Grand Circuit Races.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 3.-The Grand

circuit trotting meeting at the Philadelphia

Driving Association park today attracted about 4,500 persons: The unfinished 2:26 class of yesterday was finished by Fred S. Wilkes taking the concluding heats. The $10,000 guaranteed by H.S. Henry of the Pennsyl-vanua Valley stud for costs was divided in three races, all of which were interesting.

Miss Alice won the race for the 2:18 class, but was forced to equal her previous record to win. Following are summaries:

Smashed a Record.

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 3 .- The world's record

for speed by pacing stallions on a half mile track was broken by Roy Wilkes today at the Decatur Trotting association's meeting. The time by quarters was 3314, 3234, 34, 34, 34)4 and for the mile 2:14/4. The exhibition was made with a running mate.

Off for Lack of Interest.

well known plunger who is known throughout the country as "Pittsburg Phil," gave bered by the bookmakers, as it was the heaviest blow dealt that fraternity in many a day. "Pittsburg Phil" twelve starters. In the betting Lew Weir, from the stables of E. Corrigan, was the popular selection, while King Cadmus, who had opened at 20 to 1, receded to 30 to 1. Then it was that Mr. Smith's commis-loners got in their fine work. Every one of the ninety-seven bookmakers on the line was handed sums ranging from $75 to $200, and so much was the colt despised that many of the bookies whose limit is known to be but a $50 bet took hundreds of dellars. So well was the money put on by the almost ubiquitous com-missioners that very few people and their suspicions aroused, and even these smart ones thought that Phil/ was "shooting at the moon," as they expressed it.

With a few jumps from the wire, Taral, by almost superhuman riding, got the King's head in front and accordingly got the less superior jockey up the result would have been different. Right after the race the scene in the ring was all commotion, the only persons perhaps in the whole gathering to retain their senses being "Pittsburg Phil" and bis gallant lieutenants. To them the race was no surprise, and they set about to collect their winnings in a manner that was exceedingly cool. It is estimated that Mr. Smith is from

$75,000 to $90,000 winner by his colt's victory

He backed him heavily in the west as well as at the track, and gona good price throughout. Taral got $1,000 for its riding.

THAT WAS A PRETTY GAME.

Omaha and Denver Had the Nicest Contes of the Season Here.

OF COURSE THE DENVERS WON IT.

Only One Run Made and That One Earned-Sioux City, Chicago and Boston Still Prospective Champion s.

NE to othing—that vesterday's game, and the Mountaineers won, earning the eighth inning on a beautiful threecushion smash by Joe Werrick and a single by funny Jack Brennan. It was, without exception, the finest game played at Leadley Park this year, and was thoroughly and enthusiastically enjoyed by about 500 of the faithful. My! how they did "root" for the home team; but it was all unavailing, for at an unexpected juncture the Mountaineers pulled out the game.

Stein pitched a wonderful game, holding the heavy-hitting Denvers down to four hits, and giving but two bases on balls. But if Mr. Stein's game was wonderful, that of the double-jointed Kennedy was phenomenal. He allowed the Lambs but one more hit.

gave no bases on balis and struck out nine Wasn't that an exhibition worthy of the

It was one, two, three for Omaha in the first, Wright being thrown out by Kennedy Day striking out and McGloue perishing at

For the visitors, after the Poet had been slammed out at first, Sprague made a beautiful bunt, peating the ball to first, only to be doubled up a moment later with O'Conner, who hit a long fly to Dungan, which Sam captured after a hard run, and by a fine throw to Flanagan, nipped Sprague also before he could get back to first.

It was another horse collar for Omaha in the second, although Dungan, the first man up, hit safe. An attempt to steal second settled his hash, and the next two men furnished easy outs.

Denver also took an egg and then it was one, two, three for both sides for three straights.

In the sixth Wright and Day led off with hits for Omaha. A passed ball boosted them each a base, but on McGlone's grounder to Chippy McGarr, Wright was killed at the plate, and the next two men were retired without an effort. In the seventh after Sprague's out, O'Con nor made a two-bagger and Tebeau got his base on balls. Then Beard hit to Smith and and throwing to Day, White Wings fell, and Day's throw to Flanagan sidetracked Olli-That made the crowd enthusiastic, for it was ball playing of the cleanest kind.

In the eighth, after administering eight straight whitewashes to Omaha, Werrick cracked out a three-bagger, and Jack Brennan following with a hit, he scored. That run won the game, as Omaha took another horse collar in the ninth, and the excitement was over. The same clubs this afternoon. Score:

purses were the pick of the week. Over 10,000 people sat in the grand stand and lined the fences on the stretch sides, and they were a regular racing day crowd, gay, enthusiastic and just bristling with sport. The sun shone brightly, the air was bracing and the track perfect. In the paddock was the largest turnout of well appointed equipages ever brought together in Omaba, and these for a background for the gay gowns of the ladies made a brilliant sight. Taking into consideration all these facts, the well bred and fast horses and the fat purses for them to go after is it any wonder that the crowd was enthusuastic and enjoyed themselves to the top of their bent?

When 3 o'clock came Starter McCrary tapped his bell for the first race, a trot for the 2:32 class for a purse of $400. Nine orses responded and, after scoring a few imes, got away in good shape. The first heat was devoid of particular interest and was won by Dan, a Kansas horse in 2:34. The next three heats were won in order by Almont Aberdeen, a Nebraska bay stallion. Almont Aberdeen was fat and seemed out of condition, but after he had warmed up showed his beels to the string. In the second heat Blazewood, Chestnut Wilkes and McFarland, the latter driven by Ed. Pyle, were shut out. This was a new experience for Pyle, but his horse was not in it. Billy Burton, Nat Brown's Colephone.

The second event, a pacing race for the :30 class with an $500 purse, was very close and exciting, and as fine a race as a man wants to see. It was for blood from the start, and when the beli tapped five pacers came to the wire and were got off without trouble. Alvin Swift, a brown golding, owned by J. C. Eager of Omaha, made the pace and seemed to have it ail his own way. He won the first two heats, but in the second one of the prettiest brushes of the day was experinced. Coming into the home stretch Alvir had decidedly the best of it when Billy Gault, who was beautifully driven, com-menced to eat up the space between himself and Alvin and came under the wire with his nose close to the latter's wheel making an exciting finish, which won a merited round of applause. Billy's stock went up in the betting ring, but in the third heat, when it looked as though he had a good chance to take it from the favorite, he left his feet and finished third. A large field came to the wire and after being sent back three or four times got away in a bunch and got into a pocket at the first turn, the clashing sulky spokes rattling like castanets. They got separated without further accident, however, and Roxey L took the lead, closely followed by Fieldmont, who would have won the heat but he broke in the half, caught Hoxey and broke again on the stretch, finishing a close second in an exciting heat, in which Goldie Satura was badly distanced. In the second heat Roxey got clear away agains and kept a good lead all through.

In the next Roxey got the lead and kept it to the three-quarter stretch, when she broke Fieldment winning the heat, Dart second and Roxey third. In the fourth heat Dart pulled up even with the favorites, went to the front and came down the stretch neck and seck with Fieldmont, winning the heat. The afternoon session of the convention began at 2 o'clock. The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of George W. Skinner of Fulton county for pernament chairman. He was conducted to the platform, from which he made an address as

This brings me to the consideration of, and feature of, the campaign upon which we are entering. It seems that the soldier racket must be again farmed for all that it is worth in order to obscure the real living issue of the campaign. Now, let me say here, with all reverence and respect for the memory of their heroic services and sacrifices, and I speak only for myself in saying so, and I speak as one who for almost four years shared in all the hardships and dangers of a soldier's life, in the very fore front of the conflict, and, that is, that the manhoot of the old soldier and the justrous fame of his heroic deeds are today and now in the gravest peril. I love to see our old soldiers earry themselves proudly—the men who faltered not in their duty to their country in the hour of its peril and its need. Yes, I like to see our old soldiers carry themselves proudly, and because of this I dislike to see them becoming supplicants at the spring of official power to be made the may. This brings me to the consideration of, and like to see them becoming supplicants at the shrine of efficial power to be made the play shrine of official power to be made the pinything of an hour by scheming and designing politicians. I might very properly refer to another matter which shall be for your consideration today, and that is the question of the endorsement of a constitutional convention. I trust that whatever action you may take on this most important question will be of a decided character and that you will not treat it in the light, evasive and decoltful manner which characterized the utterances of those who assembled here in a like capacity with us two weeks ago.

Meeting, therefore, as this convention does, in the presence of overshadowing dishonor, it is but right that for the time being it should turn uside from the discussion of current political topics to the more important and pressing question of action, honest government. Your platform is a very simple one, it emphasizes the old truths of the ten commandments. The injunction. Thou shalt not steal. Is its cardinal principle. On that plank the impending battle must be fought. We must permit no confusion of the issues when the honor of Pennsylvania is at stake. Final Arrangements for the Raising of the German Pork Embargo,

WITHDRAWN AFTER ELEVEN YEARS.

President's Proclamation Announce ing the Fact to Be Issued Within a Few Days-History of the Measure.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, ) 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.

President Harrison will, within a few days, issue a proclamation covering one arrangement which has been made between this country and Germany concerning American pork. It will be the last chapter in a long controversy over removing the German embargo on American meat products. The embargo has been in operation for about eleven years.

Minister Phelps has finally been able to persuade the Germans that the new meat inspection laws are a complete sanitary guarantee, and the further fact that Germany produces about eight-ninths of all the beet sugar imported into the United States, induced Germany to close negotiations favorable to this country. It would have cost the Germans about $20,000,000 for sugar duties if the restrictions allowed by the McKinley achad been made against them

The president's proclamation will anounce the satisfactory statement of the negotiations on behalf of American pork, and will further indicate that free sugar may continue to come from Germany without fear or the discriminating tariff which the president has the power to proclaim against it, Secretary Rusk is much elated over the success of the negotiations with Germany, and has instructed America's agents there to innuce the Germans to take American corn nstead of rye. Secretary Rusk says the admission of pork into Germany is the most important step for the farmers the government has taken in many years.

Each Season

Has its own peculiar maindy; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparills. the system readily adapts used to changed conditions. Composed of the best siteratives and tonics, and being highly concentrated, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most effective and economical of all blood medicines.

"For some years, at the return of spring, I had serious broadle with my kidneys. I was unable to sleep nights, and suffered greatly with pairs in the small of my back. was also afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. These symptoms were much worse last spring, especially the trouble with my back. A friend persuaded me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it, and my troubles all disappeared." -Mrs. Genevra Belanger, 24 Bridge st.
