CLAIMS COURT CROWDED. Uncle Sam's Special Tribune Has Lots of Work to Do. "There are about 5,000 Indian depredation claims now filed with the court of claims,' said Hon. L. W. Colby to a Ber reporter yesterday. "The docket is very much crowded, and many of these cases cannot be reached before the first week in January. Those claims that were passed upon prior to the passage of the act creating the court of claims will probably be disposed of before that time. There were between 500 and 1,000 claims of that kind which had been examned and allowed before the act was passed These will be disposed of very shortly the court commences in October. All these claims that are believed to be legitimate and onest will be nurried forward as rapidly as 'I do not understand that it is my business to hinder or retard the progress of these cases, but on the contrary where I am con vinced that the claims are just, I expedite matters as much as possible. The passage of this law was a great step in the direction of substantial benefit to the claimants, and the thousands of deserving people who have been waiting for years for moneys that the government owes them. It nullifies all previous extortionate contracts with claim agents and attorneys and will enable the claimants to obtain nearly the full value of their claims instead of being obliged to divide with agents and attorneys whose fees usually absorbed a very large share of he funds received from the government for honest claimants. "The practical workings of the law will, I think, be of great benefit to the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, the Dakotas and Colorado, where the people have suffered for years from the depredations of lawless In ilans and have been writing for the govern nent to make good the losses. In some in stances the Indians themselves are willing to admit that they stole or destroyed the property. The Brule Indians who stole a lot of mules and horses near North Platte years age confessed the theft and even showed the animals to the government agents, but they refused to return them. They asked the agent to deduct the price of the mules from the animal allowance granted their band by the government. In short the Indians appro priated the property and asked Uncle Sam to charge it up to their account."

This is the last Sunday of the present con ference year at the First Methodist church. corner Twenty-third and N streets. Conse-quently tomorrow may be the last day on which Roy. C. N. Dawson will preach in this city. The congregation of that church have been greatly pleased with Rev. Dawson during his residence here, and will extend a call to the district conference for his return to this station. The Rock Island brought in its first through train of stock from the west yesterday. The shipment consisted of eight cars of range cattle, the property of W. E. Hallett. The run from Colorado Springs, Colo., the load-ing point, was made in nineteen hours. Mr. Hallett was well pleased with the run and the prices received. He has about 10,000 head and stated that they would all come to the South Omaha market. The Exposition. The exposition at the Coliscam building will be opened on the 28th inst. and continued three weeks. The management has divided the building so as to make 138 spaces for exhibitors and these have all been taken except M. S. Lingsay, who has been looking after the details of the matter, states that efforts have been made to secure a first class lot of exhibits and in this they have been very suc-cessful. They will not allow space to be taken up by inferior exhibits which will mar the tone of the whole exposition. A special effort has been made to secure a fine line o exhibits by local manufacturing industries and in this they have been very successful and Omaha factories will be well repre-

A concert will be given each evening and a band contest will be held the last week, at which $250 in prizes will be distributed.

Turkleson Troubles. The case of 'Anna Turkelson against her husband, Peter, was up for hearing before Judge Ferguson yesterday. A few days ago the wife brought a suit for divorce. In her petition she alleged that Peter had not only been gay and giddy, but that he had been guilty of inhuman treatment. Today she asked for and secured an order restrain-ing Peter from disposing of his property, valued at $4,000. Arguments on the restraining order will be held next Saturday morn on Election Booths, The regular meeting of the Board of County commissioners was neld yesterday with Messrs, O'Keeffe, Van Camp, Timme and the members of the joint committee from the council and Board of Education present. The list of bids on election booths as published a week ago was read, together with the resolution of the council instructing the representatives of the council on the joint committee on election booths that the council would pay one-quarter of the cost of the booths provided the school board paid a like amount and the county one-half of the cost.

Mr. O'Keeffe reported that he had proposed that the county pay $5,000, the school board $4,000 and the city the balance. This would leave the city $6,268 to pay providing the booths were purchased.

Mr. Osthoff, of the committee from the ouncil, said the council had given the committee from the council no discretion in the matter. The council thought the county should pay one-half of the expense of the booths including the cost of furnishing them complete, and the committee had no power to change the terms.

After discussing the matter for some time iron booths were decided on and the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Timme and adopted: Resolved. That the county will pay $9.143 for the required number of booths in the city, and when this amount is paid the county has done all that will be required of it, the city to take care of the booths and furnish them with the necessary furniture and stationery.

eet with the attorneys of the city and the Board of Education and draw up a contract covering this matter.

The amount of $18,286, of which the county agreed to pay one-half, covers only the pur-chase price of the booths, not including the necessary chairs and tables which will cost at least $1,000 additional, and which the Pulaski's Head in Danger. The official head of Count Pulaski, the keeper of the city pound, haugs over the edge of Mayor Cushing's basket. Last night, so the story goes, Pulaski rode to the nome of Ed Kennedy. There he found a cow attached to the end of a rope. Whooping like a Comanche Indian, he flourished his whip ntil the cow broke from her tetherings

After that he demanded the payment of 75 cents, which was refused. The cow was riven to tue pound and tomorrow morning Dr. Stowe and Mr. Kennedy will file charges against the count. They're After Him.

"I am besieged by women," said Senator Manderson yesterday. "It has gotten out in some way that the government is going to molor women at South Omaha to conduct the microscopic examination of meats and I think there have been a score of applicants to see me about the matter within the past few days. I understand there will be employment down there for several capable in-

A Sensational Divorce Case May be the outcome of a man being continually obliged to eat poor bread Maybe it's not your wife's fault, though. If you want her to make bread like your mother used to make you must buy good flour. If you'll get her a sack of one of our celebrated brands and she is at all painstaking she'll make you nice white, light bread and biscuits and rolls such as you haven't tasted since

We're the biggest retail flour house in Omaha. We buy in car load lots and can make you closer figures on good goods than any other firm. 50-pound sacks of first quality floor from $1.00 up. Every sack of flour sold by us is fully warranted, and if it's not entirely satisfactory, we pledge ourselves to make it so. Most of our flour is made in Omaha. Have you tried our Jamova coffee yet? Come in and get a hot cup. It ranks with the finest Mochas and Javas in the vorld and never fails to excite an Indifferent stomach to the enjoyment of a nearty breakfast. Epicures do not tire of the delicate, rich flavor and pungency it possesses. We sell Jamova at 28c per pound.

During Friday night's storm lightning struck Dr. Tilden's residence at Nineteenth and Douglas, kneeking down the chinney and shattering the roof to the extent of $200. No one was injured. The erratic current also burned out the switch board at the Nineteenth street power house, causing a tie up of the Farnam street line for nearly three hours.

On Wednesday evening Prof. Nornon B. Smith, the horse trainer, will open the Omaha Guards armory on Capitol avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, as an arena for the handling and subduing of all wild and vicious horses. He invites all owners of horses possessing any bad or any wild habit to bring them to the professor and he will cure them free of charge. Mr. Ira Stewart Sherman, formerly of this city, died at the Palmer House, Chicago, Wednesday morning, September 9, of typhoid fever. The leceased was engaged in the real estate business in Los Angeles for six years and removed to Chicago four mouths ago and did an extensive real estate business up till his illness which resulted in his death. Mr. Charles R. Sherman of the firm of Sherman & McConnell of this city, a brother of the deceased, returned yesterday from the Miss Elizabeth Harrison of Chicago, prine cipal of the Kindergarten Training School for Teachers, will lecture at the Young Men's Christian association hall Monday evening. Subject: "The Kindergarten." Miss Harri son's lectures in Chicago have been very largely attended. Her lectures to mothers have attracted much attention. She is recognized as a leading authority upon the kinder-garten. Admission free. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Teachers' association. Last Friday evening the members of the Young Men's institute celebrated the begin-ning of their series of fall socials. It was a by Mr. James Swift and Miss Cosgrove, reci-tation by Miss Kennedy, and American dance by Mr. Val. Mulcahy, won full appre-ciation from the audience by the manner in which they rendered their respective selections. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather about 150 ladies and gentlemen attended, and their verdict was they had spent a thorough good evening.

Mr. Julius Festner has returned from Dayemport, Ia., where last Tuesday evening he witnessed the river carnival, the most unique display, he says, he ever witnessed. The canoe clubs of the city had 400 barks on the water and a dozen or more steamers, all brilliantly illuminated, while the government island was ablaze with fireworks during the entire night. Fully 100,000 visitors witnessed the spectacle. Miss Katie Putnam, the charming little actress, who will this week make her re-entre on the stage of Omaha after an absence of eight or ten years, deserves a brief personal reference independent of her merits as a comedience of exceptional talent. Miss Putnam is one of those artistes whose private life honors the dramatic profession and refutes the allegations of those who altempt to traduce the stage and its votaries. In the to traduce the stage and its votaries. In the broadest and best sense of the word she is a lady, imbood with the kindlest instincts and never allowing an opportunity to pass for doing good to her fellow beings, whether in the profession of out of it. It is not too much to say that no actress in the condity has given more to charity than Miss Putham, and none takes greater pleasure in the performance of kindly offices. Her qualities as an actress are sponen of clsewhere, and we simply refer in this connection to her lovable, generous and irreproachable character as a woman, which has won for her a host of constant friends wherever sho is best known, and which gives her an added claim to popular respect and admiration.
