The sale of the Ogden house property, which was made by Parmelee and Morse to John Danforth, and was afterwards declared off, has been made over again, and the prospects now are that it will be made to stick. A contract has been made by which Mr. Danforth agrees to take the property as soon as certain papers are made out, indemnifying him against all loss from certain incumbrances. The title deeds have been made out and will be delivered to Danforth in a few days. He will then enter upon immediate possession of the premises.

The case of the state against John Maher, charged with assault with intent to kill, has been heard in police court yesterday morning after a half dozen or so postponements. Mrs. Maher, the prosecutrix, was very nervous, was not on hand, and Maher was very willing to have the case dismissed. He stated that Mrs. Maher's wishes corresponded with his own. Judge McGowan was not satisfied, however. He was tired of having circumstantial suits brought by a woman merely for the purpose of embarrassing her unruly husband into behave himself, and he therefore ruled that the case should be continued until this morning, at which time the city marshal to bring the absent prosecutrix into court under arrest if necessary. The case will be tried this morning, provided Mrs. Maher has not skipped to Omaha in the meantime.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Mrs. Kimball and Champ Undertake to Recover Their Household Goods.

CLAIMED TO BE EXEMPT FROM LEVY.

Considerable of a Fight Promised on Friday—What an Attorney Says Concerning Alleged Petty Persecution.

A petition of intervention was filed by Louise C. Kimball and Alla D. Champ yesterday morning in the case of the Omaha National bank against Kimball & Champ, in which the household goods of both Kimball and Champ were seized by a deputy sheriff a day or two ago. In the petition it is alleged that the plaintiffs are the real owners of the property, and that therefore the goods are exempt from execution. An immediate hearing was asked for, but was opposed by the attorneys for the defendants on the ground that A. W. Askwith and J. N. Baldwin are out of the city, and as they have attended the case ever since it was started, it was claimed it could not be tried until they returned. Considerable sharp talk was indulged in by the attorneys for the plaintiffs, who plainly hinted that Askwith had left the city in order to get a postponement of the trial. The judge called down the disputants, and at last set Friday morning as the time when the case will be heard.

In speaking of the transaction to which Kimball & Champ have been subjected an attorney who is connected with the case said yesterday: "One who is not acquainted with the true inwardness of this case can have no idea how Kimball & Champ have been done. The parties who are at the bottom of the case have set all their friends at work, some of them perhaps unconsistently, and everyone of these friends made it a point to stand on the street corners and say something about Kimball and Champ every one either of them passed. Any one who has ever passed through such an ordeal knows what the result of such treatment would be, and the boys have literally been driven into the notion that in order to keep out of jail they must get out of the city as soon as possible. It has been the intention, I think, of the parties who started the scheme to get Kimball and Champ out of the city in order that they might go to work and make something. Then these judgments that they get will worth their face value."

A suit was also commenced in the district court yesterday afternoon by George Elliott, cashier of the Charlestown (N. Y.) bank, against Kimball & Champ, for $10,000 on two promissory notes.
