OFFICE: - NO. 12 PEARL STREET. Assignment Case of Kimball-Champ In-Company Revived.

STORY OF AN UNSATISFIED MORTGAGE.

Petition of Intervention Filed by J. C. Teller to Secure Several Hundred Dollars Paid to the Defunct Firm.

J. C. Teller has filed a petition of intervention in the assignment case of the Kimball Champ Investment company. In his petition he states that he went to the office of Kimball & Champ June 3 to pay off a mortgage executed by J. J. Burns to the investment company to the amount of $859.65, the total count of the mortgage, principal and intercest. Kimball & Champ stated to him that they controlled the mortgage, and he paid to them the money for the liquidation of the claim, receiving their written receipt and agreement to release the mortgage. A short time after that the company made an assignment, and on looking the matter up he found that Kimball & Champ had no control over the Kimball & Champ had no control over the mortgage as they had claimed, but had sold it to a third party. The mortgage was never released according to agreement, and be claims that the money was converted to their own use by Kimball & Champ. He raises the point that the money did not belong to Kimball & Champ, but was simply paid to them in trust, and he asks the court to order the assignee to pay it heads to him with inthe assignee to pay it back to him with intorest and the costs of the suit

Bayliss park is a beautiful pack-a perfect glen. But we honestly believe within five years nomes in Graham and Cook parks will be more desirable to live than on Bayliss park. Why? Because as the city gets larger a little park in the very center of town become a loating piace for vagrants and tramps. While Bayliss park has improved every year in appearance nomes around it are not as desirable as they were several years ago.

They Can Walk Now. Semi occasional growls have been indulged in in the past by the residents of the eastern part of the city with regard to the discourteous treatment received by them at the hands of the employes of the motor company, but of late the growling has been of so loud and protracted a character that something may be expected to drop in the near future if there is not a reform.

Most of the complaints came from the vicinity of South First street and Graham avenue. The employes of the motor line have taken it into their heads that they will not stop to allow passengers to get on or off excepting at the intersection of streets. That is the law on the Nebraska side of the river, but on this side there is a city ordinance that provides that street cars or other convey-ances must stop at any point along their line when requested by any passenger. This or-dinance they do not observe, but compel their passengers to get off at the intersections of the streets on either side.

The hardship of this is felt most at the upper end of the street, where the sidewalk facilities are not the best, and for a person to get off at any place but immediately in front of his house means he must walk quite a ways through the mud. Colonel R. C. Hub-bard, who lives near the entrance of the park, states that he has frequently been carried into the park as far as the beginning of the cut and then compelled to wade back

Threats were made some time ago that unless the employes changed their tactics there would be several arrests made under the city ordinance. The complainants, however, deided to make known their wants at the office ittle satisfaction. Blood on the Moon. A patch of radishes and a flock of guines hens were the innocent cause of Ed Wilson. who lives at the corner of avenue D and Curtis street, being arrested on a charge of threatening to kill Miss Lula Cartner, who lives next door to Wilson, has the radish nyes next door to Wison, has the radish patch, and Wilson's guinea hens got in several times recently and did considerable damage by scratching around. Guy Cartner, a small brother of Miss Lulu's, armed himself with a club and drove the trespassers off. His using the club on the birds was too much for Wilson's temper and it is claimed he took a club himself and brandishing it about said he would make several holes in various parts of young Cart ner's body for the daylight to shine through. Miss Cartner was afraid that unless some-thing was done Wilson would carry out his threat, so she had him arrested. His bond was fixed at $250, and be was released until this morning when he will have a hearing be-fore Judge McGee.

Tom and John Pruitt were fined $26.00 apiece for drunkenness and disturbing the peace. The former, it was learned, had come to the city to get a license to get married. He was accompanied by his brother, and after the license had been secured they set out to have a time. They did so with such a vengeance that they are not through with it yet, and the probability is that they will no get through until they have spent a couple of weeks in jail.

AMUSEMENTS. "Girofle-Girofla," Lecocq's bright and parkling opera bouffe, which has been in he repertoire of comic opera companies for years, notwithstanding the changes that have taken place, was given by the Garrow company last evening at the Grand opera house, and as a first performance may be classed as a success. There was considerable snap and go in the production, which, with one or two repetitions, will place the performance quite apreast the best efforts of he company. Miss Laura Clement plays the dual titular role very acceptably indeed, singing the part in a delightful manner, but she lacks the chic, the abandon of the character which made Alice Oates and Selina Delaro irresistible, memories of whose acting are still fresh and green. Still she threw a great deal of vim into her rendition of "See How it

DR. C. GEE WO,

The Great Chinese Panaceist

Wishes to give a few reasons why he is work-ing such womierful cures where other doctors fall. China has about half the population of the globe. They have been practicing and perfecting medicine over 4.300 YEARS. Chang Nung (see Ency. Brit.) discovered seventy-two poisons and their antidotes 2.45, years before Christ, and Marco Pola, who brought the compass.

Campini, one of the first Europeans who entered China, says: "Their physicians have a thorough knowledge of the nature of nerbs and an admirable skill in diagnosing by the pulse." (See Willard's Middle Empire)

It is well known that gunpowder, steam and electricity are old in China, and that the Chi-nese were printing their delicate books 900 years before Guttenberg was born. But it was to medicine the Chinese gave their attention, and when the emperor Chin Wong ordered all the books to be burned he excepted the medical works, and it was only by the merest accident that the great works of Confuclus himself were saved, he having placed a set of his works in the order stone of his residence, which was found 2,000 years after.

of Confucius himself were saved, he having placed a set of his works in the corner-stone of his residence, which was found 2000 years after.

The celebrated Dr. Hobson states that one of the Chinese dispensatories gives 1442 HERBAL KEMEDIES alone. Can you wonder then at the doctor's success?

The Caucastan physicians all use the very same Remedies and when you change doctors, in your disappointment and disgust, you merely chance frees and assertions but not medicines. When an American doctor discovers a new remedy all the other doctors know about it immediately. Now, you know the Chinese Doctor comes from an almost unknown country, containing noarly haif of the people of the world, where all the medicines are entirely different, and Dr. C. Gee Wo offers a reward of $50,00 to any one who can duplicate any one of his Chinese Medicines. Do you now comprehend that after giving up all hope of being cured by your doctors that in taking the Chinese Doctor's Remedics, 4,000 in number and absolutely unknown outside of China, that he has a wonderful advantage over all other physicians. His new remedical have never before entered your blood and set on it as if by migic, cutting the disease and rendering the combexion clear as a child's.

A MOTHER'S STORY.

I am 62 years of age and have suffered indescribable agony from asthma for many years. I could not sleep and had to sit up all night in a chair. I tried doctor after doctor but without help, and thought some night I would choke to death. As a last hope I tried Dr. C. Gee Wo, the Chinese doctor, and was relieved instantly. In a short time I was cored and have never since been troubled. I have reason to bless Dr. C. Gee Wo, MRS. P. O. HIRSH. 21th St., bet J. & R. South Omaha.

In order to convince the public that Dr. Q.
