evidently is not prepared to advance all the cash necessary, and so he kindly offers to let the Chicago & Alton road advance enough to commence the work of construction. The remainder is to be raised by selling shares of stock to farmers and by disposing of the land along the railroad right of way. Passengers will be carried out at a rate as low as one half cent per mile, while freight will be transported at cost. Part of the scheme is the establishment of what Mr. Mulzer calls a "Scientific Railroad bank," paying 5, 534 and 6 per cent for two, five and six year deposits, to be used only as mortgage loans on two and one-half foot gauge railroads with an estimated business of at least 500 tons a day per mile, at not more least 500 tons a day per mile, at not more than $1,000 per mile, the bank publishing monthly a printed report of deposits and security, so that every depositor can control the business. So far Mulzers' scheme has not been adopted by the Alton. ELEVATORS CLOSE COMPETITORS.

report has been started that all the Chi cago elevators have gone into a pool for the purpose of handling the wheat crop. The elevator owners, however, deny the story in toto, and say there never has been as much competition in business in Chicago as there is now.

"The elevators are not pooled," said one, "and the elevator men are lighting each other very hotly for business. The reason for the English syndicate closing four ele vators is that there was not business enough for them all, and a saving of expenses re-sulted in the shutting down of these surplus ENDORSE POSTER'S SCHEME.

Secretary Foster's plan for increasing the gold reserve in the United States treasury is generally endorsed by Chicago financiers. President Gage of the First National bank said:
"The plan of sending money through the medium of sub-treasuries is an old one that has been of great advantage to the bank-ing interests of the country. If we are in need of currency, we can telegraph to New York and have the required amount deposited in the sub-treasury there. The Chicago sub-treasury is notified and we can draw that amount here the same day, saving twenty-four hours in time. Another advantage accrues on account of the rate being only 15 cents per thousand against 80 conts charged by the express company. Silver certificates will be sent out in large quantities to the country banks and members of the farmers' alliance will get plenty of

The capacity of the Grand Opera house is again tested by the "Garrow Opera company" in Gilbert and Sullivan's greatest hit, "The Mikado." The opera is well staged and the chorus superior to any opera seen here for some time. The cast is strong and he management deserves the patronage that they are receiving. Today at the matinee will be given Balfe's beautiful lyric opera, "The Bobemian Girt," by request, and tonight "The Mikado" will again be produced. The attraction announced for the fore part of next week at the Farnam street theater is the Anglo-Sweaish comedy success, "Ole Olson." The tributes that were paid to the young American author, Augustus Thomas, esq., to Manager A. M. Palmer, to the actors, to the scenic art were not commonplace. The sentiment expressed was on an exalted plane, in keeping with the brilliant literary character of the comedy, the superior excellence and ability of the actors, the judgment and discomment of the veteran manager and the artistic peauty and impressiveness of the stage setting. Chicago is the only other city that has seen the play outside of the metropolis. The business was overwhelming. The wea'ern critics repeated the glowing encomi-ums of the east, and when the long engage-ment closed in June there was a universal expression in the papers requesting a return engagement of the play. It amounted to a popular invitation and the play will have another long run at the Columbia theater at the close of the Pacific tour. The sale of seats for the entire engagement will commence at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

OMAHA BOOTHS.

Ballots Will Be Cast in Home-Made Quarters.

The joint committee composed of members of the Board of County Commissioners, the City council and the Board of Education neld another meeting yesterday to decide upon the election booth question.

Gus Andreen presented the plan for an iron booth, while City Engineer Tillson submitted plans for a wooden structure.

The estimated costs for eighty-two booths was $14,000 for booths, $2,000 for furniture and $1,000 for incidentals. In dividing up the expense it was decided that the county should pay one-half of the whole amount, the city one-quarter and the Board of Education one-quarter.

The universal opinion prevailed that the cooths and stalls shold be manufactured in Omaha and by Omaha mechanics. The committee decided to advertise for bids. The plans are on file in the city en-gineer's office. Bids will be received by the city engineer on both wood and iron booths until noon of September 5. At 2 o'clock of that day the committee will open the bids and award the contract. The size agreed upon was 16x20 feet, and made in sections with a wood or iron roof. The Latest Conundrum. Why is Haller's Sarsaparilla and Burdock like the most popular soap of the day. Because they both cleanse the skin and leave it both soft and velvety.

OMAHA'S CHANCE FOR PARKS.

Need of Breathing Places and Pleasure Grounds Becoming Very Apparent.

WHAT IS PROPOSED IN THE PREMISES.

Citizen's Visit and Talk with the Park Board-Dr. Miller Has

Some Well Defined Views on the Subject.

The meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday afternoon was a hummer Dr. Miller was brimming full of enthusiasm, and the presence of several prominent citizens, who took part in the discussion, lent additional interest to the meeting.

The question of securing land for park purposes was the leading theme for discussion. The board had advertised for proposals to sell land in various localities and three responses were received.

The land offered was not located to the satsfaction of the members of the board exactly and they decided to make further effort to secure prices on more desirable tracts. The prices ranged from $500 to $1,000 per acre.

All Want Parks

Mr. John Rush and Mr. Herman Kountze were present to speak in behalf of the people of the southern part of the city. Mr. Rush said that while Hanscom park was in the south end of town it was inaccessible to most of the people who live south and east of the Union Pacific and Burlington railway tracks, and there was a legitimate demand in the southeastern part of the city for a park. Mr. Kountze spoke in a similar strain. He believed that the board should select a tract of land somewhere convenient for that part of the city and do the same with respect to the north and western portions of the city, and then ask for money enough at the coming election to pay for these saveral tracts. He thought $300,000 might be reasonably asked for by the board.

Mr. W. M. Carter of Druid Hill presented the claims of the people living in the north-west part of the city. He said that it was entirely out of the question for people resid-ing in the north and northwest portions of the city to think of gaining any benefit worth mentioning from Hanscom park. It was too far away, and the means of reaching it were inconvenient and expensive for people of large families. Hanscom park was not even convenient enough to those parts of the city, for picnic purposes, and when his neighbors, a few weeks ago, had gone there to hold a pic-nic they found five other picnics in full bloom in Hanscom park at the same time; so that they felt all the while as though they had not gotten away from the busy throng of the city. Will Hunt Up Lands.

Mr. Carter then called the attention of the board to an eighty acre tract lying west of Druid Hill, just forty rods west of the chair factory, that he believed could be purchased and would make an excellent park. He said, also, that there was a quarter section cornering upon this eighty acres that he believed could be bought. He thought the land could be purchased for about $800 or $900 per

He was requested by the board to secure and submit figures on the property described. Then a general discussion followed and on motion of Mr. Millard the board decided to again advertise for proposals for the sale of lands in tracts of twenty acres and upward, anywhere within the four-mile limit. These proposals will be received up to Septem

The board has not been a unit by any means upon the question of purchasing lands for park purposes. But the members have finally agreed that the best method to pursue at present is to secure several tracts of at present is to secure several tracts of oighty acres or more in different parts of the city and submit a bond proposition for the purpose of purchasing all of the several tracts. The intention is to secure one tract in the northwest part of the city, another directly north on a line of the proposed Florence boulevard, or near it at least, another tract in the southeast part of the city and about 100 acres adjoining part of the city and about 100 acres adjoining the present Elmwood park on West Leaver

What the Members Want.

Dr. Miller has been in favor of a string of parks as indicated here, with one large park of 1,000 acres directly west of the city and ine drive or boulevard connecting them. Other members of the board are not in favor of the large park at present for the reason that the funds are not at hand for the purchase of so large a tract of land and they do not think the people would vote bonds suf-ficient to make such a purchase. They are all practically agreed, however, upon the purchase of several smaller parks.

The board allowed the final estimate of $5,337 in favor of the contractors who built the Elimwood park bridges and current expenses to the amount of $1,422 were also ordered paid. Miss Anna Wilson sent a communication to he board offering to donate the fine bronze fountain that stands in her yard on lower loughts street to the public to be put in Hanscom park. The superintendent was an thorized to inform Miss Wilson that the gift would be accepted with thanks. After the board had adjourned Dr. Miller ew eloquent in talking about the future of "I tell you gentlemen of the board " said the gental ex-newspaper man, "this city is only in its babyhood. You may not agree with me now, but before ten years have passed you will see that I was right when I told you that the land for a large central park should have been bought while it was comparatively cheap. I have submitted for the present to the will of the majority of the board and will no longer urge the purchase of a large tract of land, but the day is coming when the people of Omaha will wish that my idea had been adopted.

Looking to the Future.

"I would not purchase this 1,000 acre tract with a view to having it improved now or in the near future. Simply purchase it and let it lie there until it is needed. Look at Mil-waukee, purchasing land now at $3,500 per acre four miles out, because the park com-missioners of that city did not know, enough to purchase it while the land was cheap. Twenty-five years from today Omaha will have haif a million people and a large central park will be as much of a necessity as a central mar-ket. Now is the time to buy the land. The man who measures the future needs of this city by the present dull times will make a immentable blunder. Property in Omaha will never be any cheaper than at present. It will be a great deal dearer before many months, and then the people will wish that this land had been purchased sooner." Just as Dr. Miller finished his vigorous little speech, Senator Manderson and Mr. H. C. McLean, the assistant supervising architect for the government, came in and the conversation turned upon the availability of the reservation now occupied by Fort Omaha for park purposes.
"When the proper time comes," said Senator Manderson, "I shall do all I can to get the Fort Omaha reservation for park pur-poses, but there is no use to taik about the matter now. When the work on the new post at Bellevue has been gotten well under way, then it will be time to move on the government for the donation of the Fort Omaha reservation."

A Domestic Fire Brand. The advent of a baby with red hair in a Butte family promises to land the parents in the divorce court. The unhappy father searched his genealogical tree in vain for an explanation of the brindle hirsute, and the mother with equal zeal denied that her family were red headed. Whence came the color! There's the rub. The father tried to have the mother arrested for giving birth to a red haired baby. The mother attempted to secure the father's arrest for throwing cruel insults and insinuations at her and the sunset kid. At last accounts it is apparent the baby must dye to prevent divorce proceedings.

GREAT RACING PROMISED.

Many Fine Horses Being Entered for the Douglas County Fair. Applications by exhibitors for space in the halls of the Douglas county fair are far more numerous this year than last. The Pet Stock and Poultry club of Omaha will make 130 en tries of the finest fowls and pets ever seen in Omaha. This exhibit will be a source of deight to the ladies and children as well as unnoisseurs in such matters. There seems to be a misconception abroad as to the scope of the Douglas county fair, and many people expect to find an exhibition of a district or state fair order. The management has been receiving applications for space from breeders and farmers outside the state. One of the largest breeders in Kunsas has sent a list to Secretary Baumer of seventy-live different entries of pure bred Devons and other cattle which he wishes to show. Requests for similar space have been received from lows and Missouri, all of which the secretary has been obliged to re-fuse, as compention in live stock is limited to citizens of Douglas county. The speed track only is open to competitors from all sources. In this connection it might be well to briefly outline the history and purpose of the Doug-las County Agricultural society. From 1880 to 1885 the state fair was held in Omaha. In 1885 the Omaha fair and exposi-tion was organized, offering liberal premiums, competition open to the world. This association held its last fair-in 1889, at which time 1890 the Douglas County Agricultural society held a fair on the old grounds, offering liberal premiums to county associations, but competition in everything except in the speed ring was limited to citizens of the country, offering very fair purses in the speed ring, which brought together a good class of horses. This year, in view of the fact that the new Fair association was not ready to commence op-erations on account of the newness of its grounds and absence of proper buildings, the Douglas County Agricultural society decided to hold one more county fair. This fair will be open to county exhibitors only, except, as before stated, in the speed ring, on the old grounds, and their being no district fair this year it has offered very large purses, the result being that a large number of fine horses have been attracted here. Over ninety entries have been made so far, not counting running stock. Many of the horses to start this year have never appeared on the track before, but have made private records which are fast enough to admit them within the charmed circle, which is a 2:30 gait.

Among the flyers who will perform are five young ones of Mr. J. D. Creighton's without record previous to this year, among them Evangelite, as fine bred a trotting horse as any one owns; a pacer, Wilkes I; a trotter, Mary Mc, and others. W. A. Paxton, jr., westward, and M. P. Brown of Papillion Westward, and M. P. Brown of Papillion bis colt Tuin. O. W. Pickard has four ontries of well bred horses. Nat Brown of Omaha enters three well bred horses, among them Ignis Fatuus. J. C. Eager has a new, and supposed to be the coming pacer. Alvan Swift, fresh from winning purses in Iowa. Ed Pyle of Humboldt, has five entries. Dick Wilde and William Huston are represented by well-tried and fast stock Ronen, the well known Fremont horse man has entered a promised wonder without a record previous to this year.

The number and class of entries certainly give promise of fine racing, and with the great interest being taken by the farmers in the exhibits, this year's fair should certainly be a great success.

The teachers of Douglas county wish herein to express their thanks to the school board of Omaha for the use of the High school building during the institute, and to the press for their kindly notices from day to day of its progress. To Mr. Lininger, also, we express our appreciation of the instructive entertainment received in his home To our instructors we wish to say we feel assured that contact with you has awakened and strengthened within us a truer enthusiasm, a stronger spirit and a keener sense of the noble work in which we are soon to engage; and we hope the memories of your solourn with us will be as pleasant to you, as we assure you, they are to ourselves. Our superintendent, Mr. Matthews, has shown courteousness to us, and considerati from his practical talks many valuable suggestions, which we hope to put into practice. We would not forget to mention his efforts in securing interesting and helpful talks from prominent educators, especially the address
