MAY STOP CITY HALL WORK.

Funds Are Not Available For the Completion of the Job.

ADDITIONAL BONDS MUST BE VOTED.

Story of the Manner in Which Bills of Extras Have Been Allowed Greatly Exceeding the Original Estimates.

It may be a surprise to the public, but it is a fact nevertheless, that there are now strong probabilities that wor ---- the new city hall will be discontinued within the next thirty days.

Should work be discontinued it will simply be because the funds have been exhausted. When it was first decided to construct a city hall in accordance with the plans prepared by Architect Meyors, bonds in the sum of $200,000 for its completion were voted. Work was commenced and $38,659 put into a foundation and basement. Then work was stopped and an election held to decide upon a location. Jefferson Square and the present location at Eighteenth and Farnam streets were voted for. The latter named location won and the plans for the building were

The new building was to cost not to exceed $500,000, and bonds in the sum of $500,000 authorized. The old basementwas torn out and the building went on in conformity to the designs submitted by Fowler & Beindorff, who entered into a bond that the hall should not cost to exceed $55,000. John F. Coots had secured the contract for $313,875, which did not include interior finish. Immediately after he had entered into the contract it was discovered that the plans needed changing to conform to the grade of Douglas street. This resulted in an additional expenditure of money and $6,943 was allowed. The contract for $100,388 for interior finish

About that time bills for extras began to roll in at a rapid and slarming rate. The cornice, which was to have been of galvanized iron under the old contract, was changed to Portage red sandstone. This cost $18,687 additional. Then the gutters were changed to copper at a cost of $285. On the roof cop-per was substituted for tin and the change cost $5,517 extra.

The foundation for the boilers, which had been neglected in the original specifications cost $057.54 and a contract for marble tiling vault doors and electric wiring added $17,530 This ran the estimates up to $364,183, or $14,183 more than the original estimated cost, but a halt was not called then. The council changed a stairway at a cost of several hundred dollars, received bids on $8,500 of vault fixtures and entered into a contract for furnishing the same. Plumbing extras, electric light fixtures and gas pipe contracts amounting to $25,000 are on the way to the council and the city treasury. Between $35,000 and $50,000 of office furni ture has been advertised for and the oids are now in the hands of the committee on public property and buildings.

It is true that all of these bills have not been paid, but of the $325,000 that was on hand only $79,505.02 remains in the treasury. When the estimates now due are paid, and when the payment is made for electric wiring and going on with the necessary work that is now in sight and must be done to place the building under roof, the balance in the city hall fund will be written on the red luk side of the ledger.

This state of affairs has called out an ex-pression from City Attorney Poppieton, who said that he understood that the funds had been exhaused and that the balance of the $500,000, $175,000, could not be available until bonds had been voted and sold.

In view of this condition of the finances, the members of the committee who have been looking after the furniture bids are all at sea and hardly know what to do. If there is no money they do not want to buy, and for this reason it is possible that a contract will not be awarded for some time. This condition of finances is also what prevented the committee from re-porting on the contract for vault fixtures. Superintendent Howatt said yesterday that the August estimates for labor were at least $10,000, while the appropriation sheet showed that they were only $5,504.08. If this is true, the $79,505.02 would be reduced another $5,000 if the bills were paid. To say nothing of furnishing, it is esti mated that to complete the interior of the hall would cost at least $50,000, as none of the floors are laid; the tower is yet unbuilt the roof is not yet on; no provisions have been made for heating; the doors, windows and casings are yet to go in; the stairway, balconies and a large unt of plastering and plumbing remains

Mr. Coets, the contractor, is absent and consequently no statement can be obtained from him, but it is known that for some reason no effort is being made to push the com-pletion of the building, as scarcely a dozen men are employed.

Responsibility for the Care of Indigent Sick in Emergencies.

The Board of County Commissioners met vesterday afternoon with Chairman O'Keeffe and Members Berlin and Van Camp in attendance. County Attorney Mahoney submitted an opinion relative to the care of the indigent sick who happen to be in Douglas county. He said the statutes were plain; that emergency cases should be cared for by the city sutherities, especially where such cases oc-curred in the city of Omaha. All others should be cared for by the county. City At-torney Poppleton concurred in the opinion. The matter was referred to Poormaster Manoney, with power to act, The county's legal advisor also furnished an opinion upon the question of providing for clerks and judges of election. He has consuited with the city attorney and the attor-ney for the Board of Education, and all were of the opinion that one set of judges and derks could do the work. The three political bodies would have to confer and agree to ap point the same officers in each of the pre incts within the city limits. Notice of a suit by George Forbes to re-

Story of the Sin and Suffering of Poor Annie Campbell.

All yesterday afternoon Mrs. Annie Campbell of Lincoln lay on the sofa in the police natron's room at police headquarters suffering intense pain. It was with difficulty that Matron Cummings managed to get the story of poverty and pain from the poor woman.

Mrs. Campbell said that she left her hus-band two years ago on account of another yoman. She gave her two children away and started out into the world to earn a living. Finally she was seduced by a painter named Jack Rody. Together they went to Plattsmouth, but Rody failed to get work and finally deserted her.

About August 12 Mrs. Campbell came to Omaha and stopped for a time at a lodging house near the Union depot. While searching for cheaper lodging she got down on Ninth street, and not knowing the city was induced to enter a resort at 109 North Ninth street where she was offered a home and care during confinement,

The promises of the madam were not kept, and the poor woman was forced to lead a life of shame until she became dangerously ill. Then she was wanted no longer and driven into the street. Barely able to crawl the unfortunate finally reached a friendly shelter at 203 North Ninth street.

Yesterday morning arrangements were made, a back was called and the poor woman taken to the city jail, and placed in the matron's care. Mrs. Cummings had the woman removed to the county hospital late in the evening where she will remain until after confine Another recess was taken, and after a walt of nalf an hour. Mr. Secretary put in his appearance and the grind was resumed.

The report of the auditing committee showed $1,742.31 in the treasury September 1, 1890; receipts of the year ending September 1, 1891, were $5,534.15; total, $7,276.46. Disbursements, $2,085.22, leaving a balance on hand September 1, 1891, of $5,191.24. The committee also recommended the

There is considerable work to be done by the convention and fun is predicted before the body adjourns sine die. Some of the delegates are ripe for a hot parliamentary fight and apparently don't care very much what it is about, so long as they only have one.

There will be quite a tussle over the loca-tion of the next convention, if one is located anywhere. Many of the delegates favor ennial conventions and don't want another antil 1893, when it is a foregone conclusion that they will meet in Chicago and take in the vorld's fair.

This question, however, involves a constituional amendment, and there will be quite a ntest over it, as many of the delegates hold that it would be an evidence of weakness to make the change.

The question of dividing the country up into districts is another chance for a dis-agreement, as there is a division of senti-ment as to reducing the number of delegates entitled to seats in the national convention at the present time, although it is generally admitted that this will be necessary when the organization is older and the subordinate asociations increase so that individual representation would make an unwieldly conven-

The trip to Florence was full of interest for the visitors. ponderous machinery, especially the great Allis pumping engine, was closely examined and was a revelation to the engineers, who admitted that they were surprised even after hearing and reading so much about it, they took a trip along the reservoirs and were much interested in finding out, as Mr. Trix of Detroit expressed it, "how that mud over there is made fit to drink." They mud over there is made fit to drink." They found out and voiced their approval of it by declaring that the system was one of the rreatest, as well as one of the most perfect, in the country.

Will Bake Clams Again.

Last year the members of the Elks' club inaugurated the idea of a clam bake. A car load of clams were shipped from the Atlantic coast and the affair was a blooming success

This year the Elks will try it again and next Monday at Pries' lake they will eclipse

the one of last year. A professional cateron will be in charge and no pains will be spared
