yesterday morning at the head of the Council Bluffs delegation. The new uniforms which have been bought for the boys, were put in use for the first time and they made a very fine appearance. The cost of the uniforms was about $100.

News has been received of the defalcation of John Hermannson, who formerly was in the clothing business in this city, but for a couple of years past has been in the same line of business at Dillon and Castle, Mont. It is stated that he closed out the business at the latter place and left the country with the cash in his pockets, amounting to about $8,000 in cash.

George Smith was given a hearing in Justice Cones' court yesterday morning on the charge of committing a criminal assault on a little girl at Cut-Off Island, and was bound over to await the trial of the grand jury.
He was unable to give bail for his appearance, and was taken to the county jail. During his examination he was closely watched by a deputy sheriff, who took him in charge as soon as he had been bound over. It is stated that he has already been indicted by the grand jury, although no report has been made yet.

No Fake, But a Fact.
We have determined to close out our business in Council Bluffs. Our time is limited, and we have marked down prices so low that goods will sell themselves in a hurry and thus clear out our immense establishment.
We will sell furniture, carpets, cooking and heating stoves, crockery, glassware, tinware, curtains, all sorts of householding goods, for nearly one-half the usual prices.
Nothing reserved. Everything must go, cost or no cost. The stock is complete.
First come, first served. Those indebted to us must call and settle promptly, and save costs, as we can show no partiality. Mandel & Klein, 620 Broadway.

Narrow Escape.

A young man who was in Peter Bechtel's saloon at the junction of Main and First avenue had a narrow escape yesterday. He was entering the elevator in the Baldwin block to go up stairs, when the elevator boy carelessly started the machine on its upward course. The young man's head came into contact with the iron frame work around the elevator shaft, and came within an ace of carrying it along with him. The boy was horrified at what he had done, but he had presence of mind enough to stop the elevator as soon as possible, so that the young man escaped without a very serious hurt, but otherwise injured. That is why there is a brand new elevator boy in the Baldwin building this morning.

New Kind of Medicine.

John Maher, charged with assault with intention to kill, was to have had a hearing in police court yesterday morning, his case having been set for that time by Judge McGee, who had issued an order for Annie Maher, the prosecuting witness, to be arrested and brought in to prosecute her case. She and Maher had patched up each other's irritated feelings, and they mutually decided not to appear in court. When the case was called and neither responded, Judge McGee declared the bond which had been deposited with the city clerk forfeited for want of appearance.
Dr. E. P. Hollinger was bondsman and the amount of the bond was $200. Both Maher and the woman have disappeared from the city, and Dr. Hollinger's chances for getting his money out of either of them do not seem flattering.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Young Dalton's Death Caused by His Own Carelessness.

WHAT THE CORONER'S JURY LEARNED.
After Attending the Primaries the Young Man Went Out With Some Friends—He Found the Tracks.

Frank Dalton, a young man living at the corner of First avenue and Fifteenth street, with his parents, was run over shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday morning by a Burlington engine with eight cars attached, at the corner of Fourteenth street and First avenue.
Both legs were cut off, one above the knee and the other below, and the severed parts were crushed and mangled in a horrible manner. The engine was backing toward the local depot, with the cars attached to the cowcatcher. At the time of the accident the train was moving very slowly, so that when it struck the young man it was easily stopped at the first scream from him before anything but the tender had passed over the body. Dalton was picked up and carried home, where Dr. Lacy was called to attend him. He lingered until 2:30 o'clock, when he died.

Coroner Waterman empaneled a jury and held an inquest yesterday morning in Estep's undertaking rooms. From the testimony of those who had been with the young man shortly before his death, it appeared that he was under the influence of liquor, and that he was lying on the track when the train came along. David Hutchins, an uncle of the dead man, stated that he had attended the Fifth ward caucus with his nephew, and that shortly after they arrived at the schoolhouse where the caucus was held he lost sight of the young man.

John Peterson testified that after the balloting had been completed he left the school house with Dalton and a number of companions, and spent the time from 10 o'clock until 11 in going the round of the saloons, where they drank about ten glasses of beer apiece.
At 11 o'clock he left Dalton with some other men in front of a saloon nearly across from the Ogden house. Where Dalton went after that he could not say. Some of the men who carried Dalton to his home state that he told them he was drunk.

After the jury, which consisted of O. H.
Lucas, W. H. Robinson and S. Coward, had heard the testimony, retired, and in a short time returned with a verdict stating that the deceased came to his death by being run over by a train of the Burlington road.
The company and its employees were freed from all blame.

Dissatisfied Democrats.

All day long the democratic primaries and the scenes enacted thereat formed one of the main topics of conversation on the street corners. There may be democrats who think that everything passed off in an eminently proper manner, but if there are some who managed to keep out of sight. In every ward there were rumblings of discontent, and in nearly every ward the discontent manifested itself in out and out war.

The better class of the democracy are dissatisfied with the way in which things were managed, and on all sides could be heard remarks made to the effect that they would not be counted in with such a crowd as that.
The republicans, on the other hand, are considerably encouraged, and the general opinion among them is that by doing a little more pulling there is no reason why they should not elect a county ticket. The democrats are divided hopelessly over the treasurership, three being at least four tickets in the field, to say nothing of several more that are likely to be sprung on the party at the convention. There is not so much interest manifested in the outcome of the contest over the office of sheriff, as the local democrats have come to the conclusion that they cannot get both offices, and the proper thing for them to do is to work with all their might for one. The candidates for sheriff however, have not lain down, and some vigorous fighting may be looked for yet.
Charles Walters is probably in the best spirits of any of the candidates for the sherivally of this city. He states that out of the fifty-seven delegates elected night before last nearly forty will vote for him, and he also claims Hardin, Washington and Waver-land, however, as his very own. Knowing democrats, however, insist that Walters is entirely too previous with his calculations and that his chances are practically worthless.

The Badollet Benefit.

A large audience was present last evening at the benefit tendered Mr. Frank Badollet in the Broadway theater. An attractive programme was rendered by well known Omaha and Council Bluffs musicians. Mr. Badollet played with his usual excellence and was heartily cheered after his first appearance.
The "K. K." quartette of Omaha won the distinction of having three encores, and even then the audience would not have been content had it not been for the large amount that was still to follow. Master Charles Higgins won a deserved recall after his violin solo, the "Fantasia on William Tell," De E. E. E. E. E. E. E.
Mrs. A. A. Beckman of Des Moines was also warmly applauded. Besides these there were selections by Miss Lena Sims, L. L. Murphy, L. M. Troyer, the Council Bluffs Mandolin club, the Straykin-Blaas-Lust club and a quartette of Boemian flutes consisting of Messrs. Abbott, Karbach, Rogers and Badollet, all of which were well received. Misses Pearl Chamberlin and Daisy Higgins, and Mr. J. H. Sims acted as accompanists for the various soloists in a very acceptable manner.
Mr. Badollet leaves next week for New York where he will pursue his musical studies during the coming winter in the National conservatory. He takes with him the best wishes of a large number of friends in this city and in Omaha.

Governor's Reception.

Governor Boies arrived in the city last evening at 6 o'clock and was met at the depot by W. H. M. Pusey and S. B. Wadsworth. He was taken to the Grand hotel for supper, after which, from 7 o'clock until 8, he held an informal reception in the corridor, to which everyone was very welcome. A large number took advantage of the opportunity to shake hands with a real live governor, and they seemed to enjoy it heartily. After the reception the governor was taken to the Broadway theater, where he listened to a part of the programme of the Badollet musicale. He leaves this morning for Omaha where he will speak this evening. Governor Boies was accompanied by Congressman William M. Springer of Springfield, Ill., Chairman Ed Hunter of the state central committee and H. C. Shaver and Sam M.

Badollet of the Omaha House. Those gentlemen and Messrs. Pusey, Wadsworth, Casady and Rohrer occupied the governor's box at the theater.

Preparations are being made for the Misses Sprink & Pearson promises the thing that will agreeably surprise them.

Fooled with the Census.

A. S. Bradley of Siam, Taylor county, Ia., was brought into the city yesterday under the wing of a United States deputy marshal for a hearing on the charge of refusing to obey the census law. According to the story told by the authorities, Bradley is the proud possessor of a mortgage on a piece of land in Taylor county, and a blank was sent for him to be filled out, stating the amount of the mortgage and the value of the land in accordance with the census law. He not only refused to fill out the blank, but he wrote what was considered a very impertinent letter to the head of the bureau. He was arraigned before Commissioner Hunter yesterday afternoon and given a hearing. He was bound over to the federal grand jury, and was placed under bonds of $300 for his appearance for trial.

BACILLI IN BLOOD.

Recent experiments as read before the last Congress of Surgeons at Berlin, leave no doubt that the true way to CLEAR THE SYSTEM OF MICROBI is through the pores of the skin. It has been found that a remedy which kills the Mi-crobi will also destroy the life of the patient; but it has also been found that the Microbi can be forced out through the skin, and it is in this way that the relieves the system of poison.
