DENVER TURNED RIGHT BACK

Mountaineers Took Advantage of Omaha's Errors and Won the Game.

SIOUX CITY AND KANSAS CITY UNTIED.

Huskers Snatched the Lead Again from the Ambitious Cowboys-Chicago and Bos on Still Cinching Championships.

Denver, 5; Omaha, 1. Sloux City, 7; Kansas City, 4.

ENVER turned the tables on Omaha yesterday afteroon, winning a hard fought battle by a score of 5 to 1. It was a pitcher's contest in every sense of the word. both McNabb and Kennedy putting up a magnificent game, the Denver lad having considerably the best of it. Omaha got her one run, the only earned one of the game, in the first inning. Rasty Wright led off with a two-bagger, went to third on Day's single and scored on a pretty sacrifice by Dungan. After that, so sharp and brilliant was Denver's fielding, they were unable to get a man past third, in fact only four more succeeded in reaching first. In the fifth Denver tied the score. Brennan got his base on balls, went to third on Kennedy's single and over the rubber on a wild pitch. In the sixth they took the lead, O'Connor getting his base on balls, second on a passed ball and home on a wild throw by Fields.

In the ainth they corralled three more of two bases on balls, two hits and an error by The same teams again today which is ladies day, and a good crowd will probably turn out. The score : OMAHA.

Chicago Gets Even by Knocking Out Big Amos Rusie.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 2.—The Colts fell on to Rusie today and smote him hard for three innings, when he and his heavy partner were retired in favor of the lightweight battery, Coughlin and Clarke. The change did but little good, however, Chicago winning very easily. Both teams fielded loosely, the work of the Giants being very costly. Score Chicago 51 2 0 0 2 1 3 0-14

Charlie Mitchell Training His Mouth for His Meeting With Corbett.

Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett, LONDON, Sept. 2.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to The Bre.]—The following letter was published in the Sporting Life today: TO THE EDITOR OF THE SPORTING LIFE: COrbett's bluff is as funny to me as a pantomime That young man is the particular party I am n search of, and don't you forget it. As is well known I announced my retirement after the draw with John L. Sullivan. It is equally well known that my hands in that fight were considerably damage else-well, no matter, I have not, must be admitted, got very good tools to work with, but to show how highly I value Corbott' abilities as a pugilist, I will fight him for £1,000 with bare fists and no bluffing. It was not my intention to fight again, as I have done my share, but when in my retirement people magine that Mitchell will stand 'Cat end." and allow them to Issue and boast of challenges with impunity, it becomes adisable for one to show to the public there is still one left in England who is anxious to upsold the honor of the old country in any shape or form. That is your very humble servant to command, who will be at the Sporting Life office tomorrow (Thursday) ready to put up stuff that speaks all languages.

Slavin Failed to Cover It.

New York, Sept. 2.—The $1,000 deposited by Charley Johnston of Brooklyn with the Herald on behalf of John L. Sullivan, to bind a match with Francis P. Slavin to fight for the championship of the world, has been withdrawn. The money has been in the Herald office since July 23, and the fact that t had then been put up was immediately cabled to Stavin. Johnston, at the time of depositing the $1,000, gave notice that he would keep it posted until September 1. He did so. With his friends, Johnston has anxiously awaited advices from Slavin, but noth-ing has been said by the Australian regardng an inclination to cover the amount.

Smashing Wheel Records. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 2.—The fast bicycle riders smashed the American records at Hampton park this evening. W. F. Murphy of the New York Athletic club rode a mile on a solid tire safety. He made the quarter in 37.45, the half in 1:11%, the three-quarters in 1:37.2-5 and the mile in 2:15, breaking for the last three distances the world's record for the solid tire machine held by P. J. Berlo of Boston. G. Winturn Wor-den of the Manhattan club broke the Amer-ican two-mile record for the pneumatic safety, covering the distance in 5:06 4-5. His first mile was made in 2:34 2-5.

Charlie Kimmle, the St. Paul welterweight, who is en route for 'Frisco, is a ruest of Ed. Rothery. Kimmie is anxious to man who conquered Danny Needham, and if a go can be arranged Rothery will back the St. Paul pug for a few thousand.

Saved from a Watery Grave. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 2. - The schooner Ada arrived today from Copper river, Alaska, with 18,000 cases of salmon. She brought down Harry Mandon and W. H. Boyle, two of the crew of the British sealing schooner Beatrice, which arrived at Victoria a few days ago. The men were lost from the vessel during a gale. Their small boat was over-turned and a third man named Scott was drowned. The others succeeded in making land and were cared for by the Indians.

SOME FINE RACES PROMISED.

Today's Card for the County Fair Meeting a M st Notable One.

HAL POINTER TOOK S CK ON THE TRACK.

Fow the Great Pacer Was Defeated -Kingston Recovered His Lost Prestige-Harness and Saddle Events.

THA good track the best day's racing ever witnessed in Omaha will be held at the fair grounds driving park this afternoon. In the nrst race the 2:32 trot, purse $400, there will be fourteen starters, the biggest field of horses ever sent off in a race in the Gate City. This race alone would justify a day's travel to see. Following this is the 2:30 pace, purse $500, with a field of six as fine horses as were ever pitted against each other. This will be nother magnificent race.

Then there is the 2:40 pace, purse $350, with ten entries, and the 2:46 trot, purse $1,000, with six entries. This is one of the biggest purses ever trotted for here, and has awakened the liveliest rivalry among the owners of the various flyers. The people of Omaha should turn out on masse in recogni-tion of this most excellent card, as it em-braces three events that have never been equalled here before. The whole will con-clude with a running race, one-half mile and clude with a running race, one-half mile and reprat, with seven entries. The detailed programme is attached.

Heavy Track Yesterday. Owing to the very heavy condition of the track on the Douglas County Fair grounds vesterday afternoon but one of the trotting events came off, the purse of $350 for 3-yearolds. It seemed a foregone conclusion that Evangeline would win the race easily and she was a strong favorite in the pools. There were but three entries and the horses were got away easily, with Montgomery at the pole, Evangeline and Antewood. Evangeline easily took first place and held it through three very slow heats. In the last heat they were sent away without the flag and Evangeline at once pulled away from the others and distanced them. Summary:

A running race, one mile dash, and a char-iot race by the Butler combination, were sandwiched in between the peats. A half mile dash finished the races for the day. It was won by Rosebud in 1:55, Jack White nd, Doctor N a bad third, The two big events of the day were postoned until this afternoon, viz.: a trotting race for the 2:33 class for a purse of $400, and a trot for the 2:30 class, purse $800. These races, added to the already great events on the programme for today, will make it one of the greatest racing days ever held in Ne-

Last night pools were sold on the races at a rate that indicated the lively interest peo-ple felt in the events. It is an indication of the close match in the big 3:45 troiting race that the owners were very chary in backing their horses, neither caring to give the impression that he thought he had a cinch.

Driving at Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 2 .- A heavily clouded sky kept down the attendance at the second day of the Kansas City Jockey club meeting There were two events on the card and they furnished some excellent racing. The first race was hotly contested. Richard won the first heat, but J. H. S., who had laid up one heat, took the next three heats easily and the race in good time. The second race was an easy victory for Honest George, only in the first heat Tobasco pushed him out to 2:17%, the other two heats he led all the way around. The tract was fast. Re-

First race, 2:20 class pacing, purse $800; J. H. S. won, Treasure second, Suns hine third, Frank E fourth. Richard distanced in fourth heat, Gry Billy distanced in third heat, Kate Render distanced in second heat. Time: e, 2:19 class trotting, purse $1,000; Ionest George won, Tobasco second, Olive hird, Bluck Diamond fourth, Gillette fifth, Brown sixth. Kenwood distanced in first heat. Fine: 2:194, 2:19, 2:24.

Hal Pointer Sick.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 2.-The defeat of the great pacer Hal Pointer was the feature of the second day of the grand circuit tretting meeting of the Philadelphia Driving park. The weather was perfect. The track was fast, Hal Pointer caught Johnson just at the wire in the first heat after the latter had led to the half in 1:04% and to the three-quarters in 1:38. It looked like a dead beat, but the judges gave it to Hal Pointer in 2:12.

Yolo Mald cut out the work in the second eat, but she tired in the stretch and Hal counter beat her easily in 2:15%. Yolo id gave it up early in the third heat,
Johnson was first to the half 19614. Hal Pointer then came fast until half way down the stretch, when he slowed p and seemed to be in distress. Johnston ok the heat in 2:15% and Hal Pointer came in bleeding at the nose. Yolo Maid was also distress, and she was found to be too sick to again start and was withdrawn from the Hal Pointer was also sick in the fourth heat and Johnston won easily. Hal Pointer was then withdrawn and Johnston jogged race. The judges then declared off all pools on the race and the protesta-tions of those who placed their money on Johnston were loud and long continued. The judges do not contend that there had been foul play, but said that the hor es were certainly sick when the race started and in view of Pointer's recent per-formances on other tracks, the innocent beters were placed at a disadvantage to the nefit of those who knew of the great acer's ailment.

The unfinished 2:30 race of yesterday was won by N T II, the favorite, and the 2:20 race was also won by the favorite, Katie I. one heat was trotted in the 2:26 class It will be finished tomorrow. Following are summaries:

KINGSTON KING AGAIN.

Mike Dwyer's Great Horse Retrieves His Fallen Laurels.

CHICAGO, III., Sept. 2.-Kingston won at Garfield park today. Fifteen thousand people saw probably the most consistent racer in America retrieve his lost laurels by easily defeating his former conqueror, fleet Marion C. The race was for a special purse of $5,000. and it was generally conceded by those who saw that great son of Spendthrift gallop away from Van Buren on Monday last that, barring accidents, he would prove the winner of today's contest, and the real battle was looked for between Marion C. and Verge d'Or for place honors. The black colt ran a great race for a mile, but Marion C., under a liberal dose of whip and spur, drew away near the fluish and secured the verdict by a length and a half The day was a perfect one for racing and the track was fast and smooth. There was but little excitement until the special race was called, when a general rush was made for the betting ring. The odds and jockeys

Verge d'Or, 122 (Griffin), 5 to 1; Kingston, 123 Hamilton, I to 3; Marion C, 119 (Fitzpatrick), to 1. Place betting: Marion C, 4 to 5; Verge l'Or, 9 to 10. Verge d'Or was the first out and was en tusiastically cheered. Next came Marion C. Fitzpatrick's face was wreathed in smiles as a shout went up that nearly lifted the roof off the grand stand. Kingston cantered down the track direct from his stable. He also was warmly welcomed, but it was evident the big crowd was in sympathy with the vestern cracks.

There was no delay at the start. Kingston was a neck before Marion C, with Verge d'Or a neck behind. Passing the stand Verge d'Or jumped forward and making the first turn was two lengths before Kingston, who was a length in front of Marion C. These positions were unchanged for a half mile, but at the three quarters the eastern horse began to move up rapidly. It was soon seen that Kingston had the race at his mercy and Hamilton took a general pull on Mike Dwyer's horse. Coming in like clockwork, Kingston cantered in an easy winner by three lengths. Fitzpatrick worked hard n Marion C. and succeeded in collaring Vierge D'Or at the last sixteenth pole. Lit-tle Griffin rode the Kansas City colt vigorously, but the heavy weight told, and Marion C passed under the wire second, a length C passed under the wire second, a length and a half before Vierge D'Or. Time: 1:54. The other races resulted as follows:

First race, three-fourths mile: Aunt Cal Wolf, Red Lee Scientific, 1:174.

Second race, one mile: Alphonse won, Pick-up second, Lewis Clark third. Time: 1:45.

Third race, seven eighths mile: Aloha won, Crabe der second. Bine Maid third. Time:

Great Day at Latonia. CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 2.—About 4,000 peo-ple witnessed the Latonia races today. Pleasant weather and a good track made the conditions favorable for a good time. Expert norsemen rate the Latonia track at from one and a half to one and three-quarters seconds slow. In the programme today the fourth race was ruled off because the withdrawal of Whitney and Forerunner left but two starters. The fifth race on the programme was run as the fourth race and a new race improvised on the grounds was made the fifth race. Prime favorites won every race except the fourth, in which Palisade, who sold as an even favorite, came in second. Poisoned the Ice Cream. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 2.—The Chronicle's Visalia special says: An attempt at wholesale poisioning was made at a boarding house here Sunday. Mrs. McDermott, the andlady, made some ice cream, and before freezing it she set the mixture near a pump to cool. Eleven persons ate of the cream at dinner and were immediately seized tion. Medical aid was summoned and all are now out of danger. Investigation showed that a large quantity of croton oil had been soured into the mixture before it was frozen. It is thought a man who was ramp in the stomach and a burning sensa t is thought a man who was expelled from the house for drunkenness is the poisoner as he went away making threats. He left town the same Sunday night and cannot be found.

General Alger's Speech. Last night at the large stand on Sheridan avenue General Alger was accorded a grand reception. Ten thousand people surrounded the platform. Cap-tain Henry first spoke, then Gov-ernor Thayer, chairman of the meeting, in a short, expressive speech introduced the distinguished visitor. General Alger was greeted with cheers.

He said that he had come to this state at the request of Senator Manderson and had traveled 1,800 miles for the privilege of looking them in the face, taking their hands and saving, "How do you do?" Nebraska was a great state. Its fields and farms and crops were most wonderful. He didn't believe the world could produce its equal. If even a paradise were created for the farmer t must be Nebraska. [Cheers.] If the Garden of Eden had been located here the devil couldn't have taken hold of it, and Old Mother Eve would still be as good as she had seen originally.

Speaking of the achievements of the army, ne said it had put down the greatest rebellion in the world. He had been told by some peo-ple they had been paid for their services, and they were ruining the government by the great pension rule. But he would ask those people what they would have today if it had not been for the army. If ever there was a contract implied or written it was that wish the government to the effect that if the man who had put down the receilion needed help he should get it.

The citizens of Nebraska were making an excellent record. They had suffered the privations of pioneer life. They had had short crops, and drouth, and too much rain; but thank God, they had abundance now, and it was an abundance which the country needed and for it would pay the farmers. were on the high road to prosperity. But h wanted to caution them, that the next thing they did, after guarding their home, was to guard their credit. They should keep every contract, whether it was written or verbal. When he went into business the first thing he did was to convince those he dealt with that his word was as good as his bond, and his bond was as good as gold. Continuing on this strain General Alger said: When I heard people say that you contemplated repudiation, I wanted you to rise with one effort and say with one accord that does not voice Nebraska. We heard that you proposed to repudiate your agreements, but I did not believe it. I believe it is the duty of every man who works to carry out his agreement but I have talked with you since I have bee nere and I have learned that it is only a list dreulated to injure you and your state.

There was something more sacred than life, and that was to keep up the reputation they had made in the army. They had a heritage to leave to their children in the button of the Grand Army of the Republic, was far more precious than the wealth of a Gould or a Vanderbilt. If he had to choose between one and the other he would select the Grand Army of the Republic button.

The speaker paid a tribute to wives and mothers of the soldiers, saying it was they who had saved the country, and among the monuments which should be erected was one to them, who were really the heroines of the war. In this state they had an organization which they should always cherish, the Sons of Veterans. [Cries of "Right."] The old soldiers were being placed in the grave at the rate of 10,000 every year. How could they perpetuate their memories save through their sons and daughters.

Let us encourage that organization. Let us call them closer to us, because they are our boys. Soon they will have to decorate our graves, and we do not know how soon it may be necessary for them to do so, because we do not know how soon we may be forgotten after we are gone. No state promises the agricultaral fature of Nebraska. May you live to enjoy it. May you have the best of earth. May your life pass neath cloudless skies. May all blesshes fall mon you and may the sorrow your life pass 'neath cloudless skies. Molessings fall upon you and may the that has been mine come not to you. [C seches were afterwards made by Gen eral Manderson and others.

AROUND THE BANQUET TABLE.

National Association of Stationary Engineers Royally Entertained.

GOOD FEELING PREVAILED GENER ALLY

Omaha Citizens Mingle with the Visitors and Exchange Warm Words of Welcome-Reminiscences of the City's Early History.

About 250 people were seated around the banquet tables in Washington hall just evening. That is, it was called a banquet for want of a better term, although the banquet part of it was more of a cold collation than anything. There was more fun and real enjoyment connected with it, however, than would have attached to a more formal teast served in courses.

Of course, it wasn't intended just because cold boultion appeared as "bullion" on the menu card and was served in cups and saucers that it called for sugar and cream, so what if C. F. Goodman did dump in enough ream to make four pounds of butter, or if W. H. Cronley of Jersey City browed a decoction that would have physicked the sculptured canines on the city hall. They were not alone in their misery, not by several cups of liquid woe.

A. L. Strang filled the position of toastnaster very acceptably. Politing wishbones of Nebraska prairie chickens on his right were Councilman Morearty and G. M. Hitchcock, while disputing for foot room under the table on his left were Hon, J. L. Webster and Colonel C. R. Scott. There were several other representative citizens of Omaha pres-Owing to the absence of Mayor Cushing, the toast "The City of Omaha" was responded to by Ed r. Morearty. He felt proud to know that he had been called upon to speak before the large audience present The speaker took up the past history of the ity and dwelt at length upon the time when the wigwam of the Indian stood upon what w is the site of a city of 140,000 inhab-Hon, John L. Webster in responding to the toast, "The State of Nebraska," said that it was not necessary to introduce the state of Nebraska, as it constituted a part of a com-mon country. The census report showed that the country had a wealth greater than any of the European powers. The state of Nebraska, he said, extended to the delegates a hearty welcome. Men were assembled from all of the states in the central city of the United States. To show that the people of the east had but little idea of the west, he stated that a few weeks ago, when he was in Philadelphia, a friend asked him if he could see Sait Lake from Omaha. When a young man and starting west Mr. Webster's mother-in-law suggested that he take a baby cradle with him, for fear that such an article could not be bought in Omaha. In speaking of the resources of Nebraska Mr. Webster said that she raised enough wheat to supply New England and a portion of the southern states. Divide the state into one-half acre lots and it would supply homes to 486,000,000 people. Such a state extended welcome to the engineers. The association represented a great power. I ated the power that moved the world. that feeling Omaha welcomed the engineers to the state of Nebraska. President J. J. Illingworth was called upon to respond to the toast, "The N. A. S. E." He spoke of the educational system of the sacciation, calling attention to the sublime spectacie of 7,000 men teaching each other. He compared the engine room of forty years ago with those to be found every-where today, and attributed the very favorable change to the Na-tional Association of Stationary Engineers. He spoke glowingly of the future of the aseciation, anticipating a membership of 20,000 within the next five years.

In responding to the toast, "The Steam Engine," Mr. E. D. Bateman of Cincinnati declared that it would take all night to do the subject justice, as it dated back to B. C. 130, although it did not amount to anything and was not patented until 1769. The first successful engine was the result of the efforts of an American, George Stevenson, and every useful improvement made since that time had been made by American citizens. He was proud of Nebraska and agreed with Mr. Webster as to its greatuess, but he wanted to say that the steam engine and the steam engineer had alone made it

"The Stationary Engineers" brought out Mr. W. H. Aroniey and a bushel of fun. He eulogized the engineers handsomely, declaring that they were in the senate, the house of representatives, in mercantile establishgents, lunatic asylums and penitentiaries. Referring to his previous visit to Omaha in 1855, he said that he found then but two or three houses on the river bank where Omaha now stands, and could hardly believe his eyes when he arrived here a few days ago. He declared that he pro-posed to come back again, and would go into the real estate business with the Missouri river, which is the possessor of more of the soil of the state of Nebraska than any man Monday as Labor day and have requested living within its borders.

When called upon to respond to the toast, "The Ladies," Mr. J. H. Harris of Chicago ligressed briefly to refer to being in Omaha years ago, when he was engineer on a river steamer plying between Omaha and St. Louis. As to womankind, he said he had to accept the biblical version for want of a better one, and paid the fair sex a very pretty tribute for the many fine qualities in which they excel the portion of the human race that owns the job lot of ribs from which the best one was picked out by Divine intervention centuries ago.

Mr. George Brush of Omaha said a good word or two in favor of "Our Contributing Friends' who had footed the bills for enter taining the visitors.

Albert Hoppin of Chicago had something to say in behalf of "The Mechanical Press."
He declared that it was eminently proper, although rather unusual, for such a toast to be proposed. "The Press" had been toasted and roasted from time immemorial and ought Mr. G. M. Hitchcock was called upon to respond to the toast, "The Press," and he spoke of the onward strides made in the newspaper world in the past few years, and said that the newspaper owed much to he engineers and their pretheru. Mr. E. C. Hardy, who was to have re-ponded to "The Local Press," retired before that part of the programme was reached, and left a note stating that but for the late hour e would have found much pleasure in carry ng out the part assigned to him. H. E. Chubbuck of Omaha paid a well deerved compliment to a number of Omaha's epresentatives of the National Association f Stationary Engineers in responding to

"The Local Committee."

Mr. John Trix of Detroit expressed the feelings of the visitors in "A Return of Thanks," declaring that the Omaha people had more than fulfilled ther promises.
