Stock Cirv. Ia., Sept. 7. - | Special Telegram to THE BEE.-The Omaha visitors lost again today, but they made a far better showing than yesterday. Stein pitched a really strong game and but for a series of pad accidents there is room for doubt who would have won. McGlione on third base was hit by Hart and his arm so badly hurt that he had to be put in the field. Traffley was brought in and put in his piace. A little latter Jack Fields was hurt and Traffley was moved in behind the bat and McNabb was sent out to play in the field. It is not strange under the circumstances that several fielding errors were made and they happened to be costly. Sioux City was lucky in b nehing hits, whereas just as sure as Omaha got two or three men on bases they died there. This happened time and again. The visitors have played in fearful luck during the whole series, but the Corn Huskers have been greatly strengthened and playing in the very best of form. Score:

Idlejag Gets His Deserts. Eddie Eiteljorg has at last recived the reward due him for his desertion of Omaha. Washington gave him his unconditional re lease last Saturday, after giving him his last three weeks' salary for poor play. He pitched just eight games in the American association, losing all but one, and that was only pulled out by the grace of twelve errors made by Baltimore, the opposing team. He had actually no control over the ball and the weakest batters hit him with ease. Shannon himself will be about the next on to get his deserts. Already the Washington papers have dubbed him a shirker and claim that it was a mistake to displace a man of old ie Snyder's experience and intelligence for a figurehead like Shannon. NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn Caught Chicago Without Uncle Anse and Licked 'Em.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. - The Brooklyns se verely trounced the Chicagos this morning. The visitors were completely demoralized. This was because Auson did not play. The hotel porter forgot to call him at the appointed time and consequently he overslept himself. Cooney and Ward were both injured and retired early in the game. The Chicagos showed how poorly a lot of youngsters will play without a competent leader. Score:

Very Smooth Game Worked on the Knowing Ones at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 7. -The whole racing world is agog tonight in this quarter of Ohio and Kentucky about a bold and successful ringer game that was played on the public in general, and the bookmakers in particular, in the second race at Latonia today. Neither the judges, the bookmakers nor the general public realized how beautifully they were swindled until near the close of the day's It was 5 o'clock on Saturday evening that a fine bay horse was entered at Latonia for the second race today, which was for maiden 3-year-olds and upwards. The name given was Polk Badget, Stony Creek stables, S-years-old. In the pools he started at 30 to 1, but the buying was so hot and heavy that he backed down till the post odds became 3 and He literally ran away from the field in the home stretch and won by ten lengths. The plunging bets on him were quickly cashed and horse and owners disappeared without calling for the $500 purse he won. It has been learned that he had been stabled three days outside the track. The bookmakers admit a loss attogether of $15,000. It is supposed that a gang were ngaged in it and a man stationed at each of the stands to bet heavily on the mystery. No trace of borses or owner can be found tonight. It is surmises here that the horse a purchase from the Rancasas stables, but mystery envelops the whole affair.

Fugitive Ex-President Said to Be Hiding in a Chilian Monastery.

ALL PRIESTS WILL BE QUESTIONED.

Should the Suspicion That His Asylum is with the Cterical Party Prove True, it is Believed That He Will Be Captured.

[Copyright 189] by James Gordon Bennett.] VALPARAISO, Chili. (via Gaiveston, Tex.,) Sept. 7.- By Mexican Cable to The Herald -Special to The Bee. - Humors centinus to spread concerning the whereabouts of the fugitive president of Chill, Balmaceda. The for foals of 1889 for a purse of $250. The other day it was said that he was fleeing by usual difficulty was experienced in getting way of Los Andes into the Argentine Republic, his purpose being to reach Buenos Ayres. Now It is reported that, not daring just at the present time to make an attempt to escape from the county, he has taken refuge in some one of the foreign legations or else has concealed himself in a monastery. If he has been fortunate enough to gain admission to a legation he will, in all likelihood, be protected from the wrath of his enemies. If, on the contrary, he has sought refuge in a monastery, he is in eminent danger of being captured.

The junta will undoubtedly cause all the monasteries to be searched for him if they put any faith in the report. It seems hardly plausible, powever, that he should seek an asylum with the clerical party, as has been a recognized fact ever since the outbreak of the war in Chili that the priests were almost unanimously in sympathy with the congressionalists. Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs Aldunate, while traveling towards Santiago today, was stopped at Quillota, fifty-five miles from here, by an armed body of men.

BARON HIRCH'S MILLIONS.

Lord Rothschild Declares They Are Not Improperly Used.

(Copyright 1891 by James Gordon Bennett.) LONDON, Sept. 7. - [New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE. |-The mass meeting of Jews in New York to protest against the alleged misuse of Baron Hirch's millions to flood America with cheap workmen from Russia and so belo capital to overthrow organized labor, created a sensation in England. It is only a few days since then a mass meeting was held here to protest against the influx of Russian Jews.

In order to determine the exact situation 1 called on Lord Rothschild today. I found him, the foremost living Jew, in his great banking house with several important financiers demanding his attention. His strong manly face lit up and his eyes flashed when mentioned the subject of my visit. "Not one dollar of Baron Hirch's money is being used to send any one to America," he said.

"But the charge is publicly made, and no one contradicts it," I suggested. "Yet," said Lord Rothschild, "I repeat that no money of the Hirsch fund is or has been used to send people to America." "Ah, yes," I said, " but the money is to be used for that purpose later on." Lord Rothschild is a man of few words and when he speaks, his meaning is unmistakable. He looked me straight in the eyes and said slowly and earnestly, pronouncing every word with great distinctuess, "none of Baron Hirsch's money has been used to send people to America, and none will be used for that purpose. There is no intention to send people to America that way. Of course if emigrants go to America with their own money we cannot help it. Last week twenty or thirty immigrants came here from Russia but they paid their own way. We are not responsible for their movements. That is all I have to say." This is unquestionably the most important statement that has been made since the beginning of the Hirsch movement, as Lord Rothschild is regarded all over the world as Chauncey Depew tonight made a sweeping reply to the cabled announcement that labor agitatsrs had got possession of several shares of the New York Central road and proposed at the annual meeting to investigate the attitude of that corporation toward organized labor. Mr. Depew talked right out from the shoulder in his usual fashion.

"After the strike last year," he said, "I was selected as the orator by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. In my ad dress to them I declared the position of the New York Central. I repeat that we are not opposed to organized labor. We recognize the right of working men to organize trades unions for the protection of their own members, but we do object to any outsider not engaged in the same business to come to working men who are satisfied and have no grievance that they consider fair to go to headquarters with and order them out on a strike. That sort of thing we do not recognize. Every reasonable and helpful labor organization controlled by its own members in their own interest is to be encouraged. We welcome such trades unions as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. It does much good. We would rather have it than not have it. I speak for Mr. Vandervilt, for the New York Central and for myself." Mr. Denew and Mr. Vanderbilt sail for

was a legal holiday and the officers of the eity departments closed for business there was an important conference at the office of City Treasurer Wright, at which the latter official placed before District Attorney Graham all evidence in his possession relative to the alleged derelictions of the five moreantile appraisers. The only persons present at the conterence were the two officials named above and Joseph P. Cullen, private counsel of City Attorney Wright.

The district attorney expressed great sur-prise at the revelations that were made to him in regard to the manner in which the office of the mercantile appraisers had been conducted, and announced that the testimony in the shape of reports in the possession of the city treasurer were sufficient to warrant the commencement of criminal proceedings against the appraisers, Messrs. Patton, Houseman, Hunter, Bell and Crawford. At the conclusion of the conference the district attorney asked the city treasurer to allow him several days' time so that his counsel might arrange the testimony for convenient use at the preliminary hearing when the prosecution is prought.

Mr. Wright acquiesced in this suggestion, and stated, further, that as soon as the district attorney is ready he will make the necessary affidavits upon which warrants will be issued against the five appraisers. Later in the day Auditor General McCam-mant who, jointly with the city treasurer, has the power of appointing the five mercan tile appraisers, held a long conference with the last named official. After the conference the following letter of suspension was sent to the appraisers:

DYING OF HYDROPHOBIA. Prominent Pottawartamie County Citizens' Serious Case. ATLANTIC, Ia., Sept. 7 .- [Special Telegram THE BEE. |- Lew Swingle, one of the most prosperous and highly esteemed farmers of Lincoln township, Pottawattamie county, is dying or may now be dead with hydrophobia. About six weeks ago he noticed a strange dog running about the yard among his enildren who were playing. While attempting to drive the animal away he was bitten in the wrist. He ran into the house, got his shot gun and killed the dog.

As the wound was slight he paid no further attention to it and it healed up. About twenty days ago the wrist broke out in three places and soon became very painful. On Sunday, August 31, he was taken violently ill and about the middle of the week a well developed case of rables became apparent. On Friday night his convulsions were so violent that it was necessary to tie him and it took six men sicians said there was no hope for him.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES CONSIDERED.

Resoluti n Urging a Five Million D. L. lar Loan on Congress Adopted Reduction of Salaries Discussed.

Carrongo, Ill., Sept. 7.-The National Columbian Commission reassembled this morning. The report of the committee on awards, recommending the appointment of a committee of eight to have charge of the awards of premiums, was adopted after being amended to make the number twelve, and referred to the Judicary committee to frame rules and bylaws for it. A committee of four was appointed to pro-pare suitable resolutions touching the death of Commissioner Bergham of Washington. A request from the board of lady managers for permission to extend their session for one or two days was acceeded to. The committee on resolutions, touching the death of Commissioner Bingham, made a suitable report and after adopting it the commission adjourned until 2 o'clock. At the afternoon session a resolution was adopted instructing the members of the commission to labor with the members of con-gress of their respective states to vote for he proposed government loan of $5,000,000 to

The committee on tariffs and transportation made a report of the progress, to the effect that negotiations with the railcoads had progressed so far that low rates for visitors to and exhibits for the fair would be made by the roads of the country. The committee asked for leave to ask the railroads for passes for the commissioners and members of the board of lady managers to and from their respective meetings, thus saving a large sum of expenses. The report was approved. The committee on judiciary reported upon the recommendation of the auditing commit-tee in regard to the prospective deficit in the appropriation for the commission for the curcent year. The auditing committee recom-mended that the salaries of President Palmer and of Chairman McKeanzie of $5,000 each be cut off; that $3,000 be taken from the sal-ary of the director general, and that the April meeting of the commission be post-poned to July in order to avoid the expected ieficit. The judiciary committee reported that the local directory at a meeting today had voted to lend the commission the necessary $20,000 nutil such time as the amount for repayment should be secured from congress, thus saving the proposed cut in salaries. Commissioner Waller of Connecticut spoke n opposition to the adoption of the report. He thought it will be undignified and that it would put the commission in an embarrassing position to accept a loan from the local directory. He did not think the loan necessary. The deficit would not occur in any case before the close of the fiscal year or June 31, 1812, he said, and in the meantime the commission could apply to congress for the necessary funds. He moved to refer the whole matter to the board of references and contract with power to act. Commissioner Massie of Delaware, chairmen of the judiciary committee, defended the report of his committee. The matter is still under consideration.

Commissioner Way of Georgia said he did ot wish to see the commission accept any favors from the Chicago directors. DCommissioner White of New Mexico animadverted everely upon what he termed the directory's sudden change of policy in assuming an atti-tude of liberality toward the commission. What good, he asked, could the commission expect to effect by spending borrowed money when it proposed to go before congress scon for aid! It was adopted by a vote of lifty-one to seven, referring whole matter to the board of reference and control.
