Sold the Bonds Some More. The school board held a special meeting last evening for the purpose of making arrangements for the sale of the $10,000 worth of school bonds, the contract for the sale of which was let to John Dale of Omaha, at the last meeting. The members of the board came to the conclusion a day or two ago that Dale was trying to play some policy game with them, as he did not seem nearly so anxious to get hold of the bonds as his exceedingly high bid for them indicated. Rather than submit to such a game, they decided to hold another meeting and let the contract to the Council Bluffs Savings bank, which was also the highest bidder. This was done and the board adjourned without transacting further business.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Board of Supervisors Spring a Surprise on the Court Bail fix.

RESULT OF A GRAB AT MORE PAY.

Wages Reduced a Dollar a Day and Time of Employment Limited—Prospective Librarians Under the Rule.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday, a resolution was passed reducing the salary of the librarian of the court house from $1 a day to 84, not including Sundays. Heretofore all the bailiffs have received $2 a day for their services during the time that court is actually in session, excepting the librarian, who, in consideration for his constantly attending to the court library received a salary of $3 a day throughout the year. The question whether the bailiffs were entitled to pay for the days when court was not in session was the subject of dispute last time they were paid off. County Clerk Campbell claiming that they were not, while the bailiffs, of course, took the opposite side. The matter was accordingly brought before the supervisors for settlement, with the above result.

The resolution also requested the judges of the district court to make an order at the beginning of each term of court designating the number of bailiffs necessary to do the work of the court library. The order is to be given to the lot of the one who shall be selected head bailiff.

The petition of the members of the bar for the appointment of Wail McFadden to the position of librarian was rejected, for the reason that the foregoing resolution provided thereon.

A petition presented by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company asking the board to strike off a large amount of property in the southern part of the city from the tax lists in order that it might be listed with the state executive council to be assessed as railroad property, was referred to A. C. Graham and the county attorney. The company claims that in the near future a track is to be laid diagonally across one whole block, and that it is for a public purpose that for railroads will be rendered impossible.

The war between the Union Pacific Railway company and the county in regard to taxes came up again yesterday afternoon. It will be remembered that last spring the county fell through, when sitting as a board of equalization, reduced the assessment to $80,000. This reduction was brought before the board yesterday for consideration. The board acted on the same policy as in the former instance, and refused to agree to the reduction. This gives rise to another complication, and it is probable that another law suit will be necessary to determine whether $125,000 is too much of a rating for the east half of the bridge.

Did you ever stop to consider what it is worth to live on a lot fronting a well kept park? Does it not make property twice as desirable and worth at least twice as much money as it would be in any other location. You can be sure that the block across the street from you will always be covered with a fine green sward that there will be elegant shade trees, and in due time fountains, statuary and flowers, and all taken care of without expense to you. There will always be room for your children to play and your own family to enjoy your leisure hours. The only place in town where such property is to be had is in Morningside.

O.E. as under arrest in Omaha and has declared his intention of not coming to this side of the river until requisition papers are obtained. Application for the papers has been made to Governor Boies, and it is thought they will be here in a few days. Yesterday Deputy Marshall White went to Omaha to file an information charging him with being a fugitive from justice, in order to hold him. The city marshal announces his determination to have him now at any cost.

Crushed by the Flyer. James Carroll, an employee of the Union Pacific Railway company, tried to board the Rock Island flyer as it was moving away from the transfer, but missed his footing and ran head first into the sleeping car. He fell with his leg and arm across the rail, and the wheels passed over him before he could recover himself. He was horribly mangled, and only lived a short time after the accident. He was removed to the hospital in Omaha. Coroner Waterman went to Omaha yesterday and viewed the remains, deciding that an inquest was not necessary. The remains were brought to this city and will be buried this morning. The funeral taking place at 5 o'clock from the late residence on Seventh street between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues. The deceased leaves a wife and six children in needy circumstances.

You should have as beautiful a house for a home as you can afford. You should have as beautiful a sight for the home as you can find. Everybody can afford a beautiful site for a home, while lots in Morningside are going at the present prices.

Affairs of Kimball & Camp. The more to set aside the assignment of the Kimball-Camp Investment company naturally causes much comment, but the move did not come as a surprise. For days past there has been all sorts of wild rumors and whisperings. Surmises have naturally been sustained by some, as is common in failure cases of this nature. It is not likely that some large amount of cash and securities hidden away, and there have been numerous intimations that some sensational revelations will be made.

Mr. Kimball was seen yesterday and asked for some statement concerning the other side of the matter, for he knows that every course there is. "It is simply the firing off of the first gun on the part of eastern creditors. Our side will respond in due time. There is nothing to the claims made in the petition, and it will show so when we get around to it. We don't shrink from investigation in any case. If you know anything that is straight, some have sought to get us to settle claims by threatening to expose some of our transactions, but I have told them to mind their own business and to expose let them expose it. I defy them. I think much of the trouble is due to Mr. Toole, who was secretary of the company. He is joining in with eastern creditors and I suppose wants to get the position of assignee himself. It's all a big storm about nothing, and you will see that in a few days. It is that by squeezing and tantalizing and humiliating us they can get some advantage over our creditors. It is a very common trick and accounts are there, and we are not afraid of the facts. All we want is to not to be prejudiced by this community. Just wait until both sides have been heard."

Morningside. The prettiest residence addition ever planned in this part of the country.

Tragedy at the Broadway. Thomas W. Keene and his company played "Richard III" last evening to an audience that filled every seat in the house and ran over into the aisles. Keene's rendition of the part was all that could be desired, and some of his support was of a high order. A number of the lesser lights, however, seemed to lack strength to send their voices beyond the first four rows of the parquet, so that the general effect was somewhat marred. On the whole, however, it was a fine production and highly appreciated by the audience.

This evening Hickey's minstrels will hold the boards.

CONTINENTAL. PRICES MOVE THE WORLD.

The world is principally devoted to trade, and as prices rule trade they may be said to move the earth. This, at least, is the theory on which we conduct our business.
